HOOVER ABANDONS HIS TRIP TO WEST IN DROUGHT CRISIS

Reports of Acute Privation Reach Him as He Prepares for Governors' Conference.

MORE ROADS TO CUT RATES

RAIN FALLS ON PRAIRIE

Showers Help Some Corn-Producing Areas, but Forecaster Expects No General Downpour.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Hoover has abandoned for the present at least his contemplated vacation trip to the parks of the Rocky Mountains so as to direct from the capital relief and rehabilitation work in the drought-blighted areas throughout the country.

This decision, announced today, was reached as reports of human distress continued to grow in number and the prospect for a hard Winter in some parts of the country increased with the acuteness of crop ruin and the continued gloomy prediction of the Weather Bureau.

"In view of the drought situation and the thought that I can be of some service here, I do not propose to go West, at least for a month or so," the President said. "I find that I can stay three nights a week away from Washington, and feel that I can be of more service here."

The "three nights a week away from here" meant the weekly respites he takes at his Rapidan camp in the Virginia mountains.

He added, however, that should the weather continue as cool as it was in Washington today, he might not take even that much time away from Washington. He can keep in almost as close touch with the situation at his Rapidan camp, as it is connected by every necessary communication direct with the White House.

Eastern Roads to Cut Rates.

Reports reaching the President were said today to show an increase in the human problem. Privation is becoming acute in some parts of the country, it was said, and some families will have to have assistance in living through the Winter

The President was represented as feeling that the crop report, published yesterday, really obscured the seriousness of the situation in some places, as it carried figures for the country as a whole.

Colonel Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the American Association of Railway Executives, announced after a conference with the President that the carriers in the Eastern division, east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio, would immediately put into effect a 50 per cent rate reduction on movements of water, hay, grain and live stock necessitated by the drought. It was explained that other divisions would follow, possibly tomorrow or next day, and that further reductions might be made.

Under the arrangement worked out with the railroads the Department of Agriculture will certify the counties in each State where the drought is sufficient to justify hauling at the emergency tariff.

Profiteering to Be Blocked.

Any farmer in any of these counties can avail himself of the reduction merely by applying to the county agricultural agent. The county agent will pass upon the application and turn it over to the railway station agent at the nearest point and the lower rate will be allowed.

The arrangement, it was asserted, will block any profiteering on the lowered rate, as the county agricultural agent, who in fact is a representative of the Department of Agriculture, and who is in close and constant touch with the farmers and cattle men of his community, will know their needs and pass upon their applications for freight-rate reductions strictly on merit.

Paul Bestor, farm loan commissioner, said today that the Federal Farm Loan Board was ready, through its intermediary credit banks, to make loans on grain and other farm products and to operate through local organizations in the drought regions.

He estimated that the board could raise up to approximately $700,000 for this purpose if necessary.

No General Rains Expected.

The organization for handling the emergency will be set in motion Thursday when President Hoover confers with the Governors of the twelve most stricken States. He will lay before them the detailed survey being made by the Department of Agriculture county agents in the field.

While showers in the last twenty-four hours in parts of the drought areas have helped the situation the Weather Bureau reported there was no promise of a general rain.

Showers were expected tonight or

"Million Dollar Rain" Falls On Parched Western Prairies

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 12 (AP).—Rains pattered a melody of optimism on the parched prairies of Eastern Kansas and sections of Missouri, Oklahoma and Nebraska early today.

Northeast Kansas and South Central Nebraska had "million-dollar" showers overnight. Hanover, Kan., reported 2.59 inches.

The heavy rain in Kansas definitely broke the drought in the State's biggest corn-producing counties, the United States Weather Bureau at Topeka reported.

"This rain," said S. D. Flora, meteorologist, "will revive much of the late corn in those counties, start pastures growing, make another alfalfa crop and a world of rough feed for live stock."

Mr. Flora predicted the hot spell was definitely broken in this region. Any hot weather now would be of short duration, as "Fall is just around the corner," he said.

Nebraska reported the rainfall was fairly general over the State. Grand Island reported 1.51 inches, Fairbury 1.12 inches, and .24 of an inch fell at Lincoln.

SINCLAIR OIL PLANS WORLD EXPANSION

$1,000,000,000 Organization to Be Built Up—Stock Issue to Raise Capital.

TIE UP WITH PRAIRIE OIL

Shareholders' Approval Asked Also of $72,500,000 Deal With the Standard of Indiana.

The Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation has called a special meeting of stockholders for Sept. 17 to provide the corporate framework for a world-wide organization with total assets exceeding $1,000,000,000.

Plans for the acquisition of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, the Prairie Pipe Line Company and the Tide Water Associated Oil Company by the Sinclair corporation already have reached an advanced stage, it was disclosed yesterday. The stockholders will be asked to authorize at the meeting the issuance of 5,000,000 shares of new preference stock for "effecting consolidations and mergers, for the refunding of bond issues and for the retirement of the present preferred stock."

The Sinclair corporation already has approximately 14,000,000 shares of common stock authorized but unused. The greater part of this probably will be used for expansion purposes.

In addition to acting on the creation of the new preference shares, the stockholders at the special meeting on Sept. 17 will be asked to pass upon the sale of Sinclair's half interest in the Sinclair Pipe Line Company and the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana for a cash consideration of $72,500,000. A few weeks ago the directors of the Sinclair Company authorized the sale of these properties at that price, which was approved by the directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

In a letter to stockholders calling the special meeting H. F. Sinclair, chairman, says that there is no intention to issue at the present time the newly authorized preference shares, but rather to provide for the company's requirements from time to time. Also, there is no immediate prospect of offering any of this stock to the public, it is explained at the office of the company. It is understood that these preference shares will be used principally, together with cash and common stock, for the acquisition of companies and properties now contemplated.

BRITISH BOMBERS DESTROY VILLAGES TO PUNISH AFRIDIS

TRIBAL UNREST SPREADING

Other Afghan Groups Join Uprising as Cavalry Sweeps Invaders From Peshawar Sector.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SIMLA, Aug. 12.—Stern retribution is now following in the wake of the retreating Afridi tribesmen whose raiding force of 5,000 to 10,000 warriors was scattered on the outskirts of Peshawar. While the Afghan hillmen are retiring from the plains and British Indian cavalry is sweeping up any laggards the Royal Air Force is punishing those Afridi villages whose men engaged in the expedition.

Until the recent participation of the Afridis in the disturbances attributed to the propaganda of Gandhi supporters, the Royal Air Force never flew over the district of Tirah, in respect, it is said, for the tribesmen's semi-independence. As a result of their activities on this occasion, however, their country has been aerially surveyed and photographically mapped. Every village from which men joined the raiding expedition is known to the British, and such villages are now being bombed and their defense towers and houses destroyed.

Villagers Flee to Fields.

Twenty-four hours' notice is given to these villages by messenger from the British headquarters. The villagers know well its meaning and go out into the open fields until the bombing is over.

The Afridis's neighbors, the Orakzais, in a great tribal assembly two days ago, decided to stand by their pledges to help the Afridis. They decided forthwith to take a descent by the Khanki Valley upon Kohat.

Intelligence of their intention was speedily received through spies at Peshawar and a warning immediately was sent to the Orakzais that, unless they desisted, they would be bombed.

The Tirah tribe of Massozai, which two days ago attacked Badama post, held by the Kurram militia, about eight miles from Parachinar, also paid the penalty of having its villages bombed. Airplanes evacuated all British women and children from Parachinar to Kohat before bombing. Report says the filibustering of the Afridis on the southern Tirah slope has been effectively checked.

The British, therefore, are taking elaborate precautions. Additional troops are being concentrated at Peshawar and the frontier air force also is being strengthened.

Quetta-Sukkur Railway Cut.

Brazilian Troops Capture Interior Rebel Stronghold

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SAO PAULO, Aug. 12.—Princeza, a small town in the interior of Parahyba State, which has for the past five months been the centre of rebel activities, has capitulated to the Federal forces, according to dispatches received here. The capture was effected by 1,500 Federal troops, who stormed the rebel breastworks, driving the disorganized defenders into the hinterland, where they disbanded.

The Federal attack was supported by a number of planes, which contributed a great deal to routing the rebels, although no bombs were reported dropped on the city. No reports have been received on the number of casualties, but they are believed small.

The Federal occupation of Princeza is expected to terminate the rebel activities and to restore order throughout Parahyba.

WORLD AIR RULES URGED BY LINDBERGH

He Tells Williamstown Institute They Are the Greatest Problem Confronting Aviation.

FOREIGNERS HAIL HIS PLEA

By LOUIS STARK.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 12.—A plea by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh for the formulation of a set of uniform flying regulations to simplify and encourage international flying won cordial acceptance from representatives of Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan and the United States at the Institute of Politics today.

Colonel Lindbergh spoke at a conference on "National Air Policies," conducted by Edward P. Warner, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics.

"We have been fortunate in the United States in having a lack of local regulations for the development of our air lines," said Colonel Lindbergh, who was presented by Mr. Warner as the first speaker.

"In the past few years commercial aviation in this country has progressed faster than in any other country in the world.

"As experience has been developed, however, and as our craft have been improved we find that this country's interest is not alone in communication between the various States by air, but that one of our most important interests is better communication with other countries, at this time particularly, I think, with Mexico and Central and South America.

"When the foreign lines from the United States to the south were first started we found a great lack of uniformity in regulations.

"At present it has been possible for companies operating regularly to standardize and to simplify a number of the previous regulations.

Future Needs Emphasized.

"However, there are still great opportunities to make the carrying of passengers and express a great deal more valuable, a great deal faster than at the present time, if we can obtain a standard set of regulations, obtain a simpler series of forms to be filled out in international transport, and if we can prevail upon the various countries which are served by the United States air lines to cooperate, with an idea toward the future and what these lines will bring to them in the future.

"At the present time it is the private flier, the private owner of aircraft, who requires the most assistance in international flying. He has not an organization to find out in advance what forms and reports it is necessary for him to make, and in many instances it is almost impossible for the private flier making an international trip by air to learn in advance the conditions he will encounter, both in regard to air routes and also to the regulations and restrictions laid down by the various countries he expects to fly through.

"Well, international flying is still in its infancy; it is possible to do a great deal to simplify and to encourage flying between nations in the future, and I believe that anything that can be done at the present time to draw attention to the necessity of uniform regulations, of encouraging air transport and individual flying, internationally, is of as great importance as any problem now confronting the development of aviation.

"I believe it is impossible for us to devote too much attention at the present time to overcoming what obstacles there are left to international flying."

Besides Mr. Warner, the other speakers at the conference were Otto Merkel, director of the Deutsche Lufthansa; D. O. Baudou of the Compagnie Generale Aeropostale; Yusuke Tsurumi, former member of

WET OHIO DEMOCRAT LEADS FOR SENATOR, DRY FOR GOVERNOR

NORRIS AHEAD IN NEBRASKA

ROBINSON IS LEADING 3 TO 1

Arkansas Senator's Renomination Assured—Gore and Murray Victors in Oklahoma Run-Off.

Returns reported last night by The Associated Press in the primaries in five States gave the following early results:

In Nebraska Senator George W. Norris, anti-administration Republican, was leading William M. Stebbins, "regular" candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination, by 35,103 to 24,734 on returns from 658 of the 2,030 precincts.

Nebraska Democrats apparently had nominated Gilbert N. Hitchcock, former Senator, for the Senatorial choice and Charles W. Bryan, former Governor and Vice Presidential nominee in 1924, for the Gubernatorial race.

In the Ohio Democratic race an advocate for repeal of the prohibition amendment, Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, held a big advantage over four opponents for the Senatorial nomination, but an avowed dry, George W. White, held a two to one lead in the contest for the Gubernatorial nomination over Stephen M. Young, a wet.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader and Vice Presidential candidate with Alfred E. Smith in 1928, had more than a three-to-one advantage over Tom W. Campbell. Senator Robinson is championing national prohibition.

John H. Bankhead, Jasper attorney, was leading Frederick I. Thompson, Mobile publisher, in the Alabama Democratic primary to select an opponent to Senator Heflin, who must run as an independent because of his failure to support Smith in 1928.

The run-off primary in Oklahoma to determine the Democratic candidates for the Senate and for Governor gave former Senator Thomas P. Gore a lead over C. J. Wrightsman, Tulsa oil man. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray had a safe lead over Frank Buttram in the Gubernatorial contest.

Wet Leads Ohio Senate Race.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 12.—Former Representative Robert J. Bulkley, advocate of repeal of national prohibition, piled up a commanding lead over his four opponents for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator on the basis of returns from all over Ohio in today's primary election.

The same precincts gave former Representative George White of Marietta, the dry candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, a substantial lead over his opponent, Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, who campaigned for dry law repeal.

Mr. Bulkley's wet stand drew a heavy vote to him in the large cities, especially in his home city of Cleveland, and gave him a wide margin over George McSweeney of Wooster, who bore the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon League; George S. Myers of Cleveland, favoring dry modification; W. W. Durbin of Kenyon, former Democratic State chair-

MAYOR DENIES $10,000 GOT EWALD HIS JOB, OR THAT HEALY WAS CONSULTED ABOUT IT; OLVANY BACKS WALKER AT CRAIN INQUIRY

Another Department Facing Inquiry by Higgins; Mayor Refuses to Name the Bureau Involved

The scope of the inquiry by James A. Higgins, Commissioner of Accounts, into the conduct of city departments was widened yesterday for the second time, when Mayor Walker indicated that another department, in addition to the Board of Standards and Appeals and the Dock Department, might come under the Higgins inquiry.

The Mayor revealed the receipt of several anonymous complaints which he said he had forwarded to Commissioner Higgins with the request that they be sifted thoroughly. He declined to disclose which department had been named in these complaints, but he said it was not the Department of Public Markets. When it was suggested that the only other departments under investigation were the Standards and Appeals Board and the Dock Department the Mayor declared that he had not said the latest complaints referred to any department already being investigated. Asked then if the complaints signified an extension of the Higgins investigation, Mayor Walker replied: "Maybe I'll know when I get a report on them from Commissioner Higgins."

Commissioner Higgins was originally instructed by the Mayor, on July 18, to make a thorough investigation of the Board of Standards and Appeals in the granting of garage permits and of the actions of the Dock Department with respect to pier leases. Later, however, the Mayor ordered Commissioner Higgins to "go all the way," to run down every complaint and to spare nobody. On Aug. 6, the Mayor instructed the Commissioner to investigate specific complaints of graft and other irregularities in the Department of Public Markets and the Bureau of Weights and Measures as a result of charges by Brooklyn butchers that they had been ordered to pay tribute to market supervisors.

On July 23, the Higgins inquiry was widened to include the Department of Taxes and Assessments after the Mayor had said he could see no reason why the Commissioner should not call Irwin Kurtz, Republican leader, to substantiate his charges of irregularity in that department. That same week, Commissioner Higgins said he would extend his activities to inquiring into the Richmond County Surrogate's Office.

The Commissioner also has directed his attention to the Fire Department Relief Fund.

ACTED ON STEUBEN BACKING

Mrs. Ewald Admits She Took Another $4,000 From Bank at Time of Appointment.

OTHERS WILL APPEAR TODAY

Principals Waive Immunity to Testify—Boczor Names a Doctor as Getting $2,000.

Mayor Walker and George W. Olvany, former leader of Tammany Hall, appeared before District Attorney Crain yesterday and denied any knowledge of the alleged purchase of his appointment by former Magistrate George F. Ewald. The Mayor, in making his denial, said that if Ewald paid any money for his appointment "he might just as well have thrown it in the sewer for all the good it did him."

With the examination of the Mayor and Mr. Olvany, Mr. Crain completed his preliminary inquiry into charges that Ewald obtained his seat on the bench as a result of a payment of $10,000 to Martin J. Healy, Tammany leader of the Nineteenth Assembly District and suspended Deputy Commissioner of Plant and Structures.

Healy has admitted taking the $10,000, but has insisted that the money was a loan obtained for him from Mrs. Bertha Ewald, the former magistrate's wife, through Thomas P. Tommaney, chief clerk in the office of Sheriff Farley. Both Mrs. Ewald and Tommaney said the loan, bearing no interest, was made to enable Healy to buy a Summer home at Blue Point, L. I.

Grand Jury to Act Today.

This morning District Attorney Crain will lay before the county grand jury the material obtained in this inquiry, presenting also several witnesses, including Mayor Walker. Three of the witnesses, Healy, Mrs. Ewald and Tommaney, will be called upon to sign waivers of immunity before going into the grand jury room. This, Mr. Crain said, will be done in order to facilitate any indictments the grand jury may find. All those who will be required to sign waivers of immunity have consented to do so. Should Ewald himself express a desire to appear before the grand jury he, too, will be asked to waive immunity, Mr. Crain said.

That Ewald will make such a request was learned yesterday. It was understood that I. Nicholas Gordon, counsel for Ewald, planned to address a letter to the foreman of the grand jury asking that his client be heard. Mr. Crain gave no indication as to the likelihood of indictments.

Boczor to Tell of "Confession."

Another witness before the grand jury today will be Emmerich Boczor, former confidential secretary to Ewald, who repeated yesterday before Mr. Crain his testimony before the Federal grand jury that he had a direct confession from Ewald that he purchased his seat on the bench for $12,000.

Boczor said that in the presence of Mrs. Ewald the former magistrate told him that he paid Dr. Francis M. Schirp, prominent in German-American circles, $2,000 and Commissioner Healy $10,000 for his appointment. He said he was in the dining room of the Ewald home at the time this information was given him, the time being Aug. 12, 1929. Boczor's mention of the $2,000 payment to Schirp accounts ostensibly for the first time for the difference between the $10,000 received by Healy and the $12,000 originally mentioned by Boczor before the Federal grand jury as the alleged purchase price of Ewald's appointment.

Mayor Walker's appearance before the grand jury will be to recapitulate the story told by him yesterday to Mr. Crain. The Mayor will also submit letters and other documentary evidence showing that he appointed Ewald chiefly upon the recommendation of Victor Ridder, publisher of the Staats-Zeitung, and of the Steuben Society. This was also the burden of his testimony before Mr. Crain yesterday, when he told the District Attorney that neither Healy nor any one else outside these backers already mentioned had anything to do with the appointment.

A feature of the Mayor's testimony

Police Visit Some Houses, but Make No Arrests—Officials Silent on Report.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Governor Roosevelt's letter to three Saratoga officials, Commissioner of Public Safety Edward Sweeney, District Attorney John G. Smith and Sheriff George E. Knight, has put at least a temporary crimp in gambling here.

It already has resulted in the closing of most of the smaller places in the inner district of the city, where the small fry among the race track followers have been accustomed to lay bets on the horses with the handbook men. If it has not absolutely closed the more pretentious places on the outskirts of the city and around Saratoga Lake it has brought about greater circumspection in the admission of unknown customers.

None of the three officials who have been ordered by the Governor to do their full duty in stopping gambling and to report to him by Thursday on what they have done to remedy conditions complained of would talk for publication, except to say that they would report to the Governor as directed.

CLEAR EARL CARROLL OF INDECENCY IN PLAY

HEAR DEFENDANTS' SIDE

Decision a Surprise Because of Church Drive—Scenes Under Fire Not to Be Restored.

The county grand jury declined yesterday to find indictments against Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, and three members of his "Vanities" cast who were arrested after a raid last July 9. The jurors listened for half an hour to police officials who explained why they considered the production objectionable and another half hour to the defendants, who explained that it was all "art"; then, after a few minutes of deliberation, freed the theatrical people.

Because of the current campaign against allegedly improper shows, in which attack leaders of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths have joined, the speedy decision of the grand jury occasioned some surprise. The Carroll production was one of two shows that had been specifically denounced. After being freed yesterday Mr. Carroll declared that the scenes to which the police censors had taken exception would not be reinstated.

Mr. Carroll, Jimmy Savo, comedian; Kay Carroll, actress, and Faith Bacon, dancer, had not been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury. When they applied through Louis Vorhaus, their lawyer, last week, for permission to appear, they were told by District Attorney Crain to address a request to the foreman, George H. Prings of 473 West End Avenue.

Scenes Described by Coy.

Mr. Vorhaus wrote the letter and when the jurors convened yesterday morning the defendants were waiting in a corridor on the chance that the jurors might hear them. They waited while James J. Coy, acting captain of police and departmental drama authority, told the jurors about Miss Bacon's "fan dance" and the scene in which Mr. Savo and Miss Carroll had taken part. Captain Coy's testimony was supplemented by that of James P. Sinnott, fifth deputy police Commissioner. Assistant District Attorney Harold W. Hastings, in charge of the indictment bureau, was then notified that the jurors would like to hear the other side.

Miss Bacon, who is 20 years old and lives at the Hotel Alamac, was the first defendant to be heard. She was followed by Savo, who lives at the Hotel Somerset, and Miss Carroll, who is 22 and lives at 150 West Twenty-eighth Street. Mr. Carroll was the final witness.

Miss Bacon is understood to have portrayed her fan dance in somewhat different fashion than the police officers. Miss Carroll and Mr. Savo

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Wednesday, Aug. 13.—The Daily Express today features a report that Turkish troops, in defiance of the Persian Government's refusal, have crossed the Persian frontier in pursuit of Kurdish raiders and that an official statement concerning an outbreak of war between Turkey and Persia may be expected at any moment.

The invasion, according to The Daily Express report, was made by Turkish infantry supported by cavalry, gendarmerie and a squadron of airplanes at Azerbaijan, northeast of Lake Van in the mountain range south of Mount Ararat. The objective is the triangle of Persian territory northwest of Urmia, lying across the railway between Erivan and Djoulfa.

Connection is seen between Russian-fomented trouble in Kurdistan and the present trouble in the northwest frontier of India. For some time past, says The Express, it has been known in official circles that the Russian Government has been busy in Kurdistan trying to revive the trouble which the Turks once managed to quell.

Turkey alleges that Persia also is behind the Kurds, and the charge has led to an acrimonious exchange of diplomatic notes. Occupation of Persian territory is held to be in the nature of a reprisal.

ISTANBUL, Aug 12. (AP).—General Salikh Pasha, commanding the Turkish forces now fighting rebellious Kurds near the Persian border, has begun a new offensive against 3,000 rebels entrenched in the vicinity of Mount Ararat.

Turkish troops yesterday crossed the border and occupied positions in the Ararat region, with the object of exterminating the insurgents. Some of the Kurds are natives of Turkey and some of Persia, crossing back and forth.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ISTANBUL, Aug. 12.—Despite Persia's refusal to allow Turkish military action against the Kurds on Persian territory, Turkey is taking advantage of a clause consenting to joint action and has officially informed Persia that Turkish troops have been ordered to occupy Little Ararat and Ay Bey Mountains on the border. Turkey also invites Persia to cross the boundary at any time she feels the need to pursue troublesome bandits, first giving proper notification.

The district ordered occupied is important because the Kurdish supplies are supposed to come that way.

Jackson and O'Brine Pass 545 Hours in Air; Will Reach Record This Morning and Fly On

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday, Aug. 13.—The endurance monoplane Greater St. Louis, piloted by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, at 12:11 A. M. today, Central Standard Time (2 A. M. New York time), was within nine hours of equaling the 554-hour record set by Kenneth and John Hunter, the Illinois brothers, at Chicago last month. Jackson and O'Brine had been up 545 hours and all appeared well.

If the Greater St. Louis is still droning over Lambert-St. Louis Field at 8:52 A. M. (Local Time), the mark of the Hunter brothers will be equaled and an hour later the new record will be chalked up. Jackson and O'Brine took off on July 21.

"The voice of the little yellow and orange bungalow," as O'Brine has dubbed the endurance plane in speaking to the ground crew over short-wave length transmitter, served notice yesterday that the airmen have no thought of quitting the sky soon.

When and if the record is broken, there will be a demonstration on the field below and the endurance team probably will do a little cavorting in the air as part of the celebration, but the fliers then expect to point their rugged craft toward a 1,000-hour record, or about six weeks of sustained flight.

Jackson said he had his "mind on that mark now," if the motor lasts, and he reported no sign of weakness.

The Jackson-O'Brine team flew to fame last year in the St. Louis Robin, the same type of plane being used now. The St. Louis Robin mark of 420 hours was almost double the previous record. If Jackson and O'Brine set a new record they will be the first refueling endurance fliers to regain the title after having lost it.

Depending upon public subscriptions for funds, the fliers have at times nearly faced a deficit. Last week O'Brine ordered one of his automobiles sold to obtain money to keep the plane aloft.

But with a new record in sight, financial reward also had appeared in the offing. An oil company has offered to pay the fliers $100 an hour for the first seventy hours after breaking the record, and other donations are coming in.

SHEA IS QUESTIONED ON BRIBERY CHARGE

WILL PUSH INVESTIGATION

150 Street Vendors Appear to Answer Summonses as Dwyer Staff Increases Its Activity.

John R. Shea, suspended supervisor of the Department of Public Markets, was questioned for two hours yesterday morning by Commissioner of Accounts James A. Higgins on the charge that Shea had attempted to extort $50 from H. J. Reiter of 115-01 Rockaway Boulevard, Rockaway Park, Queens.

Commissioner Higgins would not reveal Shea's testimony, but said after the interview that he would make an intensive inquiry into the charges against Shea.

Shea was arrested on July 17 after Reiter, a butcher, had given him $50 in marked money. Reiter said the money was part of a $100 bribe for which Shea agreed to let him sell non-kosher meat as kosher. Political influence caused him to drop the charge in Jamaica magistrate's court, he said.

Shea was transferred from the kosher squad before he left on his vacation, and when he returned on Monday was suspended without pay by Markets Commissioner Thomas F. Dwyer. Mr. Higgins is particularly interested in the circumstances of Shea's arrest and later release after Reiter dropped the charge. Shea's explanation of how the marked money came to be in his possession is that Reiter pretended to faint, fell against him and stuffed the money into his pocket.

Mr. Higgins certified the names of sixteen additional employes to the Municipal Civil Service Commission with a request that their appointments be expedited to help him in his investigation. He will employ ten accountants, four engineering inspectors and two stenographers for about three months. He had written to candidates on the civil service list and has received some acceptances of temporary employment.

150 Vendors Summoned.

More than 150 pushcart peddlers and street vendors appeared in answer to summonses issued by the Department of Public Markets for violations of the sanitary code and other regulations. The crowd, composed of men and women, was so great that several hearing rooms had to be hastily prepared for the disposition of their cases. Mr. Dwyer and his deputy, Philip J. O'Brien, took testimony on the complaints of supervisors. Most of the complaints dealt with minor infractions such as blocking sidewalks and various unsanitary conditions.

The number of peddlers summoned to the Municipal Building was more than twice the usual number who appear each Tuesday. Mr. Dwyer said that the heat of last week had crowded the open-air markets, resulting in an increased number of complaints. Although he denied that the investigation by Mr. Higgins had anything to do with his department's increased activity or that Mayor Walker's recent order to clean house was responsible for it, City Hall observers saw a direct connection between these factors and the increased activity. The usual penalty upon conviction is the suspension of the dealer's license for one, two or three days. The disposition of the cases had not been tabulated last night.

Sifts Richmond Fees.

The investigation of the Richmond County Public Administrator's office took a new twist yesterday when it was announced that the legal fees charged against 514 estates would be scrutinized to determine whether they were exorbitant. Mr. Higgins began an investigation of that office last March which resulted in the recent indictment and resignation of James W. Hennessey, former Public Administrator, who is now at liberty under $5,000 bail charged with second-degree larceny.

District Attorney Albert C. Fach said there was a possibility that additional indictments might be returned by the Richmond County grand jury against Hennessey and persons associated with him not yet named. The grand jury is continuing its investigation, cooperating with the Higgins investigators, several of whom appeared before the grand jury yesterday.

James C. Crane, Hennessey's successor, said that many heirs of unsettled estates had crowded his office in the last few days demanding that their estates be settled. He announced that no settlements would be made until the Higgins investigation had been completed. Final settlements have been made in only two of the 514 estates under Hennessey's jurisdiction as Public Administrator. Mr. Fach said a month would be required to finish the investigation, which will also consider whether the beneficiaries of estates were consulted before the estates were closed.

GIVING RUM TO GUESTS IS UPHELD BY JUDGE

Florida Federal Jurist Rules Liquor May Be Made in Home for Family and Visitors.

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 12 (AP).—Possession and use of intoxicating liquor in the home by the family and guests do not constitute a violation of Federal law, Judge Halsted L. Ritter ruled here today in United States District Court.

The court also held that liquor may be manufactured in the home for the use of the family and guests.

While manufacture is a technical violation, Judge Ritter decided, no warrant can be obtained to search a home without an affidavit that the liquor is being sold, and unless the latter is true the home is free from search.

The ruling was given in dismissing a charge of possession and manufacture of liquor in the home of Mrs. Mary Finn of Miami.

Richmond Hotel Dry Case Dismissed

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 12 (AP).—Charges against the Jefferson Hotel and a technical charge against N. K. Whitman, assistant manager, as a result of discovery of a quantity of whisky in the hotel during a raid Saturday night, were dismissed today in police court for lack of evidence. Charges preferred against several minor employes of the hotel were continued.

Diver and Flier Will Converse by Radio; To Describe Scenes Under and Over Pacific

A two-way conversation between a man deep down on the floor of the sea and fliers speeding high in the sky in a passenger plane is to be put on the air at 6 o'clock Friday night over a nationwide hookup of the National Broadcasting Company. It has never been done before.

Captain A. B. Henderson, a diver, will descend to the bed of the Pacific Ocean four miles off Venice, Cal., carrying a special microphone, and as he walks among the fish and marine flora will describe the scenes he encounters in the deep.

Cruising on the water in the immediate vicinity will be a fast yacht equipped with special short wave transmitters and receivers. This apparatus will pick up and relay the diver's story to the riders in the soaring plane. And when the airship's passengers speak their words will be relayed through the same agency to the man on the floor of the sea.

Listening in, millions from coast to coast will hear Henderson speak of the darting fish and the scuttling crabs in the twilight of the deep and then they will hear the riders of the air describe the scene that spreads below them. The conversation is to last from 6 o'clock until 6:15, Eastern Daylight Time.

The plane to be used in the test is a T. A. T.-Maddux air liner. It will be piloted by Lieutenant D. W. Tomlinson and will have on board the following women fliers: Bobby Trout, Marjorie Doing, Florence Lois Barnes, Gladys O'Donnell, Aline Miller, Melba Gorby, Thelma Granger, Edith Bond, Katherine Truett, Pattie Willis and Elizabeth Hayward.

Jack Keough, announcer in the N. B. C. studios in Los Angeles, will handle arrangements in the plane and Harry G. Eliot of Station KMTR will speak from the yacht, while Winston C. Moore of the broadcasting company's engineering staff will manipulate the speech input equipment in a station located on a Venice pier. Station WEAF will broadcast the feature for the New York area.

COMMISSION JOB PLEASES HOOVER

He Reports Success of Body in Settling Bridge Issue at San Francisco.

FIFTH TO COMPLETE TASK

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Hoover's confidence in special commissions as a solution for difficult problems was again demonstrated when, with some pride, he today announced that such a body had been able to settle the long-standing controversy regarding a bridge across San Francisco Bay.

The President said that this particular commission was the fifth he had appointed which had now completed its work. Mr. Hoover feels that all of the five have been highly successful in their work.

The other groups which have finished their tasks include those to study consolidation of veterans' activities, to settle strikes on Southwestern railways, to determine the policy of this government in Haiti and the delegation to the London Naval Arms Conference.

"The fifth of the commissions that have been appointed to determine the facts and to advise upon or negotiate special problems has now completed its report and secured a very admirable result," the President said.

"After several years of delay in settlement of a site for a much-needed bridge across San Francisco Bay due to disagreements between the naval authorities, the army engineers, the municipal and State authorities, the commission, representing all of these agencies, under the chairmanship of Mr. Mark L. Requa, has now come to unanimous agreement, and appears to have found a solution which has commended itself in all directions and a much-needed improvement may now be carried forward.

"The bridge will be constructed by local authorities. It involves no participation by the Federal Government other than the granting of certain rights of way."

The project is to be known as the Oakland Bridge, differentiated from the Golden Gate Bridge, which the War Department yesterday approved, and from the Alameda Bridge. The Navy Department has been anxious that the Oakland Bridge afford opportunity for battleships to pass beneath it.

Find Death of 3 Sisters Accidental.

Special to The New York Times.

EGG HARBOR CITY, Aug. 12.—A jury before Coroner Robert Atwood returned a verdict of accidental deaths tonight in an inquest on the crossing crash last Thursday near Pomona, N. J., in which three sisters, Helen, Agnes and Ursula Ryan, school teachers of Lilly, Pa., lost their lives. The verdict also recommended that the railroad company erect blinker lights at the crossing and remove trees which obscure the tracks from the highway.

WET OHIO DEMOCRAT LEADS FOR SENATOR

For the Democratic Senatorial nomination 2,354 precincts out of the 8,956 in the State gave: Bulkley, 19,296; Durbin, 9,451; McSweeney, 7,664; Myers, 3,897; Truax, 7,030.

For the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination 2,302 precincts gave: White, 31,081; Young, 18,770.

On the Republican side Governor Myers Y. Cooper and Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch were unopposed for renomination. Inasmuch as Senator McCulloch is an avowed dry, many Democratic leaders were exultant tonight over the prospect of his being opposed in November by Mr. Bulkley, an extreme wet.

At the same time the paradox with Mr. White, a dry, being the party's candidate for Governor, was realized. While Mr. White was a member of Congress, however, he came out for State's rights on the liquor question.

It was predicted that Mr. Bulkley's plurality in the metropolitan areas should offset any losses he might sustain in the dry rural sections. Mr. White was running strong all over the State.

The vote cast was extremely light, but this fact was expected to aid both Mr. Bulkley and Mr. White.

Norris Lead Mounting in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12 (AP).—Senator George W. Norris was piling up a steadily increasing plurality over his opponents as returns poured in from Nebraska's Senatorial primary tonight.

Standard bearer of insurgent Republicanism, Norris had based much of his campaign on criticism of the Hoover Administration, denouncing its tariff and farm relief measures.

Inasmuch as his principal opponent, William M. Stebbins, had the endorsement of his "regular" wing of the party, the primary was regarded by many observers as a test of the administration strength in the farm belt.

Returns from 658 out of 2,030 precincts in the State gave Norris 35,103, Stebbins 24,734.

Aaron Read, who filed as a wet candidate but virtually withdrew a week ago, trailed with 2,161 votes.

Gilbert M. Hitchcock, former Senator, was leading his dry opponent, Dr. Jennie Callfas, for the Democratic nomination by a margin of about 3 to 1. Returns from 206 precincts gave: Hitchcock, 6,997; Dr. Callfas, 2,015.

Senator Robinson Far Ahead.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 12 (AP).—Senator Robinson had better than a 3-to-1 lead over his opponent, Tom W. Campbell, and Governor Harvey Parnell was leading his nearest opponent, Brooks Hays, by a growing margin in returns from today's Democratic State primary.

An even 350 precincts in the Gubernatorial race gave: Parnell, 13,960; Hays, 9,916; John Sheffield, 2,172; Thornberry Gray, 315.

Reports of an unusually heavy vote came from all parts of the State. The Democratic nomination is equivalent to election. Although the campaign was one of the most heated in years no disorders were reported, but the votes of many persons were challenged by election officials on the ground that they failed to support the Smith-Robinson Presidential ticket in 1928.

The rule of the party in Arkansas barring bolters in the 1928 Presidential election from participating in today's primary was ignored in some counties and was enforced in others.

Bankhead Has Alabama Lead.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 12 (AP).—With returns from one-third of the precincts in the State reported, John H. Bankhead of Jasper tonight held a substantial lead over Frederick I. Thompson, Mobile publisher, in their race for the United States Senatorial nomination in the Democratic primary.

Returns from 440 precincts of the 1,488 in the State gave Bankhead 13,143, Thompson 6,000.

For the Gubernatorial nomination 196 precincts gave Lieutenant Governor W. C. Davis 5,528, B. M. Miller 4,433, Attorney General C. C. McCall 835. The other three candidates trailed far behind. A midnight tabulation, however, showed Miller had pulled out in front, with Davis running a close second.

While the regular Democrats voted in the primary, supporters of Senator Heflin held county mass meetings to name delegates to a State convention to be held Sept. 1 in the interest of his independent candidacy.

Murray and Gore in Oklahoma.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 12 (AP).—William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, farmer, lawyer and former cowboy, apparently had won the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination from Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City oil operator, in the run-off primary on returns from about two-thirds of the State tonight.

Thomas P. Gore, blind former Senator, was headed for victory over his Democratic opponent for the Senatorial nomination, Charles J. Wrightsman, Tulsa oil millionaire.

Returns from 2,286 precincts out of 3,325 for the nomination for Governor gave Murray 157,436, Buttram 94,182.

Mr. Murray's vote in the run-off was far ahead of that polled by Mr. Buttram in the first primary. Only 200 votes separated ex-Senator Gore and Mr. Wrightsman in the first primary, which eliminated eight other aspirants.

There were only three Congressional contests passed upon today, all Democratic races in districts now represented by Republicans. All eight incumbents were renominated.

REQUEST REFERENDUM IN ILLINOIS ON DRY ACT

Cook County Republicans File Petitions Signed by 400,000 for Vote in November.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 12 (AP).—The Cook County Republican Committee petitioned the Secretary of State today for a dry law referendum.

Three petitions bearing the names of about 400,000 voters and sent from Chicago last night under guard called for the inclusion on the ballot of three questions:

Shall the Eighteenth Amendment be repealed?

Shall the Illinois search and seizure act be repealed?

Bernard W. Snow, chairman of the Cook County Republican Committee, who headed a group of Chicago party leaders in presenting the petitions, said the majority of the signatures had been obtained in Chicago and Cook County, but that by request many of the petitions were circulated down-State.

If approved, the questions will be voted upon at the November general election, in which Ruth Hanna McCormick, the Republican nominee, opposes James Hamilton Lewis for the Senate.

Mr. Lewis, the Democratic candidate and a former Senator, is opposed to the dry law, but Mrs. McCormick has taken no stand on the prohibition question.

QUEENS GROUP ACTS IN PARTY CONFLICT

Butler Democrats, Ignoring No Quorum Protest, Vote to Alter Committee Rule.

Theofel Supporter Challenges Sincerity of 150 Members at Meeting Called by Chairman.

With County Chairman James Butler disregarding the protest of a Theofel supporter that no quorum was present, about 150 members of the Queens County Democratic Committee adopted a resolution changing the rules for the selection of the executive committee at a meeting last night, with the understanding that the legality of their action probably would have to be decided by the courts.

The amended rules provide for the election of the members of the executive committee by the county committee instead of their appointment by the county chairman, and the change is intended to end the so-called "one-man rule" of John Theofel, chairman of the executive committee, leader of the Queens Democratic organization. Last night's meeting was on recess from a meeting three weeks ago.

There are 2,200 members of the county committee and the majority stayed away at the request of Mr. Theofel. A few Theofel adherents were present to watch the proceedings and the enmity between the two factions was evident from the start.

Herbert A. O'Brien, the first speaker, attacked Mr. Theofel and announced that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Surrogate against John Hetherington, recently appointed to that office by Governor Roosevelt. He added that his first act in the event of his election would be to remove Mr. Theofel from the office of chief clerk, to which he recently was appointed.

"I will throw him out and keep all politicians out of the Surrogate's Court," Mr. O'Brien said.

James Munro, a Theofel supporter, challenged the sincerity of those seeking to change the rules. He was answered by Richard H. Williams, former Tax Commissioner, who informed Mr. Munro that Mr. Theofel had prevented him from becoming chairman of the executive committee.

William Laviano of Woodside, whose point of no quorum caused the recess at the last meeting, said he had become convinced that the county committee should vote to change the rules and leave it to the courts to decide whether a quorum was present.

Chairman Butler put his motion to change the rules despite shouts of protest and declared a recess until Sept. 14.

Boos and hisses greeted most of the speakers during the meeting. After the meeting Mr. Munro produced a copy of the committee's rules which contained a paragraph stating that the vote of a majority of the members of the county committee was necessary to change a rule.

TELLS OF WINE ORDERS.

Former Newburgh (N. Y.) Pastor Says He Signed Many for "Bishop."

The Rev. John Petrykanyn, formerly pastor of the Czechoslovak Church of Newburgh, N. Y., testified yesterday before Federal Judge Thomas and a jury that although he had signed orders for the withdrawal of thousands of gallons of sacramental wine in 1928, and had turned these orders over to Charles Mrzena, his Bishop, he had received only a small quantity of wine.

Father Petrykanyn, who now has a church in Youngstown, pleaded guilty recently to an indictment charging that he and others had conspired with Mrzena, self-styled Bishop of the Czechoslovak Old Catholic Orthodox Church, to divert sacramental wine to bootleg channels. He testified for the government yesterday in the trial of Mrzena and the others.

The Rev. Alexander Chechila of the Russian Old Orthodox Church testified that he had signed withdrawal applications and had delivered them to Mrzena. He and Petrykanyn said they had received from $100 to $400 each from Mrzena for signing the applications. U. S. Grant, Assistant United States Attorney, expects to rest the case for the government today.

Facing Life, He Blames Liquor And Asks Crain for Leniency

Herman Miller, who has served twenty years in jail for twelve convictions, wrote a letter yesterday to District Attorney Crain in which he pleaded for leniency on a charge of grand larceny for which he was arrested last week. He laid his predicament to liquor. If convicted, he faces a life sentence.

"I stand all alone in the world," he wrote. "I am not a thief at heart, but a victim of drink. Herman Miller would never do what I have been doing if I did not have this awful weakness of drink. It is a curse on me. By heart I never could be a thief. It's all being out of my mind when I drink, so please call me to your office and let me plead. But save me from life imprisonment. I really would like to be examined and see if I could not stop this curse of drink."

Mr. Crain said he would investigate to determine whether a lesser charge could be made against Miller and whether he deserved leniency.

J. D. MOORE RESIGNS; PULVER TO GET POST

WILL SERVE UNTIL SEPT. 1

Brooklyn Federal Employes Fear Housecleaning by Successor to Give Long Island Patronage.

United States Marshal Jesse D. Moore of Brooklyn has resigned his office, it became known yesterday, and has paved the way for the appointment of Fred S. Pulver of Suffolk County to succeed him. Mr. Moore's resignation ends a controversy among Republican leaders in the Eastern Federal District that has lasted for months and results in a victory for W. Kingsland Macy, Suffolk County Chairman.

Mr. Moore said he mailed his resignation to the Attorney General on Aug. 5 and that it had been accepted to become effective on Aug. 31. His term expired on May 5 last and his reappointment was opposed at first by the group headed by Meier Steinbrink, county leader, before Mr. Steinbrink was chosen for the leadership. After becoming leader, Mr. Steinbrink supported Mr. Moore, who had been a supporter of Jacob A. Livingston, former leader.

Mr. Macy then brought out Mr. Pulver as a candidate and sought to obtain the support of State Chairman William J. Maier on the ground that Suffolk County had been neglected completely in Federal patronage. Mr. Maier refused to take sides and Mr. Macy presented Mr. Pulver's claim on several trips to Washington. About six weeks ago, Mr. Macy and Mr. Steinbrink reached an agreement by which Mr. Moore would remain until Sept. 1 and Mr. Steinbrink then would withdraw objection to Mr. Pulver's appointment.

The Marshal has 32 assistants, 17 deputy marshals and 15 bailiffs. Although the district includes the four Long Island counties and Richmond, only five positions in the office are held outside of Brooklyn, Suffolk having one appointment and Queens and Nassau two each.

Every person holding office under the Marshal is removable at the pleasure of that official. It was asserted in the Federal Building in Brooklyn yesterday that if the appointment goes to Mr. Pulver he will demand the resignation of everyone in the office and then appoint those to serve under him as he desires. It is believed the Brooklyn organization will be considered in the distribution of the patronage, but it also is believed that the lion's share will fall to Suffolk and Nassau.

CARAWAY ATTACKS J. J. DAVIS CAMPAIGN

He Says Senate Will Refuse to Seat Secretary or Mrs. McCormick if They Win.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The exclusion of Ruth Hanna McCormick and James J. Davis from the United States Senate, if they are elected in Illinois and Pennsylvania next November, was predicted today by Senator Caraway of Arkansas, who said that the amount of their primary campaign funds would be "convincing evidence" against them.

The Arkansas Senator asserted that if either Representative McCormick or Secretary Davis is seated, the Senate would owe an apology to Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, William S. Vare of Pennsylvania and Frank L. Smith of Illinois, all of whom lost seats because of excessive expenses in the campaigns.

It was Mr. Caraway's opinion that Mr. Vare was better justified in spending large sums in 1926 than were the supporters of the Davis-Brown ticket in 1930. Mr. Vare, the Senator said, had to oppose a ticket headed by ex-Senator Pepper which had expended nearly $2,000,000. Mr. Caraway also argued that Mr. Vare had no organization support except in Philadelphia, while, he asserted, Secretary Davis had the support of the Vare organization, organized labor and some of the Pittsburgh party organizations.

Mr. Caraway said that if the Senate agreed to the argument that Mrs. McCormick spent only her money it would mean that every candidate except a rich one would be precluded from seeking a Senate seat.

The Nye campaign funds investigating committee is now endeavoring to ascertain how much money was spent in the Illinois and Pennsylvania primaries. Mrs. McCormick's total so far is put at about $325,000, that of the Davis-Brown slate at about $300,000. Agents of the committee are still working in the two States.

W. J. M'GEORY LOSES WESTCHESTER RACE

HIS DEFEAT LAID TO FOLEY

Women's Group Pushes Issue for Wets—Ward Silent, but Said to Favor Dry Stand.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The downfall of a minority unit in the Westchester County Democratic organization was seen last night with the "ousting" of William J. McGeory as State committeeman from the Fifth Assembly District in Yonkers and the election of Charles J. Wallace, a young attorney, in his place.

Mr. McGeory is the leader of organized labor in Westchester County and for years has been counted a power in Democratic politics in Yonkers and the county. His defeat at a meeting in Yonkers last night was declared a victory for Harry T. Foley, also of Yonkers, who for the past year has led the Westchester Democrats as chairman of their county committee.

Mr. Foley resigned temporarily as county chairman recently when Governor Roosevelt failed to appoint John B. Coyle of White Plains to succeed the late Supreme Court Justice Frank L. Young. At that time he charged that Mr. McGeory failed to support the organization and its chairman in their backing of Coyle.

Thomas A. Brogan of the Fourth Assembly District in Yonkers is understood to be slated for the same fate as McGeory if he attempts to win re-election as State committeeman. Like McGeory he has been a power in the Yonkers and county Democracy, and like McGeory he was charged by Mr. Foley with lack of support in the recent party crises.

Announcement of the return of questionnaires sent out by the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform showed that Foley would work for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, while the questionnaire of William L. Ward, veteran leader of Westchester Republicans, was not returned.

The result of the poll as regards Westchester political leaders was interpreted as an indication of the course to be pursued by the Democratic and Republican delegations from Westchester at the State conventions of the two parties.

The Democratic delegation will be solidly wet, it is understood, and the organization Republican delegation will go to its convention non-committal at the outset. If a vote is taken on the insertion of a wet plank in the Republican State platform it is believed in well-informed circles here that the Ward delegates will vote dry. Mr. Ward is known as a pronounced dry and it is not believed that he will now alter his stand. Heretofore he has made a policy of keeping prohibition out of Republican politics in this county.

With the announcement that the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment would have forty-five candidates for delegates to the State convention to oppose the Ward delegates in the primaries, a certain organization faction in this city announced that the Ward delegation might vote wet at the State convention. The opposition delegation will run solely on the prohibition question on the ground that Ward and his delegation will vote dry.

Those closest to Mr. Ward declared no stock could be placed in the report that his delegation would vote wet until word to that effect came from the leader.

COMMUTERS SEE MAN DIE.

New Jersey Barber Killed as He Drives Car on Tracks at Tenafly.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 12.—Commuters bound for New York saw Onofrio Lapori of River Edge Road, Tenafly, killed this morning at the Tenafly Station of the Northern Railroad when his automobile was struck at a crossing protected by blinker lights. The view of the crossing where the fatality occurred is obscured by the freight house on the north side of the road and Lapori, who was a barber in Cresskill, drove directly into the path of the train.

The automobile was hurled about 180 feet and the body was picked up about forty feet further down the tracks.

Lapori is survived by a wife and five children. The train crew was held for a hearing.

FREE EARL CARROLL IN INDECENCY CASE

When the defendants were informed of the grand jury's decision, they shook hands, kissed, laughed, commended the jurors, and voiced gratitude for their "vindication."

Others Arrested Were Freed.

The raid which opened the case took place at the New Amsterdam Theatre after Mr. Coy, Mr. Sinnott and Deputy Inspector James S. Boland had waited quietly through a matinee. Mr. Carroll was not in the theatre at the time but surrendered the next day at the arraignment which took place before Magistrate Gotlieb in Jefferson Market Court. Mr. Carroll and his three codefendants were held in $500 bail each for trial in Special Sessions. Several others who had been arrested were dismissed, the court pointing out that they had "played but a minor part in this illegal production."

At a hearing on July 15 Magistrate Gotlieb characterized the acts as "a lewd exhibition," and declared that "public interest requires that this case be disposed of as early as possible." On July 29, Judge Otto A. Rosalsky granted a motion in General Sessions for trial by jury, holding that "the question whether a play or entertainment on the stage is obscene or indecent or tends to suggest impure thoughts is one that should be presented to a jury."

Following yesterday's decision it was said at the District Attorney's office that if any further formal complaints were received they would be thoroughly investigated.

Barbuti, Olympic Star, Gets 13 Spades in Bridge Hand

Ray Barbuti, who has already earned fame as a star halfback at Syracuse University, intercollegiate dash champion at 220 and 440 yards, and as the only American to win a race on the flat at the last Olympics, gained a new laurel last night.

POLICE TROUSERS BAIT A THIEF TRAP

AMERICAN HOUSE THE SCENE

Hotel Long Had Suffered From Small Robberies and the Police Act to Catch Nimble-Fingered Wraith.

The scourge of the late outpost of Bohemia, the Attila of Hoboken, will ride no more through the placid corridors of the American House. No more will he dip a tiny little watch, lift a small piece of jewelry or clank a few coins belonging to somebody else. For early yesterday morning he fell into a trap; a pitfall that was baited with a detective's trousers.

It seems that just as dawn struggled over the Eastern docks, two bedraggled men appeared at the hotel. They had been seeing Hoboken by night. For hours they had tramped the streets and they told the clerk they wanted to go home. The clerk patiently explained that they weren't at home but just in Hoboken.

Presently they were led up the stairs. They carried themselves lightly, pausing momentarily on the second floor to sing a stanza from an epic about the Esquimaux. It caused a slight commotion. On the third floor they stopped again. This time there was a ballad, fashioned by an artist of Tin Pan Alley from the French. Then there was silence.

About five minutes later one of the pair swayed again into the hallway in search of a drink of water. He had no coat, vest, shirt or trousers. He left the room door open behind him, and the hotel could hear pretty distinctly that the other occupant was asleep. So it was that a wraith stole in, a wraith which promptly picked up the trousers of Detective Beatty and was just as promptly seized by Detective Reynolds. The former came back from his drink in time to join the scuffle.

When he was arraigned before Acting Recorder James Coolaham later in the day, the suspect said he was Richard Corrigan of New York City. The detectives explained that about three months ago the owner of the American House called the police and reported a series of thefts. He suspected Corrigan, and when the latter registered again, telephoned headquarters. The two policemen thereupon put on their small play with the prisoner as audience. He was held without bail on the strength of it.

ROOSEVELT TO VISIT SOUTH-CENTRAL STATE

Governor Will Leave Albany Aug. 21 and Will Spend Three Days on Trip.

ALBANY, Aug. 12 (AP).—Governor Roosevelt will leave Albany Aug. 21 on a three-day trip to points in the south-central part of the State.

His first stops will be at Duanesville and Cobleskill. There he will visit the State Agricultural College, later attending a farm picnic at Howe Caverns before proceeding to Sharon Springs, Cherry Valley, Springfield, Richfield Springs and Cooperstown, where he will spend the night.

He will visit the Oneonta Normal School Aug. 22, and will be entertained by the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce. The Governor will visit the Woman's Relief Corps home at Oxford and Unadilla during the day, besides attending a farm picnic at Delhi.

On Aug. 23, he will go to Walton, Hancock, Roscoe and Liberty and to the Boy Scout camp on Ten Mile River in Sullivan County. He is expected to arrive at his home in Hyde Park at 7 o'clock that night.

On Thursday the Governor will attend the dedication of a high school at New Lebanon, Columbia County.

Tree Sitter Badly Hurt in Fall.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 12 (AP).—Stephen Streleck, 16-year-old tree sitter, suffered a badly fractured skull last night when a limb on which he had been perched for nearly 400 hours, gave way, plunging him twenty-five feet to the ground. He was taken to the hospital in critical condition.

Testimony of Mayor Walker and Olvany at Ewald Inquiry

The complete text of the testimony of Mayor Walker and George W. Olvany on the appointment of ex-Magistrate George F. Ewald was given out by Mr. Crain last night as follows:

Q.—Mr. Mayor, you appointed to the office of city magistrate, George F. Ewald? A.—I did.

Q.—And the appointment was made April 30, 1927, he was sworn in? A.—I think that's the day. On or about that day.

Q.—About how long, if at all, had you known Mr. Ewald before that time? A.—I did not know Mr. Ewald except by reputation previous to that date.

Q.—You hadn't met him while he was a Deputy Assistant District Attorney? A.—I might have.

Q.—But so far as you recall ——? A.—I have no distinct recollection of ever having seen him. Yet I might very well have done that.

Q.—At all events, he was not what you would call one of your personal acquaintances? A.—No, he was not.

Walker Submits Letters.

Q.—About how long before you appointed him was his name suggested to you for appointment? A.—I have with me some memoranda that may help to establish the approximate day that his name was first called to my attention. For instance, a letter dated April 19, 1927, from Victor Ridder of Staats-Zeitung and other papers in New York City and throughout the country. I have another memorandum mailed to me dated April 20, 1927, signed by three men and on the stationery of the Manhattan District Council of the Steuben Society of America, so that I had been considering the name surely upon the receipt of these communications.

Q.—Undoubtedly. A.—That was approximately at least ten days before his appointment.

Q.—You think that perhaps prior to the receipt of either of them you had had his name called to your attention orally by somebody? A.—I think so.

Q.—You think that these letters that you have referred to——? A.—Let me qualify that, Judge, for the sake of accuracy. It may be that these communications were the first mention of his name.

Q.—I want to get your best recollection on it. Of course, I know that lots of time has passed and you have a great many things to consider. The point with me is rather this: Whether somebody came to you and orally mentioned it and perhaps told you an outline of what was supposed to be his backing which may have led up to some remark by you: "Well, let him produce his credentials"? A.—No. It probably arose from a circumstance that I would be reluctant to testify to unless I felt that that information would remain with you and the grand jury, for this reason——"

Had Rejected One Applicant.

Q.—Suppose you say nothing about those circumstances to me today, but tomorrow when you and I are together in the grand jury room——?

A.—So long as I started——I was asked to appoint a man whom I refused to appoint.

Q.—I understand. A.—I dislike to mention his name, that's all.

Q.—In other words, your reason is that what you may say would give information regarding your rejection of an application made by another for the same place? A.—That's right.

Q.—I understand. A.—Then I said at some time——

Q.—I think in that connection I leave it to your good judgment to answer one way or another. I will ask you whether that other was likewise connected with the Steuben Society? A.—He did have the support of the Steuben Society, and I told them I would not reappoint the man, but that I would be very glad to cooperate with them and to consider any other suggestion that they would make.

Q.—Was that an oral communication made to you by a group of two or three people? A.—Yes.

Q.—Down at City Hall? A.—Yes.

WALKER TELLS CRAIN HOW EWALD GOT HIS JOB.

The Mayor, Testifying Yesterday Before the District Attorney in Denial of Charges That Money Helped the Former Magistrate Get His Place on the Bench.

Q.—Some appreciable time, I take it, before the first of those letters? A.—That's what I am indefinite about. I can't place those conversations. It may be that these nominations, or recommendations, rather, came from men with whom I did not talk to before.

Q.—I see. I take it that it is perhaps true that, besides the other persons whom you have indicated were applicants, there were also still others not in any way connected with the Steuben Society who were seekers for the place? A.—Whether it would be safe to assume so—but I don't remember.

Q.—You don't recall? A.—No.

Did Not Talk With Olvany.

Q.—Prior to the making of the appointment, had you any conversation with George W. Olvany relating to the appointment? A.—No. Not a word that I can remember.

Q.—Prior to the making of the appointment, had you any conversation with Martin J. Healy respecting the making of the appointment? A.—Not a single word.

Q.—Do you recall whether or not you made any inquiry as to the place of residence of Ewald before appointing him—that is to say, the portion of the Borough of Manhattan in which he lived? A.—No, I did not, not as to what part of the borough.

Q.—Not the question of the Assembly district? A.—No such inquiry. It had no bearing on the matter.

Q.—Is there anything which you feel that in the public interest it would be desirable for you to say bearing on the charge that is about to be investigated, namely, a charge that $10,000 was paid to and received by Martin J. Healy in connection with the appointment of George F. Ewald as a city magistrate? A.—I have, and had you not been courteous enough to invite me here, I should have asked for the opportunity before your investigation concluded of presenting myself here and saying to you that I look upon it as a very lamentable thing. Mr. Ewald was appointed because of the support and advocacy of the Steuben Society of America, evidenced by this communication, dated April 20, 1927, which I am glad to show you.

Q.—I will ask you to have the kindness to bring that with you when you come tomorrow. A.—I will be glad to do that.

Looked Into Ewald's Standing.

Q.—And also the other letter? A.—And the letter from Mr. Victor Ridder. Plus that, there were several men whom I knew of and indirectly inquired about as to Mr. Ewald's standing in the community and his fitness for the place. I knew of his brother, Dr. Ewald, and it was my understanding that he attained a distinguished position in his profession and had the respect of everybody who knew him. That, of course, influenced me in his brother's favor, although Dr. Ewald never spoke to me about his brother. I don't remember the date, but I have in mind making inquiries at the District Attorney's office either from Mr. Banton or his secretary, Mr. Donlon, as to the record and reputation which Mr. Ewald enjoyed in the District Attorney's office, and was informed that it was indeed very good. An old friend of mine, Mr. Herman Ridder, actively associated with German associations for a great many years, spoke very well of him. I have tried to recite to you how Judge Ewald won the attention of the Mayor.

Q.—I understand. A.—And his appointment——.

Q.—I think you have covered that. A.—Let me end, though. Nobody in political circles, including Mr. Olvany, ever spoke to me about Judge Ewald. Judge Ewald, at that time Mr. Ewald, did not need any greater support than he had and no political support—no political objection could have stopped his appointment. So that if he voluntarily contributed any money for that appointment he might just as well have thrown it in a sewer, for all the good it did him.

Crain Recapitulates Case.

Q.—I think that perhaps I ought to put in a very few words just what the situation is so that you may understand it. Ewald was sworn in as a city magistrate April 30, 1927. His wife was the daughter of a Mr. Peter Eckert. At the time of Judge Ewald's appointment and for some years before that, Mrs. Ewald had been in partnership with her father. The firm name was Eckert & Ewald. Business was the motion picture business. They were operating a motion picture theatre. They were dividing the profits equally. They had a written lease of the theatre. There was a bank account in the firm name in the Chelsea Bank. Mr. Eckert had in that bank a personal bank account in his own name. Mrs. Ewald had two children, two boys. She, her husband and the children lived in an apartment. They had shortly before April 30, 1927, moved from the Nineteenth Assembly District into the Twenty-third District. Having moved, Ewald made an application for membership in the local district club of the Twenty-third District. At the time of his appointment and for a number of years before his appointment, he had been a member of the Cayuga Club, rather an active member, at times he had acted as an assistant district captain, a member of the county committee and was well acqainted with Martin J. Healy, who then had become, in 1927, the leader of the district. On the 26th of April, Thomas Tommaney, a member of the Cayuga Club, an investigator from the office of the Board of Aldermen, an intimate friend of Martin J. Healy, called at the house of the Ewalds, referred to the fact that Martin J. Healy wanted a loan of money and was told by Mrs. Ewald that she would loan to him, Tommaney, $10,000. She produced $5,000 in cash. That $5,000 had been in her room for about a month, being the proceeds of a check drawn on March 28 to her order by her father, which she cashed at the time in the bank; and $5,000 by a check, the proceeds of money transferred by her from the savings bank account that stood in the name of one of the little children in the Washington Heights Bank, where she had an account, which bank certified the check at her request so that it was already prepared for Tommaney at the time that he called. He went with the check and the cash and he executed a promissory note, payable May 1, 1932, to Mrs. Ewald for the $10,000, which note was to draw no interest. Tommaney went with cash and certified check to the home of Healy. At the home of Healy he endorsed the check to Healy, turned over to Healy the cash, but did not receive from Healy any receipt, any promissory note, any evidence in writing of the payment or any promise to do payment. Healy deposited the check in his bank account on April 30. A few days later, May 4, he deposited in that same account, the cash. He later, some time in June, drew a check, according to his statement, to the order of his own wife for $10,000, which she deposited in the Emigrant Savings Bank, opening up two accounts, one for $7,500 and one for $2,500. In August they looked at a house in Blue Point. In September they entered into a contract for the purchase of it, the purchase price being $8,500. One tthousand dollars was paid when the contract was signed, $7,500 on the delivery of the deed, which was paid in cash in October. It is growing out of the coincidence in point of date—the political relationship of Healy to Ewald and certain things connected with the transaction which would lead one to characterize it as an unusual one, that has led to this investigation coupled by a statement made by one who claims to have been the private secretary of Ewald by Ewald to him that he, Ewald, paid for the judgeship, and he paid $12,000. That's all. In the light of what I have said, there is nothing that you can add——. A.——except that nothing won him any consideration from me but Mr. Ridder's advocacy and that of the societies that I have mentioned.

TESTIMONY OF OLVANY.

Mr. Olvany's examination was as follows:

Q.—Whereabouts do you live? A.—43 Fifth Avenue, Manhattan.

Q.—You are an attorney and counselor at law? A.—I am.

Q.—You have been for a number of years? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—You were a judge of the Court of General Sessions? A.—I was.

Q.—Before your appointment as such judge, you were counsel for the sheriff? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—You were a member of the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall for a number of years? A.—I was.

Q.—Representing on that committee the downtown section of the Tenth Assembly District? A.—I was.

Q.—Naturally, you were a member of the Democratic County Committee? A.—I was.

Q.—You were, what was popularly called, before you became a judge, for a considerable time, a leader of a portion of the Tenth Assembly District? A.—I was.

Q.—And then you were called by those who have been your associates on the Executive Committee to what is popularly known as the leadership of the Democratic party of New York City? A.—Yes.

Q.—You became such leader on your resignation as a judge of the General Sessions and that was about when? A.—July 14, 1924.

Q.—As a member of the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall and as a member of the County Committee of the Democratic party and afterward as leader of the Democratic party in New York City, you became acquainted with Martin J. Healy who is now first deputy commissioner of Plant and Structures and you have known him for many years? A.—I have.

Olvany Knew of Vacancy.

Q.—Some time before the 30th of April, 1927, there was a vacancy in the Board of City Magistrates due to the expiration of the term of office of Magistrate Oberwager? A.—I do not know when his term expired, but I knew that Judge Oberwager was not going to continue as a magistrate.

Q.—He contemplated the resumption of the private practice of the law? A.—So I understand.

Q.—And it came to your attention that there would be by reason of that vacancy an opportunity for the Mayor of the city to make an appointment of the position? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—About when did you learn of the contemplated retirement of Magistrate Oberwager? A.—A few days before he resigned.

Q.—You don't recall the date of his resignation? A.—I do not.

Q.—According to your best recollection, about how much time would you say elapsed between that resignation and the 30th of April of 1927, the date on which it is conceded George F. Ewald was sworn into office? A.—I could not answer that. The date of the resignation would have to speak for itself. I have no distinct recollection.

Met Steuben Society Group.

Q.—In that intervening time, whatever it may have been, did persons come to see you to talk with you respecting that vacancy? A.—Yes.

Q.—Are you able to give me the names of any of those persons? A.—To the best of my recollection, a committee of the Steuben Society, a German organization, called to see me and presented the name of Judge Ewald and stated that they had heard that Judge Oberwager, who was also a member of their organization, was about to resign. A few days later the same committee returned with a resolution of the Steuben Society endorsing Mr. Ewald for the judgeship, and my recollection is that I told this committee to call on the Mayor and present the resolution to him.

Q.—Before that committee called on you, did members of the Steuben Society suggest the appointment of some person other than Ewald? A.—No.

Q.—I may say that I'm told that two other names were submitted by members of the society, but as claimed by a member of the governing board of the society, without any authorization from the society itself? A.—The only name which was submitted by the Steuben Society was that of Mr. Ewald. There was a man by the name of Brandt——

Q.——who lived in the Bronx? A.—Yes, Charles Brandt, came down to see me personally and asked me if I would submit his name to the Mayor and I told him it was a Manhattan vacancy and he lived in the Bronx.

Q.—He was not endorsed by the Steuben Society. A.—No.

Q.—I'm told that in addition to him, there was another man presented by some people who claimed to be connected with the society, but whom the society was unwilling to endorse because apparently he only joined there for the purpose of being recommended? A.—I have no recollection of that, nothing at all.

Doubts He Talked to Healy.

Q.—In connection with the appointment of Ewald and before the appointment, did Commissioner Healy have any talk with you? A.—I do not remember talking with Mr. Healy in reference to this appointment at all, except when I heard from Mr. Mara that Ewald just moved into his district and formerly lived in Healy's district, that I might have asked Healy what he knew about him.

Q.—Apparently Ewald, having moved, made an application for membership in Mara's club, I should say an application just about a month before his appointment, and Ewald's voting residence for a number of years had been in Healy's district—that is the information I have? A.—I have no direct information.

Q.—About how long, if at all, before his appointment as city magistrate had you known Ewald? A.—I do not remember ever meeting him before his appointment.

Q.—At the time of his appointment he was a deputy assistant district attorney? A.—So I understand.

Q.—Did you know him at the time he was appointed? A.—I do not think so.

Q.—You have no recollection of having heard of him in connection with the obtainment of the appointment as deputy assistant district attorney? A.—No.

Q.—Judge, aside from what you have told me in answer to these very few questions, is there any statement that you could make which would throw any light on the question that is being investigated, namely, whether a certain $10,000 that was received by Commissioner Healy in connection with the appointment of Ewald as city Magistrate——? A.—I know absolutely nothing about it at all. Niether the Democratic organization nor myself received one cent in reference to it.

WALKER DENIES CASH GOT EWALD HIS JOB

was that he could not recall ever meeting Ewald until he appointed him to the bench.

Mr. Olvany's appearance before the grand jury, Mr. Crain explained, has been precluded by the former Tammany chieftain's testimony that he had nothing to do with the appointment and that neither he nor the Democratic organization "received one cent in reference to it."

Mrs. Ewald Used Children's Funds.

A new fact developed yesterday by Mr. Crain, and to be presented to the grand jury this morning, is that in addition to the payment of $10,000 made to Healy in the form of the alleged loan, Mrs. Ewald on April 30, 1927, the day of Ewald's appointment, drew from a savings bank the sum of $4,000 from two trust funds belonging to her children.

Recalled by Mr. Crain yesterday morning previous to the appearance of Mayor Walker, Mr. Olvany and Mr. Boczor, Mrs. Ewald was questioned at length about this sum. She declared that she could account for the expenditure of $3,200 of this money for household, family and personal outlays. The remaining $800, she said, was devoted to purposes having nothing to do with her husband's appointment and which she declined to discuss.

The discovery of the withdrawal by Mrs. Ewald of an additional $4,000 other than the $10,000 involved in the transaction with Healy was of particular interest because of United States Attorney Tuttle's previous efforts to find the check covering the discrepancy between the $10,000 received by Healy and the $12,000 which, according to Boczor's original statement in Mr. Tuttle's inquiry into Ewald's affairs, Ewald was supposed to have paid for his appointment. There was also some question, Mr. Crain indicated, as to whether Mrs. Ewald acted legally in withdrawing trust funds belonging to her children.

Mayor Walker arrived at Mr. Crain's office shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon, accompanied by Captain Thomas O'Conner, his bodyguard. He was taken upstairs in the District Attorney's private elevator and thence into a small room, where the two remained closeted with a stenographer for nearly a half hour. Following the conclusion of the Mayor's examination the stenographer left the room and Mr. Crain and the Mayor remained in conversation for about another five minutes. The Mayor would make no statement upon his departure from the Criminal Courts Building, saying any information would have to come from Mr. Crain. Shortly thereafter Mr. Crain made public the full stenographic record of the Mayor's testimony.

Mayor Explains Appointment.

In this testimony the Mayor insisted that Ewald's appointment was made upon proper recommendation and as a result of favorable reports as to his fitness. The Mayor declared that if Ewald "voluntarily contributed any money for that appointment he might just as well have thrown it in a sewer, for all the good it did him." He also sought to make it clear that neither Mr. Olvany nor Healy had spoken to him about appointing Ewald, asserting that the endorsements obtained by Ewald from Mr. Ridder and the Steuben Society were the sole influences in the appointment.

With the statement that he wanted to get the Mayor's best recollection and that he knew that considerable time had passed and that the Mayor has a great many things to consider, Mr. Crain said:

"The point with me is rather this: whether somebody came to you and orally mentioned it and perhaps told you an outline of what was supposed to be his backing which may have led up to some remark by you: 'Well, let him produce his credentials'?"

Says Any Payment Was Wasted.

"Nobody in political circles, including Mr. Olvany, ever spoke to me about Judge Ewald," the Mayor replied. "Judge Ewald, at that time Mr. Ewald, did not need any greater support than he had, and no political support, no political objection could have stopped his appointment, so if he voluntarily contributed any money for that appointment he might just as well have thrown it in a sewer for all the good it did him."

Mr. Olvany's examination preceded that of Mayor Walker. He was closeted with Mr. Crain for about twenty minutes. Following the interview Mr. Crain summarized Mr. Olvany's testimony as follows:

"Mr. Olvany informs me that he knows nothing pertinent to this inquiry. He says he never discussed the appointment of Ewald with Commissioner Healy and knows of no aid given by Commissioner Healy to Ewald in getting the appointment. Judge Olvany will not be asked to appear before the grand jury as a witness."

Mr. Crain did not question Mr. Olvany concerning the testimony given last Friday by John J. Mara, Tammany leader of the Twenty-third Assembly District, in which Mr. Mara spoke of his conversation with Mr. Olvany concerning the appointment to the vacancy subsequently filled by Ewald. Nor was Mr. Olvany questioned concerning the testimony attributed to Mr. Mara before the Federal grand jury to the effect that Mr. Olvany had asked him to back Ewald and that he declined to do so.

Mr. Boczor, the so-called mystery witness supplied to Mr. Crain by Mr. Tuttle, declared that he had known Ewald for about five years, having first made his acquaintance when Ewald was a Deputy Assistant District attorney. Boczor ultimately became Ewald's personal secretary

Testimony of Boczor.

The examination of Boczor, in part, was as follows:

Q.—Did he (Ewald) talk to you at all about his wish to become a city magistrate before he was appointed? A.—Yes.

Q.—What did he say about it? A.—He called me by the name of Charley; gave me a nickname. He said, "Charley, I hope I will be appointed to be a magistrate." This was a few weeks before.

Q.—Did he talk to you again about it before he was appointed? A.—Yes, he did.

Q.—Well, what did he say; not the exact words, but what was the substance? A.—"If I get appointed I am a lucky man. My stars is with me."

Q.—How soon after he was appointed did you hear that he had been appointed? A.—Right away.

Q.—That same day? A.—Yes.

Q.—How did you hear? A.—I went to the court, like every day, and he just left; and some court attendant told me he was called downtown to City Hall to be sworn in for a magistrate.

Boczar then outlined his duties as Ewald's secretary and the examination continued.

Q.—As private secretary, what pay did you get? A.—I didn't get any pay.

Q.—You had some expenses when you went around? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you get back what you paid out? A.—No, paid from my own pocket.

Q.—You did it without pay? A.—The judge promised me that he would get a good job for me.

Talked With Dr. Schirp.

Q.—Well, what was the conversation which led to its being said? How did it come about that that remark was made? A.—One day before it happened that I came with Dr. Schirp to Suesskind's Restaurant at Eighty-fifth Street and Lexington Avenue—I am not sure from where we came—we must have a meeting, that was about almost half past eleven at night, and he told me "Mr. Boczer, come on, we have a beer." I went with him.

Q.—And when you say "him," whom do you mean? A.—Dr. Schirp. I went with Dr. Schirp in the restaurant, sit down at the table, and he spoke about the time he was active in the German relief. You know after the war there was some relief drive; that after this relief drive was over he went to Germany and he got a great reception; and after, he started to talk about Judge Ewald and said he was also active to make Judge Ewald a judge.

Q.—Yes, go ahead now. A.—I don't remember. It was the fact he say that. I have to laugh because I heard so many people saying, from the Germans, that everybody was trying to make Judge Ewald a judge. Next morning I came up to Judge Ewald, in Judge Ewald's house, and I told him that Schirp say to me he made him a judge and he should stop this kind of talk. He answered me: "He didn't told you that he received $2,000 and $10,000 from Commissioner Healy and turned over to Mrs. Ewald, isn't it so?" The judge told Mrs. Ewald, "Isn't it so?"

Q.—Well, what did she say? A.—"Yes, $2,000 Dr. Schirp got and $10,000 Healy." This conversation was in the dining room.

Q.—Did he ever say anything like that to you again at any other time? A.—Yes, he did.

Says Ewald Admitted Payment.

Q.—Did you ever hear that any money had been paid by any one for the purpose of obtaining the appointment of George F. Ewald as a city magistrate? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—What did you near in that respect? A.—In the presence of Mrs. Ewald the judge told me that he paid $2,000 to Dr. Francis M. Schirp and $10,000 to Commissioner Healy.

Q.—Where were you at the time that he said that to you? A.—In his own house, in the dining room.

Q.—And who was there at the time? A.—Mrs. Ewald.

Q.—And when was it that he said that to you? A.—It was just a year ago.

Boczor than said that he had had an earlier conversation with Ewald, and the examination continued:

Q.—Tell us about the first time? A.—He was always in need for money, and I couldn't understand his salary, that he was always in need, and he told me a few times "You know, Charley, I have to meet notes and so I paid out for my judgeship to my appointment."

Q.—When did he say that to you, about when. A.—I couldn't say. That was a few months after he was appointed.

Q.—Where was he when he said that to you? A.—On the streets.

Q.—You say he spoke of notes? A.—Yes, he did.

Q.—Promissory notes, you mean? A.—He spoke about notes. I think his father-in-law, Mr. Eckert, he have to pay to Mr. Eckert, that is right.

Q.—You can't tell me anything else, can you? A.—I never heard from Tom Tommaney. I know him but I never know the money goes to Tom Tommaney.

Mrs. Ewald Re-Examined.

The interrogation of Mrs. Ewald on her withdrawal of the $4,000, which came from the Commonwealth Savings Bank of New York, was in part as follows:

Q.—Did you take the $4,000 out in cash or by a check? A.—I don't know, I think it was cash, but I'm not sure.

Q.—What is your best recollection? A.—Cash.

Q.—Now that your memory is fairly good about that, were the bills large bills. You know what I mean by a large bill, don't you? A.—You mean whether they were five hundreds or thousands; I suppose they were.

Q.—I take it you left the bank with that money in your pocketbook? A.—Yes.

Q.—What did you do with it? A.—Well, I spent the money at that time. My husband was appointed. I needed lots of things. I wanted money to improve my conditions.

Mrs. Ewald then said that she did not remember whether she deposited the money to her account in the Washington Heights Bank, and the examination continued:

Q.—Do you remember what you bought? A.—Lots of things. Some furniture, some clothes, I had the children to send away for the Summer. Different things.

Q.—Whereabout did you buy the furniture? Well, I answered some ads in the paper.

Q.—What kind of furniture did you buy? A.—I bought a table, different odd pieces.

Q.—You didn't spend it all for furniture? A.—No.

Q.—You didn't spend it all for clothing? A.—No.

Q.—You didn't spend it all for clothing for your children? A.—No.

Q.—There was some of it that was spent for a purpose you do not care to talk about to me? Am I right in saying that? A.—Yes.

Q.—Now, about how much did you spend for a purpose you do not care to talk about? A.—That was in the neighborhood of $800.

Denies Signing Maiden Name.

In her testimony Mrs. Ewald denied also that the certified check for $5,000 she gave Tommaney as part of the alleged $10,000 loan to Healy was signed with her maiden name, Bertha Eckert. She denied ever having an account under that name. According to Healy's testimony before Mr. Crain, the certified check bore Mrs. Ewald's maiden name.

It was after Mrs. Ewald's departure from his office that Mr. Crain announced that she would be required to sign a waiver of immunity before her appearance before the grand jury this morning.

Asked what this condition meant, Mr. Crain said:

"It means that the grand jury will have the right to find an indictment against her if the evidence given before the grand jury requires the finding of an indictment."

At this point Mr. Crain added that both Healy and Tommaney will also be asked to waive immunity.

"I am informed that Ewald is about to address a request to the grand jury to be allowed to appear in his own defense," Mr. Crain continued. "Technically, he will not be required to sign a waiver. His testimony, if the grand jury lets him in, will be voluntary and not under compulsion and, therefore, binding against himself. But as a matter of precaution he will be offered a chance to sign a waiver."

The grand jury will convene at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

GROCER AIDS FIRE VICTIMS.

Man Who Saved Two In Family Starts Fund and Supplies Food.

Harry Beatus, proprietor of a grocery store at 770 Eleventh Avenue, started a fund yesterday for the relief of Mrs. Mary Moore, whose apartment at 555 West Fifty-third Street was destroyed on Monday by a fire, during which he rescued two of her six children.

Beatus donated $5 to begin the fund and within an hour policemen, tradesmen and his customers had increased the amount to $31. Beatus has set $200 as the goal. Meanwhile he is supplying the Moore family with food without cost.

Mrs. Moore, a widow, had just left Beatus's store yesterday when she saw the smoke pouring from the upper floors of her house. She screamed and called to Beatus, who ran to the roof of the burning house. He found her daughters, Loretta and Margaret Moore, 4 and 6 years old, respectively, who were crying and lost in the smoke. He carried them to the street. The Moores were taken in by Mrs. John Collins of 550 West Fifty-third Street.

GOVERNORS DESCRIBE DROUGHT CONDITIONS

Caulfield Declares Missouri Crop Loss the Worst in the State's History.

PART OF OHIO AFFECTED

NEBRASKA CORN CUT IN HALF

Weaver Suggests Shipment of Wild-Hay Crop to States Where Cattle Are Suffering.

The Governors of the twelve States who will confer with President Hoover on Thursday relative to the situation in agriculture brought on by the drought were requested by THE NEW YORK TIMES to telegraph summaries of the conditions in their respective States and their views as to what relief measures should be taken. Replies were received as follows from Governors Caulfield of Missouri, Cooper of Ohio, Pollard of Virginia, Weaver of Nebraska and Conley of West Virginia:

Most Disastrous in Missouri.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—Considering the agricultural situation, both as to production of crops, consequent loss in live stock and its effect on the future financial condition of Missouri farmers, this drought is probably the most disastrous during the whole history of the State on the basis of surveys made by the Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

From a State corn prospect of 178,000,000 bushels on July 1, the yield apparently has been reduced 80,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels, depending somewhat on immediate rains for relief. While small grain crops have been much above last year in total production, hay crops, important in Missouri's agricultural scheme, have been the lowest in acre yields since 1918, resulting in a much smaller production than last year. This will have a serious effect in carrying the State's 3,900,000 cattle, sheep, horses and mules through to another crop year.

Pasturages are the shortest on record; water, both for human and animal use, is extremely short in the southeastern third of the State. Probably twenty-five counties are in need of assistance, and continuation of the present drought will bring in others in this southeast area.

The only year comparable with the present situation is 1901, when the Missouri corn yield was only 66,000,000 bushels and oats 10,000,000 bushels, whereas this year the prospect is for around 80,000,000 bushels of corn and 49,000,000 bushels of oats. Hay in 1901 yielded 2,000,000 tons, and this year 3,500,000. Whereas on Jan. 1, 1930, Missouri had only 7,792,000 head of live stock, compared with 9,095,000 on Jan. 1, 1901, feed for live stock will be needed during the late Fall, Winter and early Spring until new crops.

I am not prepared at this time to state what remedies I may suggest at the President's conference.

HENRY S. CAULFIELD, Governor.

Ohio Conditions Vary.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 11.—We are making survey of drought conditions in Ohio, but data will not be ready before some time Wednesday. Conditions vary in different sections of the State. Some sections are not affected by the drought, in others conditions are serious.

MYERS Y. COOPER, Governor.

Widespread in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 11.—Wire came during my absence. Serious damage from drought is widespread but not universal in Virginia. Greatest damage is to dairymen and live-stock interests which need immediate relief. Many crops are almost a total loss, while others may be revived by early rain. Taken as a whole, the loss to Virginia farmers will be enormous. It will take years to recover, in my opinion. The chief problem will be the financing of the farmers for seed, fertilizer and stock for next year.

JOHN GARLAND POLLARD, Governor.

Situation in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12.—In reply to your inquiry have wired President as follows:

"Careful review of conditions and crop production discloses that Nebraska produced this year 73,000,000 bushels of wheat, or 20,000,000 bushels more than last year. Barley, 21,500,000 bushels, or almost 3,000,000 bushels more than last year. Rye, 5,333,000 bushels, which is 1,500,000 bushels more than last year. Flax, a minor crop, was increased in acreage and in production. Potatoes, 15 per cent decrease, but large crop.

"Tame hay, wild hay, red clover, alfalfa (two crops), good. All hay, including wild hay, average crop. With low rate to other States large surplus of wild hay, which normally is not cut, could be harvested in the sandhill sections and shipped to States where needed.

"Sugar beets in irrigation section normal at this time and prospects good, but government in this kind of season should be liberal in distribution of storage water and should reduce to minimum the large amount of storage water usually carried over the season.

Total corn crop because of drought in eastern two-thirds of State reduced by half, which will make a possible reduction of 100,000,000 bushels less than last year. Have on hand at this time normal carry-over of at least 50,000,000 bushels of old corn.

"Conditions in western third of State as a whole considerably above normal on all crops. Nebraska has sufficient feed and forage for all her live stock, but reduced rates are necessary for distribution of feed to some communities where drought has been severe and also in other States where our feed will be needed.

"Farmers in communities where corn crop, pastures and forage are short should not be compelled to sacrifice their holdings at present low prices, and arrangements must be made to prevent this through favorable financing. Nebraska corn crop situation while bad in spots is not as a whole as serious as has been represented.

"Nebraska will cooperate with you and other States in any way possible. I approve the general purposes of the conference and am pleased to accept your invitation to attend."

ARTHUR J. WEAVER, Governor.

Defers Statement.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 12.—Will defer statement on drought conditions in West Virginia until after conference with President Hoover on fourteenth instant. WILLIAM G. CONLEY, Governor.

City Cools Off as Temperature Averages 64; Snow Flurry Up-State, Frost in New England

A premature touch of Fall weather visited the city yesterday as the mercury varied between 58 at 6 A. M. and 71 at 3:20 P. M. The day's low mark was only two degrees above the record cold for the date, registered in 1889, and represented a variation of thirty-five degrees since the high point of the last heat wave was recorded a week ago yesterday.

The average temperature yesterday was only 64 degrees, ten points below the normal for Aug. 12 and twenty-two below the average recorded a week ago yesterday. The cool, fair weather may be expected to continue today, the local weather bureau said last night, but tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer.

A snow flurry in Oneida, N. Y., and frost in Winstead, Conn., were reported yesterday by The Associated Press, which brought word of unseasonably low temperatures all over the East. The lowest temperature recorded in this part of the country was 34 at Burrville, Conn.

Shattering a record which had stood for forty-one years the official thermometer at Rochester, N. Y., dropped to 48 degrees. Frost was reported from several places in Pennsylvania and West Virginia but it was not sufficiently severe to damage the crops, it was said.

The highest mark reported from anywhere in the country was 85 at Miami, Fla., a striking contrast to the weather a week ago, when more than a score of communities sweltered under temperatures above 100. In some places the decline in temperature has averaged a degree an hour for the last two days.

YOUNGEST BOY WINS HIGHEST DIX HONORS

G. F. Hayhurst of Brooklyn, 15, Leads Military Training Class as Camp Closes.

FIRST ABSENCE FROM HOME

Smallest Student's Achievement Surprises His Parents—Other Honor Awards.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMP DIX, N. J., Aug. 12.—Highest honors in the Citizens' Military Training Camp here were awarded at the closing exercises today to Gerald F. Hayhurst of 358 East Forty-eighth Street, Brooklyn, the smallest and youngest student in the camp. Brig. Gen. Otho B. Rosenbaum and Colonel W. B. Graham presented the awards.

Hayhurst, who is in his sixteenth year, won the Colonel Champion Medal for general excellence and the Veterans of Foreign Wars award, a diploma and a gold medal, for the highest efficiency and best all-around rating. He is a student in Samuel Tilden High School, Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. F. Hayhurst, Gerard's parents, did not attend the exercises and did not know of the boy's achievement until tonight. The father, who has a Summer home and real estate office in Long Beach, L. I., could not contain his pride. He told how "Jerry" had saved a boy and a girl from drowning at Long Beach last Summer and pointed out that "Jerry was never away from home before."

Other awards were as follows:

KARL W. THEURER of Palisade Park, N. J., gold medal for the best general rating.
SIDNEY OLFSON, 24 North Valley Avenue, Vineland, N. J., bronze medal.

All these were awarded by the Civican Club of Trenton. Francis S. Klesch of Bayonne, N. J., won the Colonel Paul Debevoise award for excellence in markmanship and will compete in the national rifle match at Camp Perry, Ohio.

EMIL CURCIO, 3,647 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn.
JOHN PUSHINE, 1,170 Sherman Avenue, Manhattan.
JOHN J. DONOHUE, 18 Kensington Avenue, Jersey City.
WILLIAM E. FASSETT, Hector, N. Y.
JOHN F. HARKER, 743 Parker Avenue, Vineland, N. J.
MICHAEL B. KUBIS, 58-17 Firth Avenue, Maspeth, Queens.
GARDNER L. LEWIS, Hancock, Mass.
ALEXANDER E. LIGHT, 24 Central Avenue, St. George, S. I.
JAMES C. LONG, 101 Bryant Avenue, Ventnor City, N. J.
HENRY E. SIEBERT, 137 Senator Street, Brooklyn.
JACK P. STOCKTON, 437 Greenwood Avenue, Trenton, N. J.
ELMER C. WAGAR, 51 Chestnut Street, Rensselaer, N. Y.
CHARLES O. WIKSTROM, 446 Senator Street, Brooklyn.
CHARLES I. WILLIAMS, North Valley Avenue, Vineland, N. J.

George D. Keim, secretary of the Republican National Committee, principal speaker at the exercises, told the 1,200 students that:

"This is the age of competition, and the things you have learned here about keeping the body and mind clean and vigorous will be of inestimable value to you in the competition of civilian life. Your training here has given you a better understanding of loyalty, discipline and leadership."

CANDY MERCHANT HELD.

F. P. Kruger Jailed When He Fails to Give Bond in Bankruptcy Case.

Frank P. Kruger, president of the Frank P. Kruger Company, Inc., candy manufacturers of 80 Wooster Steret, which filed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy on May 28, was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Goldstein on a civil order issued by Supreme Court Justice Schmuck in a suit by the International Trust Company to recover $38,371.

The order was obtained on allegations that Kruger had made false financial statement to obtain loans and also had converted to his own benefit moneys collected which should have been delivered to the plaintiff.

Justice Schmuck fixed Kruger's bond at $40,000. When he was unable to furnish it he was taken to the county jail.

PLAN UNIFORM LAW ON CHILD LABORERS

State Commissioners at Chicago Formulate Restrictions on Industrial Activities.

SULLIVAN LAW CONDEMNED

Washington Lawyer Declares New York State Firearms Control Is a Failure.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP).—A uniform child labor law was being formulated in Chicago today, but so-called street trades were exempted from the suggested statute being considered by the national conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws.

The statute, however, would prohibit persons under 21 from being messengers between 8 P. M. and 6 A. M. Moreover, it would put a taboo on the performances of child prodigies as violinists, actors and what-not.

Only the street trades would be left open to boys and girls under 14. Those under 16 would be prohibited from working at jobs involving undue physical risk or exertion and those under 18 would be barred from such activities as working at blast furnaces, on passenger or freight boats, around electric wires, explosives and elevators, in mines or on railroads.

A warning was issued against "too drastic legislation" for regulation of the purchase of firearms, which might tend to foster crime instead of curb it.

Charles V. Imlay, lawyer of Washington, D. C., characterized the Sullivan law in New York, which has served as a model for gun legislation in Massachusetts, New Jersey and Michigan as a "notorious failure." He said the result of laws like the Sullivan act was to prevent law-abiding citizens from obtaining pistols for their protection and at the same time to build up "pistol bootlegging" among crooks.

Recommendations of the conference on this and other subjects will be presented to the American Bar Association's annual meeting here next week and to the various State Legislatures.

ORANGE BUSINESS MAN ENDS LIFE AT CLUB

A. A. Kenyon Slashes Throat and Leaps Five Stories From Newark Building.

Adelbert A. Kenyon, 60 years old, of 303 Elmwynd Avenue, Orange, N. J., slashed his throat with a razor and leaped to his death from the fifth story of the Newark Athletic Club last night, according to the police.

Kenyon was secretary to Sydney and Gilbert Colgate, manufacturers of toilet articles, and treasurer of the Tidewater Rolling Mills, Inc., of New York City. His family is spending the Summer at Edgartown, Mass. Kenyon took a room at the athletic club tonight.

His body narrowly missed hitting seevral persons in Park Place in front of the athletic club. An ambulance surgeon from the City Hospital was called and pronounced him dead. The police found the room in confusion. No notes were left. The body was removed to O'Mara's morgue.

Greenland's "Primeval Man" Only a Viking, Savant Asserts

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 12.—Professor Hansen, who for many years has been studying skulls and skeletons found in tombs of historical characters, has been occupied for some time in studying the bones of the Homo gardarensis found in the churchyard in Gardar, Greenland.

He has reached the conclusion that the "modern primeval man" is simply a very large, coarse Viking type. Professor Hansen now believes that theories in regard to other primeval types may be modified and that perhaps too much stress has been put on negroid features.

BURST WATER MAIN FLOODS B. M. T. SUBWAY

Deluges Streets at Fourth and Atlantic Avenues, Brooklyn, Before It Is Shut Off.

A 48-inch Catskill water main burst at 1:30 A. M. today at Fourth and Atlantic Avenues, the busiest traffic centre in Brooklyn, and deluged the streets in the vicinity with tons of water. Scores of cars were marooned as the pavement burst, forced up by powerful geysers from the broken main and streams poured down the ventilators onto the tracks of the B. M. T. subway lines.

Patrolman Walter Hennessy, who was directing traffic at the spot, was lifted into the air as the asphalt heaved and then buckled under him. He immediately summoned emergency crews, and a short time later workmen from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity arrived.

Unchecked, the water continued to pour north and south along Fourth Avenue in great volume. It was checked on the north by the incline leading up to the Long Island Railroad station, but was swept more than six blocks toward the south as far as Douglas Street.

The sewers in the vicinity were unable to carry the water off as fast as it flowed, and the drains between the B. M. T. subway tracks were inadequate also. Porters were put to work, keeping the drains clear to prevent the tide from rising to the third rail and disrupting traffic. For a time it was feared that the water would flow over the curbs and into the basements of the shops near the corner, but a half hour after the break occurred the water gates were shut down at Third Avenue and Schermerhorn Street and the flood ended.

The pavement was damaged on Atlantic Avenue from Third Avenue to Fourth Avenue and it was estimated that tons of water fell into the old Long Island Railroad tunnel under the street. A similar break occurred two years ago in the water main at Fourth and Atlantic Avenues and at that time was attributed to the heavy motor, trolley and truck traffic which flows past the spot twenty-four hours a day.

TWO SEIZED IN SHOOTING.

Suspected of Killing Child in Street Battle in Harlem.

Two men, suspected of being the gunmen whose pistol battle in East 114th Street Sunday afternoon cost the life of Sandina Cammorato, 11 years old, were arrested last night by detectives of the East 104th Street station and charged with homicide.

The prisoners described themselves as Louis Milato, 29 years old, of 350 East 150th Street, the Bronx, and Frank Marcione, 31, of 413 East 114th Street. Both denied all connection with the duel Sunday, during which the Cammorato girl was struck by a stray bullet while entering the doorway of her home at 347 East 114th Street.

HOOVER ABANDONS HIS TRIP TO WEST

According to R. H. Weightman, the forecaster, the predicted rains will not be heavy, though they may reach "moderate" proportions.

No rain is in sight for Eastern New York and Southern New England, but continued cool weather was predicted.

The Weather Bureau received reports that damage to crops had resulted in some sections by the sudden lowering of temperature.

No Serious Food Shortage Seen.

Another market survey by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture, made public today, showed that farm products all along the line had shown a rise since last month due to curtailment of production by the drought.

The gains to individual farmers, it was pointed out, had been made at the expense of other ruined crops in most places.

Grain, feeds, cotton, calves, hogs potatoes, butter and eggs have all made marked increases, resulting in added costs to consumers.

No serious nation-wide food or feed shortage is expected by the President and other government officials, but it is viewed as highly probable that the surpluses which have been accumulating in practically every essential commodity will be wiped out as a result of the drought.

LEGGE TO FLY TO PARLEY.

Army Planes Will Carry Farm Board Head to Capital.

OMAHA, Aug. 12 (AP).—Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, will start tomorrow by army airplanes from Dickinson, N. D., via Chicago, to Washington, to attend the farm relief conference with President Hoover Thursday.

Plan Kentucky Tax Relief.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 12 (AP).—The agricultural branch of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, meeting with Governor Flem D. Sampson today, formulated a plan whereby the State banks with the aid of the Federal Government would underwrite the tax bills of drought-stricken farmers.

The plan is to ask the Federal Government to reimburse banks which pay the farmers' taxes, the money to be lent to the banks by an agency set up by the President, the Federal Government taking the tax receipts as security.

The plan will be presented to President Hoover at the Governors' conference at Washington Thursday, either by Governor Sampson, who has not yet decided whether or not to attend, or Senator John M. Robinson, his representative.

The bankers decided that tenant farmers, who would not be benefited by the tax plan, should be cared for by the Red Cross.

Dr. A. T. McCormack, director of the State Board of Health, will present his report to President Hoover.

"Under no circumstances could health conditions in Kentucky be worse," he said. Although typhoid fever and other diseases are not beyond control, he said, farmers are already beginning to feel the want of food.

Light rains in Kentucky this week were of slight value to crops. Kentucky's five-month drought continues.

New York Milkshed Survey Asked.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP). Representative John D. Clarke, Republican, of the Thirty-fourth New York District, sent word to Secretary Hyde that the department's survey of the drought situation should be national in its scope and include the New York milkshed, in which, he said, conditions are serious.

This includes New York State and parts of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont.

Representative Clarke cited burned pastures, dried-up wells and springs and "streams lowest in the memory of man," in his demand for a more comprehensive survey than that now being made by the department.

Additional credits must be made available to farmers through local banks, he said.

Jersey Fruit Crops Reduced.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 12.—William B. Duryee, Secretary of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, in a report on the drought forwarded today to the Governor, says that the quality of vegetables is good, but that the quantity is slightly decreased.

The pasture crop, the report discloses, has been "burned brown," while the hay crop is very light. The result of this, the secretary predicts, will be a decrease in dairy products.

The peach crop is lighter than anticipated, and the yield of tomatoes and apples is also reduced.

The report emphasizes the need of rain for cucumbers, lima beans and peppers. Unless there is rain in the near future, the Fall crops of lettuce, celery and spinach will be very small, the report declares.

The Governor will send the report to President Hoover.

Storm Ends African Drought, 15 Die

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Aug. 12 (Canadian Press).—South Africa's drought came to a violent end today. In many parts of the Union there were gales, rain and snow. Property was damaged, traffic dislocated and mails delayed. Vast seas battering the fishing fleet near Cape Town were responsible for the loss of fifteen lives. The change of weather included the little Namaqualand district of the Cape Colony, parts of which had experienced a five years' drought, and brought great joy to the few inhabitants who remained there.

French Wheat Hard Hit by Rain.

PARIS, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Minister of Agriculture, Fernand David, today told the Cabinet that rains have impaired French wheat crops in proportion to the damage by drought in the United States, but that the crisis apparently had been reached. M. David said that what had promised to be a bumper crop now stood reduced to 60 per cent to 70 per cent. He said that although the farmers a month ago were complaining they could not sell their grain at a profit the cost of bread now is rising.

NANKING'S GRIP SEEN AS GROWING WEAKER

Foreign Observers Now Rate Odds at 55 to 45 in Favor of Peking Victory.

CHIANG ADMITS PRESSURE

Says Feng Has Delayed Drive in Shantung—Foreigners Are in Peril at Kanchow.

NEW MENACE TO CHANGSHA

Nanking Force Said to Have Quit as Reds Near With Threat to Put City to the Sword.

By HALLET ABEND.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12.—The Nanking Government today admits that the pressure of Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang's attacks along the Lunghai railway on Kweiteh and Pochow, which have been going on for a week, are causing the government forces to slow down their advance on Tsinan, Shantung, because many units participating in the Shantung push have been transferred to the Kweiteh sector to help to repulse Feng Yu-hsiang.

If Feng breaks Nanking's defenses at Kweiteh, he will imperil the Nanking Government's main defensive positions on the Tientsin-Pukow railway at Penpu and Hsuchowfu, enforcing a rapid retreat southward.

Foreign military observers who a month ago rated the war chances at sixty to forty in Nanking's favor and who a week ago rated them at fifty to fifty, today reversed the balance, estimating the Northerners' chances at fifty-five and Nanking's at forty-five.

Peking Gaining Adherents.

This reversal is based on actual territorial losses rather than on the surprising failure of Nanking to gain headway despite its prodigal use of superior troops, vastly superior equipment and money.

The political cohesion of the Northern faction is an important factor. Every steamer sailing northward is taking more and more important leaders of the Right and Left wings to participate in the Peking Government.

The extent of Changsha's new peril from the Communists is indicated by General Ho Chien's demand on the Chamber of Commerce to pay $400,000—a demand such as usually precedes a forced evacuation.

The central executive of the Kuomintang at Nanking issues an appeal to the people, urging them not to assist the Northern faction and prophesying the inability of the Northerners long to maintain their unity. The appeal reiterates the charge that the Left wing instigated the Communists' activities.

Chinese Flee Changsha.

HANKOW, Aug. 12 (AP).—Nanking Government troops are reported to have evacuated Changsha yesterday and the reoccupation of the city by the Communists is said to be imminent.

Terror prevailed in the city today as the Communist horde that recently sacked and burned the city was reported to be only five miles away, returning with threats to murder every one between the ages of 15 and 35.

Thousands of Chinese fled from the Hunan Province capital to escape the Reds' vengeance for the wholesale executions by the provincial authorities of Communists who participated in the recent looting. General Ho Chien, Governor of Hunan, was said to have ordered the torturing and killing of about 250 Communist suspects daily.

Men said to be Communists were hunted down by the Changsha troops and were quickly executed. The few foreigners remaining at Changsha stayed aboard the foreign gunboats.

While new Communist outrages were threatened, more details were received of the recent Red depredations in the city. Writing from Changsha on Sunday, an official of the American Northern Presbyterian Mission said that fifty-five large properties of foreign missions had been burned or damaged and that hundreds of small Chinese buildings had been set on fire.

Reds Surround Kanchow.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The city of Kanchow is surrounded by Chinese Communist soldiers, and foreigners remaining in the city are in serious peril, according to a cablegram received at the State Department today from Douglas Jenkins, the American Consul at Canton.

Mr. Jenkins said his information came from Father Daniel McGillicuddy, who is now at Shiu Chow, where he had just arrived from Kanchow. In the party, Mr. Jenkins added, were eight Sisters of Charity, whose names were not given in the cablegram, and also Father J. J. Corbett of 32 Callerden Street, Boston; Father William J. McClimont of Germantown, Pa., and Bishop Dumont, whose address is not known at the Department of State.

Father McGillicuddy, who accompanied the members of the Catholic Mission in their retirement from Kanchow to Shiu Chow, said, according to the Consul General's message, that the Right Rev. J. A. O'Shea, a Catholic Bishop, of the St. Vincent Seminary, Philadelphia, and other foreigners remaining at Kanchow, were in imminent danger as a result of the orders which had been given by the Kiangsi Provincial Government for the evacuation of Kanchow by the Nationalist forces.

Mr. Jenkins said that he had advised Father McGillicuddy and the other members of his party to leave Shiu Chow for Canton or Hongkong, and that he was conferring with the local authorities with regard to the plight of Bishop O'Shea, who is thought to be the only American at Kanchow.

Bishop O'Shea in Field 10 Years.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 12.—Bishop O'Shea, who is reported in danger at Kanchow, China, is a native of Deep River, Conn., and was ordained at St. Vincent's Seminary here following the completion of his college course at Niagara University. After returning to Niagara University, where he taught for ten years, he headed a party of American Catholic missionaries, the first to leave this country for Kanchow, about ten years ago.

Less than two years ago Father O'Shea was consecrated Auxiliary Bishop to aid Bishop Dumont of Kanchow.

Father Daniel McGillicuddy, another missionary from St. Vincent's, who was mentioned in the report of Consul General Jenkins to the State Department, is from Glens Falls, N. Y., it was said at the seminary. Father William Joseph McClimont, who was reported safe at Shiu Chow, is a native of Brooklyn.

AMERICAN IS JAILED FOR PARIS CAB RIDE

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—William Herr, young American sculptor and student in Paris, is a resident tonight in a police station jail after conducting one of the most original sightseeing tours in Paris this season.

Herr took two friends from home to dine in Montparnasse. After the repast the trio promenaded at a late hour along the famous boulevard and in front of the Gare Montparnasse discovered an old horse cab with a high seat in front for the driver. No driver was visible, so Herr, who was in evening dress, climbed in the driver's seat and they were off.

They ended in a ditch beside the road outside Paris near the suburb of Arcueil, where the old fiacre fell to pieces. When the accident occurred the three occupants were asleep, but none was hurt.

Herr's two guests evidently walked back to Paris and went home in a taxicab. Herr extricated the old horse from the ditch and led it to a Paris veterinary, who dressed its cuts.

When the driver of the cab lodged a complaint with the police today the horse was located through the veterinary. Despite Herr's offer to pay 3,000 francs for the demolished vehicle, he was sent to jail for the night to await his police court trial.

Czechoslovakia Bars Austrian Reds.

PRESSBURG, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 12 (AP).—Harbor authorities today refused to allow the Danube steamer Melk, which arrived from Vienna with a passenger list of Austrian Communists, to make fast to a pier or to disembark its passengers. The steamer weighed anchor and returned to Vienna.

BRITAIN HITS BACK AT MANDATES BODY

Reply to League Commission's Strictures on Palestine Is Sharply Critical in Turn.

SHAW FINDINGS ARE UPHELD

London's Answer Seen as Pro-Arab in Endeavor to Keep Moslems in India in Line.

By CLARENCE K. STREIT.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Aug. 12.—The British Government in its reply to the report of the Mandates Commission of the League of Nations on the 1929 Palestine outbreak not only defends itself against the commission's criticisms but, it is learned on good authority, criticizes the commission sharply in its turn. Its counter-attack is severe enough to astonish some League circles and make others describe the British note as "bad-tempered."

The reply, with the commission's report, is now in the hands of the printer and is expected to be released in a few days. Meanwhile every effort is being made to prevent leaks.

The Mandates Commission, which blamed the Palestine mandatory more strongly than it is accustomed to doing with mandatory powers, held that the scarcity of British police and troops was one of the principal causes for the Arab attack on the Jews developing as seriously as it did. Contrary to the British Shaw committee, which found nothing anti-British in the outbreak, the Mandates Commission held that factor had played a rôle in the situation.

In general the League commission is understood to have hinted broadly that the Shaw committee's majority report contained too much whitewash and sided more with the minority report made by the Laborite member, H. Snell. Like him the commission found the Shaw committee's majority, made up of members of the other British parties, too lenient to the Grand Mufti and fixed the greater responsibility on the Arab leader.

The British reply, it is stated, stands pat on the Shaw committee's majority report despite the fact that this puts the Labor Government in the position of disowning its own man, Mr. Snell, and sustaining the members of the opposition. The note is described as being pro-Arab and has given some here the impression that it was influenced greatly by imperial considerations, especially with a view to keeping the Moslems in India in line at a critical juncture. The reply, it is said, reiterates the Shaw committee arguments that since outbreaks occurred in 1921 in Palestine, when the British had a heavy garrison there, it does not follow that a larger garrison could have prevented bloodshed in 1929.

It is stated that there is not a kind or pleasant word in the British reply for the Mandates Commission, which in the past always abounded in friendly official comments on its criticisms. It is noted, too, that the reply is made by the British Foreign Office, whereas the practice in the past which the French Government followed when the Mandates Commission criticized it for the Syrian revolt in 1925, has been to leave it to the mandatory's representative accredited to the commission to make all such comments, thus involving the government less.

In view both of the stiff tone and the formal attitude the British Government has taken it is considered that the position of the Council when the report and reply come before it in September will be even more difficult and delicate than has been anticipated. It is believed that all the League's diplomatic technique will be needed to prevent incidents then and to assure a solution that will allow Britain and the Mandates Commission to save their faces.

Portugal Confers War Cross On American Unknown Soldier

By The Associated Press.

LISBON, Aug. 12.—The Portuguese Government today conferred the Military War Cross upon the American Unknown Soldier.

On Nov. 11, 1921, at the burial service for the American Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery, the highest military decorations of practically all the allied nations in the World War were bestowed.

Among the decorations placed upon the tomb were the British Victoria Cross by Admiral Earl Beatty, the French Médaille Militaire and the Croix de Guerre by Marshal Foch, the Belgian Croix de Guerre by Lieut. Gen. Jacques, the Italian gold medal for bravery by General Diaz, the Rumanian Virtutea Militară by Prince Bibesco, the Czechoslovakian War Cross by Dr. Stephenek and the Polish Virtuti Militari by Prince Lubomirski.

Portugal entered the World War in 1914 on the side of the Allies.

FAVOR EUROPEAN UNION.

Brazil and Cuba Support Briand's Scheme for Federation.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Although the Briand memorandum on the proposed European federation was communicated to them purely as a matter for their information, Brazil and Cuba have responded in favor of the proposal.

At the Quai D'Orsay today it was said the Brazilian note particularly refuted the contention that had been raised against the proposed federation that it would form a basis for competition between continents. Cuba's note, conceived in the same spirit, it was said, expresses full approval of the scheme.

FRENCH BUDGET CUT VOTED BY MINISTRY

Cabinet Acts in Response to Demands From Political and Business Groups.

TARDIEU'S PLAN TO SUFFER

Reductions Must Be Made in Sums for Extensive "Modernization" Premier Had Hoped For.

By CARLISLE MacDONALD.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Under the chairmanship of President Doumergue, the Council of Ministers met this morning at the Presidential château at Rambouillet to consider the difficult financial problem created as a result of the demands of the 1931 budget. The total of estimated expenditures for the coming year—57,000,000,000 francs—constitutes an increase of 6,000,000,000 francs over last year's budget, and from political and business groups have come demands for a halt in the rapid and what to them appears to be somewhat disturbing rise in the State upkeep.

A long discussion therefore developed and the Cabinet finally voted unanimously to proceed immediately with reductions in the various departmental requests sufficient to eliminate the 6,000,000,000 franc increase. In other quarters it is very much doubted whether the government will be able to reduce the budget that much and tonight's Journal des Débats observes that the most sanguine persons realize that the decrease cannot be more than 4,000,000,000 francs, thus bringing next year's budget to 53,000,000,000 francs.

Tardieu's Scheme to Suffer.

The main obstacle lies in the fact that 48 per cent of next year's estimates is earmarked for the service of the national debt and cannot be touched. Reductions therefore must be made in other directions, and the critics of the government in the Left press assert that Premier Tardieu's ambitious national equipment scheme will be the chief sufferer. This program provided for the electrification of railways, building of roads, schools, hospitals and other social service developments aimed to "modernize" France.

A glance at the steady rise in budgetary expenses since the year 1926 throws an interesting light upon the increasing cost of maintaining the French State. From that year until 1930 the budget total increased 13,000,000,000 francs, which, added to the projected rise for next year, would mean a 19,000,000,000 franc increase within the space of six years.

Another important factor is the situation of general business, which in France is just beginning to experience a real recession. While it might be an exaggeration to say that French industry was on the threshold of a serious depression, conservative surveys made by competent experts show unmistakably that production is falling off, car loadings are sharply declining and railway receipts are registering a decrease.

Big Surplus Reduced.

When Raymond Poincaré's Cabinet left office last Fall there were 19,000,000,000 francs in the Treasury, and today, according to the French press, this surplus has been reduced to 3,500,000,000 francs. In June, 1929, tax receipts showed 450,000,000 francs excess over estimates, but in June of this year the excess was only 50,000,000 francs.

That France, which almost alone among the big world powers, has been able so far to withstand the shock of world-wide depression, should at last begin to feel its effects is not surprising. Retail trade, particularly that large portion which depends upon foreign visitors, has had a bad year, the estimated reduction in American expenditures alone being 18 to 20 per cent.

The textile industry in the North is hard hit by strikes, and foreign trade in June, according to official French figures, was the lowest in more than five years. The agricultural situation appears unfavorable because of a Summer of almost continuous rain, the grain and fruit crops being most affected, and the wine crop has been damaged by mildew. The automotive industry reports a 20 per cent drop from last year's level of sales, but extensive plans nevertheless are being made for the Fall salon and many new models are in preparation.

Despite these unfavorable signs, French economists are inclined to optimism regarding the Fall and Winter season, when it is predicted industry will regain most of the ground which it lately has been losing.

RIOTERS IN RUMANIA SET FIRE TO SYNAGOGUE

Officials Say No Serious Damage Was Done at Marmrosch—Student Quarter Raided.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 12.—Great alarm was caaused in Jewish circles by the report that the famous synagogue, "The Just of Dicniz," had been burned down at Wicniz by the Cuzist Iron Guards this morning and that many valuable holy scripts had been destroyed.

The early reports said the Jewish population of Marmrosch was making a pilgrimage to the ruins of the synagogue, the streets of the neighborhood re-echoing to the wailing of the Jews who were said to "compare the destruction of the synagogue to that of Jerusalem."

Your correspondent received an official denial of the story in this form. It is admitted that an anti-Semitic outrage took place at the Marmrosch synagogue, where rioters set fire to the building, but it is said the fire was put out before any serious damage had been done. The police are searching for the perpetrators.

CORONATION DATE SET.

News Agency Says Carol Will Be Crowned "in Principle" Oct. 15.

PARIS, Aug. 12 (AP).—Dispatches from Bucharest to the Havas Agency today reported that King Carol of Rumania would "in principle" be crowned on Oct. 15. The announcement was said to be semiofficial and was interpreted as evidence that the matrimonial difficulties of King Carol and Queen Helen had been smoothed over.

The coronation is expected to be a joint one, the King and the Queen appearing together. The Queen's consent to this is said to be the result of conferences at Sinaia between the King, Premier Maniu and Nicolas Titulescu, Rumanian Minister to London.

DOMINIONS CLASH ON CONFERENCE AIMS

New Zealand's Amicable Stand Is Attributed to Lack of Industrialization.

TARIFFS IMPORTANT ISSUE

Canada and Australia Unwilling to Bargain on Free Entry of Britain's Manufactured Products.

By CHARLES A. SELDEN.
Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—George W. Forbes, Prime Minister of New Zealand, is the first of the dominion heads to make any official reference as to what his country wants of the imperial conference which is to convene in London next month. He is quoted here as telling the Parliament at Wellington in behalf of his government that New Zealand will come to the conference without any demands or any complaints to make against Great Britain.

The Canadians and Australians already in England dismiss the Forbes statement as "characteristically New Zealandish," reflecting the attitude of a small dominion which still is chiefly agricultural and not yet really started on the process of industrializing herself.

However that may be, Canada and Australia will have many demands, all of which are economic. Although the agenda of the conference has various political items and such matters as imperial defense are bound to come up, interest in them, both in England and the dominions, is perfunctory. Trade, tariffs and commercial relations alone will dominate the discussions of the Premiers of the various dominions in conference with Premier MacDonald and his associate delegates.

Desires of All Now Conflict.

Every part of the empire is now in economic straits, but so far no solution has been suggested which meets the approval of both England and the dominions. On the contrary, their desires conflict, and England's adherence to the traditional policy of not bargaining with the other parts of the empire further complicates the matter. Under no circumstances can the mother country play off one dominion against another in manoeuvring to get benefits for herself.

Canada and Australia would be glad enough to have England abandon her free trade for foreign food and impose tariff duties on wheat and meat from the United States and Argentina, New Zealand, despite her Premier's declaration of no demands, would be equally glad to have England put heavy duties on wool and butter from all countries outside the empire.

There is no politics in this phase of the question in the dominions. It is the unanimous desire of all of them that Great Britain feed herself only with empire products. But in England it has become the biggest political issue there is and her delegates to the imperial conference will not have unanimous support for whatever policy they try to pursue for improving empire trade relations.

Increasing number in the Conservative and Labor parties are beginning to think it better to impose a tariff on foreign foods and there is even a sign of wavering among the free trade Liberals. But all these converts and near converts to tariff, especially a food tariff, would make the change only as part of a bargain with the other countries of the empire.

Impasse on Manufacturers.

If the dominions are to have the exclusive privilege of sending food supplies to England duty free and thus be able to undersell all foreign food products they must in turn give England free trade on her manufactured output which the dominions import. There is the impasse of the situation. The dominions will not do it because they are struggling to be manufacturing countries themselves and are convinced that by protection of their "infant industries" is the only way to succeed.

Australia replies she already gives England preferred rates on her exports, but that does not help England, the preferred rates being so high they are practically prohibitive. There is even a suggestion from Australia that she would be willing to give England practically free entry on things not made in Australia, but there is a string to that proposal. It would be for a limited period, say ten years or only until Australia gets ready to manufacture such things herself, after which a tariff would be imposed against England on that particular commodity.

In other words, Great Britain would like to adopt one-half of Lord Beaverbrook's plan. The dominions would like to have the other half. But they will not work separately and there is still a widespread influential opinion that in this country they would not work as a whole.

New Zealand Duties Increased.
Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WELLINGTON, Aug. 12.—The House of Representatives after a long debate approved today the amended customs resolutions, the principal effect of which is to increase the duties on timber and large glass bottles and jars, thus protecting local industries, and to increase the tax on liquor from $9 to $10 a gallon. The customs bill contains a provision for the remission or the reduction of the extra protection if the prices to the public are unjustifiably increased.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—After a strike resembling a carnival celebration more than a labor movement, 1,000 Paris midinettes today obtained pay increases and returned joyfully to work.

The strike movement started in two of the principal dressmaking houses which are not members of the employers' syndicate that recently voted a pay increase in view of the social insurance contributions. As these two houses had not followed suit the employes yesterday sent delegates to treat with the employers. When the wage demands were refused the entire staff walked out and went singing gayly through the streets.

This morning at the labor exchange more than 1,000 midinettes voted a resolution requesting the employers to negotiate. Later their delegates announced pay increases had been accorded.

Demands Fulfillment in Letter and Spirit of Balfour Declaration and Palestine Mandate.

PRAGUE, Aug. 12 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—Warning the Zionist revisionists against independent political action with governments or the League of Nations, Professor Selig Brodetsky, a member of the Zionist Executive, in a speech before the fourth conference of the Union of Zionist revisionists that was frequently interrupted and hissed by some and applauded by others, presented the view of the Zionist Executive on the present Zionist situation. The revisionists are the opposition within the Zionist organization.

Professor Brodetsky admitted that "perhaps we have had too much patience, but this patience will not continue any longer. Great Britain must understand that the Jewish people are losing, or have already lost, confidence in England.

Admitting that the Zionist Executive had made mistakes, Professor Brodetsky assured the revisionists that the world Zionist Congress, which will probably be held in December, would decide exactly what the Jews should demand from the British Government. He cautioned the revisionists against independent political action. He also pointed out that the propaganda that the revisionists were conducting among members of the British Parliament had resulted in tremendous harm.

The great interest aroused by Professor Brodetsky's remarks made Dr. Robert Lichtheim's reply more significant. Dr. Lichtheim pointed out that Professor Brodetsky's speech "again convinces the revisionists that the Zionist Executive has adopted the line of least resistance toward Great Britain." "The revisionists," he said, "are, therefore, determined on independent political action with governments and the League of Nations under any circumstances."

Zionists Here Stand Firm.

The Zionist Organization of America demands fulfillment in letter and spirit of the Balfour declaration and the Palestine mandate and has instructed its delegates who will attend the meeting of the administrative committee of the Jewish Agency at Berlin on Aug. 29 to stand for a "firm and positive" policy, according to the organization's announcement yesterday. Information to this effect, it was announced, has been written to officers of all Zionist regions and districts in the country by Robert Szold, chairman of the new administrative body.

Dr. Angell to Leave Hospital; Underwent Serious Operation

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 12 (AP).—Dr. James Rowland Angell, president of Yale University, who has been confined in New Haven Hospital since early in July, today was expected to leave the hospital some time this week.

Dr. Angell, it was learned today, was operated upon for what hospital attachés described as "a somewhat serious ailment." The operation was entirely successful, they said.

A policy of strict secrecy adopted by the hospital in connection with Dr. Angell's illness has prevented details from becoming public.

LIMIT BACCARAT STAKES.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Gambling for high stakes at the French casinos at Deauville, Le Touquet and at other Summer resorts has been temporarily suspended in the baccarat games pending the settlement of the taxation question.

The government inspector of casinos is now at Deauville investigating the profits made from gambling. The casino backers, including the Greek syndicate headed by M. Zographos, contend the government tax makes high stakes at baccarat unprofitable. They say they will only run small games in future if the new tax rate is maintained. Though the big baccarat tables are now closed the other games in the casinos go merrily on.

TROTSKY REPORT DENIED.

Great Excitement Caused by Story of Plan for Him to Return to Russia

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Aug. 12.—Great excitement was caused by a report in the Bratislavs midday newspaper An-Op today that Leon Trotsky had passed through Bratislava last night en route to Franzensbad with permission from the Czech Government to confer with Georges Tchitcherin and Anatole Lunarcharski with a view to arranging for M. Trotsky's return to Russia.

Telephonic inquiries in all directions failed to yield any confirmation of the story. The Soviet Legation at Vienna denies that M. Trotsky has left Istanbul, and describes the story as a Summer canard. The legation states further that M. Tchitcherin and M. Lunarcharski are both in Russia.

It is learned, however, from Franzensbad that the police there believe this is partially untrue. They say they discovered M. Lunarcharski had left Franzenbad several weeks ago after staying there a short time under an assumed name. They say M. Tchitcherin never has been there.

DUKE JOINS GROUSE SHOOT.

Duchess of York Spends Quiet Day at Glamis Awaiting Birth of Child.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Duke of York was among the sportsmen on the moors near Glamis Castle, Scotland, for the opening of the grouse shooting season today. With the Duke were his father-in-law, Earl Strathmore, and Rear Admiral Basil Brooke and others from Glamis.

The party shot over the grouse preserves near Lumley Glen, where the Duchess of York and Princess Elizabeth, who spent today quietly at Glamis Castle, often have gone for picnics.

Reports from Scottish Yorkshire and other moors indicate that the grouse are very plentiful this year. For the first time since the war, however, many Scottish lairds are shooting over their own estate. Trade depression both here and in the United States has seriously affected the season's lettings. As is the custom, specimens were sent to the King today.

FIGURES are in fashion, which means that all of us, even the slimmest, are wearing girdles. The fall modes refuse to give up the fitted silhouette, so via the same boat that brought back our new French frocks, a new shipment of Best's famous little French girdles arrived. They're frivolous looking—of soft elastic and sateen, without a single bone,—but they manage to be firmly efficient about our figures. And if your silhouette shows the least sign of a "bulge" at the waistline, the low back brassiere that extends over the top of the girdle will give that smooth unbroken line.

SOVIET PAPERS URGE RELATIONS WITH US

Pravda, Although Discounting Need of Recognition, Calls for Normal Diplomacy.

DEFENDS "DUMPING" HERE

Calls It Russian "Internal Affair"—Economic Life Implies Nation Can Do Without Our Aid.

By WALTER DURANTY.
Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW Aug. 12.—Soviet-American relations form the subject of editorials in Economic Life and Pravda today, which in their respective fields have authority unrivaled by newspapers abroad. Pravda is the official voice of the Communist party—that is, of the Kremlin—and Economic Life speaks for the commissariats of commerce, transport and finance.

In the Soviet Union, where leaders rarely give interviews or make statements outside the party or governmental congresses, newspaper articles or editorials assume an importance greater than the "inspired" utterances of the semi-official Paris Temps or The London Times.

Today's articles reflect two different viewpoints here on the American question: That in Economic Life is sarcastic and cross, while that in Pravda is more reasonable and constructive. The former bears the caption, "Mr. Fish's Performance," and suggests brusquely that the "antics" of Representative Fish as head of the committee which investigated the Amtorg, and Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, have had the useful effect of showing people here that "Americomania" has been overplayed.

"Why Go Crazy About America?"

The writer admits that American technicians, methods and machines offer the Soviet many advantages, but asks: "Why go crazy about America when European countries with technique and so forth but little inferior are willing to treat us reasonably in matters of diplomatic recognition, credits, trade balance and common courtesy?"

He proceeds to cite facts and figures from American economic bulletins to show "that the facts are against Mr. Fish and that Soviet orders play a rôle of genuine value in American business life," and concludes with a curt implication that if the Americans wish to cut off their nose to spite their face the Soviet can manage without them.

The Pravda article is written by M. Osinski, a big figure in the Soviet movement for the industrialization of agriculture, who spent some months in America a few years ago, speaks excellent English and keeps in close touch with American affairs. He takes the line that the "Fish and Woll antics" are just a symptom of a specific reaction on the part of "anti-Bolshevist elements" against the self-evident fact that today the Soviet Union has regained the position of a great power and cannot be treated lightly any more.

M. Osinski concludes that the obvarious course for America is to signify its acceptance of this fact by a renewal of diplomatic relations, although, curiously enough, he adds, "it doesn't matter whether that involves 'recognition' or not. 'Recognition' no longer counts."

BRITAIN LISTS LAWS OF SOVIET ON RELIGION

Issues White Paper, Fulfilling Promise to Tories in April—Penalties Revealed.

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP).—Extracts from the Russian laws on religion, compiled by the British Embassy at Moscow, were issued today in an official government White Paper.

The publication was in fulfillment of a promise given to the Conservatives by the Labor Government last April, when groups in Great Britain and other nations were protesting against alleged religious persecution in Russia.

The White Paper cites a provision of the Soviet Constitution providing for the separation of Church and State, of schools from Church and State, and of schools from Church, while equally guaranteeing liberty of religious belief and freedom of anti-religious propaganda.

It also quotes a provision of the criminal code by which the teaching of religious beliefs in schools to young children and persons under age is punishable by a year of compulsory labor.

Acts of deceit aiming at the encouragement of "superstition," and the deriving of profit therefrom, are punishable by a year's compulsory labor, with partial confiscation of property or a fine of 500 rubles (about $250).

Enforced collection of contributions on behalf of religious groups may be punished by six months' compulsory labor or a fine of 300 rubles. The same punishment is attached to the assumption by any religious organization of administrative or judicial functions appertaining to the public law.

The performance in State or public buildings of religious ceremonies involves a sentence of three months' compulsory labor or a fine. The same punishment is reserved for the installation of religious pictures or other representations in such buildings.

SAYS SOVIET INJURED LENA GOLD CONCESSION

Former Manager Tells Arbitration Court in London of Curb on Food and Necessary Limestone.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Evidence of restrictive measures on the Lena Gold Fields Company's operations in Russia was given by Alexander Malozemoff, formerly the company's managing director, today at a further sitting of the British arbitration court, which is considering the dispute between the company and the Soviet Government. Each alleges a breach by the other of the concession agreement to which they are parties.

M. Malozemoff alleged that the Soviet, in violation of their undertaking, failed to supply the necessary foodstuffs to Lena Gold Fields Company workers, with the result that supplies had to be purchased at high prices from cooperative stores.

"The property was depleted of all necessary materials, even the most necessary raw materials being taken away," he said. "The result was that the proper constructive work could not be started for six months. There were many verbal discussions with government representatives, and finally it was agreed they would pay a sum of money as compensation, but it was never paid."

Questioned by Dr. Idelson, the company's attorney, about the limestone deposits in the Sissertsky area, M. Malozemoff said the deposits provided the only pure limestone within the concession and were necessary for the treatment of ore and for other metallurgical purposes. The company's workmen were ejected from the limestone workings by an armed force, he added.

In reply to Sir Leslie Scott, one of the arbitrators, M. Malozemoff said the company maintained they had the exclusive right to the limestone, while the government replied they wanted it for commercial purposes. Dr. Idelson said the government's right to restrict the company was not clear if there was any right. Sir Leslie said he did not think the government "had a leg to stand on" but that the court should be told what right the government claimed to exercise at the time.

M. Malozemoff said:

"Very little was said. They just forced us out and proceeded to work the limestone for commercial purposes."

Vatican Plans to Have Consuls at Nunciatures, Paper Says

By The Associated Press.

ROME, Aug. 12.—La Tribuna today reports that the Vatican is considering the appointment of consuls or individuals to function as such in countries where the Holy See now is represented by Papal Nuncios.

The necessity for having consuls to represent the interests of individuals in Vatican City is said to have been shown by difficulties arising over the personal effects of the late Cardinal Vannutelli after his death.

It is stated by the newspaper that the Vatican probably will appoint prelates already attached to the nunciatures, giving them the consular authority.

MOTHER ACCUSED OF THEFT

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug 12.—Mrs. Veronica Carhuff, 28 years old, of 453 West 181st Street, the Bronx, wife of a minor employe of the Department of Public Welfare, and mother of two children, was brought here today to face a charge of robbery.

After questioning Mrs. Carhuff for several hours, District Attorney Frank H. Coyne announced that she told him she had taken a diamond ring from a washstand in the Fairview Country Club in Elmsford, and pawned it in New York for $225. She said, according to the District Attorney, that one of her children had been struck by an automobile operated by a member of the country club and she had gone there to see if she could not collect payment for doctor bills.

Mr. Coyne said that Mrs. Carhuff was in financial straits. He said she had an unblemished record as a wife and mother and that he would make every effort to keep Mrs. Carhuff out of jail even if he had to parole her.

CLEARED OF LIBEL ON REDS.

Vienna Editor Warned Jews Against Prayerbooks Soviet Exported.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Aug. 12.—The editor of the Jewish Press was acquitted in court here today on a charge of having libeled the Viennese firm of Zielgelheim, which sells books for the Soviet trade commission.

The accused editor, Rabbi Joel Pollak, wrote an article in his paper under the title, "Books to Which Blood and Curses Cling," in which he complained that Jewish prayerbooks and sacred torah rolls confiscated by the Soviet were being exported in masses and sold in Vienna. He warned his readers against the purchase of such books, which he said had been stolen from Russian synagogues.

Before the court Rabbi Pollak declared it was a crime for the Soviet to export and sell holy books which for ten years had been subjected to confiscation and their printing, publication and importation into Russia forbidden. The judge stated the article was justified and dismissed the charge.

SARATOGA INQUIRY HALTS GAMBLING

nished the Governor a list of alleged offenders and their addresses, and this list, which has not been made public, is believed to have been sent to the Saratoga officials.

A squad of Saratoga Springs policemen and a number of deputy sheriffs visited a number of addresses, believed to be those listed by Dorsey, last night. It was reported that no gambling was discovered at any of these places, and at any rate no arrests were made. According to the report prevalent here all gambling places in the inner district of the city have been ordered to close.

Although confirmation was difficult since few permanent residents of Saratoga will admit that there are any gambling houses here, the better class gambling houses on the outskirts were reported to be in operation for those sufficiently known to gain an entrance. Some of these houses, it was said, closed for a time last night but re-opened later for a select clientele. It is not known whether or not Dorsey included any of these places in his list of specific complaints to the Governor.

Complainant Ousted From Force.

So far the checking of gambling seems to have made little difference to the crowds here for the racing season. The season here is at its height.

Most of the permanent residents have failed to take Mr. Dorsey's charges seriously. There is no organization behind his protest, as there has been in similar complaints in other years, and the general opinion is that Mr. Dorsey represents no one but himself.

It was recalled that Dorsey left the Saratoga Springs police force four years ago, shortly after Mr. Sweeney became Commissioner of Public Safety. Dorsey, then a detective sergeant, had been opposed politically to Mr. Sweeney, a Democrat, who was elected on a non-partisan ticket.

Commissioner Sweeney reduced Dorsey to a patrolman and Dorsey's connection with the force was severed when he refused to go back to duty in uniform.

District Attorney Smith and Sheriff Knight are Republicans.

MOST OF INDUSTRY IN NITRATE CARTEL

ACCORD SEEN AS ARMISTICE

Reducing Fertilizer Production to Demand Announced as Aim—Some Price Details Vague.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—More than 98 per cent of Europe's producers of synthetic nitrates are joined together in the new pact regulating production and export quotas and providing for unified price levels, the signing of which was announced on Saturday, with further details, still far from complete, made available in a communiqué given out today.

The agreement between the Chilean natural nitrate interests and the German synthetic syndicate, acting on behalf of the remaining European producers, puts 80 per cent of the world's producers of nitrates under a single roof for one year.

The agreement, which appears to be more in the nature of an armistice than a peace treaty, was undertaken, it was announced today, with a view to bringing nitrate fertilizer production, which in the past few years has increased far beyond the demand, into line again. Unhealthy competition is henceforth to be avoided as a prelude to placing the participating countries in a position to provide agriculture with the requisite fertilizer at acceptable prices. New factories are not to be undertaken and those existing are to work at less than capacity, though how much less remains unspecified.

In order that this utilization of less than the full capacity of the several factories involved shall not lead to financial difficulties for individual firms, a fund is being established into which all shall contribute and which shall be used to assist any firm finding itself unable to operate on the limited scale agreed upon.

Fund to Aid Factories.

The fact that the new agreement covers price scales throughout the world with the exception of the United States is considered here to be due to the prerogative rights there which the Chilean-Guggenheim agreement created.

The announcement today contains comforting assurance that the new agreement has made it possible to insure that no increase in price over last year will be necessary this year and that there may perhaps be a slightly lower price in some cases. Critics, however, assert that in a period of falling prices such as the present a guarantee of no further rises fails to aid matters much.

Another point which is attracting attention is that whereas the agreement between the various European producers appears to be detailed and comprehensive, the agreement with the Chileans, it seems, only mentions price and, it is learned, does not even provide unified prices as between the synthetic and natural producers but merely foresees them remaining in the neighborhood of one another.

It is further declared that the agreements must have been somewhat self-preservatory and in the interest of maintaining prices, at least where they are, since if left to its own devices overproduction would have soon resulted in the same kind of falling prices noticeable in other lines this year.

Chilean Hails Accord.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 12.—The international agreement signed at Berlin by the European producers of synthetic nitrate and Chilean natural nitrate interests, is one of the most important commercial and economic world agreements framed in recent years, Juan Biggs, Secretary of the Ministry of Finance, declared this evening.

The new cartel will fix prices in the various markets, but they presumably will remain practically unchanged for some time. It will bring together the European and Chilean plants under a single controlling committee with a common fund built up by both parties in accordance with their respective production capacity. Local plants welcome the accord and expect to work to their maximum capacity.

SPANISH TRADE CURTAILED.

Peseta's Fall Hampers Import and Retail Businesses.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MADRID, Aug. 12.—The fall of the peseta to 9.15 to the dollar has caused a slight rise in prices in some articles and is hampering the import business and retail trade, according to El Financiera, weekly financial review. Count Guadalhorce, a leading politician, estimates the nation would suffer a loss of 50,000,000 pesetas if the gold standard were established at the present rate of exchange.

The Bank of Spain does not wish the gold standard, but it is felt here that a continued fall of the peseta would make such action necessary. A discouraging feature of the peseta's fall is that after each sharp break it remains stationary for a time and then drops a few more points, gradually working farther down the scale. Only a year ago it was 6.60 to the dollar.

FIGHTS SERVICE CUT ON WESTCHESTER ROAD

Port Chester Commerce Board's Protest to Be Submitted Friday to Utility Body.

Special to The New York Times.

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The Port Chester Chamber of Commerce, through its board of directors, voted yesterday to protest the reduction of train service on the New York, Westchester & Boston Railway.

The grounds given for the chamber's action were that the village had spent large sums to bring the railway service here and continues to spend large sums for improvements made necessary by the recent opening of the railway's terminal. President Clarence H. Wilson of the chamber will attend the hearing of the Public Utility Commission in New York on Friday to present the protest.

The commission will also receive complaints on the reduction of the railway's service to New Rochelle. Mayor Walter G. C. Otto and Corporation Counsel Patrick J. Rooney will appear in the city's behalf. New Rochelle not only hopes to win the return of regular train service on the road but will ask that the fare be made to coincide with the charter granted the company on Nov. 27, 1906. Mr. Rooney said the charter set the rate of 10 cents per passenger for transportation from New Rochelle to New York.

Bishop Darlington Recovering.

R-100 SAILS TONIGHT OVER SEA FOR HOME

RENT IN FABRIC REPAIRED

But Voyage to England Will Be Made With One of the Six Engines Not Operating.

By F. RAYMOND DANIELL.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, Montreal, Aug. 12.—Upon the bulletin board in the administration building of this airport, under the heading "Arrivals and Departures," there appeared tonight the following unobtrusive entry:

"H. M. airship R-100 for Cardington, England, 13 August, 10 P. M."

Thus, as casually as though the world's largest dirigible were a steamship operating on a regular schedule, did the Air Ministry inform the world that the visit of the world's largest dirigible to Canada was almost over.

The laconic announcement of departure, however, was supplemented tonight by an official statement issued to deny a rumor that damage which the dirigible sustained on her 1,000-mile flight to Toronto, Ottawa and Niagara Falls would detain the R-100 until later in the week. The statement said:

"Minor damage to the R-100 which occurred during the flight over Ontario and return has now been made good, with the exception of one of the engines. It is not proposed to change this engine and the ship is now ready for flight. It is proposed to leave tomorrow night as announced."

Passengers Ordered to Report.

The passenger list, which is understood to include the names of half a dozen newspaper men and at least one Canadian observer, has not been announced, although it was learned that those who are to make the trip have been instructed to report at the airport at 6 P. M. tomorrow with not more than thirty pounds of baggage.

Three cases of peaches grown on the Niagara Peninsular arrived by airplane at the airport during the day and were stored aboard the dirigible to enjoy the distinction of being the first Canadian product to be shipped to England by airship. Two of the cases were for officers of the ship and the third was consigned to the Prince of Wales from Premier G. H. Ferguson of Ontario.

The tear in the main envelope of the dirigible was not serious. It was patched from the inside this morning, while hydrogen and petrol were being pumped into the airship. She needed between fifteen and twenty tons of fuel and about 500,000 cubic feet of lifting gas to replace what she used up and lost on her Ontario flight.

By tomorrow noon, it is expected that the full supply of thirty-five tons of petrol and 5,127,000 cubic feet of hydrogen will be on board.

Impossible to Replace Engine.

For a time officers of the airship debated the advisability of lowering her to the ground from her perch at the top of the mooring mast which rises 200 feet above the ground, in order to replace her crippled starboard engine with a spare one that had been shipped to the airport before the R-100 sailed from England. Because of the difficulty and danger involved in the operation outside a hangar, however, the plan was abandoned.

Consequently the dirigible must start back home across the Atlantic with only five of her motors operating. Even so, her officers believe it may be possible to lower the Graf Zeppelin's record of 56 hours, 24 minutes for the eastward crossing with the aid of helping winds of which they have been assured by meteorologists.

Ottawa Parley on Airship Program.

Sir C. Dennistoun Burney, managing director of the Airship Guarantee Company, which built the R-100, has not yet returned here from his visit to Lakehurst, N. J., where he inspected the United States Navy dirigible Los Angeles and her mooring equipment. He spent the day in Ottawa conferring with R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, on a program of support from the Dominion for England's airship building program.

Wing Commander R. B. Colmore, director of airship development, who spent most of the day at the airport supervising preparations for departure, went to Ottawa this evening to join in the discussion.

Gives $10,000 Bond for Return Of Wilkins Arctic Submarine

A bond for $10,000, guaranteeing that the submarine O-12 will be returned to the United States Shipping Board in good condition by Sir Hubert Wilkins's Arctic expedition, has been executed by the National Surety Company, it was announced yesterday. The bond is said to be the first ever given for an Arctic expedition.

The submarine, a former United States Navy vessel, is being completely refitted for the trip in the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Sir Hubert plans to start the trip to the Arctic in the submarine next April. Principals on the bond are Lake & Danenhower, Inc., of Bridgeport, Conn. The surety company's risk has been protected by the deposit of collateral, it was said.

McGuinness, Byrd Aide, Is Honored.

OCEANSIDE, L. I., Aug. 12.—Charles J. McGuinness, chief officer of the Byrd Antarctic ship Eleanor Bolling and a resident of this village, was guest tonight at a testimonial dinner at Deans Grill. Four hundred persons were present. The dinner was preceded by a parade from the McGuinness home. Assemblyman Edwin Wallace was toastmaster. He and State Senator George H. Thompson made addresses.

British Bombers Win in Aerial 'Skirmish'; All Advantage Shown to Lie With Attackers

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The first clash between the rival Red and Blue air forces now manoeuvring over Britain has led experts to believe that the advantage is all with the attacking force.

The commander of one South Coast airdrome was so convinced of this before the manoeuvres started that in the night he evacuated all his fighting machines to a secret base amid the neighboring hills and left a squadron of "dummies" at the airdrome. These were promptly "destroyed" with the first streak of dawn. Clouds screened the bombers and in half a dozen raids, despite all the latest microphonic listening and spotting stations, the enemy was discovered when too late to intercept it, and almost too late to attack it in retreat.

The revelation was made that some of Britain's new bombing aircraft are at least twenty miles an hour faster with a full load than the squadron's machines originally designed to destroy such types of raiders. One type, known as the Hart day bomber, proved so fast that only one type of defending aircraft could be found to deal with it.

Receiving warning of the approach of a number of these bombers, the commander of the airdrome sent up a flight of Siskin fighters to meet them. The Harts were not more than 2,000 feet up and the fighters climbed their hardest, but in vain. A second flight of Harts appeared before the first could be reached and they, too, showed a clean pair of heels to the fighters.

Observers tonight consider that a defending commander can have no hope against these new fast bombing machines except in the best of atmospheric conditions and unless he has a long warning of their approach. Faster intercepting machines must be built and more perfect methods of heralding the raiders' approach must be devised, it is declared.

AVIATION DISPUTE GOES TO EFFICIENCY BUREAU

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP).—President Hoover, as Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, today moved to bring about a settlement of the long-standing dispute between the two over control of aerial coast defenses when he requested the Efficiency Bureau to investigate the economic aspects of the dispute, which concerns the point where the army defenses of the land must end and the navy's defenses must begin at sea.

Meanwhile a board of technical and professional experts of the two services is studying the question from a military viewpoint with the view to determining how cooperation can best be maintained between the army and the navy so far as the control of the air-coast defense is concerned.

While the study of the Efficiency Bureau is purely economic, it will be left for the military experts to work out a definite cooperative plan for the defenses. In the event the military board is not able to reach a unanimous agreement it is probable the President as Commander-in-Chief will be called upon mandatorially to settle the future control of this part of the national defense.

The question was brought up by Secretary Adams in a brief to the Attorney General asking an opinion on certain phases of the coast air control and to which the army took exception.

DENIES HIRTH REPORT.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 12.—In connection with a Montreal report that the German aviator, Wolfram Hirth, said he had given up his flight from Europe to America because it would cost 10,000 kroner to land in Greenland, the Greenlandian Board today said this report was incorrect and that Herr Hirth misunderstood if he characterized the 10,000 kroner as a "ticket price." In this case, as in similar cases, a deposit was demanded to cover the costs of arrangements, landing, &c., it was explained.

The board thinks Herr Hirth gave up because he learned that Julianehaab had no landing place for airplanes.

Two Die in Oakland Plane Crash.

WOMAN DIES IN FALL DOWN LINER'S FUNNEL

Victim of Accident on Berengaria Said to Have Been Resident of Jackson Heights.

Special Cable to The Chicago Tribune.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Falling forty-five feet down a ventilation funnel aboard the liner Berengaria, Mrs. Florence Stehlik, said to be of Jackson Heights, L. I., was fatally injured.

Mrs. Stehlik, who was standing on the hatch watching a passing vessel, leaned against a canvas windshield which she thought was solid. It collapsed and she was precipitated down the funnel, sustaining a broken neck and a fractured skull.

On the arrival of the Berengaria at Cherbourg today the body was transferred to the Olympic, which is sailing tomorrow for New York.

HAWKS PLANS HOP TODAY.

Will Attempt to Set 12-Hour Mark From Los Angeles to Here.

Special to The New York Times.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Captain Frank M. Hawks, holder of the east to west coast aviation speed record, tonight was preparing for a hop-off at 2 A. M. Pacific Time (6 A. M. New York time) tomorrow morning in an effort to fly to New York in twelve hours and supersede the present Los Angeles to east coast record of 14 hours 45 minutes 32 seconds held by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

KRONFELD LEADS GLIDERS.

Austrian Captures Chief Prize for Second Day in German Meet.

WASSERKUPPE, Rhoen Mountains, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP).—The biggest purse in the international glider contests here today went for the second time to Robert Kronfeld, Austrian, who defeated thirty-three other gliders by making a difficult thirty-nine-mile circuit flight. The prize was 1,000 marks (about $240).

Kronfeld's flight carried him to a neighboring mountain across difficult country over which none of his competitors had been able to soar.

Two gliders were eliminated by crashes, which were the first mishaps to mar the contests. Nobody was injured.

PREDICTS USE OF AUTOGIRO.

Spanish Inventor Says New York Papers Will Be Delivered in Craft.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Aug. 12.—It will not be long before the autogiro is in general use in the United States, according to Juan de la Cierva, its inventor, who is spending a holiday here with his plane. Señor de la Cierva said he "foresaw the metropolitan dailies, such as THE NEW YORK TIMES, being delivered by autogiros from the roofs of newspaper plants to suburban towns. Readers in New Jersey, he said, will receive their copies of THE TIMES almost as soon as those in Manhattan.

"On an actual flight from Paris," he said, "my gasoline cost me no more than if I had driven an automobile. At Biarritz I demonstrated before Senhor Santos Dumont, the first man to fly an airplane in Europe, who expressed the opinion that for short flights the autogiro is the coming machine.

"This was my first long flight since I rebuilt my autogiro, fitting a larger propeller over the fuselage. This was a vast improvement. I was able at times to fly eight feet from the ground, a dangerous feat in an ordinary plane. I landed today on a race track closely surrounded by hills, but I will have no difficulty in taking off tomorrow."

FLIER ESCAPES IN MEXICO.

American Eludes Escort on Train Bearing Him Homeward.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12 (AP).—H. E. McCray of Waterloo, Iowa, an aviator said to be suffering from a nervous ailment, slipped away from an escort on a train returning him to the United States early today and disappeared at Emplame Escobedo, in the State of Guanajuato, 200 miles northwest of Mexico City.

The flier was said to have telephoned to Mexico City this morning, demanding that an airplane be sent to pick him up.

Officials said McCray came to Mexico City about a month ago in an airplane. Soon afterward he was held for a day on charges of defrauding a hotel and a clothing store, but was freed when the accounts were paid.

Beloit Explorers Unearth One of Oldest Known American Civilizations.

HAD "APARTMENT HOUSES"

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Traces of one of the oldest known civilizations of America, an Indian culture pre-dating that of the Aztecs, have been uncovered in the Mimbres Valley of New Mexico. An expedition from the Frank Logan Museum of Beloit College, consisting of four students, under the direction of Paul Nesbitt, Associate Professor of Anthropology at Beloit, spent two months exploring the ancient ruins. Mr. Nesbitt today detailed the accomplishments and discoveries.

The Indians of the Mimbres Valley were a branch of the Pueblos, although their houses were built upon a plain, as distinguished from the cliff dwellings of the mountain Pueblos. Their civilization was divided in three periods.

The first period, 1,500 B. C. to 1,000 B. C., was one of subterranean houses. During this period the dead were buried beneath the dwelling floors. In the middle period, 1,000 B. C. to 300 B. C., the dwellings were half above the ground. In the last period, 300 B. C. to 200 A. D., dwellings were totally above the ground and separate burial places were established for the dead.

A large collection of specimens taken from the ruins has been sent to the museum at Beloit. From a large ceremonial chamber, exclusively devoted to the pursuits of men, were taken more than 250 fossilized skeletons. Pottery, giving much information by its carvings and said to be of extraordinary beauty, was found in perfect condition.

Evidence was discovered of a highly developed trade communication between the ancient Mimbres Valley people and distant races. A copper bell, beautifully cast and decorated and which is symbolic of the Aztec culture of old Mexico, was found in one chamber. Only one other specimen of this type has been found outside of the Aztec territory. Turquoise jewelry and hunting and cooking implements similar to prehistoric relics of the Pacific coastal regions were also found.

Mr. Nesbitt said that the Mimbres Valley people were apparently pastoral, living in what might be termed "apartment houses," and that the animal and plant life of the time was almost identical to that of the present.

Little was discovered of the religion, although the finding of skeletons of three burned infants indicated that it might have been of a sacrificial nature.

The expedition, known as the Logan Southwest Expedition, was one of three financed by Mr. Logan. Since 1925 an expedition has been in Algeria each year for ethnological data of the tribal civilizations. This year a third expedition was sent to North Dakota to study the fast vanishing tribe of Mandan Indians. Each party has in it Beloit students, majoring in anthropology and kindred subjects, who receive university credit for the expeditionary work.

Old Cap, Dog Hero of World War, Is Dead; Lived, Wounded, to Age of 15 at Ware, Mass.

WARE, Mass., Aug. 12 (AP).—The gates of Valhalla swung wide today to admit another good soldier, a four-footed comrade.

Old Cap, or Captain as he was more formally known, is dead, at the age of 15, a ripe age for a dog, who bore the wounds of French battlefields and in his lungs the searing burns of gas.

Cap, a wire-haired Griffon, served during the World War with distinction, winning the French Red Cross. It was his duty, and he performed it well, to seek out in the tangle of barbed wire and gaping shell holes his wounded two-legged comrades.

Since he was mustered out he made his home here with Dennis F. Shea, State game warden of the district, but he never forgot his war experiences. Nothing could lure him close to the barbed-wire fences that confine dairy cattle in this region. When an American army officer brought him to Ware eleven years ago there was a bald patch on the back of his head, caused by the chafing of his gas mask, but this soon grew out again.

Cap had a pleasant, bewhiskered face that made him a favorite with children, but he would not make friends with strange adults and he was the bane of any other canine that ventured on the Shea front lawn.

One of the first problems that faced him when he came here was to learn the language of his adopted country, for he understood only French. He was an apt pupil, however, for he soon understood a wide vocabulary in English.

Cap's grave is beside Warden Shea's camp in the Prescott Hills. There were many moist eyes today among those who saw him to his last rest.

FIND SECOND VICTIM OF PRINCE ST. BLAST

INJURED CHEMIST IS HELD

Marcus Cohen, Experimenter Blamed for Explosion, Faces Homicide Charge.

Police emergency and fire rescue squads provided with special wrecking and searchlight equipment discovered the body of a second victim early today in the ruins of the two Prince Street buildings that were destroyed by an explosion last Monday. The body was identified as that of Walter Pollard, 42 years old, an insurance solicitor for the Knickerbocker branch of the New York Life Insurance Company.

When Pollard, who was known to have gone to the printing shop of David Leff in one of the building just before the explosion occurred, failed to return last night to his home at 66 Fort Washington Avenue, police were asked to search for him. The search began just after dusk and from then until after midnight crowds of about 2,000 persons watched the searchers at work from behind a barrier of police lines. The body was found under a heavy piece of machinery and extricated with great difficulty. Pollard's head had been badly crushed and apparently he was killed instantly.

I. W. Godnick, president of the New York Twine Company, who was slightly injured in the accident, recalled yesterday that just before the explosion he had shaken hands with Pollard in the Leff Printing Company office. When Godnick was dug from under the wreckage he had forgotten Pollard and did not remember him again until told yesterday by the police that they had been notified by Pollard's wife that he was missing.

One victim of the explosion, Erke Mallina, was found in the ruins Monday night, but not all the débris could be cleared away by the regular wrecking crew employed there yesterday.

Two of the twelve persons known to have been injured remained in hospitals yesterday. The most seriously injured was Marcus Cohen, the chemist whose experiment with denatured alcohol resulted in the explosion. He is in St. Vincent's Hospital, badly burned about the face and body, and is expected to remain there for three weeks. Dominick Signorrelli, a printing shop employe, who sustained a dislocation of the right hip, is in Gouverneur Hospital.

Cohen was arrested on a technical charge of homicide for the death of Mallina, who's body was found in the ruins.

Tribute was paid by fellow workers to Michael Montaenino, employed in the printing office, who suffered a fractured wrist while holding a large metal sheet over himself and two other employes as a guard against falling bricks.

NAVAL ACADEMY HAS 393 VACANCIES

Of These, 28 Are Available for New York Candidates and 28 More Will Be Added in 1931.

SHORTAGE OF MIDSHIPMEN

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Fifty-six vacancies will be available to New York candidates for entrance to the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1931. There are now twenty-eight New York vacancies existing at the Academy, all credited to Representatives in Congress, and none to Senators, while those in other States aggregate 365, making a total of 393 for the country.

When the class of 1931 graduates, 326 additional vacancies will be created, of which twenty-eight will be credited to the New York Congressional delegation, three of these additional vacancies being Senatorial and the other twenty-five going to House members from New York State.

This is the most serious shortage of midshipmen the Naval Academy has known for years and just now the answer to the problem is not in sight. Unless remedied it may mean a serious shortage in the officer personnel should Congress authorize the construction necessary to bring the navy to the strength provided for in the London naval treaty.

The increasing number of resignations, for the most part from the ranks of the junior officers, is adding to the gravity of the situation.

The vacancies now existing at the Naval Academy in the New York Congressional Districts are:

Second District, one; Third, one; Fourth, one; Fifth, one; Sixth, one; Seventh, one; Ninth, two; Twelfth, two; Thirteenth, one; Eighteenth, two; Twentieth, one; Twenty-second, one; Twenty-seventh, one; Twenty-eighth, two; Twenty-ninth, three; Thirtieth, one; Thirty-third, two; Thirty-eighth, one; Thirty-ninth, two; Forty-third, one.

The additional New York vacancies for midshipmen to be caused by graduations in 1931 will be:

Senatorial—3.

Congressional districts—First, two; Second, two; Third, two; Sixth, one; Tenth, one; Eleventh, two; Fifteenth, one; Sixteenth, one; Seventeenth, one; Twentieth, one; Thirty-fifth, three; Thirty-sixth, one; Thirty-eighth, one; Fortieth, two; Forty-first, three; Forty-third, one.

The list of vacancies now existing for other States follows:

TWO FISHING BOATS CRASH.

Both Damaged in Race to Reach Choice Spot to Drop Lines.

Two fishing boats, each with about twenty-five passengers aboard, were damaged last night when hurried manoeuvres by captains eager to drop lines at a choice fishing spot 500 yards off Oriental Point, Manhattan Beach, just before dark last night, resulted in a collision. Both captains managed to get their boats to docks off Ocean Avenue in Sheepshead Bay without calling for help.

Both boats, the America, owned and captained by John Michaels, and the Perry Belmont, owned by Captain John Jensen, were heading in from sea toward Sheepshead Bay Inlet after a good day's fishing.

They were close off Oriental Point when both captains decided to lay to for a final half hour of fishing. A brief struggle for place ended when the prow of the Perry Belmont struck the America amidships. The America was chopped above the waterline and the Belmont's prow was damaged. Captain Jensen took his boat to a drydock in the Marine Basin for inspection.

Both boats are engine cruisers 75 feet long.

Exchange Ratifications at Vienna.

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 12 (AP).—Chancellor Johann Schober and Gilbert B. Stockton, the American Minister, today exchanged instruments ratifying the mutual extradition treaty between the United States and Austria. The treaty was concluded Jan. 31, 1930.

creation of this preference stock, it is said, is due to the fact that some of the securities which the Sinclair Company expects to acquire in its consolidation program enjoy a better rating than the Sinclair common stock.

Referring to the retirement of the present 8 per cent preferrd stock, Mr. Sinclair states that the company pays what must be regarded as an excessive dividend, in view of the credit of the company and existing money rates. This stock, he adds, also carries with it other onerous burdens, including a rather heavy sinking fund obligation. Also, the provision that in the event of a default in interest payments for two years the preferred stockholders can take over the management of the company. The authorized amount of this issue is $100,000,000, of which approximately $14,129,400 is outstanding in the hands of the public.

"The issuance of any additional amount of the present preferred stock being unwise from the viewpoint of the interests of the corporation and its stockholders," Mr. Sinclair says, "it is proposed to amend the charter so as to cancel the authority to issue any further amount of the 8 per cent preferred stock. At the same time it is proposed to authorize the issuance of preference stock of no par value, which would be a junior stock only so long as any of the 8 per cent preferred stock is outstanding."

Commenting upon the sale of Sinclair's interest in the Crude Oil Purchasing Company and the Pipe Line Company, Mr. Sinclair says:

"The Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation's one-half interest in the Crude Oil Purchasing Company represents an investment of $30,000,000, and the corporation's one-half interest in the Pipe Line Company represents an investment of $14,188,000, a total of $44,188,000.

"There is outstanding in the hands of the public $53,000,000 bonded indebtedness on those two properties. Your company will be for all practical purposes relieved of responsibility for payment of these bonds. The purchaser has agreed to indemnify us against our liability as guarantor of one-half of the outstanding bonds of the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company, approximating $40,000,000. Furthermore, the sale of our interest in the Crude Oil Purchasing Company avoids any possible loss to us on its crude oil inventory of approximately 36,000,000 barrels.

"In approving this transaction your directors and officials have had in mind other considerations than those just set forth. Conditions with respect to the position of your company have radically changed since the partnership with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was established. We have plans which cannot be carried out so long as this partnership exists."

Indiana Standard Lifts Discounts.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana has increased discounts on gasoline to dealers outside of Chicago and Detroit to 3 cents a gallon straight for a volume exceeding 500 gallons, it was reported yesterday from Chicago. Former discounts were 2 cents a gallon for more than 500 gallons, 2½ cents a gallon in excess of 2,000 gallons and 3 cents for more than 6,000 gallons.

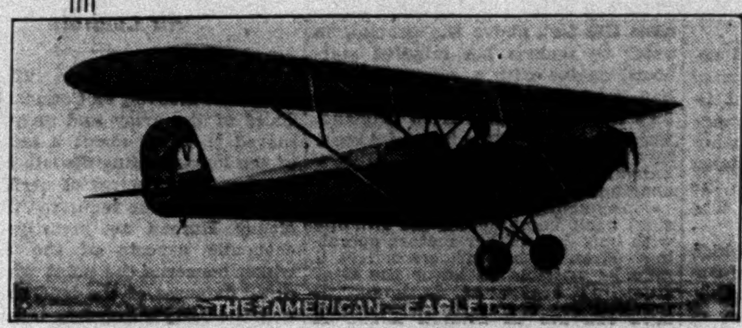
THE AMERICAN EAGLET

See America's fastest selling AIRPLANE!
at ROOSEVELT FIELD, TOMORROW



The American Eaglet, powered with either the Cleone or the Szekely engines, one and two place, respectively, is America's fastest selling airplane.

There's a real reason for this popularity—it's the airplane the aviation enthusiast has been waiting for! It's the plane for the man who thus far has been standing on the sidelines, watching the other fellow fly.

Operation cost is less than $1 an hour—compare this with the cost of driving your motor car.

Snappy takeoffs, slow landings needed for small fields, and marvelous air performance go hand in hand with rugged building and wonderful appearance. You'll be proud to own and fly the American Eaglet.

LUNCH

for the woman in business

To keep a clear brain for the work of the day she should eat a light, nourishing, easily digested noonday lunch. Heavy foods for lunch mean sleepy, lazy afternoon hours. Shredded Wheat with milk is the ideal food for the women in the office or store, writers, stenographers, typists and clerks, who must be "on their toes" all the day. Shredded Wheat is the whole wheat in a digestible form—and is so easily and quickly served. Delicious with fruits.

3 INSTITUTIONS GET REJECTED FORTUNE

P. F. Meyer's $490,575 Bequests, Refused by Home for Aged, Go to Other Beneficiaries.

Two legacies totaling $450,575, made to the Home for the Aged of the Little Sisters of the Poor, 213 East Seventieth Street, in the will of Peter F. Meyer, real estate auctioneer and partner of the late Richard Croker, will be divided among three other institutions named in the testament, under a decision yesterday by Surrogate Foley. They are St. Agnes's Hospital for Crippled and Atypical Children, White Plains, which gets $245,287.78, and Fordham University and St. Joseph's Seminary, Yonkers, each of which receive $122,643.89.

The Home for the Aged declined the bequests last April at a meeting of its trustees on the ground that its by-laws did not permit the home to accept conditional legacies. The will directed that $50,000 of the money be used to build a pavilion named for Mr. Meyer and that the balance be held in permanent trust and the income be used for the support of inmates. The Surrogate's decision was rendered at the request of the United States Trust Company, trustee of the estate, which asked the court to determine whether the rejected legacies should go to the testator's relatives or to the three institutions. Surrogate Foley held that the money was part of the residary estate, which was bequeathed to the organizations.

Under the will St. Agnes's Hospital received $685,863 and Fordham and St. Joseph's Seminary $342,931 each.

Mr. Meyer, who died on March 9, 1927, left his entire estate, appraised at $3,106,699, in trust for life to his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Meyer, who died on July 2, 1929. The will directed that at her death $200,000 was to be set aside as a trust fund for a foster-daughter and that a brother, John Meyer, was to receive a $20,000 fund. The rest of the estate was left to charitable, religious and educational organizations.

Son Gets Half of Hadden Estate.

The will of Crowell Hadden, who was one of the best known of the Brooklyn financiers, was filed in the Surrogate's Court in Brooklyn yesterday, disposing of an estate of more than $1,000,000, principally to members of his family. Mr. Hadden, who was for many years president and at the time of his death chairman of the board of trustees of the Brooklyn Savings Bank, died at his home, 200 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, Aug. 9 last. He was 90 years old.

Howard Hadden, his son, of 14 Sutton Place, was the principal beneficiary. He inherited half of the residuary estate, together with clothing, jewelry and personal effects. The other half share was divided equally between Crowell Hadden 3d of Glen Cove, L. I., and Mary M. Farrell of Darien, Conn., grandchildren, who also received realty and remainder interests in trust funds created for the benefit of other beneficiaries.

Mr. Hadden's charitable bequests included $2,000 to the First Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, and $2,000 to the Brooklyn Children's Aid Society. He provided a $50,000 trust fund for a niece, Elizabeth S. Weeks of New Haven, Conn., and bequeathed smaller amounts to other relatives, friends and servants. Howard D. Hadden of Westport, Conn., and Agnes L. Sanderson of 70 East Ninety-sixth Street, Manhattan, grandchildren, received legacies of $175,000 each.

Coombs Will Aids Institutions.

Samuel H. Coombs, Brooklyn lawyer, who died Aug. 3 last, left an estate of more than $500,000, according to papers filed with his will in the Surrogate's Court in Brooklyn yesterday. Mr. Coombs, who was a member of the law firm of Coombs & Wilson, 32 Court Street, Brooklyn, died in Littleton, N. H., Aug. 3. He gave $25,000 to the Industrial Home for the Blind, Brooklyn, and $10,000 to the Bedford Branch, Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn.

The will bequeathed a legacy of $100,000, together with the testator's country home in Allenhurst, N. J., and his Brooklyn home at 85 Bainbridge Street, to his sister-in-law, Miss Harriett Hubbard of Allenhurst. Several nieces and nephews and friends of the testator's deceased wife received smaller legacies, and five employes who had served with him for five years inherited $2,000 each.

Thompson Estate Set at $4,364,746.

Mrs. Helen A. Thompson, who died at the age of 85 years at Bellhaven, Conn., on Dec. 10 last, left an estate appraised yesterday at $4,457,250 gross and $4,364,746 net, which was divided equally among her two sons, Harry S. and Raymond B. Thompson, and her daughter, Ethel T. Fletcher. Mrs. Thompson, who was the widow of Richard J. Thompson, owned securities valued at $4,288,891, her largest holdings being in Standard Oil issues. Including 807,000 Standard of New Jersey and $477,562 Standard of New York. She owned 5,000 shares of Columbia Gas and Electric Company common worth $396,875, and 25,060 of National Fuel Gas, worth $695,415.

H. L. Meader Left $1,136,412.

Herman Lee Meader, architect and real estate operator, who died on Feb. 14 last, left $1,233,899 gross and $1,136,412 net, according to the appraisal yesterday. The bulk of his property consisted of 1,000 shares of Lee Meader, Inc., realty holding and operating company, appraised at $1,041,963.

Mr. Meader left his property in equal shares to his brothers, Louis J. Meader of 10 West Thirty-third Street, and his sister, Mrs. Bertha M. Patton of Greenville, S. C., who died July 3 last. Each received $568,206.

Special to The New York Times.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Aug. 12.—Specific bequests totaling $110,000 are made in the will of Margaret J. Young Fulton, for many years head of the American and Foreign Teachers Agency at 19 West Forty-fourth Street, New York, who died here three weeks ago at the home of her niece, Mrs. Jessie Richardson Lee.

The business of the agency will go to Nellie R. Talbot of Port Chester, N. Y., and Agnes Hooker of New York City, "true friends and loyal assistants," who also received legacies of $10,000 each.

Three nieces, Mrs. Lee, Jessie Duff and Mary Duff Jamieson, will share equally in the residuary estate and receive $10,000 each. Alfred Ely of New York City was named executor.

BIG LINDBERGH BEACON ERECTED IN CHICAGO

Light of Three Billion Candlepower Will Be Dedicated on Aug. 27.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A new star, man-made, was hoisted high above Chicago today to a cradle at the peak of the Palmolive Building on Michigan Avenue.

It will be officially dedicated as the Lindbergh Beacon on Aug. 27 to the hum of hundreds of airplanes gathered here for the national air races.

The new silver-coated Pharos of aviation, presented to Chicago by the late Elmer A. Sperry, inventor, will be serviceable to aviators within a radius of 300 miles.

Its beam, five feet in diameter, is equivalent in intensity to one-half square inch of light cast by the sun.

At a distance of fifty-five and one-half miles the beacon casts a light equal in brightness to that of the full moon on a clear night.

The beacon consists of two lights, one mounted above the other. The lower light has an output of 1,100,000,000 candlepower, which is centred by a parabolic reflector into a beam thirty-six inches in diameter and is so fixed as to direct visiting airmen to the municipal airport.

The upper light is the beacon proper. It has an output of 2,000,000,000 candlepower. Newspapers may be read in Michigan by its light, it is claimed.

Dr. Philip Fox, in charge of the Adler Planetarium, computes the light from main beacon at one meter distance to be 20,000 times brighter than the sun.

The beacon, weighing 2,700 pounds, and twice as powerful as any other in the world, is supported by a steel tower, totally encased in aluminum and rising sixty-five feet above the limestone penthouse of the building which gives the light an elevation of 600 feet.

The $50,000 light was made in Brooklyn.

By LOUIS STARK.

the Japanese Diet; Admiral Sir Herbert Richmond of Great Britain and Edwin E. Aldrin, formerly a Major in the American Army Air Service; Clarence E. Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, was unable to be present, and sent a paper, which was read.

In his paper Mr. Young declared that the Department of Commerce has developed a civil air policy which had contributed substantially to American leadership in civil aeronautics. He predicted that eventually the United States would be directly connected by air with a major part of the civilized world, and that international commerce would be truly world-wide in its scope.

"Eventually all civilized nations will recognize the progress and value of aerial commerce and will cooperate to the utmost in establishing regulations of universal application," he said. "Such regulations should accord freedom of innocent passage above the territory of each contracting nation to the aircraft of other contracting nations, without distinction of nationality."

1919 Air Convention Lauded.

After referring to the international air convention of 1919 as the outstanding example of group action taken by nations interested in aeronautics, Mr. Young observed that while the United States was not now a member of the convention, that did not mean that the situation might not be altered. He spoke of the reciprocal agreements between the United States and Canada, with special reference to the exchange of certificates of airworthiness.

He said he felt that airworthiness requirements were not so much matters of technical detail as "of integrity and competency of the nation issuing the certificate of airworthiness."

Mr. Merkel, who followed, commented favorably on Colonel Lindbergh's suggestion for uniform flying regulations and pointed out that there was one political aspect of the problem which might greatly affect the development of commercial aviation. This aspect, he explained, had to do with frontiers and customs barriers.

The entire world, but especially Europe, continued Mr. Merkel, was seeking for means to facilitate international trade.

"Why not use air transport as an initial step in that direction?" he asked. "Why not turn air service to further the thought of a European customs union, of British Empire free trade, of a Pan American Union and ultimately of a freer circulation of goods throughout the world?

Preferential Tariff Proposed.

"Allow me to outline a trade covenant which seems possible between all countries now linked by international air service. All goods transported by air on authorized air lines operating under government contract might have throughout the world a preferential tariff. It would not be practical to try to establish 'free trade' for goods transported by air. A preferential tariff, through allowing a liberal discount on existing tariff rates might, however, generally be agreed upon for goods transported by air."

Mr. Baudou, the next speaker, said that although the air convention of 1919 might not be perfect, its fundamentals were sound and it should be adopted by all nations.

"Once this is done a universal international conference should be called where differences between nations may be thrashed out once for all, as only by the adoption of uniform flying regulations, as pointed out by Colonel Lindbergh, can international communications make the expected development," he declared.

Air Policy Importance Stressed.

In opening the discussion, Mr. Warner stated that within the past four years air policy had become a major concern of all the countries of the world. "It takes rank along with taxation and unemployment relief and the merchant marine," he said.

"Except for the United States and Russia, commercial flying is already necessarily international, and even those countries have a pronounced international interest. Air policy is, therefore, a phase of foreign relations. The conduct of international airlines demands some sort of an agreement between nations. Two such agreements have been made, one of which includes a large part of Europe, while the other, the Pan-American convention, was designed to cover the Western Hemisphere, but has so far been ratified by only a half dozen States, most of them small.

"Developments of the last two years make it obvious that a single convention to cover the whole world is of the utmost importance.

Non-Subsidy Policy Lauded.

"American policy in the air has been first to exploit domestic possibility to the limit with a minimum of direct subsidy and a maximum of indirect assistance in providing organization of aeronautics. It has called for the freest communication and the most sympathetic attitude toward Canada, and particularly for the encouragement of American initiative in Latin America.

"Subvention is calculated to enable American operating companies to take a leading place in South and Central America and the Caribbean area. We have made a good start in that territory, but we shall have to be very watchful to hold our place against the intelligently directed and well-financed efforts of French and German companies.

"Although companies under American and under European direction are in competition in South America, they should also be cooperating. There will be no gain for any one in forcing duplication of facilities. Let there be competition in efficiency and in economy of operation and in equality of service. But where French, German and American operators can show savings by pooling their efforts, no jealousy or national pride should prevent their doing so.

"Freedom of international air navigation for all nations and the fullest cooperation for a better quality of air service available to all peoples should be the universal watchwords, to take precedence over any attempts to further specialized international interest."

Interference Called "Ridiculous."

Admiral Richmond deplored the lack of uniform regulations for international flying and regarded it as "ridiculous" that so much money was spent in the airplane industry to facilitate transport between nations, "only to find that everything was put in the way of the planes reaching those places."

Mr. Tsurumi explained that commercial aviation had not yet made much progress in Japan. He felt that many accidents in Japan were due to the fact that "pilots placed too much dependence on the Samurai spirit and too little on scientific knowledge."

Major Aldrin also spoke of the difficulties in the way of private individuals flying their own planes in Europe and urged that nations not signatory to the air convention of 1919 should get together and simplify and make uniform international flying regulations.

Charles E. Bennett, manager of the Peking branch of the National City Bank, at the round-table on the Far East, discussed the recommendation made recently by the commission headed by Dr. Edwin W. Kemmerer that China's currency be placed on a gold basis. Asserting that the Kemmerer plan depended for its success primarily upon the credit of the central government and the confidence of the people in it, Mr. Bennett said that the mass of the people were almost medieval in their economic situation and outlook. He questioned whether this was an opportune time to inject a new element into the already chaotic situation and suggested that it might be wiser to unify and standardize the existing currency.

Lord Eustace Percy, in his fourth lecture on "Freedom of the Seas," discussed the difficulties into which the World War had plunged previously established rules of international law relating to the rights of belligerents at sea and neutrals in time of war. The whole situation, he said, called for a "fresh start."

Summing up his arguments, the speaker concluded: "No one has yet proposed to establish complete freedom of the seas in time of war. If freedom must to some extent be limited, the best method is one which distinguishes clearly between the transactions which a neutral trader may engage in without risk and those which he must undertake at his peril."

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh arrived here this morning after a week-end visit to the Morrow Summer home at North Haven, Me. They will be guests of Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, and Mrs. Garfield and will leave from North Adams Airport tomorrow morning.

AMELIA SCHIFF WILL FILED

PITTSBURGH'S DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SAFETY

with positive gear control

HIGHWAY commissioners and safety directors throughout the country have voiced unqualified approval of Free Wheeling with positive gear control—manufactured under Studebaker patents—and available only in the brilliant New Series President and Commander Eights.

Here, for the first time in a motor car, momentum works for you, saving fuel and oil, banishing the stresses and strains of reversion. Yet the force of engine compression is ready like a giant hand to add its restraint to the silken-smooth stroke of powerful brakes. Full engine braking power is available instantly, easily, quietly, at any speed!

Come today and drive the seasoned New Series President and Commander Eights. Know what a relief it is, to be able to shift at will, back and forth between high and second, without so much as touching the clutch! In these remarkable cars you need use the clutch only to start or back up.

No other cars can offer you motoring to compare with Free Wheeling under positive gear control. Try this revolutionary achievement of Studebaker's 78 years of manufacturing progress.

You shift from high to second, back and forth, at 40–50 miles an hour, and never touch the clutch. You need use the clutch only to start or back up.

The braking power of your engine is available as readily as in conventional cars.

For the first time in a motor car you get the full benefit of momentum automatically. When your car has gone 10,000 miles your engine has "worked" only 8,000 miles.

You save 12 per cent on gasoline, 20 per cent on oil—even more in heavy traffic.

Strains on engine, transmission and axle are lessened. Tires wear longer.

There is nothing new to learn—Free Wheeling with positive gear control is simplicity itself. You drive just as you do in a conventional car.

LISA DOUGHERTY WEDS J. P. GEDDES 2D

WEDDING A SURPRISE HERE

Miss Lisa Dougherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dougherty, was married to James Peter Geddes 2d of this city yesterday in Santa Barbara, Cal., according to word sent to relatives here by Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty, who are on the Coast. The marriage will come as a surprise to many of the friends of the young couple, for no announcement had been made here of their engagement.

Mr. Geddes and his bride, after their wedding trip, will live at 435 East Fifty-seventh Street, this city. The bride is a granddaughter of the late J. Hampden Dougherty. She attended the Brearley School and Mme. Payens School in Paris and was graduated from Barnard College. She is a member of the Junior League of New York.

Mr. Geddes is a son of the late Peter Geddes and a nephew of Donald Grant Geddes of this city. He attended Choate School and was graduated from Columbia University in 1926. He is with the office of Henry Otis Chapman, architect.

Aber—Loveland.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Aug. 12 (AP).—The marriage of Miss Dorothy Loveland of Washington, D. C., to Doff Aber, rancher and rodeo performer, was announced here today.

Mrs. Aber is the daughter of Mrs. George H. Harries of Washington, who is a guest at a dude ranch near here with her husband, Major. Gen. George H. Harries, U. S. A., retired.

The marriage took place in Loveland, Col., on Aug. 2, Mrs. Harries stated. Mr. and Mrs. Aber are honeymooning at the ranch of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Aber, near Laramie, Wyo.

ELLEN W. THORON ENGAGED TO WED

Niece of Mrs. Garrett, Envoy's Wife, to Be Bride of Francis W. MacVeagh.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Major and Mrs. Henry Leonard announced today the engagement of Miss Ellen Ward Thoron, daughter of Mrs. Leonard, to Francis Wayne MacVeagh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacVeagh. The wedding will take place in Washington, the home of both families, in September.

Miss Thoron, who was presented to society here in 1927, is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Warder and a niece of Mrs. John W. Garrett, wife of the American Ambassador to Italy. She was educated in American and French schools, and is a member of the Junior League. Last Winter she was the guest in Rome of the Ambassador and Mrs. Garrett.

Mr. MacVeagh was graduated in 1921 from Harvard, is now an instructor there, and is a member of the University and Harvard Clubs of this city. He and his bride will make their home in Cambridge.

Other Engagements

Casserly—Lawrence.

Mrs. John B. Casserly of this city and San Francisco has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Marianna Casserly, to Alfred Newbold Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lawrence of Moorlands, Lawrence, L. I.

Miss Casserly attended the Santa Barbara Girls' School in California and the Spence School in this city. On her maternal side she is a granddaughter of Michael Cudahy of Chicago, her mother having been Miss Cecilia Cudahy. Her father, the late John B. Casserly, was a son of the late Senator Eugene Casserly of California.

Mr. Lawrence attended St. Paul's School. He was graduated from Princeton University in 1927 and from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1929. He is a member of the Rockaway Hunting Club.

Wentz—Wainwright.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Daniel B. Wentz of the Orchard, Wyncote, today announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Douglas Wentz, to T. F. Dixon Wainwright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Reeves Wainwright of Chestnut Hill. Miss Wentz made her début in 1928-29. She and her mother are occupying Miramar, their Summer place at Northeast Harbor, Me.

Macy—Ludington.

Announcement has been received in Philadelphia of the engagement of Miss Mary Lloyd Macy of Pasadena, Cal., to Nicholas S. Ludington, member of an old Philadelphia family and a prominent figure in aviation.

Mr. Ludington is president of the Central Airport in Camden, N. J., and of the New York-Philadelphia-Washington Airway Corporation. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ludington, and a member of the Racquet, Merion Cricket and Radnor Hunt Clubs. He was graduated from Yale in 1927.

Mayor to Greet Greek Legion Post.

Mayor Walker will receive 300 Greek members of the American Legion at City Hall at 3 o'clock on Friday before they sail for Athens to officiate at the laying of the cornerstone of the American Legion building there. Basil Mammonas, Greek Consul General; Mrs. Maude Elliot Howe and Dr. Demetrius, leader of the delegation, will be present at the reception.

BROWER SIFTS RISE IN MILK PRICE HERE

WYNNE SURVEY CONCLUDED

Shows Output in City Supply Area Is Cut Only 4 Per Cent by Drought —Produce Stocks Ample.

Charges by Norman Thomas that the rise in milk prices which went into effect in this city on Monday will mean an additional $3,000,000 profit for distributers caused District Attorney George E. Brower of Brooklyn to begin yesterday an investigation to find out if milk dealers were profiteering at the expense of consumers.

The District Attorney explained that the higher prices had added $100,000 weekly to Brooklyn's food bill alone and declared that if this rise was found unjustified he would prosecute dealers.

Inquiries at the offices of District Attorney Crain showed that the New York County prosecutor was undecided what action to take on the Thomas charges.

While Mr. Brower was conferring with food experts to gather facts for his investigation, Edward F. Brown, acting for Health Commissioner Wynne, revealed the results of the survey of the milk situation by the Health Department. These showed that milk production in the New York milk shed was now only 4 per cent below what it was at the same time last year.

"Our milk inspectors inform us that there is an over-supply of milk and that farmers have stopped shipping milk here because they cannot sell it," Mr. Brown said. "On the basis of these figures, I think we can safely regard the so-called milk shortage as a big myth."

Milk distributers refused last night to comment on the Health Department's survey or Mr. Brower's investigation. It was explained at the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association that cool weather had greatly relieved the milk situation. New York is consuming less milk while, on the other hand, milk production has risen, they said.

Mr. Brower's investigation was inspired, it is believed, by a talk which the District Attorney had two days ago with Health Commissioner Wynne. Mr. Brower conferred yesterday with Hyman Lehmkuhl, expert food consultant of the Health Department, and other officers of the department. Today he expects to interview up-State milk inspectors who are coming to the city. He announced that he would call officials of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Sheffield Farms Company and Borden's Farm Products Company during his investigation.

"I am making no accusation at the present moment of the investigation we have begun," Mr. Brower said last night. "The investigation may show that the increased cost was justified or it may show a train of circumstances over which we have no jurisdiction.

"But there is a possibility that a legal statute may have been violated through this increase in the cost of milk."

Health Department officials revealed that they have received a number of assurances from wholesale produce dealers that there would be no unwarranted rise in prices owing to the drought. These merchants said that ample supplies of fruits and vegetables were available and more were coming in daily from all parts of the country. While the drought may have affected near-by farming areas, it was explained that the large supplies from California and Southern States more than offset this loss.

UNGER WILL IS FILED; SAID TO SLIGHT WIDOW

Nurse, Who Says She Was Fiancee, Plans Fight for Large Bequest Understood to Be Provided.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 12.—The will of Aaron Unger, New York candy manufacturer, who died Sunday in a Lansdowne apartment, was filed at Media today by Miss Amelia Phillips, accompanied by her attorney and three other persons. Miss Phillips, a former actress, has been accused by relatives of Mr. Unger of holding him "captive" in her apartment for several months.

According to one of the lawyers, the will virtually ignores the widow and bequeaths substantial sums to Miss Phillips and to Mr. Unger's son, as well as smaller amounts to several others. The value of the estate is estimated at $100,000 and upward.

Miss Phillips handed the will to Joseph J. Jacobs, named as executor, and he left it at the office of George E. Hill, Register of Wills. Since a caveat filed yesterday by Mr. Unger's widow prohibits the probating of the will at this time, the contents will not be made public until after hearings are held by the Register of Wills.

Miss Phillips, who said that she and Mr. Unger were engaged to be married, declared she had instructed her attorney, Marcus Berman, to fight the case to the end and if necessary to take it to the Supreme Court, "to see that Mr. Unger's wishes as expressed in his will are carried out."

MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST.

Goldman Band Event to Be Broadcast From the Mall Tonight.

Radio listeners will hear tonight the annual music memory contest of the Goldman Band as broadcast from the Central Park Mall bandstand at 8:45 o'clock by WNYC. This will be the seventh such contest given in connection with the Goldman programs.

Short excerpts from thirty compositions will be played without announcement of the respective names of the work or author. Contestants will be required to write out the missing names in the blank spaces provided for this purpose on the programs supplied at the concert. These ballots will be collected and the winners announced tomorrow. Prizes consist of one silver and two bronze medals.

The second part of the concert will be devoted to the usual announced concert numbers.

DRAFT SIGNING CURB LINKED TO LODI CASE

Abell Group Hears That State Controller Altered Procedure Since First of Year.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 12.—Testimony tending to show that the State Controller stopped countersigning drafts transferring New Jersey money from one bank to another at about the time the Lodi sewer transaction was made public was heard today by the Abell audit and survey commission. According to Frederick Burnett, counsel to the commission, the practice of the State Treasurer signing such drafts alone is illegal and reacts so that the State Controller loses all control over transfers of State money.

Informed that Attorney General William A. Stevens held in an opinion that the signing of drafts by one fiscal official alone was proper, Mr. Burnett refused to change his stand.

Affairs in connection with the building of a sewer in Lodi Township, Bergen County, came to light early this year. The Abell commission has had phases of the matter under inquiry and the improvement also has been made the subject of a Supreme Court investigation.

Senator Ralph W. Chandless of Bergen is reputed to have received $10,000 as a fee from sewer contractors who could not receive payment for work until the State fiscal officers deposited $200,000 in the Little Ferry National Bank. The money was used to buy Lodi sewer bonds at a time when the township was without funds to pay for the sewer.

What bearing the Lodi situation may have on the change in the practice of signing State drafts was not disclosed at the hearing today. Evidence concerning the drafts came during an examination of Colonel Harry B. Salter, chief auditor in the State Controller office, and of Owen W. Kite, Deputy State Controller.

It was testified that both the Treasurer and the Controller must sign State checks before banks will honor them. Up to the time of the Lodi transaction, it was said, both officials also signed drafts, but about the beginning of the year the Controller stopped countersigning them.

Asked whether the single signature on State drafts did not deprive the Controller of control over such funds, Mr. Kite replied that the Controller would hold the Treasurer responsible for any money so transferred.

FLIGHT SET AT RAID HOUR

Paul Montgomery, Accused Aviator, Has Plane Color of Bomber—He Denies Charges.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., Aug. 12 (AP).—Circumstantial evidence tonight pointed an accusing finger at Paul Montgomery, 25, local aviator, arrested today in connection with Monday's air raid on the Providence, Ky., coal mining district in which nine bombs were dropped from a mystery plane. Authorities indicated other arrests were in prospect.

In jail here to await extradition to Kentucky to face a felony warrant issued at Dixon, Ky., Montgomery steadfastly maintained innocence of any connection with the bombing. He said he did not even know of the air raid until informed of it by newspaper men.

He admitted having made an early morning flight Monday, but said he went alone and flew in the vicinity of Pinckeyville, which is in the opposite direction from Providence. The Kentucky town is about ninety miles southeast of here.

But Sheriff William Flanigan announced he obtained affidavits this afternoon from two Murphysboro girls, Clara Paul and Evelyn Fleming, in which they said they had accompanied Montgomery to the local airport early Monday and saw him take off with a man passenger unknown to them. Some of the persons who saw the plane that did the bombing said two men were in it.

Raymond Phifer, 25, a dairyman's son, was questioned late today by Sheriff Flanigan and told him he drove Montgomery and the two girls to the flying field shortly before dawn after they had attended a party. Montgomery, Phifer said, flew away with a stranger who was roughly dressed and carried a sack. Phifer insisted he did not know the passenger's name.

Plane Sighted on Way.

Montgomery's orange and black monoplane fits some descriptions of the bombing ship, even to its number, 508-M. G. C. Martin, Bruce Stone and H. Black, representing Kentucky mining companies upon whose properties the bombs were dropped, said here today they saw an orange-hued plane, number 508-M, fly over Providence during the bombing. The plane, they said, also was sighted at Hopkinsville, Ky., Shawneetown, Ill., and Harrisburg, Ill. They also said their investigation here revealed Montgomery had taken off about 4:15 A. M. and returned at 8 A. M. The bombing occurred between those hours.

Jackson County authorities were reluctant to discuss the possibility of additional arrests or the possible motive for the bombing. The outrage was attributed in general, however, to strife resulting from efforts to unionize the Kentucky coal field.

Montgomery, who is married, has been a commercial pilot here in recent years. He gained considerable publicity some months ago when he talked of a Rome-to-Dallas, Texas, flight this Summer. He was not a miner or affiliated with any of the factions of the mine union, but a few years ago worked for his father who operated a coal mine between De Soto and Elkville, Ill.

Quiet at Bombing Scene.

PROVIDENCE, Ky., Aug. 12 (AP).—Mines were operated as usual in the Webster County coal fields today and no disorders were reported. Webster County officials awaited the return of deputy sheriffs who went to Murphysboro, Ill., for Paul Montgomery, aviator arrested as a suspect in connection with the bombing of mine properties here yesterday.

Sheriff R. P. Overby at Dixon said he expected other arrests soon and that no information would be given out until all suspects were apprehended. He declined to divulge the charge designated in the warrant issued for Montgomery's arrest.

To Broadcast Saratoga Horse Race.

When Gallant Fox, Whichone and other thoroughbreds compete on Saturday at Saratoga a word-picture of the turf event will be broadcast beginning at 4:50 P. M., Eastern Daylight Time, over WEAF's network. Clem McCarthy and Graham McNamee will give the radio description.

Refuses to Fight Forest Fire; New Yorker Fined $10 Up-State

Special to The New York Times.

ELLENVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Imposition of a $10 fine today upon Hugh L. Tarnuff, 21, who lives in New York City, impressed upon him the importance of the State law which compels every man called upon to fight a forest fire to respond.

Tarnuff, a Summer boarder in Ellenville, was called out by Richard Porter, a deputy fire warden, three days ago. Refusing to respond, although told the law permitted the warden to draft him, he was summoned into court.

LAUDS TRIPLE CAREER OF WALTER HINES PAGE

H. S. Houston, in Radio Address, Says War-Time Ambassador Left Enduring Influence.

The late Walter Hines Page, war-time Ambassador to Great Britain, whose seventy-fifth birthday will occur on Friday, was eulogized yesterday as a man who had had three distinguished careers, as editor, educator and diplomat, in a radio speech over Station WABC by Herbert S. Houston, president of the Cosmos Newspaper Syndicate and the Cosmos Broadcasting Company. Mr. Houston, who was vice president of Doubleday, Page & Co. for many years, was intimately associated with Mr. Page, one of the company's founders. His speech was a presentation of the National Radio Homemakers' Club.

Declaring that Mr. Page's letters, "now published and read everywhere," have "revealed his creative mind, his high purposes and his dynamic energy," Mr. Houston said that his work and influence in each of his careers "were so constructive that they will endure." Mr. Page, he said, "above all else was a glowing human soul."

Mr. Page, he said, had little patience with "the mere writer." Writing about a thing, he said, was to Mr. Page "simply preparatory to doing something about it." Mr. Houston told of Mr. Page's efforts to restore North Carolina to its pre-Civil War greatness, of his work as a member of the Southern Education Board and of his "vital part" in the economic and social development of the entire South.

As a writer and doer Mr. Page, according to the speaker, "deserved to rank with his two great friends, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson." All three, he said, were writers and doers.

"President Wilson," he continued, "a great historian himself, once said to me he was convinced that Walter Page's letters, when they come to be published, would live and come to be looked upon as giving the best picture drawn by any one of the English people in the stress and struggle of war. And they have already come to be."

MISS BESUNER HEARD OVER WEAF NETWORK

Young Metropolitan Opera Soprano Gives Two Groups of Songs in Concert Broadcast.

Pearl Besuner, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, was heard in two groups of songs on Monday night during the concert broadcast at 9:30 o'clock over WEAF's coast-to-coast network. Miss Besuner, as guest soloist of the concert, which was her second radio appearance, opened the first group with an operatic aria selection from "Louise." Her second group opened with Chaminade's Madrigal. Last season at the opera house she was heard in "Manon Lescaut," "Faust," "Parsifal," "Louise," "Sadko," "The Girl of the Golden West," and other productions.

Miss Besuner, one of the youngest singers of the Metropolitan stage, was born in Cincinnati. After completing a course in piano instruction at the Conservatory of Music in that city, she took a degree in opera with the late Ralph Lyford and in voice with Dan Beddoe, tenor. She was soloist with the Cincinnati Orchestra in 1925 and 1926 and sang five seasons with the Cincinnati Opera Company. She then appeared with the San Carlos Opera Company in various cities, including New York. In the Summer of 1926 she was examined for a Juilliard Foundation scholarship, was successful, and studied with Mme. Marcella Sembrich. She received an opera scholarship at Dresden, just prior to her engagement with the Metropolitan in New York for the season of 1928-1929. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Besuner of Cincinnati.

VREELAND SUES ON PATENTS

Special to The New York Times.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 12.—The Vreeland Corporation of New Jersey filed a bill of complaint today in Federal court against the Grigsby, Grunow Corporation of Illinois, and the Robelen Piano Company of this city, alleging infringement of patents on a band receiving system, variable band amplification, variable circuit and an element for radio receiving sets.

The bill asks that the Grigsby, Grunow Company, manufacturers of Majestic radio sets, be enjoined from using the patent, that an accounting of possible income be made and that the defendants pay the costs and disbursements of the suit. An answer was ordered within thirty days.

Guardsman, 19, Ends Life by Shot.

Sits in Tree 700 Hours.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 12 (AP).—At noon today Calvin Neill, tree sitter, completed 700 hours aloft. A rival for his mark appeared in William Hausen Wellherbe, 56, a blind man, who entered a tree in Marysville, near here, and announced he would stay until Christmas. Wellherbe has had a permanent "roost" constructed and says he will do his own cooking and housekeeping.

Robins Lose to Cubs in 11th; Yanks Win as Ruth Hits No. 43

40,000 WATCH CUBS STOP ROBINS IN 11TH

Stephenson Bounds Hit Over Third to Score Deciding Run in 3-2 Battle.

VANCE HURLS GREAT GAME

Two Infield Errors Allow Chicago to Tally Twice in First Inning, Giving Blake Edge.

BROOKLYN MISSES CHANCES

Fills Bases in Ninth and Tenth, but Fails to Score—Spectator Found Dead in Stand.

By ROSCOE McGOWEN.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—While more than 40,000 North Side fans viewed the proceedings with tense interest and ultimate delight, the Cubs and Robins battled through eleven dramatic innings today, with disaster engulfing the erstwhile league leaders at the end.

With the bases full, one out and the entire Brooklyn defense drawn in, Riggs Stephenson bounced a single over third base and off Wally Gilbert's desperately upflung glove to send English home with the winning run.

The score was 3 to 2, with two of the Chicago runs, gathered in the opening inning, unearned, while both the Robin tallies, accumulated one at a time in the second and fifth innings, were completely untainted.

The defeat dropped the Robins a full game behind the now league-leading Cubs, the first time they have descended to that low level since they forged to the top weeks ago.

Two errors, committed by Jake Flowers at the start, were responsible for the two Cub markers, and Dazzy Vance, who went on to give one of his best pitching performances, tasted one of his bitterest defeats, while Sheriff Blake, outpitched a good part of the game by Vance, won the game.

Game Abounds in Thrills.

The tense situations and the excitement that prevailed at times proved too much for one spectator, an unidentified elderly man, who was found dead of heart failure in his seat in the upper stands back of the plate ten minutes after the long game ended.

Blake was the better pitcher in the deciding eleventh, as he fanned Gilbert and Herman and disposed of Bissonette on a bounder to the box. Herman, who, up to the moment, had had a perfect day at bat, with a triple, two doubles, a single and a pass, was stopped dead by Blake in the final emergency, while Vance was unable to get by English, Cuyler and Stephenson.

Vance retired Blair on a grounder to Wright to start the Cubs' eleventh, but English slashed a hard drive to centre and Cuyler, with two straight hits to his credit, followed with a third. Vance purposely passed Wilson to fill the bases, but Stephenson came through with his winning drive.

In the ninth and tenth the Robins, aided by errors by Blair and Farrell, got the bases full, but, as in all cases, were unable to deliver a winning punch. Brooklyn base running was none too admirable, but the Cub defense, save for the two misplays mentioned, was of the best.

Bissonette Caught at Plate.

Herman was caught in a run-down when Wright grounded to Grimm for a fielder's choice, Bissonette went out at the plate trying to score from second on Lopez's single, on a fine throw from Cuyler to Hartnett, and Bressler grounded to English to end the inning.

Flowers's first error came when Blair, first Cub to bat, sent a grounder directly to him. It got away and Blair went to second when Frederick fumbled in recovering it. English got a hit, a slow bounder to Flowers, Blair taking third, whence he scored on Cuyler's sacrifice fly.

Wilson drove a hard grounder directly at Flowers and again he fumbled, English going to second. Stephenson followed with the first of his three hits to score English and Vance began his long, uphill battle, which ended in defeat.

PIRATES TAKE TWO FROM THE PHILLIES

Rally in 14th Wins Opener, 8-7—Early Attack Captures Nightcap, 8-3.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12 (AP).—Heavy hitting by the Pittsburgh Pirates carried them to victory over the Philadelphia Nationals in a double-header today, 8 to 7 and 8 to 3.

The first game went fourteen innings, with the Phillies forging to the front in their half of the fourteenth and the Pirates rallying for two runs on L. Waner's triple, P. Waner's double and Traynor's single. The Phillies counted five times in the seventh inning to take a 6-to-5 lead, but a Pirate run in the eighth forced the game into extra innings.

In the nightcap the Pirates fell upon Sweetland for six hits and five runs in the second inning and were never headed. Phillips and Smythe followed on the mound for the Phillies, while Spencer kept the visitors in check throughout.

RUTH'S 43D HOMER HELPS YANKEES WIN

Babe Also Drives In Deciding Run of 6-5 Triumph Over Tigers With Single in 9th.

VICTORS PILE UP 5-1 LEAD

By WILLIAM E. BRANDT.

Ruth's forty-third homer was one of a cluster of choice extra-baggers the Yanks pounded out against their old pal, Waite Hoyt, early in yesterday's game.

But when Gehringer's homer tied the score in the ninth, the Babe had to go to bat again, and with two out in the Yankee half of the final inning, two buddies aboard the bases and two strikes on himself, the homer-hitting specialist won the game with a single to centre, knocking across the winning run of the 6 to 5 score which decided the opening game of Detroit's last invasion of New York.

No. 43 in the Ruthian catalogue gave its admirers, of whom there were 8,000 on hand, abundant time for admiration, because the ball stayed up in the air so long that it seemed hardly likely to travel as far as the right-field bleachers. But when it dropped it landed just outside the scope of Right Fielder Paul Easterling, who flattened his shoulders against the screen and gave one last despairing lunge as the ball sank between the first and second rows of the bleachers.

Homer Follows Two Triples.

This was the only homer concerned in the Yankee scoring, but it closely followed two triples in the third inning, and in the fourth Gehrig's double and Lary's triple scored the fifth Yankee run.

The hits off Hoyt were lengthy, but effective only in the third and fourth. Detroit's hits were more numerous but much shorter. The Tigers had nothing greater than a double until Gehringer's bat walloped Wells's first pitch in the ninth for the tying home run.

Hoyt pitched all the way down the Yankee list before allowing a hit. Alexander, however, muffed Lary's liner opening the Yankees' half of the third, so when Combs thundered a triple across the track in right centre for the first Yankee hit, it scored Lary from first base.

Reese followed with another triple, a pop fly falling just inside the right-field foul line and bouncing around a bit before it was surrounded by three Tigers and captured. Then came Ruth with his elevated homer, driving Reese home ahead of him.

Gehrig Opens With Double.

Gehrig opened the Yankee fourth with a double over third base. Lary's triple to right centre made the score 5 to 1. At this stage the Yanks seemed destined for an easy victory. But Hoyt stopped the long-range shooting from then on and the shorter and more numerous Tiger hits began overhauling the Yankee lead.

Four singles bunched in the sixth put over two runs. Gehringer's double and Alexander's single in the seventh cut the lead to one run. When Gehringer hit the bleachers and tied the score in the ninth, a young man named Whitlow Wyatt was in the box for Detroit.

This speedy youth fanned two Yanks in the eighth and Pinch Hitter Cooke in the ninth. None of the first five Yanks who faced him could reach first. But with two out in the ninth Combs and Reese slapped sharp singles to left and right, and then along came Ruth with the hit that won.

Ruth's forty-third homer in 1927 was achieved on Aug. 31 in the 123d game of the season, so the Babe is still eight games ahead of the well-known record.

SENATORS SCORE OVER WHITE SOX

Send In 4 Runs in Third Inning, Which Prove Decisive in Victory by 5 to 4.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Senators defeated the White Sox, 5 to 4, today in the first game of the series.

It was one of the fastest-played contests of the season, requiring just one hour and twenty-two minutes despite the fact that Chicago made eleven hits and Washington thirteen. Only one pass was given, Lyons issuing that.

ATHLETICS TAKE TWO FROM INDIANS

Grove Records 19th Victory in First, 9 to 1, and Shores Wins Nightcap, 7-0.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12 (AP).—Bob. Grove and Bill Shores tamed the Cleveland Indians in both ends of a double-header today, pitching the world's champion Athletics to victory by scores of 9 to 1 and 7 to 0. Grove, in winning the first game, turned in his nineteenth triumph of the year, against four defeats.

Al Simmons, with two singles and a home run, the latter with two on bases, led the Mack assault on Shoffner in the first game. In the second Jimmy Dykes's double with three on in the fourth inning removed the tension of a close contest.

NEWARK BEATEN, 8 TO 5.

Rallies in Eighth and Ninth Fail as Rochester Triumphs.

Rochester made the most of its hits to take the measure of the Bears last night at Newark by a score of 8 to 5. The visitors tallied three times in the opening inning, once in the fifth and wound up in the ninth with a cluster of four. Newark rallied in the eighth and ninth innings, but the spurt came too late.

SUAREZ IS WINNER AT THE QUEENSBORO

South American Scores Decisively Over Herman Perlick Before 6,000 Fans.

FOX KNOCKS OUT LA ROCCO

Conquers Opponent in Second Round—Slavin Outpoints Feldman in Opening Ten-Rounder.

By JAMES P. DAWSON.

Suarez, tireless on the attack and vicious in his punching, carried off the decision of referee Tommy Sheridan and Judges Billy Jacobs and Tommy Lynch after ten lightning-fast rounds.

There was no disputing the award, for Suarez pressed the attack from start to finish and subjected his rival to an endless flash of punishing rights and lefts to the body and head. He carried every round. In the third and eighth Perlick staged rallies and for a time boxed cleverly. But these were the only impressive flashes by the Kalamazoo lad. Suarez weighed 138½ pounds and Perlick 139.

Suarez started the bout as if to make short work of his opponent. He rushed after Perlick with the opening gong and shook the Michigan lad with a hard right to the jaw. Through the second Suarez continued on the attack.

Suarez Fights Savagely.

Suarez fought savagely through the third and fourth rounds, pressing in tirelessly and reaching the body with wicked rights and lefts. At times Perlick boxed cleverly and made the South American miss.

Suarez had his rival fighting exclusively on the defensive in the fifth and sixth rounds. The South American fought Perlick all over the ring in each round and almost upset the Michigan lad late in the sixth.

Perlick was hammered badly in the seventh round, but came back with a spectacular rally in the eighth and thrilled the crowd.

With a severe body battering in the ninth and tenth Suarez discouraged a rally by his rival. Perlick was subjected to a savage beating.

La Rocco Stopped in Second.

Marty Fox, east side heavyweight, added George La Rocco, Bronx Italian, to his list of vanquished rivals in the semi-final. Fox knocked out his opponent in the second round of what was to have been a ten-round battle. In the first session he floored La Rocco three times. Fox weighed 184½ pounds and La Rocco 192½.

Jimmie Slavin, west side featherweight, conquered Lew Feldman, Brownsville, in the first ten-round bout. Slavin received the decision after a stirring battle. The victor weighed 127½ pounds and Feldman 128.

JERSEY CITY TRIUMPHS.

Lipton's Shamrock V Is Expected at New London Tomorrow

America's Cup Challenger Bound for New London, Where She Will Be Fitted.

REPORTED 275 MILES OUT

By JAMES ROBBINS.

Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's Cup is heading up this side of Bermuda for New London, Conn. Thus, for the first time since 1870, when the attempts were started to take the historic trophy away from these shores, to which the schooner yacht America brought it, a challenger will not come to New York waters. New Yorkers who wish to see her will have to move on to New London, where she will fit out, or to Newport, where she will do her final tuning up and then compete in the international contests.

There had been much speculation over what port the Shamrock V was headed for. Newport had hoped for her; so had City Island, South Brooklyn and other points where there are shipyards. Final arrangements for her to go to New London were made by Willard U. Taylor, local attorney for Sir Thomas, and Theodore D. Wells, naval architect.

They wirelessed Sir Thomas's steam yacht Erin, which is convoying Shamrock V, and received a reply yesterday that the racer was 275 miles from New London at 4 A. M. (Daylight Saving Time) and was heading there. Her position was what would be the crossing of a line drawn south from Cape Sable, N. S., and east from Cape May, N. J. It was said Shamrock expected to arrive at New London tomorrow. Other messages from the Erin reported a disagreeable passage for her and the Shamrock.

Forego Stop at Bermuda.

The position given indicated that after leaving the Azores, where the Erin put in for coal and the Shamrock for provisions, they headed up over the transatlantic track instead of making for Bermuda, where it was thought the Erin might go for more coal. Apparently it was decided to make a bee line for port in this country.

Mr. Wells said he thought the Shamrock was using the lower part of her racing stick for her jury mainmast on the ocean passage, and likely the upper part for the mizzen stick. The four American boats built for defense of the cup have masts made in one section. Shamrock's is in two pieces, the upper telescoping into the lower. The challenger has a spare mast, in its two sections, lashed on the Erin's deck. Her sails also are on the Erin.

When Shamrock arrives at New London she will go to the Electric Boat Company's plant, which really is in Groton, Conn., on the east bank of the Thames. The yard is below the railroad and highway bridges, so she can be rigged there and not have any overhead structure to bar her way out to sea again.

Lipton Will Board Erin.

One reason for selecting New London was the belief that there would be fewer persons there to view the racer than there would have been here or in Newport. The Erin will take up an anchorage on the New London side of the river, where Sir Thomas will go aboard her after he arrives here on the Leviathan at the end of the week, and the Shamrock will be left to the ship-riggers and carpenters to put her back in racing trim.

The former excursion steamer, now named Killarney, which is being fitted out in Providence, R. I., to house the Shamrock's crew is not quite ready, and when word was received that the racer expected to arrive tomorrow the work of transforming the steamer was rushed. If she is not completed by tomorrow, the crew of the Shamrock will spend a day or two on the Erin. When the Killarney is ready she will be taken down Narragansett Bay and to New London.

After Shamrock's racing rig is put back on her she will be taken out in the eastern end of Long Island Sound and the rig tested. After that she will be taken through the Race and around Point Judith to Newport, where a mooring for her has been placed in Brenton Cove with those of the cup defense yachts.

To Tune Up Off Newport.

From Newport the Shamrock will be taken out over the chosen international courses off there to tune her up, enable Captain Ned Heard, her professional skipper, to get accustomed to tides and other conditions out there, and to get her crew back into racing practice.

The Shamrock will do all her tuning up alone. E. Walter Clark, owner of the Resolute, the last defender, and Gerard B. Lambert, owner of the Vanitie, both expressed willingness to race their yachts against the Shamrock to aid in getting her going, but the friendly gesture was declined with thanks.

It is not unlikely that while the four defense yachts are going through their final trials in the selection of a defender the Shamrock will be near by stretching her wings. These trials start over the cup courses a week from today and are scheduled to last through Aug. 30.

BOYETTE STOPS VEREEN.

Charley Boyette of the Sixty-ninth Regiment knocked out Al Vereen of the 369th Infantry in the first round of the scheduled eight-round main bout at the Twenty-second Engineers Armory last night. Boyette weighed 176 pounds, Vereen 180.

Petrolle Knocks Out Walthier.

Penn A. C. Eight Sets Record In Time Trial on River Meuse

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—In a time trial on the River Meuse, Liege, Belgium, the Penn A. C. eight-oared shell, which is training for the International Federation regatta this week-end, rowed the 2,000 meters in 5 minutes 54 seconds, to set up a new course mark, according to a cablegram received today by Henry Penn Burke.

The best previous time for the Liege championship course was 6 minutes 10 seconds. The regatta opens Friday and closes with the finals on Sunday.

YACHT LUCIE PICKED FOR AMERICAN TEAM

Success at Oyster Bay Means Selection for One Place to Oppose British.

Special to The New York Times.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 12.—Old boats and new boats, experienced skippers and comparatively new skippers came to the fore today off Center Island in the trial tests for the selection of the American team of four six-meter craft to compete early next month in the British-American Cup series.

Combined with yesterday's tests, the majority of boats have now competed in at least eight races, either in divisions or in match events.

Six of the thirteen boats that started their activities yesterday dropped out after this morning's races. Their skippers withdrew of their own volition.

Four Out of Five Victories.

The successful efforts of Briggs Cunningham's Lucie yesterday and on her only race today resulted in that craft being definitely selected for the team. Lucie has won four of her five races and finished a close second in another.

Most of today's races were test matches and when the races were completed this evening the outstanding craft for the remaining three positions on the team were Emerald, Cherokee, Mars, Aphrodite and Sprig. Mars won her three match races today.

Definitely Out of Running.

Rana and Saleema, members of the team two years ago, are out of the running. Emerald also a member of the 1928 outfit, may win a position but this will not be ascertained until tomorrow's races are held.

THISBE FORCED OUT OF RACE BY MISHAP

U. S. Boat Withdraws From Second of Canada's Cup Tests When Spreader Breaks.

QUEST SAILS OVER COURSE

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 12.—The second race for the Canada's Cup ended almost as quickly as it had begun today, when Thisbe, American entry, skippered by William P. Barrows, was forced to withdraw, as a spreader on the mainmast buckled and split under the stress of the heavy southwest wind. The accident occurred less than two minutes after the starting gun had fired.

Loafing around the triangular course, Quest, fife-designed Canadian challenger, with Norman Gooderham at the helm, finished well within the specified time limit to win her first race and thus even the series at one-all.

High Seas Again Prevail.

Following the lead of Gooderham, Barrows today elected to brave the same high seas and winds that prevailed during the opening clash between the two boats without the conservative single reef in the mainsail which both Canadian and American entries utilized Monday.

As the stiffer Canadian boat successfully rode the blow unreefed, the American met with disaster less than two minutes after crossing the starting line and was taken in tow by a Coast Guard cutter. What was to be a twenty-one-mile triangular contest automatically went to the Quest, although she was forced to sail over the course to earn her victory.

When the accident suddenly halted the contest, the rival craft were about even in position. Gooderham had taken Quest over the line first by about two boat lengths, but Barrows had Thisbe in the weather position and had already demonstrated that he could point her a trifle closer to the wind than his rival.

Cross on Opposite Tacks.

In the jockeying after the firing of the preparatory five-minute gun, Barrows took his boat down the line on a port tack while Gooderham, who was on the far end of the line, came down toward the judges' craft. After the two crossed on opposite tacks, Barrows came about and followed his rival up the line. Up to weather of the Canadian, Barrows started pointing high on the wind to smoke out an advantage.

Suddenly he moved as if to split tacks, but instead his crew busied itself hauling down canvas. A Coast Guard cutter ran alongside and tossed over a tow, immediately making for the club basin.

Quest continued her two turns about the triangle, Gooderham taking things easily to finish at 3:24:35.

An examination of Thisbe in the harbor revealed that her spreader, in buckling, had cracked her spar. It was hauled out late this afternoon and a spare stick stepped in preparation for tomorrow's resumption of the series.

JUNIOR YACHT RACE WON BY STAMFORD

Special to The New York Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., Aug. 12.—Four more divisional races were sailed today in the series for the junior yacht racing championship of Long Island Sound under the auspices of the Stamford Yacht Club.

In the morning races, among crews of the first division, the Stamford Yacht Club crew, captained by R. Russell Hall, won the first test, with the Sayville crew, skippered by N. Warren, in second place. In the second morning race Sayville won, with Stamford second. Thus Sayville and Stamford were tied in points, each with 11.

In the afternoon racing the Wadawanuck crew, from Stonington, Conn., S. F. Smith captain, won the first race in the Atlantic Class boat Hera, with Cold Spring Harbor second. Cold Spring Harbor won the second race, with the Pequot crew, skippered by Vic Bissell, second.

The afternoon sailing gave Cold Spring Harbor 9 points, with Black Rock, Wadawanuck and Pequot tied for second with 6 points each. A protest was filed by the Port Washington crew against Black Rock for an alleged foul at the first mark in the first race. The decision of the committee will be announced tomorrow.

King and Lord Derby Send Condolences To Donoghue; His Leg Broken in Spill

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Steve Donoghue, celebrated jockey, who six times has ridden to victory in the English Derby, broke his right leg in two places when he was thrown during a race at Nottingham yesterday. The accident may vitally affect his future career.

Among many telegrams of sympathy received today the two most prized were from King George and Lord Derby.

Although today Donoghue was reported doing well in a Nottingham hospital the mishap probably will keep him out of the saddle for some time.

He broke his left leg last year at the Salisbury races, and a few years ago was badly hurt in the Paris Grand Prix. Today there was talk in sporting circles of the possibility of his retiring as a jockey to become a trainer.

MINGO CAPTURES MARBLEHEAD RACE

Outsails Indian and Astrild in Final of Bar Harbor 31-Foot Class.

Special to The New York Times.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Aug. 12.—For the first time in the log of the Eastern Yacht Club a triple sail-off among the Bar Harbor 31-footers was put on the book when George Lee's Mingo today scored a six-minute victory over the Shaw boats Indian and Astrild, in the final.

John Alden's Hope, with Caleb Loring at the helm, passed Harold Wheelock's Cara Mia on the second leg and led the Q Class home by a minute. Ray Hunt's Eastern trophy winner Falcon I finished fourth.

For the first time in the series Johnston De Forest's Priscilla III was forced to lower her colors to a Marblehead eight-meter boat when John Elliott's Balek showed the way home to the International rule squadron. Playing the western shore on the thrash to the first mark, the Balek took a three-minute lead over the De Forest boat and headed the procession through the succeeding running and reaching legs.

C. L. Farrand's Long Island Sound 20-rather, Robin, flying the burgee of the Larchmont Yacht Club, captured the Eastern R. Class trophy by winning her second straight race over the home squadron.

Mrs. Groverman Ellis sailed the Tid IV to a forty-two-second triumph over the Eastern Point sonders. The Tid IV, built on the lines of the famous sonder champion Ellen, led all the classes traveling the intermediate triangle.

Jack McBeath's Bonnie Jean, the former Oriole, went to windward in fast style, working out a big lead among the thirty-square meters at the weather mark, and breezed home more than two minutes ahead of Elizabeth Hovey's new Oriole. Art Shuman's Tipler IV was third, five minutes ahead of the S. X., while Alfred Chase's German champion, Michl V, the previous day's winner, was forced out by jib trouble.

Is Accompanied by Dickson, London Boxing Promoter.

Jeff Dickson, promoter of the London fight in which Young Stribling of Augusta, Ga., knocked out Phil Scott, arrived in New York yesterday on the liner Paris accompanied by Pa Stribling, manager of the victorious boxer. Young Stribling is on another boat en route to New York.

Pa Stribling said he would have his son fight for Dickson, and the latter, planning a Berlin bout between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling, was told last night by Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, that $500,000 would have to be posted to insure the fight. Madison Square Garden has a contract with Schmeling to the effect that the German will make his first American début as a champion under the Garden management.

NEWPORT, DELRAY GAIN IN POLO PLAY

Reach Final for Wheatley Cups, Defeating Greentree and the Cardinals.

By ROBERT F. KELLEY.

Special to The New York Times.

WESTBURY, L. I., Aug. 12.—Play for the Wheatley Cups of the Meadow Brook Club was brought into the final round today when Newport and Delray won victories in the semi-final matches, the former scoring over John H. Whitney's Greentree side, 13 goals to 8, and the latter turning back the Cardinals, 8 to 4.

The final will be played at the club on Thursday at 4 o'clock, bringing to a close the last of the early low goal tournament at the scene of the international matches.

In the Newport victory the winners went ahead with the start and at the end of the third period had piled up too much of a lead for Greentree to make much of an impression. Lieutenant McDonald Jones of the Army team was playing at back with this four and hitting nicely, and in front the two Van Alens and Dunbar Bostwick all got away for goals in the first period, which, with a handicap of one, gave them a 4 to 0 lead.

Newport Blanked in Second.

Newport was shut out in the second period when J. C. Cooley scored Greentree's first goal, but the winners broke loose again in the third, with Bostwick scoring twice and Jones galloping through to another, which more than held the pace of Greentree's two goals, one each by the back field, Cooley and Whitney.

For the rest the play was more even, with Cooley doing some nice hitting for Greentree, Whitney sliding through to the attack and play speeding up. But the early lead of the Newport side was too much and they held just a slight edge through the closing periods.

Delray Forges to Front.

In the other game Delray came from behind after giving away something of a lead in the first three periods. Major C. C. Smith, an Army player, arrived at Michell Field to join the Army polo group and went in at back for the Cardinals. He was hitting and riding very well. The Cardinals overcame the Delray two-goal handicap by the third period with three goals, but they didn't score again until the seventh and Delray slowly climbed to a lead, with Preece playing extraordinarily.

It was learned here that Gerald Balding, the first of the British internationalists to arrive, would make his first appearance this season in a game tomorrow against the team of Australian brothers, the Ashtons, who make up the Goulburn team.

The game is to be played on Phipps Field in Old Westbury at 4:30 o'clock and Balding is to be at 3 on a picked team. Michael Phipps is to be at 1, W. Averell Harriman at 2 and Howard Phipps at back.

The line-ups:

Delray (8).	Cardinals (4).
1—J. Schiff.	1—E. McLean.
2—J. Martin.	2—J. McLean.

ASHTON FOUR TO FACE ARMY TEAM SATURDAY

Will Play at Meadow Brook Club—Eighth U. S. Test Match at Sands Point Sunday.

The United States Army polo team, winner of the recent national junior championship, has been drawn to face the four Ashton brothers of Australia on Saturday at the Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, L. I. This will be the first match since the Juniors for the four riders of the Army and the second formal match since their arrival for the Australians.

Those who have the international matches in their mind's eye may get a bit of information from next Sunday's game at Sands Point, when the eighth test match for the American team is staged. Facing the White team, led by Tommy Hitchcock, will be a four in the line-up of which will be Gerald Balding, the No. 2 of the British challenging team.

The squad that Hitchcock will lead into the fray is the same one he led last Sunday.

BELL BEATS TIDBALL IN THREE-SET MATCH

Gains Third Round in Eastern Turf Court Title Tennis by Hard-Earned Victory.

BARONESS LEVI ADVANCES

Upsets Miss Burkardt by 7-5, 6-4—Miss Andrus, Miss Gladman Win Close Contests.

By ALLISON DANZIG.

Special to The New York Times.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The Davis Cup trials that were held preparatory to the start of the American zone play were nothing as compared to the trials that the members of the squad have undergone since the return of the tennis argosy from France.

Following upon the discomfiture of William Tilden, George M. Lott and Wilmer Allison at Southampton, Berkeley Bell of Austin, Texas, reserve member of the team, who took two sets from Henri Cochet at Wimbledon, also came to a disquieting realization of the improvement that has taken place in the mettle of the new crop of young American players as he found himself one set down to Jack Tidball, Hollywood High School boy, today in the Eastern turf court championships at the Westchester Country Club.

Tidball was a member of the team that defeated John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison in the first round of the Southampton doubles, and a few weeks ago he scored a surprising victory over E. W. Feibleman in the Longwood bowl singles. This afternoon the 18-year-old Californian gave an exhibition of serving and volleying that had Bell completely subdued in the first set and that challenged the utmost concentration of the fiery young Texan before he was able to gain the verdict in the final chapter at 4—6, 6—1, 6—4.

Bell Takes 4—0 Lead.

After winning the first set, Tidball slumped considerably and the superiority of Bell off the ground gave him clear command of the situation. The Texan was fairly ripping up the turf with his forehand drive, with which he replied to Tidball's service time and again for placements on the base line. Continuing on, Bell went into a 4—0 lead in the third set, going out after every point with the rapacity of a tiger, and the end looked to be immediately at hand.

But at this point Tidball suddenly produced a flat forehand and a beautiful backhand passing shot that changed the complexion of the situation, and combining his volley with these newly found ground strokes and serving irresistibly, he pulled up to 4—5.

Bell now wore a worried look again, and as he started serving in the tenth game he understood that the loss of the game might have disastrous consequences. This game was the most spectacular of the match, and only by bringing off one magnificent stroke after another was the Texan able to curb the shot-making of his opponent and bring his rally to an end.

Mangin Defeats Plymire.

Only two other matches were played in the men's singles, bringing the field to an even basis in the third round. Gregory Mangin of Newark, also of the Davis Cup squad, who defeated H. W. Austin at Wimbledon, overwhelmed Harry Plymire of Stanford University at 6—0, 6—1, and Jake Hess of Rice Institute, who yesterday eliminated J. Gilbert Hall, went down before Melvin Partridge of New Rochelle, 6—3, 6—4.

The most important development of the day in the women's singles was the victory of Baroness Giacomo Giorgio Levi of Rome over Miss Ethel Burkardt of San Francisco, member of the first ten. Using an exceptionally efficient chop stroke with an unusual amount of backspin and volleying with dispatch at the net, which she gained with nimble footwork, the Baroness prevailed over Miss Burkardt's strong driving game by the close margin of 7—5, 6—4.

All of the other favorites except Miss Virginia Rice of Boston, who lost to Miss Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., in three sets, came through to the third round in the women's play, although Miss Marjorie Gladman of California narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of Miss Grace Surber of New York.

THE SUMMARIES.

Smith's 70, two under par, stood as the best card turned in during the practice this week.

KEANEY DEFEATED IN TITLE NET PLAY

Seeded Player Put Out by Barclay in Boys' National Singles Tourney at Culver.

Special to The New York Times.

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 12.—The first major upset of the tourney featured play for the national boys' and junior tennis championships today.

Henry Barclay of Baltimore figured in the surprise victory when he eliminated F. Keaney of St. Louis, seeded No. 7, by 6—3, 6—4, to enter the quarter-final round of the boys' division.

Hal Surface, Kansas City, scored a minor reversal in the junior event when he triumphed in a long duel with Joe (Bill) Bralley, Austin, Texas, 6—8, 6—3, 6—4.

Billy Doeg, young brother of John Doeg, Davis Cup player, continued his winning ways by downing William Cluthe, Glen Ridge, N. J., 6—1, 6—3.

TENNIS BODY SEEDS MRS. HARPER FIRST

With Mrs. Moody Out, Californian Heads List for National Title Tennis.

MISS MORRILL IS SECOND

Miss Nuthall and Baroness Levi, Invading Contenders, Ranked—The Draw Is Announced.

With Mrs. Helen Wills Moody definitely out of the women's national tennis championship, which opens next Monday at Forest Hills, L. I., Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of Santa Barbara, Cal., heads the seeded list, which with the draw, was made public yesterday at the offices of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Fifty-seven entries for the tournament have been accepted, with eight United States stars and two visiting players on the seeded list.

Miss Betty Nuthall, who ranks No. 3 among British women players, is one of those seeded. The other invader seeded is Baroness Levi, who, according to the U. S. L. T. A., ranks second in Italy and holds the women's title of Rome.

Following Mrs. Harper in the list of seeded United States players are Miss Marjorie Morrill, who won the tournament at East Hampton last week; Miss Eleanor Goss, former Wightman Cup player; Miss Sarah Palfrey, No. 4 in the national ranking; Miss Ethel Burkardt, California player, who ranks No. 8 nationally; Miss Mary Greef, who turned back Miss Palfrey in last year's tournament; Miss Edith Cross, third in national ranking, and Miss Josephine Cruickshank, No. 10 in national ranking.

Miss Nuthall is at the bottom of the upper bracket, while Mrs. Harper heads the lower bracket, thus making possible their meeting in the final. Miss Nuthall, Miss Morrill, Miss Burkardt, Miss Palfrey and Miss Cross are in the upper bracket. The lower bracket, in addition to Mrs. Harper, has Miss Greef, Miss Goss, Miss Cruickshank and the Baroness Levi.

The draw follows:

Mrs. Moody Unmoved by Pleas.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12 (AP).—Despite telephoned and telegraphed pleas of United States Lawn Tennis Association officials in New York, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody failed to change her mind today regarding her decision not to defend her national tennis title next week.

Mrs. Moody told interviewers at her San Francisco home it was not a question of her being tired of tennis.

"I try to allow so many months a year to traveling and playing," she said. "Now I find I've about used up all my available time. When I came back from Europe I thought I would return for the national tournament. The trip to and from the East again doesn't look so inviting, however.

"I shall go right on playing three or four times a week, as usual. Regardless of the lack of stars in this year's tournament, I should like to play. I will be there next year, you can be sure of that."

From her Berkeley home Miss Helen Jacobs said she also would be ready for the 1931 national. Miss Jacobs previously had announced she would not compete this year because of recent illness.

English Cricket World Stirred by Removal Of Captain With Final Australian Test Near

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—A situation comparable to the removing of the playing manager of a big league baseball champion on the eve of the deciding game of a world's series has arisen to confound the British cricket world, The News-Chronicle disclosed in an article today.

The paper announces that A. P. F. Chapman, who captained the English eleven so successfully in Australia in 1928 and 1929 and led his team to victory over the Anzacs in the first match of the series this Summer, will be supplanted in the final test by R. E. S. Wyatt. Both England and Australia have won two matches in the present series, with another drawn, and the fate of "the Ashes," mythical emblem of the Anglo-Australian championship, hinges on the outcome of the final contest.

Chapman is understood not to have appeared at a recent meeting of the selectors for the English team to help form the line-up for the decisive test opening here Saturday. In both Australian victories so far England made a poor showing. Chapman's tactics were criticized, although his own contribution to the batting in the drawn game was a timely century and his fielding has been remarkable.

Critics continue to demand the introduction of new and younger men into England's team, but several newcomers appeared in the fourth game without adding punch to the line-up.

Wyatt is an aggressive skipper, a fine batsman and substitute bowler. He has played on English teams against South Africa with considerable success.

For years Chapman has been considered England's outstanding amateur cricketer. Owing to the social status of the game only an amateur can captain the English team, although the line-up is made up chiefly of crack professionals. Although the removal of Chapman is not without precedent in cricket history, it is decidedly uncommon.

MRS. ANDERSON'S 83 ANNEXES LOW GROSS

Leads Field of 117 Golfers in One-Day Tourney at North Shore.

By LINCOLN A. WERDEN.

Special to The New York Times.

GLEN HEAD, L. I., Aug. 12.—Mrs. J. Laroque Anderson of Cherry Valley, runner-up for the metropolitan title and second in the Eastern championship this season, carried off the principal laurels in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association one-day tournament at the North Shore Country Club today.

With a score of 83 to her credit, Mrs. Anderson accounted for the low gross trophy and finished two strokes ahead of the next player in the field of 117 contestants, Mrs. Albert Samuels of Salisbury. Mrs. Samuel's 85 and ten-stroke handicap gave her a net 75, which tied for the lead in that event. She also turned in the lowest score, a 38, for the best six selected holes prize.

As Mrs. Samuels elected to take the six selected holes award, Miss Edna Herskovitz of Woodmere, playing in her first association tournament, received the first net prize with a 97—22—75.

PRO-AMATEUR TITLE TO WALKER-POMARES

Former Open Champion's Birdie on Extra Green Brings Honors to Saddle River Pair.

Special to The New York Times.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 12.—A twenty-foot putt on the first extra green by Cyril Walker, former national open champion, decided a five-team play-off in the New Jersey State professional-amateur golf championship at the Asbury Park Golf and Country Club today.

Wilfred G. Pomares, former junior champion of New Jersey, was Walker's amateur partner, the team representing the Saddle River course in Paramus.

The other pros involved in the tie for first were Dan Williams of Shackamaxon, Walter Bourne of the Springdale Golf Club of Princeton, Maurice O'Connor of the Branch Brook public links in Newark and Paul Runyan of Forest Hill.

The five leading teams tied with a thirty-six-hole score of 136, eight under par of the course. Walker and Pomares came home in 31 in the morning, scoring six birdies on the last nine holes.

The play-off for second place went three holes before O'Connor won by sinking a short putt for a birdie on the third hole. His partner was John Cuniff.

George Jacobus and Max B. Kaesche of Ridgewood, winners last year, finished with a score of 143. A record entry of 166 is scheduled to tee off tomorrow in the first thirty-six holes for the open championship of New Jersey.

Whichone Pays 1 to 12 in Winning Miller Stakes at Saratoga

SARATOGA FEATURE WON BY WHICHONE

Whitney Star, Held at 1-12, Sets Record to Beat Gone Away in Miller Stakes.

GALLANT FOX IN FAST TEST

Shows Speed in Morning Workout in Preparation for the Travers —The Beasel Triumphs.

By BRYAN FIELD.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The issue between Harry Payne Whitney's Whichone and William Woodward's Gallant Fox was drawn more sharply than ever this afternoon when the former won the forty-first running of the Miller Stakes in impressive fashion, nine hours or so after Gallant Fox had staged a smashing mile and a quarter workout in the morning. The two will meet in the Travers on Saturday for what will be the rubber meeting between them.

Whichone conquered Gallant Fox last year in the Futurity when he clinched the 2-year-old championship, and this year Gallant Fox suddenly defeated Whichone in the Belmont Stakes on his march to the 3-year-old championship.

What will happen when the two come together on Saturday appeared more than ever an open question after Whichone's great race in which he lowered the time for the Miller, finishing the mile and three-sixteenths in 1:56 2-5, a fifth of a second under the record held jointly by Man o' War and Enfilade.

There was not a great deal to this renewal of the Miller, as four horses were scratched because of Whichone, leaving only the William Ziegler Jr.'s pair of Gone Away and Spinach to test the son of Chicle and Flying Witch.

Spinach Is Badly Beaten.

They finished in the order named, Gone Away a length and a half back of the winner and ten lengths before his soundly beaten stable mate. The same two horses occupied identical rôles in the Empire City Derby, when they ran second and third, respectively, against James Butler's Questionnaire.

Whichone's price was extremely short. Held at 1 to 12, he was the shortest priced horse since the days of Man o' War. Although no figures are available, it is probable that he is the shortest priced favorite in the history of Saratoga racing, as most of the short prices against Man o' War were laid at other tracks. By the victory Whichone added $4,475 to his winnings.

The race was particularly impressive as Whichone carried 126 pounds and was only galloping at the end. Gone Away was driving hard, but it was a hopeless task. Still, it must not be overlooked that he ran a fine race to finish as close to Whichone as he did.

For the first six furlongs, Spinach set the pace, the same tactics that were pursued in the Empire City Derby. Whichone, rated in second position, made no effort to go to the leader until the far turn. Here he began to move up, and by the time the run around the bend had been completed he was on top and still not half trying.

Gone Away skirted the rail in an effort to save ground, and in the stretch he was driving hard. Despite all this Mr. Whitney's horse took his way home on his own terms with Raymond Workman looking back over his shoulder.

The fractional time follows: 0:24, 0:47 3-5, 1:12 2-5, 1:37 3-5 and 1:56 2-5.

Gallant Fox in Condition.

As for Gallant Fox, he is in tip-top condition and greatly satisfied his trainer, Jim Fitzsimmons, when he turned in a mile and a quarter in 2:05. Some clockers got the move in slower time, and Fitzsimmons, himself, timed the champion in 2:04 2-5. The full fractions are: 0:48 2-5, 1:13 2-5, 1:25 1-5, 1:38 4-5 and 2:05.

In the morning hours the racing strip was not as fast as it was in the afternoon for Whichone's race, as there had been rain during the night. This made the work look all the better to Fitzsimmons and other admirers of Gallant Fox, who have the utmost confidence in his maintaining his clean slate by capturing his seventh stake of the season.

While the work of Whichone and Gallant Fox overshadowed everything else today, Gifford A. Cochran's smart filly, The Beasel, again ran a fine race to take the Sylvan Belle Handicap by half a length in a thrilling finish, with Shady Lady second and Dinah Did Upset third.

After her great race last Friday, The Beasel was made a hot favorite at 3 to 5, and ran on top from start to finish. A claim of foul, lodged after the finish, was not allowed. The Beasel finished in 1:11 4-5, very fast time for the six furlongs.

Whichone-Gallant Fox Race Will Be Described on Radio

The renewal of the struggle for 3-year-old turf supremacy between Harry Payne Whitney's Whichone and William Woodward's Gallant Fox in the $25,000 Travers Stakes at Saratoga on Saturday will be reported to radio listeners by the National Broadcasting Company.

Graham McNamee and Clem McCarthy, who have teamed together in describing other turf classics, probably will be the announcers. The broadcast will begin at 4:50 o'clock, Eastern Daylight Time. A NBC network, including WEAF in New York, will be used.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Another light sale of yearlings from various consignors attracted a fair attendance tonight and forty-one head were knocked for a total of $44,300, an average of $1,080. Many horses were sold for only a few hundred dollars. The top price was $7,200 and this amount was the only one over $5,000. J. P. Jones was the buyer. He took a bay colt by Sun Briar out of Mary Agnes S. from the lot of C. G. and T. G. Herring.

Sold early, the Sun Briar colt marked the only dash of excitement in the course of the evening, although there was some interest in the appearance of John Hay Whitney at the vendue. Mr. Whitney paid the second highest price of the night, $3,700, for a chestnut colt by The Porter and out of Sobranje. This also was a Herring brothers' youngster and he is a half-brother to Dark Range, Sun Ranger, Reigh Cellene and other horses.

Mr. Whitney was a successful bidder on several other horses, but they went for $1,100 and $1,000 respectively.

The third highest price was paid by the Rosedale Stable, owned by George Clark. It was $3,100. Also from the Herring Brothers' lot the yearling was a bay filly, half sister to Soubrette, and was by Brown Prince II and out of Sister Superior.

Another filly brought $3,000. This youngster was by Bubbling Over, out of Outcast, and was sold by Dr. George Bolling Lee to W. H. Travers. Mr. Travers won with the good colt Kensington here last week, and he seems to have a smart youngster in the filly by Bubbling Over, the Kentucky Derby winner which never finished out of the money.

Mr. Travers also was the purchaser of a chestnut filly from the Herring Brothers' consignment for $3,000. The filly was by Rockminster out of Naharanna. There were no other yearlings sold for as high as $3,000.

Sports of the Times

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By JOHN KIERAN.

KEEP a weather eye out, east and east by south. The Shamrock V may haul over the horizon at any moment. In the meanwhile, there should be ringing of the tocsins and dancing in the streets for a totally different reason. This is the birthday of the strong silent man of the Senators, Charles Arthur Shires. According to American League records, the Great Shires is 23 years old today. He has had an adventurous life for one so young.

The Great Shires is with the Senators but he should be with the Robins. That's where he belongs. Those Robins are wonders and one more quaint character would be welcomed with open arms. Just check back on that final game between the Robins and the Cardinals. The bases filled, one out, and a clean single scored one run and retired the side. Babe Herman was in the mix-up, of course.

Gilbert was on third, Herman on second and Bissonette on first when Lopez singled. When the ball got back to the infield, the Cardinal players noted that Gilbert had scored and that third base was slightly over-populated. Messrs. Herman and Bissonette were standing on the bag and glaring at each other with great surprise and some disdain.

Robin Strategy.

Now, this has happened before to other teams. The bases are one-runner size and added occupants are illegal. The ordinary procedure in these cases of gross negligence is for the fielder to tag out the illegal occupant, the same being the man who trotted down from second before the legal tenant had given up his lease on the apartment. In the case up for review that would have meant Bissonette. If they had played it the ordinary way, the Robins, even after this master stroke of base-running strategy, would have had Herman on third, Lopez on first and two out.

But the Robins scorn any ordinary system of play. To the first master stroke of strategy they added another one. Both Herman and Bissonette managed to get themselves tagged out. That takes ingenuity. To distant mourners it indicates that Herman, the Magician, flashed another of his famous tricks. He must have sauntered off base and surrendered without striking a blow.

The nice part about all this is that the Robins eventually lost by one run and, by that same margin, fell off the top of the league. Uncle Wilbert is to blame, of course. He should lead his men around the diamond just before every game and point out the location of each base, the order in which they should be run and the rules for occupying the same. If a manager keeps all that information to himself, he isn't playing fair with his men. There should be no secrets on a ball club, as the late Bill Donovan remarked when a pitcher complained that nobody told him there was a man on second base.

More in Sorrow Than in Anger.

These are not complaints. They are just observations. Mr. Herman slapped out a home run later in the same game. He has won many stirring contests for the fluttering Robins and probably will win many more. No matter how he runs the bases, any manager in either league would be glad to take him "as is" and he would bolster up any team you might mention.

But all great men have their peculiarities and the Babe does get mixed up with those bases. He was part and parcel of the great base-running act of all time in which three Brooklyn players bobbed up on third base at one and the same time. Earlier in the season Del Bissonette knocked what should have been a legal home run but Herman was on base and somehow or other Del passed Babe without seeing him. Bissonette was called out and the home run was washed away.

But the Robins have been "up there" through most of the campaign and if that was the result of running the bases zigzag and backward, other teams should take it up and make this pennant campaign an eight-club race to a frenzied finish. Long live Babe Herman!

Something to Suppose.

Ever and anon the baseball fans get to "just supposing." The usual invitation is to "just suppose the Phillies had the pitching staff of the Athletics" or "just suppose the Braves had the hitting of the Phillies" or something like that. It's a nice imaginary game to play while waiting for bulletins on the late innings out West. But just to vary it, suppose there was a team that had the pitching of the Phillies, the fielding of the Yankees, the base-running of the Robins and the hitting of the St. Louis Browns.

Friends, Romans and countrymen, that would be a team! It would be a riot! It would hold its own on rainy days and might get a game by forfeit if the opposing players fell exhausted from running the bases and couldn't finish out. The manager of such a team would have to be guarded to keep him from dashing off to some South American country. The owner would probably retire to an insane asylum early in the season. The winning percentage of such a club could be computed in round numbers, viz.: .000. And if they got what they were worth, the players would be paid in counterfeit money.

A Wreath of Laurel.

The Detroit Tigers are here and while they aren't going anywhere in particular this season, Bucky Harris has one young man in uniform who enjoys a certain amount of distinction. That's Charley Gehringer, who plays second base and, in the opinion of this observer, does it just a little better than any other second baseman of these bright Summer days.

Frank Frisch still plays a sprightly game for the Cardinals. Hornsby may be back with the Cubs before long. Hughey Critz is an agile fielder and so is Freddy Maguire of the Braves, but the National League hasn't any second baseman who tops Gehringer. Frisch comes closest to it and is leading the Detroit entry in hitting at the moment, but Charley hit a bit higher than Frank for last season and in the American League, too, which runs to lower hitting averages.

Another point is that Gehringer is five years younger than Frisch and getting better all the time. The Detroit lad is not only a fine fielder and hitter but also a fast man on the bases. He and Marty McManus were tied for the lead in stolen bases the last time the chart was checked up.

He's a quiet chap, this Gehringer. Rarely says anything, on or off the field. But a fellow who plays ball the way he does could remain mute for years and still rake down a handsome and well-earned salary.

Scratched—Uncle Sam, All Hail, Brains and Sun Eros.

Black and Blue, showing improvement over recent races, followed the pace closely, closed with a rush in the stretch and won going away. Morheart was away flying, opened a wide lead and saved ground, but weakened badly in the final sixteenth. Sydka, away in a tangle, closed fast under weak handling. Black Belt had no chance with the start. Jolly King was away poorly. Upsweep was away last and just galloped around.

Owners—1, Sagamore Stable; 2, Benjamin Block; 3, J. S. Elliott; 4, R. H. Williams; 5, H. T. Archibald; 6, Mrs. P. F. Fox; 7, W. H. Lipscomb; 8, E. M. Byers; 9, Rosedale Stable; 10, Wheatley Stable.

1077 SECOND RACE—The Saratoga Lake; purse $1,000; allowances; 3-year-olds and upward; Wilson mile. Start good, won driving; place easily. Winner, b. or br. c., 3, by Cudgel—Milkmaid. Trainer, G. M. Odom. Time—0:23⅘, 0:47⅘, 1:12⅘, 1:38.

1014^{2}	Byrd	110	3	2	1^{1}	1^{hd}	2^{1}	5^{3}	6	Fator	6-5	2	9-5	2-5	1-5

Scratched—Capstone.

Milkman, away a bit slowly, was perfectly rated on the outside, raced Byrd into defeat and drew away in the stretch, but tired and just lasted to win. Martis was rated to the final furlong, closed with a rush and would have won in another stride. Folking lacked early speed, but came with a rush in the stretch. Chatover had plenty of early speed. Byrd rushed to the front, set a fast pace for six furlongs, then tired and at the end was being eased up. Titus was outrun.

Owners—1, Rolling Plains Stable; 2, Niagara Stable; 3, H. T. Archibald; 4, O. F. Woodward; 5, A. W. Wentzel; 6, Fair Stable.

1078 THIRD RACE—The Sylvan Belle Handicap; $1,200 added; fillies and mares, 3-year-olds and upward; six furlongs. Start bad; won driving; place easily. Winner, b. f., 3, by Sunspot—Antipodes. Trainer, H. McDaniel. Time—0:23, 0:46, 1:11⅘.

Scratched—My Sis.

The Beasel was much the best. She handled her weight well, rushed to the front and showed excellent speed, and rode Shady Lady close in the final twenty yards but held her safe. Shady Lady moved up fast on the inside and ran a good race. Dinah Did Upset broke a bit slowly, went up on the rail around the turn, came to the outside in the stretch and then went back over to the inside and outgamed The Spare. The latter had plenty of early speed but weakened badly. Capture was well up for five furlongs but then dropped back. Hilaria had speed for a half mile. Lost Agnes lacked speed.

aW. Ziegler Jr. entry.

Scratched—Cesare, Sun Falcon, Jim Dandy and Gold Brook.

Whichone was pounds the best. He broke well and was under double wraps all the way. He moved into the lead at the top of the stretch, drew away and was only galloping at the end. Gone Away trailed far back for a mile, moved up fast in stretch and was next best. Spinach had plenty of speed for seven furlongs then dropped back, thoroughly beaten.

Owners—1, H. P. Whitney; 2, W. Ziegler Jr.; 3, W. Ziegler Jr.

1080 FIFTH RACE—The Bluff Point; purse $1,000; claiming; 3-year-olds and upward; one mile and a quarter. Start good; won driving; place same. Winner, gr. f., 3, by Flechois—Salome. Trainer, T. H. McCreery. Time—0:24⅕, 0:47⅘, 1:13, 1:38⅗, 2:06.

Scratched—Drawing Boards.

Fleche d'Argent was rated for a mile, came around the field on the stretch turn, took the lead and drew out, but was hard ridden. Tony Joe was kept close to the early pace, moved up fast and held on gamely. Genial Host trailed far back in the early part, but finished fast under weak handling. Naylor was well up all the way and had no excuse. Spanish was badly outrun. Zeal had speed for seven furlongs. Chicatie had no mishap.

Owners—1, Howe Stable; 2, G. C. Winfrey; 3, M. Shea; 4, R. H. Davis Jr.; 5, Fair Stable; 6, Geneseo Stable; 7, Mrs. C. Phillips.

aMiddleburg Stable entry.

Scratched—Flying Wings, Finger Tips, Play Bird, Venezia, Rocky Dale.

Zaidee was away slowly, but rushed into a long lead, saved ground and held on gamely. Amerisk broke fast, but was outrun to the stretch, where she closed with a rush and was wearing the winner down. Phantasime, away slowly, raced on the outside and was taken wide all the way. She finished fast. Whisker had plenty of early speed. Doucette showed improvement.

MIDDLETOWN TROT ANNEXED BY BRONX

Wins Free-for-All Feature as Orange County Circuit Racing Gets Under Way.

ERIE RED TAKES 2:20 PACE

Dora Ortolan Duplicates Feat by Sweeping All Three Brushes in the 2:20 Trot.

Special to The New York Times.

MIDDLETOWN, Aug. 12.—Bronx, William A. Kinsella's sensational trotter, won the free-for-all trot, feature of the opening day's Orange County Circuit program today.

Hollyrood Colin won the first heat handily after Bronx had faltered twice. The next two heats showed tight skirmishes between the winner and Hollyrood Colin in the second and Sir Guy Mac in the third.

Dora Ortolan, from the McGrath stables, also raced to three straight victories in the 2:20 trot, with Vola Yorks finished strongly in the first and second heats.

MR. HOOVER STANDS BY.

President HOOVER'S decision to cancel his vacation plans and to concentrate his energies upon directing measures of relief for the areas hit so hard by the drought will be taken as a further proof of his determination to live up to the responsibilities of his office. It is to be hoped that with his methodical habits, and with an occasional week-end in the Virginia mountains, his health may not be impaired by staying on in the discomforts of summertime in Washington. But it is plain that Mr. HOOVER puts aside all considerations of that kind. Feeling it his duty to stick to his post, he quietly does it. President WILSON, with his slighter physique, defied the Washington hot weather when the Great War was raging, and it is almost as Commander-in-Chief that Mr. HOOVER stays on to direct operations on a scale as great as that involved by some wars. He will doubtless receive many tributes for his fidelity under difficult and distressing circumstances, but, while properly grateful for all such sympathetic recognition, he would surely prize more highly the offer of entire co-operation by everybody who has anything to contribute to the great and pressing work of farm-population salvage.

A VOCAL CHAIRMAN.

Mr. ROBERT H. LUCAS works and shuts up. Chairman FESS talks. Such is the division of labor in the Republican National Committee. It is torture to Mr. FESS to be silent. His remarks in his official capacity must be painful to many Republicans. What is the use of such a statement as that the Republicans expect to gain Representatives and Senators at the Fall election? The time of the "claim-everything" chairman is past. Even MOSES the Forsaken looks the distressing facts in the eye; and any exaggeration in Mr. FESS's opinions inevitably recalls his famous fiction which, he confessed, he invented because he wanted to "get it across."

Amid so many afflictions sore of the Republican party, what is the sense of bringing out more sharply its hopeless schism? With his habitual fondness for moth-eaten expressions, Chairman FESS says that the committee's business is "to elect, not select." So it will support Mr. NORRIS and other sons of wild jackasses. What aid do they want from a typical "reactionary"? Treasurer NUTT'S money must be "tainted," in the estimation of Mr. NORRIS. It is to be collected, in part, from New England and Pennsylvania, favorite subjects of his wrath. Mr. BORAH is self-supporting. He asks nothing of "regulars" until his next quadrennial period of regularity comes. And ponder the net of contradiction in which Mr. FESS has entangled himself by seeking to make the Hawley-Smoot tariff act the main issue.

In Nebraska both Senators have been pounding that magical act. In Minnesota it has no friends. Senator SCHALL, who was renominated, and Governor CHRISTIANSON, whom he defeated, "went for it" hammer and tongs. Senator COUZENS of Michigan is a rank Independent. Senator McMASTER of South Dakota is a rank Insurgent. So in a number of States Elector FESS will be trying to elect Republican Senators who are not only opposed to his chief issue, the tariff, but also, generally or specifically, to Mr. HOOVER, whose achievements are now to be Mr. FESS's cardinal issue if the other won't "take." If Mr. FESS were as wise as he is good, he never would have laid his hands on the crank of the issue-mill. He would have left that to the Republicans of the several States. In Iowa, for example, the tariff has been accepted because otherwise the State delegation in the House of Representatives would have been kicked in the head.

In denying that prohibition is an issue, Chairman FESS merely emphasizes that it is the preponderant issue in some States. In Massachusetts and New York, Republican Drys and Wets are at each other's throats over it. The nomination of Mr. MORROW in New Jersey, stamped with Mr. HOOVER'S approval, has given a powerful impetus to the movement for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. In Illinois Mr. JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS, the Democratic nominee for Senator, is making an active campaign for repeal, and the Cook County Republicans are crying for it. No wonder Mr. FESS, an enthusiastic Dry—who was once a Wet and may be again—has fled to the Great Lakes for rest and congenial surroundings. For at least ten days we shall miss the wonted refreshment of his speech, but he is a fountain beyond the grasp of drought. He will bubble and spout till Dr. WORK is green with envy. We do not envy the disposition of those too numerous Republicans who would like to have that fountain sealed.

THE GERMAN REPUBLIC.

Celebrations this week in Germany have been nominally of the eleventh anniversary of the Weimar Constitution. What has really been celebrated is eleven years of the German Republic. Like other Constitutions worked out in the aftermath of war, the Weimar Constitution was filled with compromises and contained a few uncertainties. One of these came into prominence with the recent decree dissolving the Reichstag and ordering a new election. But the French Constitution, adopted after the war of 1870, was a still more dubious document. It was really fitted for either a monarchy or a republic. Many were confident at the time that under it the Comte de CHAMBORD would soon be brought back as King of France. The recently published memoirs of the Duc de BROGLIE show how narrowly that event was escaped, and by what an incidental motion in the Chamber the republic was recognized as the Government of France.

Germany has been more fortunate—at least in this respect, that there has been during these eleven years no real danger of a return of the HOHENZOLLERNS. They had made themselves impossible, no matter what form of government might be adopted. Nor has there been any real possibility that those German monarchists who thought that a new Kaiser might come out of Bavaria could succeed. There is still sporadic talk of a dictatorship, or of a Fascist régime, but the main tides of German opinion are running in quite other directions. As the former Chancellor WIRTH said on Monday, nothing but a democracy in Germany could have held the people together after the disasters of the war. The Weimar Constitution may need to be amended in some particulars, though as long as HINDENBURG remains President he seems to be able to make it work; but the enduring thing is the German Republic, which has lived through trying and stormy years, and appears today to be established more strongly than ever in the hearts of the German people.

Government by party is not yet understood, or at least not practiced, in Germany. Herr WIRTH deplored the break-up of the voters into too many ineffective groups. An effort has been made to combine parties or fragments of parties into one powerful organization for the sake of securing something like a stable majority in the next Reichstag, but so far it has rather pitifully failed. Somehow the German genius for organizing has not been able to express itself in politics. There the old spirit of intense individualism persists, so that it may still be nearly true that, as BISMARCK said, wherever you find three Germans you find four opinions. The explanation given by Prince BUELOW in his book published shortly before the war was that the Germans are not "politically minded." Reasons why they are not were set forth by GEORG BERNHARD in his recent article in THE NEW YORK TIMES. But experience teaches many things in time, though it often is an expensive school. Little by little, there can be no doubt, Germany will discover how to give more unity and strength to the political forces which must be called into play if the republic is to be not only an ideal and a source of pride to the German people, but an effective agency of good government.

WAR FOR WAR'S SAKE.

The gardens around Peshâwar and the caves beyond Khyber Pass are again battlefields, and the tribesmen from Afghanistan seem to have come to the border with sufficient force to engage in a battle with the British for occupation of the city. By cutting telephone and telegraph wires they at first limited Peshâwar's communications to the wireless and the airplane. But experienced force was applied, and the latest news is that the hillmen have been scattered by air bombs. Had the Afridis, who constitute the bulk of the invading army, driven the British from the town, they would not have held it long. The prestige of the Raj in these troubled times requires that no such victory be consolidated, and the government can be expected to move to the border a force large enough to send the tribesmen back into the hills for a time. There airmen may bomb them, and—should it be the government's policy—an expeditionary force can work punishing reprisals. But their predilection for war will not be much affected.

Neither communism nor a nineteenth century notion of aiding Russia in her Indian designs is responsible for the Afghan invasion. As KIPLING and numerous British military authorities have made clear, the Pathan loves fighting for its own sake. He is Moslem, and therefore the Gandhi revolt, prosecuted by sects by him despised, has no cause to array Afghan against Briton. Nor does the Afghan particularly dislike the British among the "infidel" races. It happens that subjects of King GEORGE are his most powerful neighbors and have set up a cordon to prevent Ghilzai, Afridi and Durani tribesmen from swooping down upon the population and property of Northern India. Hearing that the Raj has its hands full made it seem an ideal time to strike. Afghanistan's new King may be able in time to summon back to their country most of the irregulars. But his power is not as great as is the tribal instinct to harry the European. In the nineteenth century, because Russian statesmen promised the Afghans rich opportunities for loot, they were willing to abet Russia's policy of Indian aggression. It was not because the Ameer YAKOUB or his people liked the European Russians any better than the British.

War's new and terrible instrument, the airplane, may be able to inflict upon the marauders penalties even more severe than Lord ROBERTS's column wrought in the past century. But the rugged topography of Afganistan and its endless catacombs afford splendid hiding places. The probability is that Britain's foes perched on India's northern bastion will emerge again as soon as they see a good chance for fighting and looting.

MONEY FOR CLEAN STREETS.

This is the season when the budget pot begins to boil. City officials are wont to dip into it with large forks, knowing that the best morsels have a way of dropping off before they can be safely skewered. It is reported that the new Sanitation Commission will ask a 50 per cent increase in its appropriation next year to help make the city cleaner and healthier. Part of the added $15,000,000 will go for personnel, part for new equipment. Commissioner HAND wants several thousand more employes. He says that one of his men over in Queens has 396,000 square yards of street to keep tidy. That man ought to get a prize or a pension. Talk about "white wings that never grow weary"! Others, one concludes from recent stirrings in the division, are not so free from sloth. There are to be no more "fixture positions"; sweepers are not to be deemed glued to their jobs.

More men may help, but what the department needs most is better methods and more up-to-date equipment. When it comes to them, the Board of Estimate will do well not to boil down the Commissioner's request too far. The old régime in the Street Cleaning Department was content with old methods. It allowed the housewife, with her vacuum cleaner, to steal a march on it. It did not take kindly to such newfangled contrivances. It went happily on sweeping and flushing, flushing and sweeping. Commissioner SCHROEDER and his aides have promised to introduce modern methods. So far they have not succeeded in bringing about any very great improvement, but that may be because of this very lack of equipment, particularly in the way of suction cleaners and covered garbage wagons. Nothing could be more short-sighted than for the city to create a new department with a $22,500 man at the head of it and then leave him without tools.

MAKING AND SPENDING.

The profound changes in the world's productive capacity have received due comment, particularly during the present widespread economic depression. But the changes which have been going on in consumption attract much less notice, though they, too, contribute to business and unemployment. Professor DELISLE BURNS of Glasgow, speaking at the Williamstown Institute of Politics, finds that the alteration in the consuming habits of the world during the last twenty years has been "enormous." His analysis is penetrating. He directs attention, for instance, to the change in dietary habits following upon the mechanization of labor and the increased use of power. Men engaged in tending machinery, to say nothing of men engaged in sitting at desks and talking over the telephone, need fewer calories than men engaged in rough muscular labor. Frequently noted in this country has been the swing away from meats to vegetables and dairy products. Possibly the decline in the consumption of wines and malt liquors noted in Europe is not entirely due to high prices following post-war taxation. A shorter and less exhausting workday may demand a smaller amount of stimulant—or solace.

More subtle is Professor BURNS's discovery of a connection between changes in the age-character of the population and those in personal habits. With more adults and fewer children among the industrial nations there is a smaller demand for primary foodstuffs and for clothing, a greater demand for what used to be considered luxuries. It is a bit difficult to see how an adult would need less food than a child or fewer clothes. The present agricultural depression is to be attributed less to a shrinking demand for food and textile fibers than to their increased production and lowered prices. Acreage for food and raw materials grew under the stimulus of the war and output has been furthered by the application of machinery to agriculture.

There can be no questioning the shift from "necessities" to "luxuries." It is by no means to be deplored. The economists have always known that the proportion of income spent on food, shelter and clothing declines sharply as one moves up in the social scale. Among the poor housing and dress often have to wait upon food. The trend to luxury is not always to be measured in terms of automobiles and electric household conveniences and movies three times a week. It is luxury when the consumption of sugar rises as the consumption of rice, or rye, or potatoes declines. It is luxury when woolen clothing competes with cotton. Our modern age undoubtedly has its percentage of John Daws who sleep on grass to buy their wives a looking glass. But in the main the drift to luxuries is the register of a rising level of well-being that is by no means confined, as is so often assumed in protests against the Machine Age, to mechanistic factors.

AERIAL DEFENSE OF THE COAST

If Attorney General MITCHELL in his letter to Secretary ADAMS did not settle the controversy between the Army and Navy with regard to the defense of the coast, he made some suggestions worthy of consideration. He declines to give an opinion in favor of either side upon a paragraph of the Army appropriation bill of June 5, 1920, the author of which is said to have been General WILLIAM MITCHELL of the Army Air Corps. It was as follows:

"Hereafter the Army Air Service shall control all aerial operations from land bases, and Navy aviation shall have control of all aerial operations attached to a fleet, including shore stations whose maintenance is necessary for operation connected with the fleet, for construction and experimentation and for the training of personnel."

Unconstitutional, holds Secretary ADAMS, because a restriction upon the President's powers as Commander-in-Chief. The Attorney General will not pronounce upon the constitutional question. He intimates that Congress may settle the dispute:

"Congress has not tied its own hands by the provision in the 1920 act, and it may adopt a new principle. If any point or order is made against an appropriation item because of the clause in the 1920 act, the Congress will make its own decision as to what the clause means. It now has a joint committee considering the whole problem."

The Attorney General points out that in subsequent Navy appropriation acts it was provided that only "six heavier-than-air stations on "the coasts of the continental "United States should be main-"tained." It would be difficult for the Navy to show that this does not put the Air Corps at a disadvantage in operating along the coast in competition with the Army. The layman will ask why there should not always be cooperation between the Army and Navy aviators in defense of the coast. Commander R. D. WEYERBACHER of the Navy has asked: "Who is to provide and control the "bombing and pursuit aircraft that "will operate from land bases and "fly out over the sea to the limits of "their cruising radius?" He thinks it should be the Navy, and that flying boats with long radius that can land and rise from the sea should be used. Major Gen. MASON PATRICK, appearing before the Lampert committee, argued for Army land planes which can operate as far out as 200 miles. He called it the "twilight zone," implying that below the limit that he set ship-based planes should take up the attack. It all comes back to the question why the services should not share the task under conditions made by Congress after consultation with experts.

BACK FROM HOLLYWOOD.

When privates in opposing armies begin fraternizing, it is hard for the officers to keep up the belligerent spirit necessary to warfare. In the battle between the cinema and the theatre, it is the generals who are going into camp together. Heaven only knows what such behavior will lead to among the troops, or what will be the effect on the public. If there is to be a happy ending in the best movie tradition, stage and screen players will be indistinguishable and the standard of production will be leveled up to the best now found in both forms. The practical difficulty in the way of such desirable results is the dubious adaptability of the interchanging performers.

Mr. SHAW's admirers may say that there can be no question of the success of the talkie which is to be made from his play "How He Lied to Her Husband." The provocative title, the reputation of the author and the quality of his present audience, they will insist, are enough to insure the popularity of this recruit to the screen. What if the play is not one of his best? It is by BERNARD SHAW, and every one who has read or seen any of his plays will want to see his first venture into films. Besides, it is to be a talkie, and the precious dialogue will be heard, provided, of course, that the machinery can be subdued. Mr. SHAW has been won over completely to the talkies. He thinks that the silent film is done, as is "the poor theatre"—and says that all his plays will soon be made into talkies.

The theatre has already given up the cream of its talent to Hollywood. The most brilliant playwrights, the most original personalities, the liveliest composers, the funniest comedians of Broadway—and, indeed, the most gifted entertainers of the whole world—are gradually being drawn to the centre of cinema production. The visitor to Hollywood trips over famous foreigners and Americans at every step. It is curious that so much genius produces nothing but glaring mediocrity, but in time the results may be worthy of their creators.

Broadway, meantime, has the opportunity of welcoming hostages from the movies. Last season it treated well some newcomers, and a few others who had been away from the stage so long that they seemed newcomers. Now reinforcements, including Miss MARY PICKFORD, are promised for next Winter. The chance for their stage success must be greater than the possibility of even the greatest of theatrical talents in the movies. For every playgoer who will want to follow a favorite's progress on the screen there must be a hundred movie fans to pursue their idols into the purlieus of Broadway.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

The Same Old Story. "ROOSEVELT Orders Saratoga Clean-Up Within Three Days." The annual information that there is gambling during the racing meet at Saratoga had come to the Governor. It makes no difference who the Governor is, the procedure is always the same. For years New York Governors have received the same protest, taken the same action and lived to do it all over again.

The following headlines from issues of THE TIMES in the past suggest what a Sisyphean stone Saratoga is to Albany:

(1920) 1. Acting Governor WALKER Orders Grand Jury Investigation of Gambling Complaints. 2. District Attorney ANDRUS Indicted on Charge of Neglect of Duty. 3. ANDRUS Renominated on Both Tickets.

(1928) Governor SMITH Sends Troops to Investigate Reported Gambling and Vice. Warns Commissioner of Public Safety, District Attorney and Sheriff.

(1930) Gambling and Vice Charged at Saratoga.

The Governors of Indiana and Florida will understand this situation. And hereafter, particularly in 1932, the headlines will tell the same story.

Traffic Without Whistles. The Abbé DIMNET says somewhere that if the art of thinking were only applied in earnest to the traffic problem, more than one person would have suggested doing away with automobile horns altogether, on the theory that then drivers would be compelled to drive carefully and avoid hitting pedestrians.

Commissioner MULROONEY is apparently not ready to go as far as that, but he has decreed abolition of police whistles as a means of controlling traffic. They make an officer careless. Sometimes he blows his whistle without turning his head to see that the traffic is clear. Often his whistle lags behind the lights.

Traffic control by arm signals alone is something of an innovation here, but it is the common practice in other countries. No visitor to London, for example, can fail to be impressed with the masterly way in which the police of that city direct its extraordinarily difficult traffic by hand, without lights and without whistles. Long practice has made them perfect at it, and the public has learned to obey almost instinctively.

Here the new order is merely an experiment. It will take a few days for people to get accustomed to it. If it works, one more unnecessary noise will follow the old subway turnstiles into the silences.

The Brave Stand at Le Cateau. General Sir HORACE SMITH-DORRIEN, who died in England yesterday, will always be known as the commander of the Second Army of the British expeditionary force in France who decided to stand at Le Cateau, although General Sir JOHN FRENCH had ordered retirement. It was Sir HORACE's belief that if he did not try to hold his lines the army which he commanded would be overwhelmed.

In his memoirs General SMITH-DORRIEN wrote that it was his faith in the infantry's "stanchness and astounding accuracy" with the rifle that decided him to send word to headquarters that he could not retreat. "We should be successful in giving the enemy a stopping blow under cover of which we could retire." He stated his reasons for hope to General ALLENBY:

"Well do I remember the dead silence in the little room at Bertry when I was rapidly considering these points, and the sigh of relief when, on my asking ALLENBY if he would accept orders from me and he replied in the affirmative, I remarked: 'Very well, gentlemen, we will fight and I will ask General SNOW to act under me as well.'"

Word was rushed to General FRENCH, who gave SMITH-DORRIEN a "free hand." In his dispatch of Sept. 7, 1914, the Commander-in-Chief stated that "the saving of the left wing of the army under my command could never have been accomplished unless a commander of rare and unusual coolness, intrepidity and determination had been present to personally conduct the operation."

Money Not to Burn. The claims put forward for Germany's new currency are hauntingly reminiscent of the boasts of collar advertisements: "Will not wilt, crack, shrink or wrinkle." The new paper money, it is said, will not burn, tear or crumple.

The new notes will be thoroughly workmanlike. The ten-mark and twenty-mark denominations will be made from steel engraved plates. The former will bear "an agricultural design," and the latter a pattern of industrial inspiration. In a white circle a distinguishing watermark will show when the paper is held up against the light.

The money will be made non-inflammable by spraying it with a metal. If it becomes the general fashion to fireproof paper money in this way, some of our most cherished expressions will have to go. The rich will no longer have "money to burn," and the extravagant will not be able to offer the excuse that their money "burns a hole in their pockets." And to "run through money" which is non-tearable would be impossible.

The new issue will be ready some time this Fall. Germans armed with a wad of bills that will not burn, tear or crumple may find their money lasting well, even under the wear and tear of a Christmas shopping season. But perhaps money will yet have to be made non-spendable.

Some Policemen Are Like That.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

After appearing in court and paying a fine we learned that our cars had been parked in a "restricted area" near Pelham Bay. A careful search has failed to show any trace of a sign prohibiting parking. Car tracks bear evidence that cars have been parking there all Summer. About a dozen cars were parked in the space and policemen passed several times without registering any objection.

Then a police sergeant drove in and, as though dealing with crooks and scoundrels, endeavored to be as rude and insulting as possible. The owners of the cars were courteous, and offered the sergeant no excuse for his behavior.

To make it still more humiliating we had with us guests from two other States to whom we had boasted of the courtesy and good humor of the New York policemen. Must we calmly accept this treatment and still respect such men because they wear a uniform?

The Cruelty of Red Elevators.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Elevators in a New York building are painted a fierce red. At least one of the elevator men has become an eye patient. A number of them admit in private that the eye strain is terrific. When they leave they cannot see. But jobs are hard to get. I talked to the authorities of this building and they were politely noncommittal. I wrote to the Board of Health and they did not reply. The Board of Health never used to be like that.

In the hot weather, the barbarity of placing men between solid walls of red, two inches from their eyes, is everybody's business. There would be an outcry if criminals were expected to live in cells painted red, yet this would be nothing to the plight of the elevator men. Elevator men must not close their eyes.

RENUNCIATION.

When I am done with worldly things that blind me
Like a swift light that flashes and is gone,
Deep in a forest the long, slow years will find me
Waiting for the twilight, listening for dawn.

I shall have time to see a fern uncurling
Its emerald fingers like a child asleep;
To watch gold fireflies, gypsy-hearted, swirling
In beauty that the night alone may reap.

I shall have time to hear the scarlet sobbing
Of shattered roses on a frosted bough;
To hear the breath of early Autumn throbbing
In every grass I trample lightly now.

Then shall I know, and let my heart run over
With secrets that shall open like a flower,
And I will lie in deep sweet-scented clover
And count the shining minutes of each hour.

NEED FOR EXPERT ADVICE.

Banks Could Bring Together Those Who Give and Require It.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The reply of Martin Kortjohn, published today, to my letter in THE TIMES of Aug. 6 is, I think, typical of the general misunderstanding of the problem presented by me for the banks' consideration.

While he is entirely correct in his premise that there are agencies able and willing to furnish expert advice on manufacturing and business problems, there is a wide gap between this ability and its general acceptance by the business world. On the one hand we have, therefore, the available expert service. On the other hand a grave need for such service. If the banks were merely to perform the office of amicus curae and bring the two together, they would, in part, perform my suggested function. If they made the business survey an equal condition with the accountants' report, they would in no way overstep their legitimate privileges. It is thus only one step further to the furnishing of a regular advisory service either directly or indirectly under the bank's auspices.

Mr. Kortjohn somewhat flippantly refers to the "clerk" who would attend to this department in his spare time. This was far from my suggestion. A banker will spend hours in advising a prosperous client on his investments. He will even take charge of them, although this function is outside of regular banking. Our banks today perform many services equally outside their strictly financial duties, but apparently balk at a really constructive suggestion which, even from the banker's own standpoint, would prove of immense general benefit. Unquestionably there would be fewer bankruptcies, fewer defaulted notes, fewer struggling businesses if expert advice were more generally available.

When a business man appeals to his bank it is not unusually a sign of weakness in his business structure. Examination of his books by an expert accountant will reveal financial weakness, but will not reach the hidden causes such as out-of-date machinery or manufacturing processes or poor distribution which may be the root evils sapping his business vitality.

The present business situation is so exceptionally grave as to have demanded the attention of the President and of our leading business men. It is widespread and deep seated. It affects our major industries as well as a vast number of our smaller manufacturers. To ascribe it to Stock Exchange or other speculation is to name only one probable cause. Its solution lies at the base of our future prosperity. While much publicity and millions of dollars have been devoted to the troubles of the farmer, up to the present the general business structure continues to function very much along go-as-you-please lines.

The heavy annual business mortality is by no means evidence of fraud. In too many instances it denotes the failure of an unaided or uninstructed attempt at independence, failure for the lack of expert guidance at the critical time. In my own experience I have found that the average manufacturer or business man seldom resents really expert advice. In fact, he will welcome and pay for practical assistance from some one who really understands his problems. The fact that this acceptance is usually voluntary instead of compulsory robs it of the weight and prestige it would carry if propounded or supported by his banker. Just as the client must pay for an accountant's examination, he would expect to pay a reasonable charge for the business expert.

In the final analysis the whole of our business structure rests upon our banks. The problem cannot therefore be dismissed as outside of the legitimate functions of banking. To be severely inquisitorial on finances and indifferent to other equally serious matters is illogical. Our banks have undoubtedly profited by the "boom" times. Surely it is equally a part of their public duty to consider every possible method of restoring our fundamental prosperity. When business men are straining every nerve to save the ship is no time to stand on a narrow platform of ethics. To base our judgment of a man's business on an accountant's statement alone is a grave responsibility. A loan is a palliative and not a remedy. Occasionally it may cure but it often may merely aggravate the symptoms. AUSTEN BOLAM.

THE HIGH PRICE OF MILK.

Objection Is Made That Advance Is Unwarranted and Unethical.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Boosting the price of milk is the latest blow aimed at an already overburdened working class struggling from the effects of unemployment crisis. Moreover, the new rate will go into effect at once, despite the fact that there is no present milk shortage and no immediate danger of one.

Health Commissioner Wynne has estimated that the New York milkshed, an area of 400 square miles from which the city obtains its milk, is capable of producing 7,000,000 quarts daily, about twice as much milk as the city is using now. Within twenty-four hours this shed could be extended to 1,000 square miles. Additional milk, much of which is now going to by-products factories, could be almost immediately directed to the consumer trade of New York City.

What, then, is the reason for the increased price of milk? Surely, in view of the facts already stated, there is no real necessity for it. Not only is it unfair from every angle, but also it is highly unethical that New York consumers be forced to contribute to a scheme developed by those persons who wish to use the present heat wave as an excuse for profiteering.

ASSERTS POWER AIDS SOUTHERN INDUSTRY

P. S. Arkwright Tells Virginia Institute Factories Develop With Electric Service.

VILLARD ASSAILS MERGERS

Insull Defends Them—Alfaro Declares Panama Hopes for Early Action on the Treaty.

From a Staff Correspondent of The New York Times.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Aug. 12.—An exposition of an industrial power policy for the South, a conflict of views on power mergers and control of utilities and a discussion of the treaty relations of the United States and Panama were features of today's sessions of the Virginia Institute of Public Affairs.

"There is hardly an enterprise known to modern industry that is not represented in the great workshop of the new South, where the growth of prosperity has been coincident with the growth of electrical development," Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power Company, said at the round-table on Economic and Industrial Development of the South," led by Major C. Leroy Hodges of Richmond.

Mr. Arkwright's address began a discussion which was continued by Oswald Garrison Villard at the open forum and by Martin J. Insull, president of the Middle West Utilities Company, at the evening meeting, and which will reach its climax tomorrow in a debate between Mr. Insull and Norman Thomas.

Declaring that electric power in the South had increased more than 600 per cent from 1912 to 1929 as compared with 400 per cent in the United States, and that the number of power consumers had increased 577 per cent in the South as compared with 400 per cent in the whole country, Mr. Arkwright said that although 98 per cent of the electric power in the South is generated by privately owned plants it has the lowest average rates of any section of the country, and he offered this as an argument against government-operated utilities.

Power Combinations Attacked.

An entirely different picture was presented before the open forum by Mr. Villard, who declared that a demand for a commission in Washington to control all power companies and public utilities, with similar powers to those of the Interstate Commerce Commission, is due to the belief that "if something is not done to check the combinations going on in this field there will soon be one company not only controlling all the power plants and public utilities in the United States but all those between the Rio Grande and the Straits of Magellan."

Power mergers were defended by Mr. Insull as tending to better service, less investment in plants, more efficient operating and lower rates. While such combinations were associated in the public mind with the term "power trust," Mr. Insull said, their results were the antithesis of those resulting from the public's idea of a trust.

"There cannot be a trust in a regulated industry," he said. "Far from having broken down, regulation has been beneficial to the consumer, the investor and the industry."

Panama Treaty Discussed.

The treaty relations of the United States and Panama were explained to institute members in an informal discussion opened by Professor Clarence H. Haring of Harvard.

Dr. Ricardo J. Alfaro, Minister of Panama at Washington, explained that the treaty of 1926, which has not been ratified, was undertaken under very unfavorable diplomatic conditions and had never been considered satisfactory, but that more favorable circumstances now exist and that the State Department is favorable to new negotiations.

CARED FOR 171,933 BIRTHS.

Lying-In Hospital Reports on Work of Forty Years.

During the last forty years 171,933 babies have come into the world with the aid of the medical staff of the Lying-In Hospital, a total larger than the population of Hartford, Conn., which the latest census figures revealed as 163,849, according to the 131st annual report of the hospital, made public yesterday by the United Hospital Fund. Last year the hospital treated 5,443 obstetrical or allied cases and cared for the birth of 4,695 infants. All but 1,000 of the total confinements were in the hospital.

More than 18 per cent of the ward cases were free. All of its out-patient department services were free. Excluding the expenses of its private pavilion, the hospital's annual expenditures aggregated $400,637. Sixty-seven nations were represented among its patients in 1929.

The institution is now located in Second Avenue, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth Streets. As soon as it moves to its new building, now under construction at Seventieth and Exterior Streets, it will then become a part of the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Centre.

DOOMS THE HORSE AND CART

Schroeder Not to Replace Animals in His Department as They Die.

The famous institution of the city's Street Cleaning Department—the horse and the two-wheel cart—is on its last legs.

Its doom was sealed yesterday by Dr. William Schroeder Jr., chairman of the Sanitary Commission, who announced that more than 500 horses that remained on the street cleaning force would not be replaced as they die. Instead, he said, there would be a complete motorization of the department's vehicles, including the dump wagons and the vehicles used by the superintendents in supervising the sweepers' work.

Before the era of the motor car, it was explained, the department used about 2,600 horses in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx.

Dr. Schroeder announced that the department's 1931 budget, tentatively announced on Monday to be $51,000,000, was was being put in final shape and would be ready for submission to Mayor Walker today. The current budget is $34,134,172.66.

E. B. STAHLMAN DIES; DEAN OF PUBLISHERS

BEGAN AS A DAY LABORER

Surmounting Physical Handicap, He Rose Rapidly to Become a Leading Publicist in the South.

Special to The New York Times.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 12.—After eighteen months of ill health, Major Edward B. Stahlman, publisher of The Nashville Banner and one of the South's outstanding citizens, died at his home here this morning, bringing to a close an eventful career which had left its impress upon his community and State. He was 87 years old.

Major Stahlman's illness began in March, 1929, from overwork, and his life was despaired of at that time. His vitality and strong will brought him through the crisis, however, and he resumed work. He spent several weeks last Summer with his family at Atlantic City, where he indulged in his favorite pastime of swimming, despite his advanced age. Since returning to Nashville a year ago in a weakened condition, he had been confined to his home, although during most of the time he was able to sit in his garden. He suffered a relapse on Aug. 5, which resulted in his death.

He attended the annual meetings of The Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association in New York in 1928. In June, 1928, he attended in a rolling chair the annual meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association at Edgewater Gulf, Miss. At that time a glowing tribute was paid to his service to the publishers in the restoration of the 1920 postal rates.

He was generally recognized as the dean of American newspaper publishers.

Funeral services will be held at McKendree Methodist Church at 2:30 P. M., Wednesday. Burial will take place in the family plot at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Mr. Stahlman began his career in this country as a fatherless immigrant from Germany in his early teens. He was handicapped by being partially crippled as the result of a childhood accident. From such a start he struggled upward to a successful business career, and when nearly fifty years of age, turned his energies to newspaper publishing, gaining a national reputation, in forty more years of hard work, for his fearlessness.

Mr. Stahlman was born in Gustrow, Germany, Sept. 2, 1843. He was hardly more than a baby when a school bench fell on his leg, inflicting an injury from which he never fully recovered. He was but 10 years old when his family migrated to the United States and his father died shortly after their arrival here.

Began as Railroad Man.

The boy's first work was with the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, repairing the damage of Civil War sabotage. It was with that corporation that he rose rapidly to success in the business world.

Mr. Stahlman moved to Nashville in 1866, and was a resident of that city for the remainder of his life. He continued his work with the Louisville & Nashville, becoming vice president of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railway. In 1885 he was made third vice president of the Louisville & Nashville.

It was in that same year that Mr. Stahlman purchased The Nashville Banner, and this beginning of his publishing career started merely as an incident in his railroad work. He bought the paper to use it in campaigning against a proposal that Nashville subscribe $1,000,000 toward a projected railroad, the Tennessee Midland, which was to compete with the Louisville & Nashville.

The newspaper, thus acquired by him, as an end in itself, without intention of entering the publishing business, rapidly absorbed more and more of his interest. Five years later this interest had grown to the point where he was ready to give up all his railroad connections and throw himself wholly into the job of developing the newspaper.

Made The Banner a Political Power.

The Banner soon gained the reputation of being fearless and unswerving in political contests. It had a steady growth and came to be recognized as an important power not only in the State of Tennessee but throughout the South. Later he built the Stahlman Building.

Mr. Stahlman's first wife was Mollie T. Claiborne of Nashville, whom he married during his first year of residence there. She died in 1915, and in 1920 Mr. Stahlman married Miss Sarah Shelton, also of Nashville. Three children were born of the first marriage and one of the second.

Besides his widow, the survivors include two sons, Gray Stahlman and Frank Carl Stahlman; a brother, George W. Stahlman, and two half-sisters, Mrs. George Bowles and Miss Louise Harnish, both of Parkersburg, W. Va.

MILBURN FUNERAL PLANS.

Lawyer's Body to Be Cremated Abroad—Ashes to Be Brought Here.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—John G. Milburn, prominent New York lawyer, who died here at Claridge's Hotel yesterday in his seventy-ninth year, succumbed to the shock due to his wife's death three weeks ago, his son, Devereux Milburn, told THE NEW YORK TIMES today.

"After her death my father decided to come abroad for a change," Mr. Milburn said, "but the shock was too much for him at his age."

Mr. Milburn's sons, John G. Jr. and Devereux, and their families were with him when he died. After a funeral here, the body will be cremated. Burial will take place in the United States.

At a special meeting of the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange, called yesterday by Richard Whitney, president of the Exchange, a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions expressing the profound regret of the Exchange and its members on the death of Mr. Milburn, who for twenty-six years was senior counsel of the Exchange.

DIED CLIMBING THE ALPS.

Colonel MacDonald Succumbed Descending From Schafberg Mountain.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Details reached here today concerning the sudden death in the Alps of Colonel Gordon MacDonald of Morristown, N. Y. Colonel MacDonald left Pontresina in the Engadine with an experienced Swiss guide to climb Schafberg Mountain, about 9,000 feet high. After a short rest on the summit the pair began their descent, when Colonel MacDonald complained of feeling dizzy, and then became unconscious. The guide hurried down to the valley and returned with a doctor, who found the American dead from heart trouble.

Mr. MacDonald was vice president of the National Iron Bank of Morristown and formerly a member of the brokerage firm of Seasongood, Hass & MacDonald of this city. He served in the United States Army with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel during the World War. Early reports from Switzerland on Aug. 5 indicated that he had died of heart trouble.

EDWARD M. SUTLIFF.

Mechanical Engineer, Leader in Oriental Trade Development, Dies.

Edward M. Sutliff, mechanical engineer and a vice president of the American Trading Company at 96 Wall Street, died on Monday at Hartsdale, N. Y. He was 60 years old. Mr. Sutliff was a leader in the development of Oriental trade, and in 1921 he was decorated with the Third Order of the Rising Sun by the Japanese Government in recognition of his twenty-four years of service in the promotion of trade between the United States and Japan.

He was born in Warren, Ohio, in 1870, and received two degrees in engineering from Cornell University. He had held several offices during his career, being vice president of the Pekin Water Works Company, president of the Eastern Tool and Tube Company and director of the Japan Paper Company. Among the clubs to which he belonged are the Union League, Scarsdale Golf and India House. The body will be taken to Warren for burial on Aug. 17.

MRS. WILLIAM P. HUNT.

Philanthropist and Descendant of John Alden Dies at 85.

Special to The New York Times.

COVINGTON, Ky., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Margaretta W. Hunt, philanthropist, died today at her home here at the age of 85.

Mrs. Hunt was born in Cincinnati, but had resided in Covington for seventy-six years. She was the widow of Dr. William P. Hunt, prominent physician. She was of the ninth generation of descendants of John and Priscilla Alden and a great-great-granddaughter of the Rev. Joseph Adams, brother of John Adams, United States President.

Mrs. Hunt's most recent philanthropy was the donation last year of the Baker-Hunt Foundation, Museum of Natural History.

WILLIAM F. DUFFIELD.

Former Commodore of Knickerbocker Yacht Club Dies.

William F. Duffield, former commodore of the Knickerbocker Yacht Club, died at his home in Port Washington, L. I., on Monday night after an illness of four months. He was 57 years old.

Mr. Duffield was the New York manager of the Reading Hardware Corporation. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 A. M. in the Church of St. Peter of Alcantara in Port Washington. Burial will be in St. Raymond's Cemetery, Westchester.

Mrs. Ella Blood Dies in Bus.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Ella Blood of 422 West Forty-eighth Street, New York, died of heart disease while riding in a bus bound from New York City to Connecticut. She fell from her seat as the bus was passing Central Avenue, White Plains.

CHARLES E. MERRILL, EX-PUBLISHER, DEAD

Former President of Company Bearing His Name Stricken in 83d Year.

Charles Edmund Merrill, former president of the Charles E. Merrill Company, educational publishers, died yesterday at his home, 130 East Sixty-seventh Street, in his eighty-third year. He was the father of Charles Edmund Merrill Jr., who is now president of the same company, which has offices at 381 Fourth Avenue.

Mr. Merrill was a member of the Essex County (N. J.) Country Club, the Army and Navy Club, the Century Association, the University Club, the Riding Club and the Oakland Golf Club. He was graduated from Dartmouth in 1869. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Sally Caldwell Markoe, and his son. Funeral services will be held at the house on Thursday at 11 A. M.

Mrs. O'Keefe, Wife of Justice, Dies.

Mrs. Florence A. O'Keefe, wife of Justice George J. O'Keefe of the Children's Court, died on Monday at her home, 634 First Street, Brooklyn, after a short illness. She is survived by two children, Miss Helen L. O'Keefe and George J. Jr., as well as by her husband. Funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow at 9:30 A. M. A requiem mass will be offered at 10 o'clock in the Church of St. Francis Xavier, Sixth Avenue and Carroll Street, Brooklyn.

HONOR BLOOMFIELD, SLAIN DETECTIVE

BIG ESCORT FOR CORTEGE

Body Borne Through East Side Attended by Motorcycle Unit on Way to Cemetery.

Funeral services for Detective Harry Bloomfield, a veteran of eighteen years' service in the Police Department, who died on Saturday in Morrisania Hospital from a bullet wound inflicted early Friday morning in Highbridge station by a bandit whom he was fingerprinting, were held yesterday afternoon at the Stuyvesant Funeral Parlors, 49 Seventh Street.

The full departmental funeral honors of a police inspector were bestowed upon the dead detective. Under the leadership of Deputy Chief Inspector David J. McAuliffe and James S. Bolan, a police escort composed of two deputy inspectors, two captains, four lieutenants, six sergeants and ninety-six patrolmen was present as a guard of honor outside the funeral parlors and as an escort for the cortège as it passed through the strets of the city on its way to the cemetery.

Services in the parlors and at the grave were conducted by the Rev. Isidore Frank, police chaplain, who extolled the life of Detective Bloomfield and spoke of the tragedy of his "martyr's death."

The pallbearers were Detectives Edward Miller, Fred Kronen, Frank Lenihan, Thomas Killoran, Lewis Raskin and Joseph McCort, all attached to the detective force at Highbridge station. The police band and glee club provided music for the services, which were closed with the singing of the "Ehu-Daruchum," the prayer for the dead, by Harry Krops.

Besides the widow and members of the family present at the services were Commissioner Mulrooney, Deputy Commissioners Nelson Ruttenberg and Felix Muldoon, Chief Inspector John O'Brien and members of the Young Men's Benevolent Society, of which Mr. Bloomfield was a charter member, and of the Shonrim Society.

After the services at the parlors the coffin was borne to Second Avenue and Houston Street, where the escort was disbanded. The hearse and carriages proceeded under motorcycle escort to Mount Zion Cemetery, where burial took place.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—George Culbreth Thomas, prominent Episcopal layman and vice president of the New Amsterdam Casualty Company, died of heart disease last night at his Summer home in Chester, N. S.

His wife, the former Clara Moulton, and their son, the Rev. J. Moulton Thomas, rector of St. Thomas's Protestant Episcopal Church at Hancock, Md., were with him when he died.

Mr. Thomas accompanied his son, who was the personal chaplain to Bishop Philip Cook of the Diocese of Delaware, to the Lambeth conference of the Episcopal Church held in Lambeth Palace, England. They went to the Summer home about a week ago to join Mrs. Thomas.

DR. CORNELIO DOELTER.

VIENNA, Aug. 12 (AP).—Dr. Cornelio Doelter, considered one of the world's greatest experts on precious stones, died today at the age of 80. He was a professor of the University of Vienna and a noted lecturer on mineralogy and the chemistry of minerals.

Dr. Doelter was the author of 200 dissertations on minerals and nine complete scientific works dealing with minerals, chemistry, geology and geography.

He was born in Porto Rico. His mother was Francisca Cisterich y de la Torre and his father Cornelio Doelter, formerly of Freiburg, who owned a plantation in Porto Rico during slavery days.

LEWIS K. THURLOW.

Lewis K. Thurlow of the firm of B. T. Thurlow & Son, 38 South Street, ship chandlers, died yesterday at his home, 136 Cambridge Place, Brooklyn. He was 82 years old. He had been in the shipping business for fifty years and was the son of Belcher T. Thurlow, a sea captain. He had been a member of the Hanson Place Baptist Church of Brooklyn for fifty years, serving as treasurer during part of that time.

Funeral services will be held at the Fairchild Chapel, 86 Lefferts Place, Brooklyn, at 8 o'clock tonight. He is survived by two sons, Mark D., and John M., a daughter, Miss Edith A., and four grandchildren.

David Whitall Garrigues.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 12.—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for David Whitall Garrigues, a descendant of Richard Stockton, first signer of the Declaration of Independence for New Jersey. He was also a descendant of Ann Whitall, heroine of the battle of Red Bank during the Revolution. Mr. Garrigues died at the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital on Saturday at the age of 78. He had been an expert accountant.

DAN DUCROW, 75, DIES; FAMOUS CIRCUS CLOWN

Man Who Made Crowds All Over the World Laugh Succumbs in Pittsburgh Attic.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12.—The last of the famous Ducrow Brothers is dead. In the attic of a rooming house in Sarah Street, Dan Ducrow, who as a clown in the famous circuses of the world, made thousands laugh, died alone—a trouper to the end.

Mr. Ducrow had an engagement to act as a clown at the Shriners' picnic on July 18 at Kennywood Park. His friends advised him not to fill the engagement, as he was past seventy-five years of age and becoming feeble. He insisted that a Ducrow had never failed to appear when advertised, and during the performance in the blazing sun he dropped over in a faint and had to be taken home.

Mr. Ducrow's old scrapbook disclosed that he was born in California in 1855 and had joined the Great World Circus, when he was 9 years old, as a trick-mule rider. For nine years he toured the Orient, Hawaii, Australia, China and the East Indies with this pioneer circus outfit.

Then he became a somersaulter with the Montgomery & Queen Circus and worked with the minstrels McIntyre and Heath when they were with the Sells Brothers' wagon show.

A two-season tour of Mexico followed with the Orrin Brothers' circus, after which he remained twelve years in Cuba as the star clown in the Pubillones Circus.

In more recent years he trouped with Barnum & Bailey & Ringling Brothers, where with his brother, Tote Ducrow, and another, he formed the Ducrow Brothers' clown act, an outstanding feature in circus history.

ABRAM D. WILT DEAD; PIONEER EDUCATOR

Originator of Case System of Business Instruction Was Active in Civic Reform.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW CANAAN, Conn., Aug. 12.—Abram Darst Wilt Sr., for many years a resident of Dayton, Ohio, and known throughout the United States as a pioneer business educator as well as a leader in civic betterment movements, died today at the home here of his son, A. D. Wilt Jr. He was 88 years old.

Born in 1842 in Dayton, he gained his early business experience in the factory of his father, a rifle manufacturer. In 1860 he became imbued with the idea that business should be taught in the same way as a profession, and with E. C. Babbitt, father of Professor Irving Babbitt of Harvard University, founded the Miami Commercial College at Dayton. Not having text books, he originated the case system of business instruction, which has been expanded and developed in recent years by leading universities. He was president of the college for fifty-five years.

He early urged the city manager form of government, and it was largely through his efforts that the idea of having a city manager and a Bureau of Municipal Research was adopted in Dayton. He was a member of the Dayton School Board and chairman of its library committee. For some years he was chairman of the Dayton Normal School. He was also a member of the board of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Wilt was appointed Postmaster of Dayton when John Wanamaker was Postmaster General.

Mr. Wilt was a lifelong member of the Unitarian Church. He is survived by a widow, the former Mary Ella Bickman; two daughters, Mrs. Jerome B. Thomas of Palo Alto, Cal., and Mrs. William Haskell Schweppe of New Canaan, and a son, A. D. Wilt Jr., now of New Canaan and a former resident of Detroit.

SILHOUETTE PRODIGY DIES.

J. C. Jones, 21-Year-Old Wheelchair Artist, Had Won National Fame.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 12 (AP).—Joseph Cranston Jones, 21-year-old silhouette artist of national fame, died here yesterday.

An invalid for nineteen years, this prodigy's talent drew acclaim from masters. He was afflicted by tuberculosis of the spine when he was two years old and had to spend his life in a wheel chair. Some Atlanta women showed his work to widely known artists and Joseph was proclaimed a genius, whose pictures soon became well known among silhouette collectors. He could not fill all requests for his work.

PHILIP HEEGE, ACTOR, DIES.

He Had Appeared in "Divided Honors" and Other Broadway Plays.

Philip Heege, 43 years old, an actor who has appeared in Broadway productions, died yesterday. Among the more recent plays in which Mr. Heege appeared were "Back Here," in 1928, and "Divided Honors," 1929. He was also a member of the cast of "The Barker," a success which ran in 1927.

Charles W. Williams.

Special to The New York Times.

KENSINGTON, Conn., Aug. 12.—Charles W. Williams, native of Kensington and veteran mail carrier, died today at his home here after a long illness. He had been handling the mails here for more than fifty years. He was 69 years old. He retired in 1927. While in the department he served under seven postmasters.

Leo E. Rigby,

Special to The New York Times.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Aug. 12.—Leo E. Rigby of 250 Fourth Street, a World War naval veteran and an expert machinist employed by the United States Tool Company at Ampere, N. J., died today in the Alexian Brothers Hospital here from a cerebral hemorrhage. His age was 42. He was born in this city, the son of Roderick and the late Anna Rigby.

Dies at 104, Leaves 66 Descendants.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 12 (AP).—George Abelson, 104 years old, died at his home here today. He was born Oct. 7, 1825, at Kalem, Russia, and same to this country in 1913. Eight children, forty-four grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren survive.

GEN. SMITH-DORRIEN, HERO OF MONS, DIES

HAD BRILLIANT WAR RECORD

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien, one of the outstanding British Generals of the World War, died today at Chippenham Cottage Hospital from injuries received in a motor accident last night. He was 72 years old. Sir Horace is remembered as the man who dared to disobey an order to retreat at the battle of Le Cateau in 1914.

Sir Horace had spent the week-end with Colonel and Mrs. Rex Osborne at Malmesbury and was riding with them in their car when it collided at a crossroad with a smaller car. The Osborne automobile was overturned and Sir Horace was thrown against the roof the car and rendered unconscious. Mrs. Osborne, who was thrown through one of the windows, escaped injury, but Colonel Osborne and two others in the party were taken to the hospital to be treated for cuts and shock. Lady Smith-Dorrien motored to the hospital as soon as she learned of the accident and was with her husband when he died. He never regained consciousness after the accident.

Won for Allies, von Kluck's View.

LONDON, Aug. 12 (Canadian Press).—"Smith-Dorrien saved the war for the Entente by disobeying orders." This was the verdict of the German commander, Field Marshal Von Kluck, on the action of a General who opposed him in the early days of the war.

Sir John French, after the battle, commended Smith-Dorrien, but later appeared to change his mind, asserting that the stand at Le Cateau was made unnecessarily.

The British official history of the war, nevertheless, supports the action of Smith-Dorrien, and the most prominent German commanders agree with the verdict of von Kluck.

Served British Army Half-Century.

General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien rose to the rank of full General in the British Army in the course of a military career extending over a full half-century and including a wide range of active service. The climax of his career, and likewise the military strategy which aroused the greatest controversy in which he was involved, occurred in the course of the retreat from Mons, in August, 1914, when he commanded the Second Corps of the British Expeditionary Force, which was rushed over to France at the outbreak of the war.

During the heroic stand on Aug. 26 of that year of the Second Corps at Le Cateau, where the vastly larger German forces under von Kluck were repulsed, with 7,812 British casualties, Field Marshal Sir John French, then in command of the British forces in France, had ordered a retreat. General Smith-Dorrien thought the order, if carried out, would mean disaster, and his sentence to his staff in a little room at Bertry, "Very well, gentlemen, we will fight," made military history.

That stand of the Second Corps was made after General Smith-Dorrien found his force in a dangerously exposed position, one flank wholly "in the air" and the other connecting with other British units. Had he chosen to retreat, his corps would have been left with an unguarded flank. His soldiers were exhausted after several days of steady retreat and were entirely without protection, there having been no time to "dig in."

General Smith-Dorrien chose what he deemed to be the lesser of two evils. His exhausted troops, he maintained, could not have begun their retreat until well after dawn, when they would have been exposed to decimating fire from the enemy. Accordingly he replied to the retreat order by notifying headquarters that it was impracticable, and that he would remain to fight. He received back a qualified sanction from Marshal French.

Blamed by Marshal French.

Although in dispatches immediately following the engagement Marshal French gave high praise to General Smith-Dorrien, he later blamed him, and the occasion was the beginning of disharmony between the two officers. Marshal French subsequently maintained that the heavy casualties suffered at Le Cateau were a severe handicap to the British for many months thereafter.

General Smith-Dorrien, however, when he wrote of the affair some years later, defended his action on the results which followed it. Not only did it provide a check to the German onrush, he argued, but it saved his own command from an even more costly retreat than the engagement itself proved to be. It also saved the adjoining English forces, he affirmed, from the danger of a flanking movement by the Germans, which might have wiped out whole divisions.

General Smith-Dorrien was born May 26, 1858. He had his schooling at Harrow, and in 1876 entered the Derby Regiment of Sherwood Foresters. His first war service was in the Zulu War in 1879 and he served in Egypt in the campaigns of 1882 and 1884, as well as in the Soudan campaign during the following year. After his Egyptian service he was transferred to India, where he again saw active service. He took part in the Chitral relief force in 1895, and the Tirah campaign in 1897.

Gallantry Won Him Promotions.

Throughout this early part of his career, he was frequently mentioned in dispatches and his gallantry won him rapid promotion. In 1898 he served in the Boer War, being promoted to the rank of major general at that time. Then came several years more of service in India, followed by his promotion to lieutenant general and his appointment to the Aldershot command in 1907. He served there until 1912, and was then made a full general.

After the Le Cateau engagement General Smith-Dorrien remained in France for some time, but he felt that Marshal French had a growing lack of confidence in him. Finally he asked to be relieved of his command on the ground that the lack of harmony between him and his commanding officer was detrimental to the English cause. He was recalled to England and served throughout the latter part of the war as Governor of Gibraltar.

PLAN WORK BY 1932 ON NARROWS TUNNEL

COST PUT AT $78,000,000

War Department Approval Is Expected Within a Month—Tentative Plans Revealed.

Work on the proposed vehicular tunnel under the Narrows connecting Staten Island and Brooklyn is expected to start during 1932, it was learned yesterday. The War Department, whose permission is necessary before this work is begun, is expected to approve the project within the next month, it was said.

Following the announcement by John A. Lynch, Borough President of Richmond, who said recently that the Staten Island terminus of this project would be a plaza in the St. George region, and that it would be completed within five years, the tentative plans of the Board of Transportation, calling for an exit and entrance in the vicinity of Ninety-seventh Street, Brooklyn, also were revealed yesterday.

According to these plans the tunnel will run from a plaza on Staten Island situated on the Hyland Boulevard near Bay Street to its Brooklyn end in Fort Hamilton at Ninety-seventh Street. The traffic coming out of the tunnel at the latter point will enter the plaza contemplated by Board of Transportation engineers and turn into Ninety-seventh Street, thence by way of a new street into Ninety-first Street. Thence the traffic will be carried into Fifth Avenue, which in turn will feed a widened Fourth Avenue.

Fourth Avenue then will carry the motorists into the Grand Army Plaza which, according to plans filed with the Board of Estimate by the borough presidents of Queens and Brooklyn, will be the Brooklyn terminus of the proposed Brooklyn-Queens Express Highway. Automobiles will be able to move quickly into any of the other boroughs by way of the interborough traffic arteries, proposed by the Planning Commission of New York and its Environs.

Special roads to act as traffic feeders to the Staten Island entrance and exit of the tunnel also are being planned. The Board of Estimate appropriated last year $2,000,000 for the preliminary work on the tunnel. Soundings of the depth of the portions of the Narrows involved are being carried out now by Board of Transportation engineers.

The total cost of this tunnel is estimated at more than $78,000,000.

HIRSCH IS REPRIEVED IN DENTIST MURDER

Execution to Await Goltz Trial—Auburn Convicts, Doomed to Die Next Week, Ask Clemency.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP).—Governor Roosevelt granted a reprieve today to Hyman Hirsch, whose execution had been set for the week of Aug. 25, pending the trial of Samuel (Sunshine) Goltz, recently arrested in connection with the murder of Dr. Jacob Gross, a dentist at 29 Columbus Avenue, New York City.

Appeal for clemency for three Auburn prison inmates now awaiting execution at Sing Sing prison for the murder of Henry Sullivan, a fellow convict, during the prison riot, Dec. 11, 1929, was made to the Governor at a hearing today.

The men, whose execution is set for next week, are Claude Udwin, William Force and Jesse Thomas. John H. Sawyer, District Attorney, and Thomas M. Coburn, Assistant District Attorney, opposed the applications. Harry A. Gleason appeared for Udwin, P. E. Leary for Force and B. C. Mead for Thomas. Mr. Mead told the Governor that the trio were convicted on purely circumstantial evidence, that no one saw who killed Sullivan and that no one knows who did it.

"If these men had not been convicted," he said, "I firmly believe no jury would have convicted them."

Mr. Leary presented a petition to the Governor signed by nine of the twelve jurors who passed judgment on the convicts, asking that they be spared death in the electric chair.

VICE IN JERSEY CITY DENIED.

Safety Chief Exonerates Six Policemen After Open Meeting.

Commissioner John J. Beggans, Director of Public Safety in Jersey City, replied yesterday to criticisms of alleged vice conditions in Jersey City's First Ward by holding an open meeting in the City Hall. He heard complaints by James P. Meehan, former Freeholder, and the Rev. Elijah J. White, Negro pastor. With them he took the statements of six policemen, against whom, to give the hearing official status, he preferred charges of neglect of duty in that they had failed to report and stamp out conditions Mr. Meehan said existed.

The policemen, who denied knowledge of the conditions complained of, were exonerated by Commissioner Beggans and ordered back to duty. When Mr. Meehan failed to get permission to place in evidence some written testimony, he charged the commissioner with "steam roller" tactics and with being biased.

Yesterday, also, Commissioner Joseph A. Clark, Director of Public Safety in Hoboken, sent a letter to John Drewen, Hudson County Prosecutor, denying Mr. Drewen's charge that he had permitted a raided gambling establishment to reopen a few hours after it had been shut down by the Prosec[illegible]or's office.

FIND MISSING COS COB MAN.

Relatives Learn Walter Stebbins Is Visiting in Mechanicsville.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 12.—Walter Stebbins, missing from his home in Cos Cob here since Aug. 4, was found last night in Mechanicsville, N. Y., where he was with a cousin of the family. Mrs. Walter Stebbins, his mother, left early today for Mechanicsville.

Mr. Stebbins's health had been impaired for some time and he was receiving treatment at the office of Dr. W. L. Post in New York. He went to the physician's office on Aug. 4 and complained to Dr. Post that he was not feeling well, but after resting for about three-quarters of an hour he said he was better and would have to get back to work in Cos Cob.

Residents said that they had seen him in Cos Cob later, and his 10-year-old son told his mother that he had seen his father, but that when the latter saw the boy he turned about and ran. Police, firemen and others searched the neighboring woods for him.

GOLD STAR PARTY RETURNS

54 in Negro Group Praise Government's Handling of Pilgrimage.

On the steamer American Merchant, which arrived yesterday from Hamburg and Cherbourg, were fifty-four Negro Gold Star mothers and widows who went to France to visit the burial places of their soldier relatives. Before this group left New York there was a slight controversy and charges were made that the government had not extended the same courtesies as to the white mothers.

Yesterday the Gold Star group subscribed unanimously in praising the government for the opportunity to visit the foreign battlefields.

MALTBIE TO SPEED LIGHT RATE INQUIRY

HILLY ATTACKS VALUATION

REALTY GROUP PROTESTS

Opposes Proposed Plan Because of Likelihood of Rise in Submetering Levy.

Chairman Milo R. Maltbie of the Public Service Commission declined yesterday, at the first hearing on the new electric rates proposed by Matthew S. Sloan of the New York Edison Company, to grant an adjournment of a month, requested by some of the opponents of the new scale.

After the close of the hearing Corporation Counsel Arthur J. W. Hilly, who had not joined in the adjournment request, announced his intention of fighting for a flat 5-cent-per-kilowatt charge for the small residential consumer, without the service charge proposed by the companies headed by Mr. Sloan, and with the rates grading down to 2 cents per kilowatt for the large business consumer of current.

The rate proposed by the companies would be 5 cents for the residential consumer instead of 7 as at present, but with a flat 60-cent service charge. This would increase the rates slightly for 59 per cent of the retail consumers, Mr. Hilly declared at the hearing. The companies proposing the new rates, affiliated with the New York Edison Company and all members of the Consolidated Gas Company group, are the Brooklyn Edison Company, the New York and Queens Electric Light and Power Company and the United Electric Light and Power Company.

All four companies were represented at yesterday's hearing by former Judge William L. Ransom. Mr. Ransom said he also represented the Bronx Borough Gas and Electric Company in the case, apparently as an observer. Mr. Sloan was present, as well as all the members of the Public Service Commission except George R. Van Namee, in the offices of the commission, at 120 Broadway.

Seeks to Speed Case.

Harold J. Treanor, representing the Real Estate Board of New York, asked for an adjournment of the hearings until Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for the protesting real estate interests, returns from abroad. The Real Estate Board is opposed to the new rates because of the likelihood of an increase in submetering charges. His request was denied by Mr. Maltbie.

"The commission wants to progress this case as rapidly as possible," he said. "There are now two service-charge cases which have been pending before the commission for months. We do not intend that this case shall be continued month after month. We want to proceed as expeditiously as possible, but at the same time give all a fair chance to be heard. If we adjourned one month now, another adjournment would be wanted after the electric companies had presented their case, so that their figures might be studied before the cross-examination was begun."

Chairman Maltbie then asked Mr. Ransom when the companies would be ready to begin their testimony. Mr. Ransom replied that he had not expected to begin at once, but would be ready by next week. The date of Thursday, Aug. 21, was decided upon, with the understanding that the hearing would continue the next day also, and tentatively the Thursday and Friday of the week following. Mr. Hilly expressed his willingness to proceed at once.

Urges Valuation Cut.

After the hearing, and after discussing the companies' valuation figures with A. S. B. Little, his consulting engineer and rate expert, Mr. Hilly said that the $930,000,000 reproduction cost estimates for the entire group of companies, which have never been tested in court or by the commission, should be shaved by $350,000,000 to arrive at the proper figure.

When this is done, the company will find no difficulty in earning its proper income on a flat 5-cent-per-kilowatt rate for the residential consumer, and grading down to 2 cents for the business organization with a large monthly consumption, on the fair valuation, he said.

He indicated that the city would direct its efforts at the hearings to obtain those rates. He opposed vigorously the proposed 60-cent service charge, to be collected without regard to the amount of current consumed, and also said he would oppose any extension of the minimum bill system now used in Brooklyn and Queens, where the consumer pays $1 per month even if his current consumption does not reach that figure.

He estimated that the combined book value of the companies should be $223,000,000 less than the book value figure of $751,000,000 in the companies' estimates, and that the reproduction cost figure should be the same as, if not less than, the book value, since most of the equipment now in use was purchased at the time when prices for electrical equipment and properties were at their peak.

Groups Oppose Proposal.

Opposition to the proposed rates was manifested at the hearing yesterday by business men and organizations, as well as representatives of residential consumers' organizations. The speakers were confined to brief statements of their views, and an opportunity to say whether they would present testimony of their own or merely wished to cross-examine company witnesses.

Maurice Hotchner represented the Utility Consumers League, Alderman John C. Hawkins the negro residents of Harlem, who would be most affected, he said, by the service charge; D. De V. Harned of Community Council, E. F. Jeffey, representing consumers' organizations; Harry A. Dodd, representing a commercial house, who said more consideration should be given to the large consumers in the way of rate reduction, and Mr. Treanor for the Real Estate Board, who contented himself with the plea for an adjournment.

Methodist Church to Operate Miniature Links to Clear Debt

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 12.—The miniature golf pastime received today the stamp of approval of the Cedar Cliff Methodist Episcopal Church of the Borough of Haledon, officials of which announced that they would operate an 18-hole "Tom Thumb" course to raise money to pay off the church debt and build an addition. The church's "golf committee" said the course would be open for play daily except Sundays, thereby avoiding one hazard that has beset other miniature golf ventures. The course will be opened formally on Saturday by George Bernascone, Mayor of Haledon. The church committee said today that it had closed negotiations for a two-year lease on property on Haledon Avenue, a few blocks from the church building. It will be one of the biggest little golf courses in this region.

MAP NATIONAL PLAN ON NARCOTICS USE

Scientists and Manufacturers Meet With Officials of New Federal Bureau.

DRIVE ON "MEN HIGHER UP"

Main Law Enforcement Action to Be Against Big Suppliers of Illicit Dope, Anslinger Says.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Endorsement of a program to check the illegal use of and to find non-habit-forming substitutes for opium, cocaine and their derivatives was given at a conference here today of scientists and manufacturers with officials of the new Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

Plans of the bureau to concentrate on the elimination of the larger supplies of illicit drugs, seeking out the "men higher up" rather than petty law violators, were announced by H. J. Anslinger, Acting Commissioner of Narcotics.

The conference, held under the chairmanship of Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, was attended by about fifty heads of medical and scientific organizations and representatives of manufacturers and organizations.

The anti-drug program, reported on by Dr. William Charles White, chairman of the drug committee of the National Research Council, will be carried out with the cooperation of the American Medical Association and the American Pharmaceutical Association.

It includes analysis of hospital records and prescriptions of physicians as to the dispensing of narcotics, study of the sale of so-called exempt preparations without prescriptions, a study of morbidity in which the use of drugs is called for and educational efforts among physicians to reduce the use of habit-forming drugs.

Legitimate Use of Opium.

The use of opium in legitimate medical practice in the country is about nine grains per year per capita, requiring the importation of about 140,000 pounds annually, according to a statement by Dr Charles E. Terry of New York of the committee on drug addiction.

Dr. Terry told of the results of narcotic surveys conducted for the year July 1, 1923, to June 30, 1924, in Elmira, N. Y.; Montgomery, Ala.; Sioux City, Iowa; Gary, Ind.; Tacoma, Wash., and El Paso, Texas, and of a survey of Detroit made in 1926. A questionnaire to all hospitals in the United States revealed that the per capita use of opium varies from 3.5 to 17.5 grains a year.

Elmira and Montgomery showed considerably higher averages than the other cities, because in them certain physicians were permitted to prescribe for addicts, Dr. Terry said.

Using Detroit as an example because of his knowledge of conditions there, Mr. Terry said that 510 addicts had been located and 1,200 persons who were periodical users of drugs and who might become addicts. He found that prescriptions for the latter class varied from 2½ to 60 grains on one order, the latter "enough to cause addiction."

Recalling the statement of another speaker that not more than 5 per cent of dentists now give treatment of cocaine, having substituted a more harmless drug, Dr. White said that the National Research Council was studying means of displacing opium, adding:

"If we can replace these addictive drugs with harmless ones we will have accomplished what dentists did through eliminating cocaine."

MORROW FORCED TO REST.

Ambassador's Doctor Orders Him to Ignore Work for a Few Days.

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, Aug. 12 (AP).—Ambassador Morrow said today that he was feeling well but would remain here away from his duties for a few days because his physician in Mexico City had prescribed a complete rest.

The Ambassador was up and about and entirely cheerful. It was expected he would remain at Cuernavaca, where he has a country place, about a week. His indisposition had its beginning in an attack of indigestion which kept him in bed for two days last week.

Special to The New York Times.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Aug. 12.—Douglas G. Thomson, campaign manager for Ambassador Morrow, said here today concerning the Ambassador's health:

"I have received no word that he is very ill. He worked very hard during the campaign and in Mexico and he is taking a needed rest."

Mr. Thomson said Mrs. Morrow had made no change in her plans and would leave Thursday to join her husband in Mexico. She will be accompanied by her youngest daughter, Constance; Mr. and Mrs. John I. Howe and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hulst, all of Englewood and close friends of the Morrow family.

Heads Knights of Pythias.

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 12 (AP).—Leslie E. Crouch, an attorney of Portland, Ore., was elected Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias today at the biennial convention in session here. For the last year he has served as Supreme Vice Chancellor. William Grossman of New York City was named Supreme Vice Chancellor.

EQUITY 'DISTURBED' BY STAGE CRUSADE

Gillmore Says Self-Regulation System Is Expected to Be Instituted in Theatre.

BUT OPPOSES CENSORSHIP

Dr. Fosdick and Rabbi Wise Join in Stand Against Official Curbs—Police Policy Is Hands Off.

The crusade of the Catholic Theatre Movement to rid the New York stage of obscenity and the charges made last Sunday by Mgr. Michael J. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral and the active leader of the crusade, have "extremely disturbed" the Actors' Equity Association, according to a statement made yesterday by Frank Gillmore, its president.

"To prove that the theatre is capable of cleaning up itself" and does not require official censorship, the organization will take steps soon to institute a plan of self-regulation, Mr. Gillmore said. He added that the plan had not yet been worked out. Joining the association in the reiteration of its stand against official censorship were Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who expressed himself as "unchanged" in his opposition to censorship, and the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, who said that "censorship never has done much good."

The Catholic Actors' Guild, while explaining that its function was not that of criticism of theatrical productions, promised its support of the campaign of the Catholic Theatre Movement. Following the refusal of the county grand jury to indict Earl Carroll yesterday for his production of the "Vanities," one of the two productions specifically attacked by the Catholic Theatre Movement, the police adopted a hands-off policy. Commissioner Mulrooney declared that "the court has passed upon the case."

At the offices of the Church and Drama League of America it was said yesterday that "Lysistrata," the second of the two plays under fire, had not been recommended by the league in any of its bulletins as a play considered worthy of mention. Dr. Fosdick, speaking over the telephone from his Summer home on Mouse Island, near Booth Bay in Maine, likewise said that he did not believe the league had endorsed "Lysistrata." Dr. Fosdick is on the board of directors of the league. He refused to comment on the "Vanities" or "Lysistrata," saying that he had seen neither of the productions.

"The drama is one of the most important formative influences in American life," he said, "and without doubt a large part of that influence at present is utterly deplorable. Unless the dramatic producers themselves are willing to clean up the stage, public indignation is sure to try censorship of one form or another. I personally should regret this necessity very much, for censorship never has done much good."

Dr. Wise clarified and expanded on his statement of Monday on the current condition of the stage when he wired yesterday from his Summer home in Lake Placid, N. Y., "his deep and unchanged opposition to censorship or any plan in which inhere the grave evils bound up with every form of governmental censorship."

Gilbert Seldes, who made the current adaptation of "Lysistrata," said last night that "when Cardinal Hayes calls 'Lysistrata' 'a classic of pagan mockery' he not only gives the management a perfect slogan, but indicates exactly why the play deserves public approval."

"The real point is," he continued, "that in a living community there ought to be a place for at least a little mockery. We can't have a theatre eternally given over to the sweet and pretty and we can't have a theatre which spends all its time in praising the present. Actually our theatre has become enormously critical—and much less dirty than one would suspect."

CUTS PROFANITY FROM PLAY.

Brady Meets Criticism of New York Stage by Modifying New Comedy.

Special to The New York Times.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 12.—William A. Brady, producer, met the criticisms of the New York stage tonight by ordering every word of profanity stricken from his new comedy "Cafe," which opened at the Savoy Theatre. His action was prompted he said to "show the public that producers can present clean plays," but, he added, "the grim realism will be missing."

Defending the stage plays now current on the ground that producers are offering only what the American public wants, Mr. Brady agreed that "profanity and lewdness are inexcusable," but the theatregoing public "demands that you give it everything."

"If you are going to clean the American stage you'll have to clean up a good many American minds," he said.

"The protest of the Catholic Church, of which I am a member, backed by Bishop Manning and Rabbi Wise, against profanity, lewdness and shocking stories is quite proper," the producer went on. "We should expect nothing else from them. But in the past their effort has stopped in a simple protest when it lies in their power to demand that their congregations should not go to them."

He remarked that the advance sale for plays always jumps as soon as a protest is made, and held that this clearly proved that the public was primarily responsible.

TELLER, $71,000 GONE; DIRECTORS ASK SEARCH

Laurel (Miss.) Youth Was Chosen for Bank Post Because of High School Marks.

LAUREL, Miss., Aug. 12 (AP).—Edward Jackson, a 25-year-old teller in the First National Bank of Laurel, was reported by the police today to have left Laurel late yesterday in his automobile with $71,000 of the bank's funds and a search was started for him.

The news of the shortage became known today when the directors of the bank asked the police in Tampa, Fla., and New Orleans to watch for the missing teller and called a directors' meeting to take action.

Jackson had been connected with the bank for about six years, having been selected from his graduating class at Laurel High School for a place in the bank because of the high marks he made in his studies.

Air Mail Service Will Have Fireproof Bags To Eliminate .00063 Per Cent Loss From Fire

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The use of fireproof mail bags in the Air Mail Service, which, it is believed, will practically eliminate any loss of mail matter through fire, soon will be inaugurated by the Postoffice Department.

After years of experiments and tests conducted by the Bureau of Standards under the supervision of postal officials, it was announced today by Assistant Postmaster General Glover that the fireproof mail bags would be used on the night Air Mail Service between New York and Chicago beginning not later than Sept. 1. They will be used on other night air mail routes as soon as practicable.

The new fireproof bag is slightly larger than the pouch now used by the Air Mail Service, which is 24 inches wide by 41 inches high. The pouch is made of pure asbestos, with lining, inside and out, of high-grade canvas, is steel-riveted on sides and bottom and has a triple closing device, which prevents flames penetrating the bag through its neck. The staples used in the bag are made of steel and the rivets are also of steel, with copper coating. The pouch is quilted with steel rivets to prevent disintegration of the asbestos in case of fire. It weighs fifteen pounds.

The asbestos used in the construction of the new bag was subjected to an actual fire test and withstood the heat perfectly.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1930, the total mail carried in the air was 7,715,741 pounds, while the mail lost through fire was 4,863 pounds, or a percentage of but .00063.

Mr. Glover, commenting on the slight fire hazard, said: "The government, in adopting the fireproof mail bag, intends to afford every protection to the mail which is carried in the air, in order that the extremely slight loss through fire will be entirely eliminated."

B. M. T. PRICE TANGLE UP AT CONFERENCES

UNTERMYER AT CITY HALL

Significance Lent to Fact He Attends Separate Meeting With the Mayor.

Members of the Transit Commission and the Board of Transportation conferred for nearly three hours yesterday at the commission's offices, 270 Madison Avenue, in the first of a series of meetings aimed at reconciling the widely divergent views held by city and State transit officials regarding the price to be offered the B M T. for the company's rapid-transit lines.

While the two boards, aided by their engineers and accountants, were wrestling with the problem of fixing the basis for valuing the lines for the purpose of including them in a unified rapid-transit system centring on the city's independent network, Mayor Walker was conferring at City Hall with Samuel Untermyer, special counsel for the Transit Commission.

Officials Report Progress.

Neither of the conferences brought forth any definite announcement except a report of "progress." The meeting of the two commissions followed the recent announcement by Mayor Walker that he would formulate his own opinion as to price after receiving detailed memoranda from the Transit Commission and the Board of Transportation setting forth their views. He has asked that individual commissioners submit their personal findings should the two boards fail to reach a unanimous opinion.

It was learned unofficially that the conferences yesterday made little progress toward reconciling the conflicting views regarding the price to be paid the B. M. T. That price, which admittedly will be only a tentative figure, to be used for trading purposes in conferences with the company's representatives later on, will represent the maximum offer. In discussions to date it has been computed as low as $140,000,000 and as high as $228,000,000. The company's engineers have set a tentative valuation of $273,000,000 upon the property, exclusive of a claim for $14,000,000 in accrued preferential payments now carried in a suspense account under the contract with the city.

Danger to Unification.

Unless the series of conferences which began yesterday results in substantial unanimity as to the disputed price element there is grave danger that the pending unification negotiations with the B. M. T. will be futile. This was admitted by transit officials, who declared, however, that the situation was by no means deadlocked. The Transit Commission, theoretically, can go ahead with the negotiations, but its members are known to feel that this would be merely a gesture unless the price and valuation factors which it uses have the approval of Mayor Walker and his associates on the Board of Estimate special committee on unification. This is so because whatever unification scheme and price the commission adopts must be approved by the Board of Estimate under the State law.

Although neither Mayor Walker nor Mr. Untermyer at City Hall would discuss the conference, some significance was attached to the fact that it was held apart from the meeting of the two transit boards. Mr. Untermyer is admittedly the outstanding opponent of any policy which would allow the B. M. T. to transfer its elevated lines to the city on a basis of reproduction cost or upon one which fails to recognize his contention that they should be valued as properties which are operated at a loss. His views have strong support from some members of the Transit Commission.

7,000 DRESSMAKERS PLAN STRIKE HERE

Union Demand for Wage Increase of $2 a Week Not Favored by Employers.

CALL EXPECTED IN 2 WEEKS

Workers on Children's Garments Aim Move Primarily Against Non-Union Sweatshops.

A general strike of 7,000 children's dressmakers within a fortnight became inevitable last night when representatives of a manufacturers' group, conferring with union officials at headquarters of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, 3 West Sixteenth Street, viewed with disfavor the union demand for a $2 weekly increase for the workers.

The other union demands include the forty-two hour five-day week, abolition of the sweatshop and the creation of impartial machinery for the settlement of disputes.

The union conference was held last night with officers of the Infants, Children and Junior Dress Manufacturers' Association, representing twenty-two of the 150 employers in the trade. Louis Kallich, spokesman for the organized employers, said that a wage increase would be an additional burden for the "enlightened manufacturers" at a time when they are forced to meet "the unscrupulous, cut-throat competition of non-union manufacturers." David Dubinsky, secretary-treasurer of the International Union, and Harry Greenberg, manager of Local 91, Children's Dressmakers' Union, declared, however, that wage increases in union shops would serve to inspire non-union workers to attempt to raise their own wage levels and working standards.

The manufacturers' group announced they would submit the union demands to their membership next Monday and give their reply to the union Tuesday. The strike, however, is inevitable, since it will be directed primarily against the non-union shops, which are the preponderant element in the industry. Its duration, however, union officials declared, will depend upon the attitude taken by the manufacturers' association toward the union demands.

Unlike other garment trades, the children's dress industry is highly unorganized, only 1,500 of the 7,000 workers in the trade being union men and women. The workers consist mainly of young girls and women beyond middle age, who, according to the union, are difficult to organize.

Mr. Greenberg said last night that non-union girls average from $8 to $20 a week and average about 32 weeks employment a year. In union shops, he added, the scales range from $14 to $35. Union shops observe the 42-hour, five-day week, while a six-day week ranging from 46 to 50 hours is prevalent in the non-union section of the industry, he said.

In the non-union shops the union is seeking also a 10 per cent increase in wages for piece workers and the establishment of minimum scales.

EX-MAYOR HYLAN ILL.

He Has Tonsilitis—Will Undergo Operation Friday.

Justice John F. Hylan, former Mayor, has been ill with a severe attack of tonsilitis and will enter a hospital, probably the Post-Graduate, for an operation on Friday, it was learned yesterday.

Dr. Frank Richie Herriman of 270 Madison Avenue is Mr. Hylan's physician.

400 Negro Barbers on Strike Here.

Four hundred Negro barbers were on strike yesterday in 200 shops in Harlem and the upper west side. They demand a minimum wage of $30 a week, instead of working on a commission basis as at present; hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. on week days, 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. on Saturdays, with holidays on Christmas, New Year's and Labor Day and half day off on other holidays.

Age-Old Roman Question

Five new books that make it possible to see in perspective the recent historic settlement between Rome and the Holy See are reviewed by Walter Littlefield in The New York Times Book Review next Sunday. These books are: "Peter's City," an account of the origin, development and settlement of the Roman question, by Thomas Ewing Moore, formerly Secretary of the American Embassy at Rome; "The Vatican Council," two volumes by Abbot Dom Cuthbert Butler; "History of the Papacy in the Nineteenth Century," by J. B. Bury, D. Litt, LL. D.; "Rome and the Papacy," by Guilbert Bagnani; "The Decline of the Medieval Church," a definitive study of the forces operating within and without the church from the thirteenth through the fifteenth century, by Alexander Clarence Flick, State Historian of New York.

CLIENT SAYS HE PAID $52,300 TO DOYLE

16 MORE TAKE STAND

Total Fees for 3 Years Brought to $364,062—Tuttle Plans to Close Case Today.

Testifying yesterday in Federal Court as one of the closing witnesses for the government in the trial of William F. Doyle, a Bronx builder asserted that he paid the veterinarian $52,300 in fees during the past three years for appearing for him before the Board of Standards and Appeals.

Under questioning by United States Attorney Tuttle, who will complete today the presentation of evidence against Doyle, Ely Maran, the builder, declared that at Doyle's specific request $31,500 of this sum was paid in cash. Several other witnesses also testified to making payments in cash.

Mr. Maran was one of sixteen witnesses whom Doyle represented and who increased by their testimony the total of his fees by $77,145 during the day. This, added to fees previously testified to, brought the total of such receipts of the veterinarian to $364,062 for the years 1927, 1928 and 1929. Doyle, who is charged with income tax evasion and perjury, swore in his tax returns for those years that his income from fees was $229,075.

Ninety Witnesses Heard.

The afternoon session of the trial was cut short by half an hour when Mr. Tuttle ran out of witnesses, and he announced that he would finish his case this morning. While it was announced early in the trial that about 250 clients of Doyle would be called, a total of ninety had appeared up to and including yesterday. A few more will take the stand today, but government counsel said they had been unable to locate about twenty witnesses.

The defense is expected to open this afternoon with the calling of witnesses to show that Doyle split some of his fees with them, and that when these splits were deducted from the gross the remainder constituted the sums he named in his tax returns as his gross income.

Mr. Maran, president of the Goldran Realty Corporation, testified that he made the $52,300 fee payments to Doyle for appearances before the Standards Board in nine applications of his company for zone changes to permit erection of stores and garages in the Bronx.

Paid $17,500 for Zoning Change.

The witness said that in each case a retainer of $500 or less was paid and the balance was turned over to the veterinarian after the application was presented successfully. The largest fee was $17,500, including a $12,500 cash payment for a zone change at Grand Concourse and Van Courtlandt Avenue. Another large fee for an application for a zone change at Sedgwick and Van Courtlandt Avenues was $15,500, of which $10,000 was in cash.

Other fees he testified to for zone changes included West Tremont and University Avenues, $2,500 cash, $2,850 check; Boston Road and Vyse Avenue, $1,750 cash, $2,100 check; Webster Avenue and Gun Hill Road, $2,000 cash, $1,500 check; Morrison and Westchester Avenues, $1,500 cash; $1,250 check; Sedgwick and Kingsbridge Avenues, $1,250 cash, $1,750 check; Tiebout Avenue and 184th Street, $500 check (the application failed); Bronx Park and White Plains Road, $350 check.

Insists He Paid Doyle.

Samuel Falk, associate defense counsel, tried on cross-examination to break down his allegations of cash payments, but the witness, apparently annoyed, burst out: "I made those payments to Dr. Doyle and nobody else, and I am saying it again." When Mr. Tuttle took up the examination again briefly, he asked why the builder had retained Doyle and paid him such large fees when others were practicing before the board.

"I was satisfied with Dr. Doyle. We got along all right," said Mr. Maran.

"He got results?" suggested Mr. Tuttle.

Mr. Falk objected to this and the witness said he retained Doyle "because I knew he understood the business."

Philip Gottfried, another client, who said he paid a $1,250 check to Doyle for putting through a garage permit, testified to the general reputation Doyle enjoyed for success and power as an advocate before the board. Former Judge Alfred J. Talley, defense counsel, asked him how it was he retained Doyle and the witness replied:

"Well, it was common knowledge that he was the right man to go to."

Joseph Di Dominico, a lawyer, was another witness who testified he paid in cash. He said he made a cash payment of $3,500 to the veterinarian for getting a garage permit. Eric Ort also said he paid his $250 fee to Doyle in cash. Unable to locate witnesses in nine miscellaneous cases, Mr. Tuttle put these fee payments of $3,445 into the record by recalling Herbert Nevins, a teller in the Flatbush branch of the Corn Exchange Bank, to the stand to identify checks presented there by Doyle. Here is a list of the clients who testified, the amounts they paid and the type of case involved:

Client.	Fee.	Case.
Floyd S. Sanford	$1,250	Fire order
Isadore Politnik	3,800	Zoning

Dismisses Suratt Plagiarism Suit.

A suit brought three years ago by Valeska Suratt, vaudeville and motion-picture actress, against Cecil B. De Mille and four other defendants, charging that her scenario, "Mary Magdalen," had been plagiarized in the production "King of Kings," was dismissed yesterday by Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman. In addition to Mr. De Mille, Jeannie McPherson, author of "King of Kings," Will H. Hays, the Cecil B. De Mille Pictures and the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., were defendants.

Will Rogers Sees One Good In 'Premature Golf Courses'

To the Editor of the New York Times:

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 12.—All I know is just what I read in the papers, and that's an alibi for my ignorance. But today I read where there has been $125,000,000 spent on these "premature golf courses." That's great. While it hasn't helped anybody's golf game, or given anybody any exercise, it's been a wonderful help to labor. And the sellers of material. And its benefits have been distributed all over the whole country, so bring on some more nut ideas if they will do that much good.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

WOMEN DRYS URGE FLINT FOR GOVERNOR

Mrs. Colvin Says Republicans Are Pressing the Syracuse Chancellor to Make Race.

Koenig and Steinbrink Back Him in Talk With Maier — Victor Warns Chairman on Wet Plank.

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, State president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, announced yesterday that efforts were being made by a group of up-State Republican women to persuade Chancellor C. W. Flint of Syracuse University to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Mrs. Colvin said Chancellor Flint would be most acceptable to the drys. "His nomination would solve the problem so far as we are concerned," she said.

Dr. Flint is regarded as a militant dry. Invited recently to join the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, he wrote former Senator James W. Wadsworth challenging the sincerity and motives of the association. Asked about the possibility of being a candidate, Dr. Flint said he had not been approached and had nothing to say.

Leaders of the Republican State organization here professed ignorance of any attempt to make Dr. Flint a gubernatorial candidate. The Syracuse Republican organization, headed by Clarence R. King, is wet and has State Senator George R. Fearon, who declared recently for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, as a possible candidate.

Tuttle Continues to Gain.

United States Attorney Tuttle of this city continues to be regarded as the most probable nominee. Mr. Tuttle's boom received additional impetus yesterday when State Chairman William J. Maier saw three New York city leaders, Samuel S. Koenig, New York County chairman; Meier Steinbrink, Brooklyn leader, and Alfred L. Breor, Richmond County chairman. Mr. Koenig and Mr. Steinbrink are understood to have told Mr. Maier that they regarded Mr. Tuttle, because of his ability to capitalize the Tammany graft issue, as the most available candidate.

Mr. Steinbrink, while declaring that he would seek to reflect the wet sentiment of the Brooklyn organization by trying to bring about the adoption of a repeal plank, said he did not believe prohibition would be the paramount issue of the campaign.

"From now on I am going to stress Tammany corruption," Mr. Steinbrink said.

Victor Also Visits Maier.

Another who called on Mr. Maier was Fred A. Victor, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, who has been urging the State chairman to hold fast to his program of preventing the adoption of a repeal plank at the State convention.

"If the Republican party wants to commit suicide, it will adopt a repeal plank," Mr. Victor said. "There is no truth in the assertion of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler that the adoption of a wet platform by both Republicans and Democrats would take the prohibition issue out of politics in this State. Such action would compel the establishment of a dry party. There certainly would be a dry candidate for Governor."

Some comment was caused by a call on Mr. Maier by Associate Judge Frederick E. Crane of the Court of Appeals, who has been mentioned frequently in the past as a possible Republican nominee for Governor. Both Judge Crane and Mr. Maier denied that the former's call had any political significance.

MAN DIES IN SURF RESCUE.

Another Saves 2 Children He Went to Aid at Sea Isle City, N. J.

Special to The New York Times.

SEA ISLE CITY, N. J., Aug. 12.—An unidentified elderly man lost his life in an effort to rescue two children from the surf at Whale Beach this afternoon. The children were rescued by another man.

Whale Beach, in the northern section of this city, is unprotected by guards, and the man plunged into the water when he saw the children being swept out. Before he reached them he became exhausted and sank. Meanwhile another man who had plunged into the surf after the children brought them in. He returned for the sinking man, who was unconscious when brought in. Coast Guardsmen and a physician were unable to revive him.

Man Who Dodged Hospital Bills Aided Pennsylvania Institutions.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—Under the will of William Snodgrass, 73, a recluse who died in Los Angeles last week after refusing to pay for hospital treatment, the Pennsylvania and Presbyterian Hospitals of this city and the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown, Pa., each will receive one-third of $200,000 which Mr. Snodgrass left in a bank vault in the California city.

The Philadelphia institutions were informed of the bequest by David J. Myers, a lawyer here, who drew the will for Mr. Snodgrass, formerly a Philadelphian, more than twenty years ago.

POLICE IN SHAKE-UP AT ATLANTIC CITY

ORDERS LAGGARDS OUSTED

Gives Officials 24 Hours to Suspend or Dismiss Them and Promote "Honest" Men.

PLANS TO IMPRESS NATION

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 12.—Angered over the continued activities of crooks and other undesirables, and by the lack of cooperation of the Police Department, Mayor Bacharach, in a conference with Director of Public Safety William S. Cuthbert and Chief of Police Patrick Doran today, ordered a radical shake-up in the department within the next twenty-four hours.

He demanded that inefficient men be suspended or dismissed, and that efficient and honest members of the force be promoted to fill the vacancies.

Mayor Checks Police Work.

The Mayor has been making a double check by personal observation and by means of private agencies. He has visited the Boardwalk and other sections of the city nightly since becoming Mayor to determine personally how the police are conducting themselves.

"I have just had an interview with Commissioner Cuthbert and Chief Doran," said the Mayor, "and I told them that a large number of the officers and detectives of the department must think they are kidding their superior officers, but they are not kidding me a bit. While some improvement has been made in the morale of the force since I have been Mayor, and while something has been done to get rid of undesirables and crooks, yet it has not been what I had hoped for and what I believe the public has a right to expect.

"If I accomplish nothing else while I am Mayor I shall impress the country with the fact that Atlantic City is not a place that tolerates crooks, but is a resort where they will be treated summarily. I am through talking to the Police Department and I have demanded a reduction in rank of the inefficient and that suspensions shall take place in the department within the next twenty-four hours. There are men who are performing their duty and I have recommended that they be advanced to take the places of the men who are not doing their duty."

Vice Crusade Started This Year.

Atlantic City was shaken by a vice crusade early this year. It involved sensational charges against the police, various administration heads and included even the late Anthony M. Ruffu Jr., then Mayor. Ministers at the resort and heads of reform organizations maintained that disorderly houses, gambling dens and other forms of vice thrived under police protection; that graft was rampant.

Mayor Ruffu was indicted on fourteen counts involving alleged illegal transactions in insurance, but after a trial was acquitted. Later he was killed in an automobile accident, and Mr. Bacharach was named as his successor.

SAW NO RUM 'PIRATES' ON E BARGE AT PIER

Eyewitness Denies Story of Captain and Mate in $130,000 Seizure on City Craft.

Isaac Baum, assistant inspector of the Street Cleaning Department, appeared yesterday before Robert B. Watts, Assistant United States Attorney, and told an eyewitness story of the docking, July 30, of the Barge E, city garbage scow, seized that day by prohibition agents who found liquor valued at $130,000 aboard.

Baum, who later appeared before a Federal grand jury which is investigating circumstances that led to the seizure, denied the story told by Leonardo and Vincenzo San Martino, captain and mate of the barge, who said the "pirates," armed with pistols, had boarded the scow and put 800 bags of liquor aboard.

The "pirates," according to the San Martinos, remained on board the scow until it docked at the Roosevelt Street pier at the East River, and still kept the crew of the scow under guard until the liquor had been transferred to trucks on the city ash dump.

Baum told Mr. Watts that he had been on duty at the dock from 4:30 P. M. until midnight preceding the raid. He said he had witnessed the shifting of the scow from one position to another before it was finally tied to the pier. No one, he said, armed with a pistol or any other weapon, had threatened the San Martinos or any one else. The boat, he said, was moved about with the aid of a winch, and there was no sign of a "pirate" anywhere. The inquiry will continue today.

POLICE SERGEANT A SUICIDE

E. P. Donovan, Sitting in His Auto, Shoots Himself With Service Pistol.

Police Sergeant Edward P. Donovan, 49 years old, of 517 West 161st Street, committed suicide early last evening by shooting himself through the right temple with his service pistol as he sat in his own automobile in Exterior Street, the Bronx, not far from the Macomb's Dam Bridge.

Donovan, who had been on sick leave since Aug. 3, was to have begun duty at the Tremont police station at midnight following a transfer from the Highbridge station. He had attempted yesterday to have the transfer rescinded and also to be exempted from desk and signal monitor duty on the ground that he was hard of hearing. He is believed to have been despondent over failure to obtain the desired order. Donovan was unmarried and had been on the force for twenty-one years.

CONSTIPATION IS A HEALTH THIEF

Drive It from Your System with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Constipation steals the best out of your life. Robs you of strength, vitality, health itself! And many people do not realize that perpetual fatigue, coated tongues, bad breath, are often signs that constipation is in their system.

You must move poisonous wastes out of your system and keep them moving. But there's a right way and a wrong way. Pills, drugs and ordinary cathartics give but temporary relief—and their dose must be constantly increased to be effective.

The great natural cleanser is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. A tasty cereal, which brings you iron for blood building—and, above all, corrects constipation. The abundant roughage in ALL-BRAN gently and naturally sweeps out poisonous wastes and impurities.

Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN. It's guaranteed. Two tablespoonfuls daily. Recurring cases—with every meal.

You'll like the nut-like flavor of ALL-BRAN. Eat it in many ways. Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Make muffins with it. At all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants, dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

RUTH ST. DENIS DANCES AT STADIUM

With Ted Shawn and Denishawn Troupe Opens Season Before Big Audience.

CAMBODIAN BALLET GIVEN

Several Other New Dances Offered —The Philharmonic Provides Musical Setting.

In spite of the chill of the evening a large audience assembled at the Stadium last night to see the opening performance of Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn Dancers in their fourth season of dancing out-of-doors with the Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra. Though overcoats were the approved apparel only the outside sections of the amphitheatre were partially unoccupied.

If, however, enthusiasm appeared to be a trifle less than has been the custom at these performances, the whole blame cannot be placed upon the weather, for the program proved to be somewhat under the average of past seasons. This was due in part to the fact that Miss St. Denis's solo opportunities were less ample than they might have been. Indeed, except for incidental dances in the "Buddhist Festival" and the "Angkor-Vat Ballet," her only individual number was the Brahms Waltz and Liszt's Liebestraum combination, which is by now so familiar that it is entitled to be classified as hackneyed. Even Miss St. Denis's animated performance of it has become forced and lacking in freshness.

The special feature of the program was the Cambodian ballet called "Ankor-Vat—a Legendary Ballet of a Khmerian Day," with music by Sol Cohen. This, to all intents and purposes is a new composition, even if the rumor is true that it was produced originally a number of years ago. But though it has been carefully staged, with a special set by Cleon Throckmorton and elaborate lighting effects, it is long, pretentious and dull. Even the outré attitudes of the Cambodian dance cannot hide the essential banality of the design.

Other dances which were apparently new, though nothing was so indicated in the program, were Mr. Shawn's "Metal Fantasy," "Osage-Pawnee Dance of Greeting" and "Group Dance for Male Ensemble" and "Ronde," arranged and danced by Klarna Pinska, with the assistance of a group of six. This last number is something in the nature of an experiment, in that it is an effort by a group of young Jewish dancers to "express themselves," according to the program notes, "by the traditional Denishawn Music Visualization principles." As one of Miss Pinska's earliest efforts in dance composition of this sort, it reveals a certain promise.

Mr. Shawn's two solo dances named above were strictly in his familiar personal idiom, and his group composition, though bearing earmarks of his recent study in Germany, is substantially in the same tradition. In fact, the program ran too perilously near the beaten track to contain anything either stimulating or novel. In this sameness, however, there lies also the virtue of reasonably sure audience response, for no matter how much the esthetic achievements of Denishawn may be criticized, its ability to strike the note that arouses applause is never to be questioned.

In addition to the dances mentioned, the program included "Valse Extase," danced by a group of nine; the perennial "Josephine and Hippolyte" of Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn; and a revival of "The Lamp," the ballet inspired by William Blake's drawings and set to the music of Liszt's "Les Preludes," which was first performed at the stadium two years ago.

The same program will be given again tonight and tomorrow night.

NEW PLAYS ARE READY FOR SEASON'S OPENING

"Cafe" and "Torch Song" Will Open Here During Week After Next—Other Dates Announced.

Opening dates of several of the season's new productions were learned yesterday.

"Cafe," by Marya Mannes, which opened in Asbury Park on Monday night, is announced to come to the Ritz Theatre the week after next, on a night as yet unspecified. It is being produced by William A. Brady. Also scheduled for a premiere during the week of the 25th is Arthur Hopkins's production of "Torch Song," coming to the Plymouth. The play, which is the work of Kenyon Nicholson, is now in rehearsal for a second time, following a recent try-out.

"The Up and Up," an underworld play by the authors of "Subway Express," will open at the Biltmore Theatre on Sept. 1, probably without preliminary performances.

"The Long Road," recently tried in Boston under the title of "Wound Stripes," will open at the Longacre on Sept. 8. It is the work of Hugh Stange, and will have Otto Kruger in its chief rôle.

Also scheduled for early September is George M. Cohan's production of Louis K. Anspacher's play, "Symphony and Jazz," previously known as "Release." It is scheduled for the Cort.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

George Manker Watters, co-author of "Burlesque," has placed in rehearsal a play of his own authorship called "The American Tempo." In the cast are Vivienne Osborne and Walter Baldwin.

Frederick Worlock and Edward Crandall have been engaged for the Zoe Akins play, "The Greeks Had a Word for It."

Frederick Lonsdale arrived in New York yesterday from Hollywood. His play, "Canaries Sometimes Sing," is to be offered here early in the season.

Jan Fabricius, the Dutch author of "Insult," which is soon to be produced here, will pay his first visit to America next month.

"Blind Mice" is the new title of the all-feminine play now in rehearsal, with Claiborne Foster in its chief rôle. Winifred Lenihan is co-author of the play, as well as director.

"Clipped Wings," a play by Allen de Lano, will be tried out in Woodstock on Aug. 16 and 17 by a new producing organization called the New Yorkers. Gladys Hurlbut and Robert St. Clair will head the cast.

"This Present Greatness," by Knowles Entrikin, will have its first performance tonight in Quogue, L. I. It is being produced by the Hampton Players of Southampton.

THE PLAY

By J. BROOKS ATKINSON.

The War, Old Style.

SUSPENSE, a melodrama in three acts, by Patrick MacGill. Staged by Reginald Denham; scenery by W. Oden Waller; produced by Charles Dillingham by arrangement with Hutter and MacGregor of London. At the Fulton Theatre.

Nobby	Henry Vincent
Spud	Bernard Savage
Officer	Perry Norman
N. C. O.	Frank Horton
Pettigrew	John Halloran
Scruffy	Charles Dalton
Corporal Brown	Alfred Ayre
Lomax	Seth Arnold
Brett	Herbert Ranson
Sergeant McLusky	Reynolds Denniston
Captain Wilson	Lionel Pape
Young Soldier	Charles Dill

Although Patrick MacGill's "Suspense," which was acted at the Fulton last evening, is a war drama with an all-male cast, "Journey's End" need not look to its laurels. For seldom has a war play seemed so hollow and synthetic. Acted by an ill-assorted company, it blurts out the usual red-fire oaths, takes rather a fancy to the regulation obscenities, "stands to" and "stands down," all in good order, but despite a pictorial final act it never quite steps off the stage of a theatre. It is the work of an Irish fiction writer. Last Spring it received some acclaim in London. Although Reginald Denham, who staged the original production, has staged this one also, his company lacks talent and the performance lacks symmetry. After "What Price Glory" and "Journey's End," a dull war play seems as tasteless as a cracker from the bottom of the barrel.

The "Suspense" of the title refers to the mine that the Germans are laying. Under the dugout occupied by a British company composed largely of mud-bespattered veterans the clink of mining tools is fairly steady. Hearing that weird, relentless digging, the new recruit goes out of his head and makes an insane leap across no-man's land. But the others take it soberly. Scruffy, who is out of the "Old Bill" matrix, reknits his one sock countless times, meanwhile talking good-naturedly of this and that and the women. "Alleluia," who is the religious one, talks of the day of judgment with a monotonous pulpit inflection. Lomax degenerates from one orgy of cursing into another more flaming and picturesque by far. They are out of the dugout in the last act and well on the way to the rear. But while they are resting in the mud beside the duckboards they hear the mine blow up. In the subsequent attack in the livid glare of the night they are all wounded or killed.

Like "Journey's End," Suspense" is plotless. Like "Journey's End" in minor particulars, it begins with the arrival of the relief. The relieving party is one of the oldest companies in the British Army, and includes among its hardened veterans one young soldier who has never been in the line before and whose sister is the captain's fiancée. In fact, "Suspense" is in more than one exterior aspect the enlisted man's counterpart of the heavily commissioned "Journey's End." But the similarity goes no deeper. Behind "Journey's End" you may feel the overpowering doom of war as the fatal protagonist in conflict with men whose characters are fully imagined. Behind "Suspense" there is hardly more than the war-play formula, and a gift of factitious gab.

Such a strained, unnatural argot, in fact, that even when an articulate actor speaks it you suspect that it has no relation to living creatures. Most of the actors treat it as if it were loaded. They seem relieved when they have tossed off a line before it has exploded. Occasionally Mr. MacGill sets them to singing, anything from "Sweet and Low" to that infamous baggage from Armentières. And here the spirituals are not so much front-line as trumped-up theatre—even to the treble tones of a frightened tenor.

After "What Price Glory" and "Journey's End," the standards for war plays are high. "Suspense" increases a general admiration of the other two.

ZIEGFELD HAS NO FEAR.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 12 (Canadian Press). — Florenz Ziegfeld, Broadway producer of the "Follies," declared here today the future of the legitimate stage was not at all endangered by the talkies. The people will always want "flesh-and-blood" entertainment, he said. Mr. Ziegfeld and his family were on their way east.

Renewed Decline in Stocks; Wheat and Corn Go Lower After Brief Rise.

When the markets had their opportunity to reflect the overnight government crop report, the stock market and the grain market gave somewhat different verdicts. Corn prices, after an initial rise, fell back rapidly and closed at a fractional decline; wheat lost ground all day, ending 2⅜ cents a bushel lower, although still 6⅜ above the season's low price of ten days ago. This action of prices meant that the grain trade was taking the low corn crop estimate much more calmly than had been expected. The stock market, on the other hand, declined rather emphatically. Losses of 4 and 5 points were numerous; in half a dozen stocks the day's extreme decline ranged from 7 to 19. Recoveries at the end were mostly small.

The corn market's action meant, apparently, that the 40 per cent rise in the price since the end of June was believed to have largely foreshadowed and measured the government's low estimate, even though yesterday's highest price was 16 cents below that which immediately followed the cut in the estimate of 1924. But the market's longer course is yet to be determined. For the decline in wheat the increased Washington estimate was no doubt responsible, taken along with yesterday's impression that the Northwestern crop had not been injured to the extent predicted. Certainly the government's condition percentages for our own Spring-wheat States were not greatly reduced from those of a year ago, and this week's Canadian condition estimate was nearly 20 per cent above last August. But the stock market's weakness plainly indicated dislike of developments which, in greater or less degree, could hardly fail at least to aggravate the handicaps of an already doubtful trade position. It also reflected the market's mood of the moment, which inclines it to look on the dark side of the picture, rather than to consider countervailing influences.

Closer study of the government's estimates on corn give at least some explanation of the corn market's seeming uncertainty. The imagination was naturally most impressed by the lowering of the forecast, as compared with a month ago, by 590,000,000 bushels—or by 690,000,000, if the rough estimate of damage done since Aug. 1 is included. But this does not make allowance for the fact that the July estimate was high; in fact, 180,000,000 bushels above last year's actual yield. The August condition percentage, 62, is exceptionally low, but the September percentage in 1924 was 66⅔, the August figure in 1901 was 54, and in neither of those years did the corn shortage turn out to be an economic disaster of the first magnitude. On neither occasion was it possible to trace the effects of the corn-crop deficiency on general business.

Monday's condition estimates by States showed, as expected, that the formidable shortage had occurred in only five or six States, not all of them among the largest producers. Even with these States, the lowest condition percentages were the 43 per cent of normal in Oklahoma, 45 in Kansas and 46 in Kentucky. But in August of 1901 the percentage assigned to Kansas was only 19, to Missouri 29, to Nebraska 36. In the great corn failure of 1894 Nebraska's condition was only 15 per cent, whereas that important "corn State" was assigned a percentage of 66 as of August, this year. The unpleasant facts remain that Monday's forecast indicated the smallest yield since 1901, that it was based on the returns of Aug. 1, and that serious further destruction had occurred in the subsequent ten days. From any viewpoint, the shortage is an unhappy incident to have occurred at just this time. Yet subsequent events may show that actual distress has been more scattered and isolated than had been apprehended.

STEEL OPERATIONS LOWER.

Put at 56% of Capacity Last Week, Against 58 in Previous.

Operations of the steel industry last week were estimated yesterday to have been at the rate of 56 per cent of capacity, compared with 58 per cent in the previous week and 57½ per cent the week before that. Steel ingot production of the United States Steel Corporation was estimated to have been between 62½ per cent and 63 per cent, compared with a shade over 64 per cent in the previous two weeks. Operations of the independent steel companies were down 1 per cent in the past week, according to these estimates, and were at the rate of slightly less than 51 per cent of capacity, compared with 53 per cent the previous week and 52 per cent two weeks ago.

At this time last year the average rate of operations for the industry as a whole was 93 per cent, for the Steel Corporation, 97 per cent, and for the independent companies a fraction under 90 per cent.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

News, Comment and Incident, On the Stock Exchange and In the Financial Markets.

With a total volume of slightly more than 2,000,000 shares traded on the Stock Exchange, the stock market passed yesterday through another severe reaction, with the result that Wall Street was obliged to concede that the most recent "bull campaign" had failed completely. The general list on the Exchange was depressed sharply in the afternoon, leading issues losing anywhere from 2 to 14 points. The selling was attributed largely to bearish professionals, but it was apparent also that their efforts induced considerable liquidation. In the morning the market offered effective resistance to the occasional thrusts of the "bear party," but after midday prices broke sharply on numerous waves of selling. United States Steel became a target for bearish speculators following an announcement that the corporation's operations had been further reduced. Among the market leaders, besides United States Steel, that broke sharply were American Can, American Tobacco B, J. I. Case, Columbian Carbon, Johns-Manville, International Harvester, Eastman Kodak, Worthington Pump, Westinghouse Electric, Union Pacific and Vanadium.

Waiting for a Revival.

Some of the leading commission houses suggested yesterday, as if by common consent, that the stock market, after several false alarms, probably would wait until there were tangible signs of business revival before starting on another forward move. All the houses that touched on the subject were no less confident that the revival is on the way, but the point raised was that there had been too much half-baked optimism, particularly in market circles.

Gold Movement Resumed.

The decline in Canadian exchange to a premium of only 7-64 of a cent yesterday removes, temporarily at least, the possibility of further gold shipments to the Dominion. At 9-64 premium, some banks calculate, a bare profit can be scraped from such shipments, but most of the recent transfers were undertaken when the Canadian dollar had a premium of 5-32. If the outflow to Canada is suspended for the time being, the same is not true of the movement to France. The latter was held up last week by a dip in the franc but will be resumed today. Arrangements have been made for the transfer of a substantial amount of gold on the Europa, sailing tonight, it is understood, and later sailings are expected to continue the movement.

The Loan Crowd's Busy Season.

The loan crowd on the floor of the Stock Exchange has been doing a brisk business on profitable terms during the last few weeks. Between 50 and 100 leading issues, including practically all the leading rail shares and many important industrials, have been lending flat. With the call money rate ranging between 2 and 2½ per cent, the lending rate on representative stocks would normally be between 1 and 1½ per cent, thus preserving the usual difference between the two rates, which represents the lenders' net profit. The fact that so many issues are lending flat is held to indicate that the short interest's size has steadily increased recently, and that technically the market is in a fairly strong position.

Problem for Railroads.

The extension of both oil pipe lines and gas pipe lines through the country provides a problem for the railroads, it was said in informed circles yesterday. Oil pipes mean that oil formerly carried in tank cars will travel otherwise, while natural gas lines mean increased consumption of that fuel and hence lessened demand for and traffic in coal on the railroads. The automotive industry, while it has dealt the railroads serious blows in diverting business from them, has provided additional traffic for them in the form of oil and products, steel, road-building materials and machinery, and in motor vehicles themselves. The spread of oil lines tends to offset this ameliorating feature of automotive competition.

Bank for International Settlements.

News that the B. I. S. had recently purchased treasury bills in the London market was regarded in Wall Street as interesting but not particularly significant. It was thought unlikely that the international bank's commitments in sterling bills had been sufficient to have an important effect upon sterling exchange. Indeed, bankers here doubt that the present funds of the Bank for International Settlements are large enough to be a great factor in exchange movements, even should the directors of the bank care to undertake such work at this time. While great hopes have been entertained for the future of the B. I. S. as a stabilizing factor in world money movements, it is a bit too early to look for much in this direction from the new institution. It was remarked here yesterday that the management of the world bank, like that of any new bank, is probably engrossed just now in trying to make a little money. To that end the bank probably is placing its short-term funds in the most lucrative markets that it can find.

The Corn Crop Outlook.

Despite the drought, the outlook for the corn crop is not so bad as generally believed, according to a banker who has studied the estimates as given out by the United States Department of Agriculture in its crop report as of Aug. 1. Although the general condition of the crop is reported at 62 per cent of normal for the entire country, the average of three principal corn-producing States is about 67 per cent. The condition of the corn crop as of Aug. 1 in Iowa, which is the largest corn-producing State, was 73 per cent, with an indicated yield of 377,400,000 bushels. Illinois, the second largest corn-producing State, showed a condition of 62 per cent, which was the average for the entire country, while Nebraska, the third largest producing State, reported a condition of 66 per cent. The condition of the crop in Iowa, which is expected to produce about one-sixth of this year's corn, is only 5.8 per cent below the condition of 78.8 per cent for the entire country on Aug. 1 last year.

MONEY.

Tuesday, Aug. 12, 1930.

While Stock Exchange call loan rate held all day at 2½ per cent, turnover at that figure was only fair, the bulk of the business being done over-the-counter, where an easier tone prevailed, and 2 was the ruling charge. Funds were in good supply and only about $15,000,000 was called. Time money continued dull and unchanged in quotation. Discount on business money likewise developed no variation.

WARNER BROS. PLAN NEW STOCK OFFER

Financing Being Discussed by Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Hayden, Stone.

PUT AS HIGH AS $20,000,000

But Terms Have Not Been Decided—Proceeds Would Meet Current Obligations.

Plans for new financing for Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., are being discussed by Goldman, Sachs & Co., bankers for the moving picture company, and Hayden, Stone & Co., it was announced yesterday. An offering of common stock to provide funds to take care of Warner Brothers' current obligations is contemplated by the bankers, according to reports in Wall Street. The terms of the offering have not been decided, representatives of the banking firm declared. Estimates of the size of the offering ran as high as $20,000,000.

The entrance of Hayden, Stone & Co. into the affairs of Warner Brothers does not mean that Goldman, Sachs & Co. will cease to act as bankers for the moving picture concern, representatives of the two banking firms declared. If a public offering of Warner Brothers stock is decided upon, Goldman, Sachs & Co., will head the syndicate making the offering, it was said, and Hayden, Stone & Co. will participate in the offering. It was indicated that one of the partners of Hayden, Stone & Co.—either Charles Hayden or Richard F. Hoyt—would be elected to the moving picture company's board of directors if Hayden, Stone & Co. take a part in the new financing.

Confirmation of the fact that new financing for Warner Brothers was being considered by the bankers was obtained last night at the office of Goldman, Sachs & Co. when a representative of the latter firm declared: "We are discussing new financing for Warner Brothers with Hayden, Stone & Co."

Shares Heavily Bought.

Earlier in the day, rumors of new financing had been accompanied by heavy buying of the shares of Warner Brothers on the Stock Exchange. The shares advanced 4⅛ points to 29⅝ in a weak market and then slipped back to 26¼ in the last half hour, when a wave of selling swept the entire list.

Since last Thursday, when the Warner Brothers directors passed the quarterly dividend of $1 on the company's common stock, the issue has been a target for short selling and liquidation. The stock's plunge has given rise to numerous rumors concerning the state of the company's business. It was generally understood that the company was suffering temporarily from an ambitious expansion program, through which more than 100 theatres, the musical division of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, an interest in the Tobis Klangfilm A. G. of Germany and various other properties were acquired. The Brunswick deal alone is understood to have involved about $10,000,000. While most of the theatre properties were obtained through an exchange of stock, cash figured in several deals. The company's balance sheet as of March 1 showed that it had borrowed $5,500,000 from banks, and it is understood that this amount has since been increased.

Last year Warner Brothers sold $40,000,000 of debentures, on which the semiannual interest charge is $1,250,000. A payment of this amount will be due on Sept. 1.

Affected by Trade Depression.

Passing of the company's common dividend was explained by a director as a result of the heat wave and the business depression, which had affected attendance at moving picture theatres. Omission of the dividend, it was pointed out, would save the company nearly $3,000,000 as there were more than 2,800,000 of the company's common shares outstanding.

Earlier in the year, when the company reported favorable earnings, its common stock sold as high as 80¼. Yesterday the issue sold as low as 24¾, equaling the low record for 1929 and 1930, which was established last week.

During last Winter and Spring John J. Raskob and the du Pont interests were heavy buyers of the company's stock. It has been reported from time to time that Mr. Raskob would seek representation on the company's board of directors.

When questioned last night concerning a report that Mr. Raskob and the du Pont interests had obtained control of Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., Harry M. Warner, president of the company, said the rumor was "a lot of nonsense."

The entrance of Hayden, Stone & Co. into Warner Brothers' affairs arises, it was said, from the fact that Hayden, Stone once acted as bankers for First National Pictures, Inc., which was acquired by Warner Brothers last year.

Midland Limited to Increase Stock.

Stockholders of the Midland United Company approved yesterday an increase in authorized common stock from 5,000,000 to 7,500,000 shares of no par value.

Gold Exported From Panama Adds $110,000 to Amount Here

The daily gold statement of the Federal Reserve Bank yesterday reported the arrival of $110,000 from Panama, received the previous day but too late to be included in Monday's statement. No exports were reported and no changes in gold held under earmark for foreign account.

According to reports in the financial district yesterday, the outflow of gold to France will be resumed today. It is believed that at least $5,000,000 will be sent abroad on the Europa.

SLUMP HITS FUNDS OF LATIN-AMERICA

ALL BUSINESS DEPRESSED

Countries Feeling the Pinch Worst Are Those Which Had Started Extensive Public Works.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—As a result of high money rates which prevailed in world financial centres during the greater part of last year and the decline of commodity prices in the latter part of that period, financial developments in Latin America during 1929 and in the early part of 1930 generally compared unfavorably with those of 1928, the Department of Commerce declared today in a special bulletin on the subject. There were, however, some exceptions to the general trends for Latin America as a whole.

"As capital importing nations and producers of foodstuffs and raw materials," William L. Cooper, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, said in a foreword to the bulletin, "the countries of Latin America in general were adversely affected by the high money rates which prevailed in world financial centres during the greater part of 1929 and by the decline in commodity prices.

"Government borrowings abroad declined sharply as a result of either high money rates in the world financial centres or adverse economic and financial developments in the borrowing countries themselves. In addition to causing fiscal difficulties in several countries that had embarked on rather extensive public works, the marked decline in borrowings from abroad had an adverse influence on business and exchange.

"The slump in commodity prices has been particularly trying to most of the Latin-American countries. This is due to the direct dependence of their prosperity on the market for a number of staple commodities of world trade. The severe decline in the price of coffee has had an especially adverse effect, for coffee is dominant in the economic life of Brazil, Colombia, most of the Central American countries and Haiti. Sugar prices, already depressed, declined further; lower prices developed also for tin, wool, hides, silver, cotton, cacao, cereals, copper and other important products of the various Latin-American countries."

The bulletin manuscript was prepared by Eugene W. Cevraux of the Finance and Investment Division, under the direction of Ray Hall, acting chief of the division.

LOAN COMPANIES QUITTING.

Unable to Operate Under Rate in New Jersey, They Say.

Special to The New York Times.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Aug. 12.—Arguing they cannot do business at the interest rate of 1½ per cent a month now permitted by statute, small loan companies operating here are refusing to grant loans. One by one, since the law reducing the interest rate from 3 per cent went into effect on Feb. 15, they have discontinued lending and now are operating only for the collection loans outstanding.

Small loan companies throughout the State are following the same practice. Only a few large companies, including two in Newark, are still making loans.

BANKERS TO DEBATE TAXES IN CLEVELAND

BRANCHES TO FIGURE AGAIN

Chain and Group Banking Also Among Important Subjects to Go Before Delegates.

The convention of the American Bankers Association in Cleveland from Sept. 29 to Oct. 2 will include a tax conference devoted to controversial issues that have arisen from proposals to amend the Federal statute relating to the taxation of national banks by the States, according to the schedule announced.

The question of branch, chain and group banking, which occupied so important a place in the discussions at last year's convention, will also figure prominently this year. The recommendation recently by the Controller of the Currency that branch banking be extended within certain "trade areas" will form a basis for part of the discussion.

Other subjects expected to engage the attention of delegates include: Protection of banks against banditry and apprehension and punishment of bank criminals; bank failures and unsatisfactory earnings resulting from changing economic conditions, and problems of scientific bank management.

Following is the detailed schedule of the meetings:

MONDAY, SEPT. 29—Hotel Cleveland: 8:15 A. M., Membership Committee; 9 A. M., Insurance Committee, Public Relations Commission; 9:30 A. M., State Bank Division general meeting, Tax Conference Special Committee on Section 5219 United States Revised Statues and Committee on Taxation, Savings Bank Division Executive Committee, Trust Company Division Executive Committee, National Bank Division Executive Committee; 10:30 A. M., Economic Policy Commission; 12:15 P. M., Commerce and Marine Commission; 1:30 P. M., State Secretaries Board of Control; 2 P. M., National Bank Division general meeting, Fiftieth Anniversary Committee; 2:15 P. M., State Legislation Committee and State Legislative Council; 2:30 P. M., American Bankers Association Educational Foundation Trustees, Bank Management Commission, Agricultural Commission; 3 P. M., Public Education Commission; 3:30 P. M., Federal Legislation Committee and Federal Legislative Council; 9 P. M., Executive Council.

On call of chairmen, State Bank Division Executive Committee, Special Committee on Section 5219 United States Revised Statutes, Committee on Bankruptcy, Resolutions Committee, Protective Committee, Administrative Committee, Finance Committee.

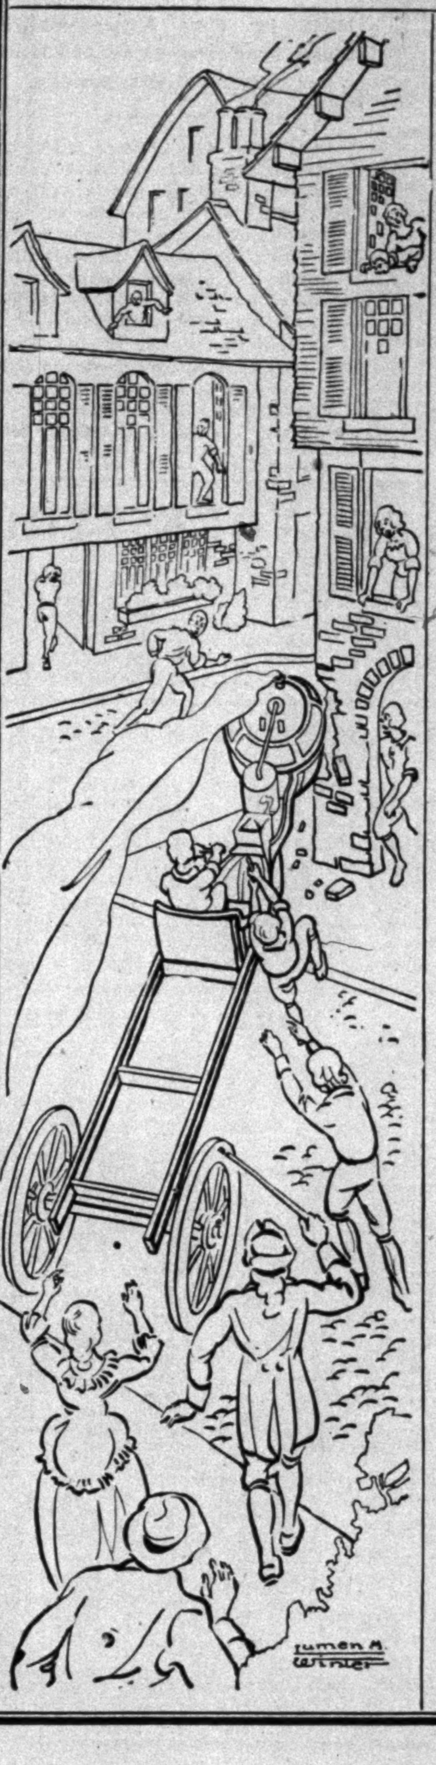
Number Seven of a Series

The first automobile accident occurred in 1769

—and foreshadowed the Ætna Casualty's huge business!



CAPTAIN NICHOLAS CUGNOT and the Duc de Choiseul were in conference. This was in 1769—161 years ago. The Captain, a French soldier of fortune, explained his idea for a self-propelled machine. The Duc was deeply impressed, and encouraged the Captain to go ahead and construct such a machine. The Captain did.

Some months later a terrified populace stared, unbelieving, at an iron monster on three wheels which bowled along Paris streets at three miles an hour. The thing had "a two-cylinder steam power plant and a boiler like an overgrown teakettle sticking out forward." Technically it was an automobile and the determination with which it bumped into and wrecked a stone wall (and, incidentally itself) was a convincing forerunner of the hundreds of thousands of automobile accidents which were to follow a century and a half later.

The beautiful and mighty power plants that are today's automobiles are too valuable to take the many risks of street and road without full insurance. Since 1915 the Ætna Casualty has received in premiums for automobile liability, property damage and collision insurance alone more than $78,000,000. The profit involved in this business, as well as in the Company's surety business, is vividly told in the following figures:

GROWTH OF THE COMPANY

Total admitted assets	$4,383,808	$15,441,107	$36,853,376
Capital Stock	1,000,000	2,000,000	3,000,000
Surplus paid in	1,000,000	2,000,000	2,000,000

Because, since 1918 to date, the Company has paid dividends of 12% annually and an extra of 10% in cash in December, 1929, in addition to a recent special dividend; because its investment policy has been sound and very profitable; and because an investor who purchased this Company's stock ten years ago has enjoyed an approximate annual average gain for each of the past ten years of better than 34%, including cash dividends, subscription rights and market appreciation —for these and other sound reasons we recommend the purchase or retention of the capital stock of the Ætna Casualty & Surety Company.

BOND TRADING QUIET ON STOCK EXCHANGE

SOME OF THE RAILS IMPROVE

Royal Dutch Active in Foreign List—United States Government Securities Dull.

The listed bond market did not do much more than mark time yesterday. Trading continued slow and, with few exceptions, the net changes in prices for the day were unimportant. Convertible issues, as a rule, gave ground slightly in sympathy with stocks, but at no time was selling insistent. Foreign loans and United States Government issues were dull.

Of the leading rail issues Baltimore & Ohio convertible 4½s of 1960 proved one of the most active, yielding ⅜ of a point. Chesapeake & Ohio refunding 4½s of 1993, series A, moved up a point to a new high for the year at 100⅞, and the general 4½s of 1992 touched a new high at 103, closing at 102¾, unchanged for the day. A few other rails made new highs for the year on fractional advances.

Unusually heavy trading in Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit 6s was a feature of the utilities. The net change amounted to a loss of ¾ of a point. Brooklyn City Railway 5s dropped 1½ points to a new low at 79½ on comparatively light trading.

In the amusement group, Warner Brothers Pictures 6s moved up half a point on a heavy turnover, while Pathé Exchange 7s dropped 6 points and General Theatres Equipment 6s of 1940 sold off a point on much lighter trading. Paramount Publix issues were steady.

Sugar bonds were dull and irregular. Manati Sugar 7½s recovered 2 points, while American Beet Sugar 6s sold off 1¼ and Cuban American Sugar 8s remained unchanged. Sugar Estates of Oriente closed a point higher at 34.

Of the foreign issues the heaviest trading occurred in Royal Dutch 4s which gained ⅛ of a point. French Government and municipal loans were steady. Advances and declines in the South American list were about evenly distributed.

The meager trading in United States Government obligations resulted in net changes ranging from 5-32 to off 4-32.

I. T. & T. Subsidiary Doubles Stock.

The International Standard Electric Corporation, manufacturing subsidiary of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, has increased its capitalization from 500,000 to 1,000,000 shares of no par value.

UNUSUAL BID DELAYS WEST VIRGINIA LOAN

OFFER APPARENTLY BEST

Made by First National-Halsey Stuart Syndicate—$2,443,000 Issue for Maryland Goes to Bankers.

Award of a new issue of $5,000,000 State of West Virginia road bonds maturing serially on Aug. 1, 1931, to 1955, was delayed yesterday in consideration of the fact that one banking group introduced the New Jersey method of bidding, whereby fewer bonds of an issue are taken in lieu of actual payment of premium.

A syndicate headed by the First National Bank of New York and Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., bid $5,000,000 for $4,831,000 of the bonds as 4½s.

A group headed by the Chase Securities Corporation bid a nominal premium for $1,265,000 of the bonds as 4¼s and $3,735,000 as 4s, or an interest cost to the State of 4.046 per cent. On this basis, the First National-Halsey, Stuart bid figured about $12,000 cheaper in interest cost. The next bid in line was that of a group headed by Estabrook & Co., which was a nominal premium for $1,385,000 of the bonds as 4½s and $3,615,000 as 4s, or a 4.05 per cent interest cost.

An alternate bid was made by the First National-Halsey, Stuart syndicate: a nominal premium for $1,425,000 4¼s and $3,575,000 4s, equivalent to about a 4.052 per cent interest cost. The next bid was for $1,450,000 4½s and $3,550,000 4s, equivalent to a 4.053 per cent basis, made by a group headed by the Bankers Company of New York and the Guaranty Company of New York. The National City Company and associates bid a nominal premium for $1,585,000 of 4½s and $3,415,000 of 4s, equal to about a 4.069 per cent interest cost to the State.

The last issue sold by the State was on April 1. It consisted of $4,500,000 of road bonds, which were awarded as follows: $4,425,000 4s and $75,000 as 4s, at a price of 100.005, equivalent to a 4.24 per cent basis.

State of Maryland.

The State of Maryland awarded yesterday a new issue of $2,443,000 4½ per cent general construction bonds due on Aug. 15, 1933 to 1945, to the Union Trust Company of Baltimore and the Maryland Trust Company at their joint bid of 104.6699. The second highest tender was 104.139, made by the First National Bank, New York, and associates, and the third bid was 104.135 by the Mercantile Trust Company of Baltimore.

Rockford, Ill.

The Rockford (Ill.) Sanitary District has issued a call for sealed bids, to be opened on Aug. 28, on a new issue of $500,000 4½ per cent sewer bonds, Series E. The issue will mature serially in Sept. 1, 1931 to 1950. The district reports an assessed valuation of $94,114,216 and total debt, including this issue, of $2,500,000.

TO TAKE $30,000,000 GERMAN BONDS HERE

CASH IS ALREADY IN SIGHT

New Financing Made Unnecessary by the Retirement of French Securities.

The directors of the International Match Corporation voted yesterday to purchase $30,000,000 of German Government bonds, the company's share of the first part of the $125,000,000 loan which the International-Swedish companies agreed late last year to purchase. The first part, $50,000,000, is to be taken up by the two companies on Aug. 30.

The company will obtain funds for the purchase of the German bonds from the proceeds of the retirement of the International Match portion of the French loan and will therefore not require any new financing on its own account. Two years ago the Swedish Match Company and its American subsidiary, the International Match Corporation, purchased from France $75,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds at 93½, of which the American company took $50,000,000 principal amount. The French Government announced last March that it would retire the loan at 103½, with a profit of some $7,500,000 to the match companies and the Kreuger & Toll Company, which controls them.

The $125,000,000 German bonds, of which $50,000,000 are to be taken up this month, have a maximum maturity of fifty years, bear a 6 per cent interest rate and are to be taken by the Swedish-International group at 93. The loan is the largest ever extended by the Kreuger interests. Although the second part will not be taken up until March, 1931, the German Government discounted the entire $125,000,000 with an international banking syndicate headed by Lee, Higginson & Co. several months ago.

The German Government, in connection with the loan, ceded the major part of the match business in Germany to the match companies, including the sole right to the importation and exportation of matches.

CHICAGO BONDS TO STAY ON LEGAL LIST HERE

Massachusetts, Connecticut and Illinois Officials Also Report No Default on Warrants.

Any apprehension that holders of bonds of the city of Chicago may have had regarding the continuance of these obligations on the legal lists of New York, Illinois, Massachusetts and Connecticut in view of the non-payment of certain of the city's warrants on the indicated maturity dates was dispelled yesterday by a formal statement issued by Thomson, Wood & Hoffman, municipal bond attorneys. Acting on behalf of interested bankers, the law firm obtained favorable opinions from the legal authorities of the four States.

The warrants involved, according to the rulings, were issued in anticipation of taxes, or in other words, from a special fund, and do not constitute a general obligation of the city. Thus, even if the special fund does not prove to be sufficient for the payment in full of these obligations at maturity, which, it is pointed out, may by no means be the case, that fact does not constitute a default of the city.

Specific rulings on the legality of Chicago's bonds were made by the Director of Savings Banks of Massachusetts, the Attorney General of Illinois, the Bank Commissioner of Connecticut and the Attorney General of the State of New York.

Associated Telephone Budget Up.

The Associated Telephone Utilities System has increased its budget for service extensions and improvements for 1930 by about 40 per cent to $7,000,000, Marshall E. Sampsell, president, announced yesterday. The increase, he said, was made necessary by the addition of companies to the system and the natural growth in the territory.

Writing Paper Certificates Listed.

The New York Stock Exchange announced yesterday the admission to listing privileges of permanent voting trust certificates for the $6 preferred stock of the American Writing Paper Company, Inc. It announced also that the temporary voting trust certificates for these shares would be stricken from the list on Aug. 19.

INDEPENDENCE TRUST SHARES . . . and the Present Opportunity

The fixed type of Investment Trust has established itself as offering broad diversification in investment stocks with small capital outlay. Experience of the earlier Trusts has enabled us to offer one with several structural improvements over its predecessors which are of distinct advantage to the investor.

Owing to the recent business depression and stock market liquidation an especially favorable opportunity has been created for the long-term investor by permitting him to participate in the growth and earnings of fifty great corporations in the form of a single convenient investment—INDEPENDENCE TRUST SHARES.

Important Features:

DIVERSITY OF PORTFOLIO:
In addition to the common stocks of 35 leading Utilities, Industrials, Oils and Rails, (all listed on either the N. Y. Stock or Curb Exchange) the portfolio includes 10 Banks and 5 Insurance Companies (all listed locally or enjoying an active over-the-counter market). Each of these six principal groups is well diversified geographically and in scope of operations.

DISTRIBUTION RECORD:
Assuming existence of the Trust during the period from 1920 to 1929, the average annual distribution would have been $2.79, or 22% on the average price of 11⅜ per share.

NO RESERVE FUND:
Since the lowest annual distribution per Trust Share during the past 10 years would have been 64¢, a reserve fund has been considered unnecessary. Thus more of the shareholder's money is invested in the underlying stocks.

ELIMINATION—NO SUBSTITUTION:
If any portfolio stock fails to pay a dividend or is likely to become impaired in value, it may be eliminated and the proceeds distributed to Trust Share owners.

No stocks can be substituted for those eliminated.

DISTRIBUTION AND REINVESTMENT:
Semi-annual distributions consist of all cash dividends and the net cash proceeds of the sale of stock dividends, rights, and split-ups, less a charge of not exceeding 1½¢ per share semi-annually for the administration of the Trust.

Shareholders may invest all or any part of this distribution in additional Independence Trust Shares at 50¢ less than the current ask price, thereby maintaining balanced diversification.

CONVERSION AND REDEMPTION:
Owners of a full Unit (1000 shares) may exchange for the actual stocks and owners of less than a Unit may redeem for cash, at any time and without penalty.

OFFERING PRICE:
Independence Trust Shares are offered at a price based on the current market price of the deposited stocks, the proportionate amount of undistributed funds, plus odd-lot brokerage and commission and a charge for distribution and profit, which is 2/5 of 1% per annum on the selling price for the term of the Trust.

TERMINATION:
The trust terminates October 1, 1950

Legal matters incident to the creation of the Trust have been approved by Messrs. Roberts & Montgomery, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price at the Market, $6.50 per Share

THE PORTFOLIO

Independence Trust Shares represent participating ownership in these 50 common stocks. One share of each is deposited with the Trustee—for each 1000 Independence Trust Shares issued.

Every Investor Should Consider Bonds

Debenture bond prices have not advanced appreciably above the levels of 1929—the year of lowest prices since 1925. Present market conditions and low interest rates indicate a strong bond market in the near future accompanied by rising bond prices.

For safety and a good return we recommend Associated Gas and Electric Company Gold Debenture Bonds, due 1968—priced to yield over 5¼%.

MARKETS IN LONDON, PARIS AND BERLIN

Internationals Open Higher on English Exchange, but Ease in Afternoon.

FRENCH PRICES IRREGULAR

Trading Dull Throughout the Session—Improvement on the German Boerse.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Business continued quiet on the Stock Exchange today owing to the holiday season and the general tendency of prices toward lower levels. Some of the British Government's securities lost ground. The 3½ per cent conversion loan eased to £79½, while the 5 per cent war loan rallied to £103 11/16 from £103¾. All the international issues were higher, however, on more favorable advices from Wall Street overnight.

Ford advanced to £4½, International Nickel to $21⅞, Hydro Electric to $34¼, Radio Corporation to $40¼ and Bazilian Traction to $35½. The best prices were maintained after the reopening of Wall Street, being irregular in the afternoon. Columbia Graphophone was active at £3 13-32 and His Master's Voice Gramophone was steady at £2¾.

Dunlop weakened to 10s 1½d, due probably to the less favorable report of the Goodyear Company. Rubber shares again lost ground, with the commodity at 4 13-16d a pound, a new level.

Outstanding in oils was activity in Attock, which fell from £1 9-32 to £1⅛. Anglo-Persian, Royal Dutch and Shell Transport were a little better. In minings Bwana M'Kubwa fell to 11s 6d on fears regarding tomorrow's meeting.

Credit was in shorter supply today. Up to 2½ per cent was paid early for overnight loans, but later funds were more plentiful and the rate went down to 2 to 2¼ per cent. Renewals were 2 per cent. Bill rates were steady to firm. Of £974,000 of gold which arrived from the Cape this week £120,000 was sold to France. India and the trade took £58,000 and the remainder went to Switzerland.

Sterling exchange on New York strengthened further to $4.87¼ to $4.87 5/16.

Paris Quiet and Irregular.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The Bourse was irregular today. While some stocks showed a tendency toward recovery from yesterday's losses, other leading securities, such as Suez Canal, continued to decline. The transactions, moreover, were only scattering and with trading so sparse such variations as took place were of little value in determining the market's fundamental trend.

Rentes were among the securities which improved. They closed as follows: The 3 per cents, 88.70; 1918 4s, 100.75; 1920 amortizable 5s, 135.90; 1928 5s, 103.50; 1920 6s, 102.85; 1927 amortizable 5s, 105.60.

Tone Stronger in Berlin.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—After a steady but quiet opening on the Boerse today, the market improved during the course of the session, stimulated by small buying orders on the part of banks and speculators. The gains averaged 1 to 2 points, while some issues advanced up to 5 points.

Electricals, primarily Siemens & Halske, Gesfuerel, Licht und Kraft, Dye Trust, beer, spirits, the potashes and Reichsbank shares especially were sought and improved. The mining group was uneven. The Boerse closed quiet and slightly below the highest quotations of the day.

Baltimore Exchange Drops a Stock.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—Notice was given today that the common stock of the Commercial Credit Company, by action of the committee on securities of the Baltimore Stock Exchange, has been stricken from the list. Substantially all trading in the stock is done on the New York Stock Exchange. It is understood that officials of the company were agreeable to the action of the committee.

SHAREHOLDERS ASSAIL BRANSTON CHAIRMAN

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—An uproar occurred at today's meeting of the Branston Artificial Silk Company, Ltd., which has an issued capital of $6,800,000 and the report of which for last year revealed a net loss of $674,260. Chairman Martin Coles Harman, known as the "Uncrowned King of Lundy Island," was accused of whitewashing the administration and bluffing the shareholders. Following the chairman's announcement of a resolution for adoption of accounts the meeting passed into somewhat of a revolt.

"How can the chairman say something carried when the unanimous opinion seems to be against it?" shouted one shareholder. Others pressed for a statement in connection with the Branston company's purchase of $1,121,105 worth of shares of Kirklees, Ltd., demanding to know from whom the shares were bought.

"That is a question I cannot answer," replied Mr. Harman. Shareholders angrily retorted that they had a right to know what had happened to their money.

"You can go to the Kirklees office and find out," the chairman said, endeavoring to quell the pandemonium. A shareholder said the shares were bought at 25s 9d each and were now worth less than 5s in the market.

Branston has shut down on production and is now negotiating for linking its interests with a company owning Chatillon world patents.

SAO PAULO PLANT OPENED.

General Motors Factory Regarded by Dr. Prestes as Good Omen.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 12.—General Motors formally opened its new assembly plant here today. The plant will be able to put out about 300 cars per day.

The opening was attended by President-elect Prestes, State officials and leading American business men. Dr. Prestes in an address said that General Motors by erecting this plant indicates its great faith in Brazil's future and in doing so contributed materially to the country's progress.

CORN RISES 2 TO 3C, THEN DROPS 4 TO 5C

Forecast of Showers Over Most of Farming Area Offsets Bullish Government Report.

RALLY AT END CUTS LOSS

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Longs took advantage today of an opening bulge of 2 to 3 cents in the corn market and their selling caused a break of 4 to 5 cents from the early top. The forecast for showers over the greater part of the agricultural area tended to temper bullish enthusiasm engendered by the sensational government report of the previous day, with its prospect that the yield this season might be down 112,000,000 bushels after allowing for the damage that has occurred since Aug. 1.

The trade did not question the accuracy of the estimate, but the general feeling was that all the bullish news was known, and that profit taking was in order.

Commission houses were good buyers, although not in the volume that would be suggested by the government figures. A rally from the low point came toward the last with considerable evening up by the pit element, with the finish ½ to 1 cent lower.

Price changes were rapid. Some stop-loss orders were uncovered on the way down, and it was said that some local longs were forced to unload on the break. The weakness in wheat, with the September 7¼ cents under corn, had some effect on values, as did an analysis by N. C. Murray.

The statistician noted that the areas which have suffered most from the drought under normal conditions usually ship in corn, while the leading commercial producing areas had a prospective crop only 118,000,000 bushels under that of last year and 60,000,000 bushels under the average of the last five years. The distribution of the crop in the past has had considerable influence as a price-making factor.

Influence of Shipments on Market.

It is figured that normally 18.5 per cent of the crop is shipped out of the county where grown, but 22 per cent was shipped in 1921, and should that percentage be shipped this season under the stimulus of high prices it would give almost a normal movement to market.

Purchases of corn to arrive were estimated at 110,000 bushels, with 80,000 sold to the East.

Primary receipts were 584,000 bushels, a week ago 427,000 and a year ago 372,000. Shipments, respectively, were 324,000, 693,000 and 537,000 bushels.

Scattered liquidation marked wheat, and with a bearish construction placed on the American and Canadian Government reports prices dropped sharply and closed 2⅜ to 2⅝ cents lower. The market failed to show much rallying power until near the close, when shorts covered because of the strength in corn.

There was talk of a much better foreign demand, with some sales of hard Winters made. Liverpool October, however, was around 17½ cents over Chicago September at the time it closed, the widest difference of the season.

Rains Hamper Harvesting Abroad.

Wet weather in Western Europe is hampering the harvest abroad, and cables reported that some estimates placed at 36,000,000 bushels the amount of French wheat that was not fit for milling. Bullish news of late has had little influence, as the market has run into heavy sales on all bulges. The recent upturn weakened the technical position. Commission houses, which generally are inclined to the buying side of the breaks, look for the market to do better. Winnipeg was 3¼ to 3⅜ cents lower, while Minneapolis lost 3 cents for the day.

Estimates on the Canadian wheat crop made today ranged from 346,000,000 to 395,000,000 bushels, taking the three Provinces, compared with 276,000,000 harvested last year.

Primary arrivals of wheat were 3,022,000 bushels, a week ago 3,889,000 and a year ago 3,010,000. Shipments, respectively, were 2,285,000, 3,084,000 and 1,973,000 bushels.

Oats finished ⅜ to ⅝ cent lower on hedging pressure and local selling, but the market received good support. Shipping sales were 215,000 bushels, with the spot basis ¼ to ½ cent higher.

Rye weakened with wheat and closed 1½ to 1¾ cents lower, with commission houses fair sellers at times.

COTTON QUOTATIONS LOWEST OF YEAR

Loss of $1 a Bale Recorded as Movement of Staple to Market Causes Renewed Selling.

MILL DEMAND DOWN AGAIN

Prices on the Cotton Exchange moved downward again yesterday into new low territory for the year, with a loss of $1 a bale. Influenced by the daily increasing movement of new cotton in the South and by weakness in stocks and grain, the market was under steady selling pressure from the opening. Though drought areas received virtually no relief, the Exchange's estimate that domestic mills used only 369,000 bales of cotton in July, compared with 547,000 a year ago, exerted a depressing effect, and the list closed at the bottom 19 to 23 points lower than on Monday.

With drastic mill curtailment here and abroad, particularly in England and Japan, and the official crop estimate more than 1,000,000 bales above the world's consumption of American cotton in the last twelve months, the market continues to lack substantial buying power from either speculative or trade quarters. Sentiment was again dominated more by the rapid approach of the full marketing period than by serious deterioration reported over some of the most important producing regions, where little rain has fallen for two to nearly three months.

With the Farm Board financing between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 bales of the 1929 crop and receipts of the 1930 crop already appearing at the ports, demand for actual cotton has not been sufficient to absorb increasing supplies.

According to the Cotton Exchange Service and basing figures on the Aug. 1 Washington estimate of the growing crop, the supply of the coming season will amount to 20,550,000 bales, or 1,330,000 bigger than last season. This about equals the average annual supply of the last five years. Owing to the increased carry-over, the supply in the country would be 18,800,000 bales, compared with 16,877,000 last season.

MINIATURE GOLF UPHELD.

White Plains Health Officer Plans No Ban on Night Sport, He Says.

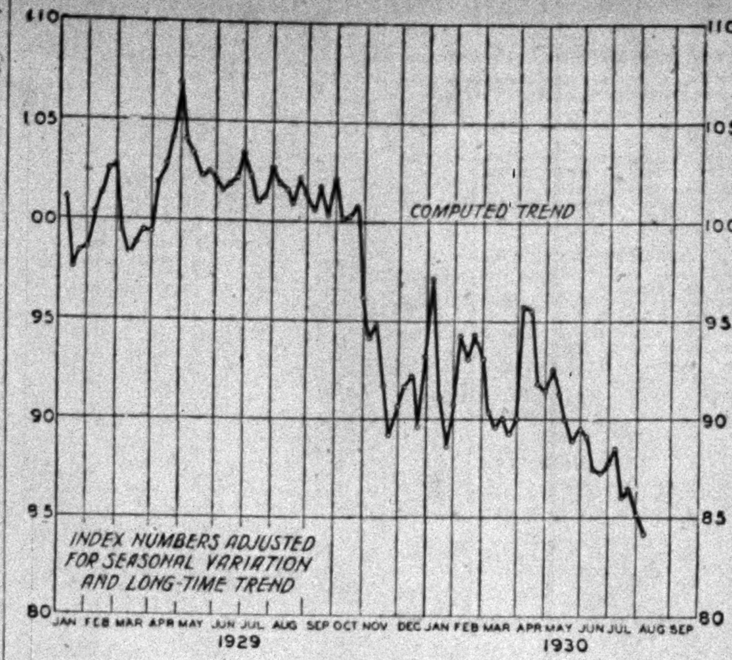
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 12.—County Health Officer Matthias Nicoll Jr. announced today that he would not interfere with miniature golf courses operating after 11 P. M., unless his office was flooded with complaints.

"In a broad sense this is perhaps a matter of public health if a sufficient number of persons have their sleep disturbed by the nocturnal merrymakers," he said. "But I am not contemplating any department ban on the sport."

Indicted for Assault on High Seas.

The Federal grand jury in Brooklyn returned an indictment yesterday charging Albert Thomas, an assistant steward of the steamship F. J. Luckenbach of the Luckenbach Line, with assault on the high seas. Thomas will be brought before Judge Akerman later in the week to plead. It is charged that Thomas threw a kettle of hot grease over William Stewart, a steward, on July 5. The vessel was then near the Panama Canal.

Drop in Car Loadings to 918,335 Is Slight, But Index Falls to New Low of 84.2 in Week



For the week ended Aug. 2 the the adjusted index of freight car loadings, as previously estimated, dropped to 84.2 from 85.1 for the week ended July 26. In terms of the actual number of cars loaded with revenue freight the decrease was slight (from 919,349 to 918,335), but even this slight decrease was contrary to the usual seasonal tendency, so that the adjusted index shows a further decrease to a new low for the current business depression. For the corresponding week last year the adjusted index stood at 101.9 and the actual number of cars loaded was 1,104,193.

The figures for July as a whole show that the worst decrease in freight volume was in the two groups of commodities most closely associated with commercial activity, namely, less than car-lot merchandise and miscellaneous freight, which includes manufactured goods. The decline in miscellaneous shipments, allowing for seasonal variation, canceled most of the improvement shown by the June figures, and the decline in l. c. l. merchandise shipments carried the seasonally adjusted daily average for July down to the lowest figure recorded since March, 1923. The corresponding averages for two commodities, live stock and forest products, were in July the lowest of any month for which the car loadings figures are available, which means, of course, the entire post-war period.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Loadings of revenue freight for the week ended on Aug. 2 totaled 918,335 cars, the American Railway Association announced today, a decrease of 1,014 cars under the previous week and a reduction of 187,585 cars below the same week in 1929, as well as a decrease of 130,486 cars below the same week in 1928. Decreases were reported in all commodities except miscellaneous freight, merchandise in less than car lots and coke.

The car loadings in detail were:

	Week Ended Aug. 2.	Change from Pr. Wk.	Change fr. Same Wk., '29.

Certificate Holding Company Is Temporarily Enjoined.

The Certificate Holding Company, which dealt in Florida real estate, and Bernard Schlenger of 5 Beekman Street, who put the blame for the insolvency of the company in part upon the failure of Clarke Brothers, private bankers, were temporarily enjoined yesterday from fraudulent dealing in securities by Supreme Court Justice Dodd in Brooklyn. The application for the order was made by Francis P. Farrall, Deputy Attorney General, of the State Bureau of Securities. He said he would ask for permanent injunction.

Mr. Farrall said Schlenger sold stock of the Certificate Holding Company at $150 a share, representing the shares to be participating first mortgage bonds paying 7 per cent interest, but that few of the shareholders ever received interest.

Schlenger said he had had a large account with the Clarke Brothers bank, according to Mr. Farrall. Schlenger also blamed the slump in Florida real estate values. He said he had had an account with the Equitable Trust Company, 37 Wall Street.

BUSINESS WORLD

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday—3 per cent for the best names. Monday—3 per cent for the best names. The quotations are for four to six months' paper.

Fewer Buyers in the Market.

Registration of buyers in the market during the past week was under the figures for the previous week and well below the peak of last season recorded at this time, according to the lists published in THE TIMES. For the week 1,153 buyers were listed, as against 1,231 in the preceding week and 1,501 in the corresponding week last year. Yesterday's arrivals showed a drop as compared with a week ago, 461 comparing with 651 reported last Tuesday.

Weather Helping Retail Sales.

Throwing off the handicap of intense heat under which they labored last week, stores are beginning to get a better response on August sales offerings, it was reported here yesterday. Should the respite from higher temperatures prove even comparatively brief, retail executives have been encouraged to anticipate a much better showing in sales figures for the month than had been expected. Apparel and home furnishings items were said to be reflecting the improvement. Both retailers and manufacturers have been keenly interested in predictions of an early frost this Fall in belief that this would be most effective in putting an edge on the early consumer demand.

See Credit Conditions Improving.

Credit conditions are now beginning to show some improvement, according to comment yesterday at the meeting of the Silk and Rayon Credit Association, held at the Advertising Club. The broadening scope of Fall operations in the finished goods market, while still somewhat slow, and the reduction of inventories, which has tended to relieve some of the recent pressure, are contributing factors to the outlook for materially better conditions within the next few weeks, it was reported by Aleck Smith, secretary of the association. The rayon market, he noted, is now beginning to stabilize following the recent price cut.

Lower Dress Lines Strengthened.

The course of early Fall developments tends to reinforce the already strong position of the lower price dress ranges in the market here, it was said yesterday. This is reflected, it was pointed out, in the more noticeable trend this season for the use of fabrics in these lines which hitherto have been more or less rigidly confined to the medium and higher priced dress lines. Fabric manufacturers in order to get volume business have taken this action, a step they did not especially care to take in previous seasons. At the same time the low end lines are naturally benefited from the consumer attitude arising from general business conditions.

Seek New Jewelry Items.

Buyers are now showing expanding interest in novelty jewelry for Fall and are devoting considerable time to hunting out really new items. The field generally is still showing some of the uncertainty due to the recent tariff rise, which has affected marketing and manufacturing procedure by the higher import costs involved. The domestic market, it is indicated, will produce much more of the finished merchandise. The trend continues to emphasize necklaces, although bracelets for wear with the new sleeves are sought. Plain goldfinish and stone-set items, together with turquoise effects, are prominent.

Cool Spell Aids Summer Felts.

The cool spell which the city has been enjoying for the past few days has stimulated the sales of men's lightweight felt hats by retailers, according to reports yesterday. Practically all stores are now featuring this type of headwear, although one manufacturer expressed the opinion that emphasis on lightweights was about a week premature, as he thought quite a few straws could still be sold. Buying of Fall felts continues to be slow, with retailers purchasing cautiously, but it is expected that a stronger demand will set in within the next two weeks. Practically no business is being done in 1931 straw hats, and activity in this line is not looked for until after Sept. 1.

Grocery Prices at Low Point.

The revised index number of wholesale grocery prices for July was 90.5, a decline of 3.1 per cent from June and a drop of 18.9 per cent from July of last year, the National Wholesale Grocers' Association of the United States announced yesterday. The index is at the lowest point since it was started in January, 1921. The items which averaged higher last month were peas, cornmeal, sugar and evaporated milk. Lower averages were shown by cheese, lima beans, corn syrup, flour, oats, prunes, peaches, pineapple, coffee, pink and red salmon, tomatoes, lard and cottonseed oil.

Pajamas Take Lead Over Robes.

A steadily growing demand for three-piece pajama suits is a feature of the early Fall buying of negligee wear, it was pointed out here yesterday. The output of these types of garments in recent weeks has forged ahead of the more staple robes. The point has been reached, according to an executive of Macksoud Brothers, manufacturers, where 60 per cent of production represents three-piece suits, whereas in the initial cutting for the season some discouragement from retailers caused manufacturers to produce that percentage of negligee robes. The novelty demand and the preference of college girls for pajamas are strong factors in the change.

Expect Sheet Prices to Hold.

Although there has been a good deal of comment among buyers regarding possible price revisions on sheets and pillow cases, due to the fact that current quotations have been maintained since March 1 and that other lines of finished goods have been reduced since then, there are no immediate prospects of cuts, trade comment indicated yesterday. Business in these goods has been very dull, and it is doubted that reductions will stimulate it to any extent. A fair amount of Fall buying is expected to take place later in the month, though undoubtedly it will be below last year's volume. There are slight possibilities, it was admitted, of reductions early next month, depending on just how much interest is shown by buyers.

Gray Goods Ease Further.

A few scattered sales were reported in the gray goods market yesterday, with prices showing further signs of easing. Rumors of various prices were heard, but on the whole sellers managed to hold quotations at the previous day's levels, with the exception of slight shadings on one or two constructions. In printcloths very little demand appeared, with 38½-inch 60-48s ranging from 4⅝ to 4¾ cents. There was some slight activity in 38½-inch 64-60s, and 5 cents was reported as the market level, with a few houses holding out for 5⅛ cents. Trading in 39-inch 68-72s and 80-squares was dull at 5⅞-6 cents and 7¼-7⅜ cents, respectively. Sheetings were quiet.

STOCKS OF GASOLINE DECLINE HEAVILY

Total of 42,729,000 Barrels Reported at Refineries, 1,371,000 Under Week Before.

CRUDE OIL RUNS LOWER

Gasoline stocks at refineries decreased 1,371,000 barrels in the week ended on Aug. 9, according to figures announced yesterday by the American Petroleum Institute. The total was 42,729,000 barrels, compared with 44,100,000 at the end of the preceding week. The decline was one of the largest for a week in the last few years.

Refiners ran 17,063,000 barrels of crude oil to stills, compared with 17,197,000 in the preceding week. Combined gasoline and fuel stocks decreased to 139,242,000 barrels from the 139,641,000 reported for Aug. 2.

The new prorating agreement in Texas was the chief cause of the decrease in crude oil production. Southwest Texas showed a decrease of 35,150 barrels for the week, while other parts of Texas showed smaller decreases in output.

The daily average gross crude oil production, by districts, with comparisons, follows:

LIVE STOCK IN CHICAGO.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—The hog market was somewhat unsettled today and was quoted as steady to 15 cents higher, heavy weights showing the most strength while lights were inclined to be easy. The finish was rather slow. The top was 5 cents lower at $9.95, with the day's average 5 cents higher at $9.10. Most sales were at $8.50 to $9.80, with heavy weights $9.10 to $9.80; medium weights $9.60 to $9.90, light weights $9.70 to $9.95 and packing sows $7.50 to $8.50. Packers bought 13,800 and shippers 4,000, while 7,000 were left over. Receipts were 21,000, with 17,000 estimated for tomorrow.

Heavy steers were off 25 cents and sold at a new low for the season. Losses of $1 to $1.50 have occurred in the last ten days. Yearlings were in demand and prices little changed. The top was $10.75 on yearlings, while few heavy steers sold above $9. The bulk of the beef cattle brought $7.75 to $9.50. Receipts were 7,500.

Lambs were steady to strong, with most natives selling at $9 to $9.25. Westerns sold at about the same figure. The top was $9.50. Sheep were steady at $2.25 to $3.50. Receipts were 12,000.

SUIT ALLEGES KRESSES MADE ILLEGAL PROFITS

Three Stockholders of Store Business Accuse Three Directors in $15,000,000 Realty Deals.

Claude W. Kress, president and director of the ten-cent store business of S. H. Kress & Co., Inc., and Samuel H. and Rush H. Kress, also directors of the company, were sued in the Supreme Court yesterday by three stockholders on the ground that they have made a profit on transactions aggregating $15,000,000 in acquiring leases and real estate for the opening of new stores. The stockholders demand an accounting and ask for the appointment of a receiver for the Kress company and for an injunction restraining the payment of further alleged illegal profits to the three directors.

The plaintiffs, Emil Mayer, Fred Cunningham and Otis A. Knight, allege that the defendants, owning more than 90 per cent of the stock of their company, also control the John Franklin Corporation, a Texas company, and that when they acquired confidential information of the intention of the Kress company to open new stores, they caused the John Franklin Corporation to buy or lease this property and then transfer it to the Kress company at a large profit which is alleged to have gone to them, thus depriving the Kress company of the opportunity of leasing the new properties at minimum rentals.

Holm, Whitlock & Scarff, attorneys for the defendants, said yesterday that no statement concerning the case would be made at present.

Trading in Manhattan Notable for Deals in Business Properties.

SALE IN WEST 55TH STREET

Natanson Disposes of a Building Under Construction—Printer Buys a Front Street Site.

Deals in business properties featured the real estate market in Manhattan yesterday, the fairly active market of Monday being followed by the sale of a building under construction on the west side of the midtown area and the purchase of a Front Street property for occupancy.

Outside of Manhattan trading centred in Brooklyn and New Jersey, where various housing and business holdings in scattered areas changed hands. Work was started on a large bus terminal in Jamaica.

The leading Manhattan transaction of the day involved the six-story Canada Dry Building which is being erected at 630 to 636 West Fifty-fifth Street, through to Fifty-fourth Street. The building when completed will occupy a site 100 by 200 feet and was sold by Max N. Natanson to the Denison Realty Corporation. The Charles F. Noyes Company arranged the transaction. The building is leased for twenty-one years to G. B. Seely's Son, Inc., and the lease is guaranteed by the Canada Dry Ginger Ale Company.

The Turner Construction Company is erecting the building from plans by Frank S. Parker. The Denison Corporation bought for investment.

John F. McClunn, printer and stationer, for many years at 26 Whitehall Street, has purchased through his McClunn Realty Corporation from Jay W. Becher the five-story building at 65 Front Street, just south of Old Slip. The structure is on a lot 20 by 87 feet and is to be altered by Mr. McClunn for occupancy. Hanford & Henderson were the brokers.

Soren Larsen's Son, carpenter and builder, leased from the Bull Moose Holding Corporation, George S. Runk, president, the three-story building at 147 East Eighty-fourth Street. The building is on a lot 22 by 102 feet and is thirty-seven feet east of Lexington Avenue. The lease is for twenty-one years. The lessee has occupied the building for many years as a monthly tenant. George S. Runk was the broker.

Louis Bayer has leased to the Bev Ruth Garage Company, Abe Gerber, president, the two-story garage and gas station on the northeast corner of Lexington Avenue and 119th Street for thirteen years. The building has been owned by the estate of Mary E. Finch for 150 years.

The three five-story double flats with stores on a plot 75 by 96 feet at 2,083 to 2,087 Madison Avenue, near 131st Street, the Bronx, have been sold by Syd Grossman through Porter & Co. The purchaser, who was represented by Herbert Aldhous, acquired the property as an investment.

Barney Estate in Irvington Sold.

The former Barney estate in Irvington, Westchester County, has been sold by F. L. Bowman to Miss E. M. Hoag, through Kenneth Ives & Co. The property consists of two acres with a remodeled home, and was reported held at $45,000.

BROOKLYN TRADING.

Small Dwelling Properties Bought for Occupancy.

The one-family house at 1,248 Forty-ninth Street on a plot 40 by 100 feet has been sold by Cassie M. Gillard to O. Napebaum for occupancy. Kilcoyne Brothers were the brokers. The same brokers leased for William O. Leary to Saul Marcus for two years the house at 1,157 Fifty-fourth Street.

Edward F. Campion bought the three-family house at 409 Sackett Street, near Smith Street, from an estate representated by Malcolm F. Duff, Mabel H. Duff and Elizabeth D. Potter. Mr. Campion intends to occupy part of the house, which is on a lot 20 by 100 feet. Paul A. Bogossian arranged the sale.

WEST SIDE HOUSE LEASED.

Schwartz & Rutheiser Get the Whitney Apartments on West 64th St.

A leasehold on the Whitney Apartments at 23 West Sixty-fourth Street has been taken by Edward S. Schwartz and Harry Rutheiser from Dr. William Whitney. The lease runs for twenty-one years, with the option of renewal for a similar period. Gross rental for the first term of twenty-one years was reported as $31,000 annually, or $651,000 for the period.

The residential building is nine stories high and occupies 110 feet frontage on Sixty-fourth Street, near Central Park West. Depth of the plot is 100.5 feet.

The building is divided into suites of two and three rooms. It is situated in a section where there has been considerable realty and apartment building activity recently. M. Brooks was broker in the transaction.

Residence in Greenwich Sold.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 12.—The residence of Louis von Hasslacher on Lake Avenue, Greenwich, has been sold to James H. Dunster of New York City. The property was held at $110,000. It consists of three and one-half acres of land, having beautifully landscaped gardens sloping down to a lake. The house is of English architecture. Fish & Marvin made the sale.

BUSINESS LEASES.

Louis K. Liggett Company, ground floor corner store and second floor space in the Alamac Hotel Building, Broadway and Seventy-first Street, for fifteen years, from the Alamac-Esplanade Corporation; Paterno, Bostwick & Tangredi, brokers.

Work Begun on Bus Terminal in Jamaica, L. I.; Arcade Shops and Garage in $1,500,000 Project

Architect's Drawing of $1,500,000 Bus Terminal Under Construction in Jamaica, L. I. Including Parking Space the Terminal Will Cover Three and One-Half Acres on the East Side of New York Boulevard, Adjacent to Union Hall Street Station of the Long Island Railroad.

Work has started on a central bus terminal at Jamaica, L. I., to occupy a tract of three and one-half acres and to represent an investment of $1,500,000, it was announced yesterday by the New York Avenue Holding Company, owners and builders.

The site is on the east side of New York Boulevard, south of Jamaica Avenue, adjacent to the Union Hall Street Station of the Long Island Railroad.

Construction is expected to be well enough advanced to allow use of a portion of the terminal facilities within thirty days, officials of the holding company said. The Bee Line, Inc., one of the largest bus systems operating from Jamaica, will start service from the terminal on the opening day.

An effort will be made to have all bus lines serving Jamaica use the central terminal, and the new facilities are expected to eliminate many bus stations from the streets. The size of the site will allow the handling of an ultimate capacity of 300 or more buses an hour.

The building plans call for erection of a large arcade building facing New York Boulevard, with twenty-eight shops fronting on the boulevard or in the interior promenade. At one end of the New York Boulevard frontage will be a forty-six-foot driveway leading to an open plot of nearly 40,000 square feet with loading and unloading platforms large enough to handle about twenty-one buses simultaneously. The platforms will lead to the waiting rooms and ticket stations to be built in the rear of the arcade building.

Behind the parking space a three-story garage with a capacity of 150 buses is planned. A covered ramp and stairway will lead from the Union Hall Street Station into the terminal.

Street work recently completed or under way in the vicinity will improve the accessibility of the location. Work is progressing on Archer Place running parallel to the Long Island Railroad tracks from Jamaica station at Sutphin Boulevard to New York Avenue.

Paving and widening of New York Avenue from Archer Place south to Rockaway Boulevard is part of the development of a proposed cross-borough highway, planned to connect Jamaica and Flushing.

Murray Klein of Brooklyn is architect for the terminal. The officers of the New York Avenue Holding Company are George M. Gross, Alfred Gross, Lawrence Morton and Harry Sirkin, developers of Laurelton Homes and other residential properties on Long Island.

COL. E. C. GIBBS MISSING FROM CAMP IN MAINE

Special to The New York Times.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 12.—Nationwide search is being made for Colonel Edward C. Gibbs, once noted army surgeon and for the past year manager of Vacation Training Camps, Inc., of Limington, forty miles from here, it was learned today.

Colonel Gibbs has been missing for two weeks. He was accompanied by his wife and his young son and daughter, according to Linwood Dingley, director of the camps.

The camp, which is conducted for "tired business men" under the supervision of West Point officers, was dedicated to the late Judge Louis B. Gibbs of the New York bench, a brother of Colonel Gibbs.

Mr. Dingley said the camp owed him $5,000 and that most of the creditors were unpaid.

Already $7,500 in small suits have been filed against the camp.

Mr. Dingley said that while local authorities had not been notified, private detectives had been engaged to hunt for Colonel Gibbs.

Colonel Gibbs was last heard from at Brookline, Mass., on July 29, when he notified directors he would return in three days. Most of the incorporators are Boston business men.

PROTEST CURB ON DOGS.

Bergenfield Citizens Charge Police With "Wild-West Methods."

Special to The New York Times.

BERGENFIELD, N. J., Aug. 12.—Protests by citizens who charged that the police have undertaken "Wild West methods" to get rid of dogs led Mayor L. G. Lindstrom today to order an investigation. The citizens of Bergenfield thought it was a fine thing when the Borough Council recently adopted an ordinance compelling dog owners to license and muzzle their pets. Several citizens, however, have complained that the police have taken advantage of this ruling "to scurry about the town on their motorcycles, shooting any dog they see without a tag."

Twelve dogs have been killed in this way, it is said. The complainants further charge that innocent bystanders are subject to injury and possible death because of the methods being used by the police.

One complaint to the Mayor charged Patrolman William Knubel with "conduct unbecoming an officer." Patrolman Knuble was accused of shooting a dog belonging to Mrs. Rose T. Wickham, and when the latter called the act "a damned shame," is said to have threatened to give her a summons.

MODEL APARTMENT SALES.

State Housing Board Opens Office in Grand Street Structure.

Sales offices for the model apartments being erected in the block formerly occupied by the old Hoe printing press factory at Grand, Sheriff, Broome and Columbia Streets have been opened on the premises, it was announced yesterday by Aaron Rabinowitz, member of the State Board of Housing, under whose auspices the structure is being built. The building will be under the management of Amalgamated Dwellings, Inc.

"Progress on the building has been such that we expect to have it occupied within two months," Mr. Rabinowitz said. "Sales thus far have been satisfactory, and construction now has reached the stage where prospective purchasers may get a good idea of the high type of suites available at moderate rentals, so that we expect a decided increase in sales within the next few weeks."

TRADING IN THE SUBURBS.

Sixteen Lots at Hollis and Island Park Parcels Sold.

Johannah Gleisch of Queens Village sold to a builder client of the Brunswick-Praver Company a plot of sixteen lots in Hollis Boulevard, between School Street and Fairmount Avenue, Hollis, L. I.

William Casey has purchased in Long Beach North, the newly developed section of Island Park, a dwelling for $8,950. In the older section, near the beach front, Beulah Covert purchased a bungalow. McGinnis & O'Keefe, as brokers, negotiated the sales.

Leases Cortlandt St. Building.

The Walthal Electric Corporation leased from the 61 Cortlandt Street Holding Corporation, Walter H. Nussbaum, president, the entire building at 61 Cortlandt Street for five years from May 1, 1931, the yearly rental being $12,000 for the first three years and $13,500 for the last two years, with the option to the tenant to renew for five years at $16,000 a year, in addition to taxes, assessments, &c.

Modifies Fruit Fly Ban.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP).—A general modification of the Mediterranean fruit-fly quarantine, which will permit shipment of fruit into the Northeastern and Middle Western sections of the country without sterilization, was announced today by Secretary Hyde.

DEALS IN NEW JERSEY.

Housing and Business Premises in New Ownership.

The Glinlyn Holding Company, Thomas J. McGlinchey, president, sold the four-story brick apartment, known as the Astor View, on a plot 67 by 183 feet at 70 Summit Avenue, opposite Astor Place, Jersey City, to the Fange Realty Investment Company.

Robert Watson purchased for occupancy a two-story frame dwelling on a plot 50 by 100 feet on the east side of Hamilton Avenue near Bayard Street, Kearny, from the Essex Lumber and Coal Company, Inc., of Newark.

The Kearny Amusement Company leased the Regent Theatre at 411 to 415 Kearny Avenue, Kearny, to the R. K. O. Proctor Corporation for sixteen years and one month from Aug. 30 at a rental of $2,500 per month.

The four-story brick flat at 525 Central Avenue, near Twenty-sixth Street, Union City, on a lot 25 by 100 feet, has been sold by the Fange Realty Investment Company to the Glinlyn Holding Company.

Jersey City authorities commenced proceedings against the Westminister Presbyterian Church for the appointment of three commissioners to appraise the value of the two-and-one-half story brick church on a plot 108 by 74 feet at the northeast corner of Summit and Magnolia Avenues, Jersey City, which is required as a site for a branch public library building.

BUY HACKENSACK PLANT.

Slipper Manufacturers Plan to Consolidate New Jersey Factories.

The Hackensack (N. J.) plant of the Schwarzenbach Huber Company, silk manufacturers, at East Broadway and Van Wetering Place, consisting of more than 70,000 square feet of manufacturing space and 20,000 square feet of storage space on about seven acres of land, has been purchased by S. Goldberg & Co., slipper manufacturers, of West New York.

The purchasers acquired the property for expansion of their business and to combine under one roof factories now situated in West New York and Passaic. They expect to employ about 250 workers. The buildings consist of a three-story structure with an area of 20,000 square feet and a one-story building of sawtooth roof construction, with approximately 50,000 square feet of space. A private railroad siding is planned to connect with the Erie Railroad.

Sale of the Schwarzenbach Huber plant was arranged by Max Bernfield, Inc., of Union City.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

IN THE COURT OF CHANCERY OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE IN AND FOR NEW CASTLE COUNTY.

LORNA I. MEIDINGER, Complainant, vs. J. I. CASE PLOW WORKS COMPANY, a dissolved Corporation, Defendant.

AND NOW, TO-WIT, this 30th day of July, A. D. 1930, the report of Haldeman C. Stout, Receiver of the above named defendant, filed in the above cause on the Fourth day of June, A. D. 1930, being presented, read and considered and it appearing therefrom and from the certified copy of the Certificate of Incorporation of said defendant that, in case of liquidation, dissolution or winding up of said defendant corporation, all its property or the proceeds thereof remaining after the payment of all corporate indebtedness shall be applied first to the holders of the first preferred stock in full to the par value of One Hundred Dollars (100) each of said shares and any and all unpaid dividends and accumulations thereon before the application of any such property or proceeds to the holders of the second preferred and common stock of said corporation; and it further appearing from said Report and the Exhibits thereto attached that the assets in said Receiver's hands for distribution in this proceeding are insufficient to pay to the holders of the outstanding shares of first preferred stock of defendant corporation the full par value thereof; on motion of Charles C. Keedy, Esq., solicitor for said Receiver.

IT IS ORDERED BY THE CHANCELLOR that distribution of the assets in said Receiver's hands be made solely to the holders of the shares of first preferred stock of said defendant corporation to the exclusion of any right of participation therein on the part of the holders of shares of second preferred and common stock of said defendant corporation;

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED BY THE CHANCELLOR that the Receiver forthwith send to the holders of outstanding shares of first preferred stock of defendant corporation, by first class mail, at their respective post office addresses, as indicated on "Exhibit C" attached to Receiver's Report in this proceeding of June 4, 1930, notice to file their verified proofs of claim, in the form prepared by said Receiver, for distribution out of the assets in the Receiver's hands in this proceeding, and that said Receiver shall make appropriate publication of this order and notice herein contained once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of daily circulation in the City of Wilmington, State of Delaware, and in the "New York Times," a daily newspaper published in the City of New York, State of New York;

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED BY THE CHANCELLOR that all holders of shares of first preferred stock of said defendant corporation who shall fail to file proper proofs of claim in this proceeding for a share in the distribution of the assets in said Receiver's hands on or before Monday, September 15, 1930, shall be barred from receiving distribution in this proceeding out of the funds in said Receiver's hands.

J. O. WOLCOTT, Chancellor.

AT A SPECIAL TERM, PART II OF THE City Court of the City of New York, held in and for the County of New York, at the Court House thereof, located in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 8th day of August, 1930.—PRESENT: HON. EDWARD R. KOCH, Justice.—In the Matter of the Application of ALAN ALPER SHAPIRO, an infant, by MARY SHARP, his General Guardian, for permission to assume the name of ALAN ALPER SHARP.

Upon reading and filing the annexed petitions of Mary Sharp and Alan Alper Shapiro, and it appearing to this Court that the contents of said petitions are true, and that there is no reasonable objection to the change of name therein proposed,

NOW, on motion of LEON BROF, attorney for the petitioner, it is ORDERED that ALAN ALPER SHAPIRO be and he hereby is authorized to assume the name of ALAN ALPER SHARP on and after the 22nd day of September, 1930, upon complying with provisions 63 and 64 of the Civil Rights Law, to wit: that the petitioner cause a copy of this order to be published within ten days after the entry of this order in the New York Times, a newspaper published in the County of New York, and that within ten days of the date of this order petitioner cause this order and the papers upon which same is granted to be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City Court of the City of New York, New York County, and that within forty (40) days after the entry of this order, the petitioner file an affidavit of the publication of this order with the Clerk of the City Court of the City of New York, New York County, and on and after said requirements are complied with the said Alan Alper Shapiro must, on and after September 22nd, 1930, be known by the name of ALAN ALPER SHARP, and by no other name.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Southern District of New York—In the Matter of CHARLES L. WOODY JR., HAROLD RUSSELL RYDER and LUCIAN A. HOLD, Individually and doing business under its firm name of WOODY & COMPANY, Alleged Bankrupts.

Upon reading and filing the annexed petition of IRVING TRUST COMPANY, Receiver of the above-named alleged bankrupts, verified the 1st day of August, 1930, the petition in bankruptcy heretofore filed herein, and upon all other pleadings and proceedings heretofore filed and had herein,

I DO ORDER AND DIRECT—

1. That all creditors and other persons interested in the estate of the above-named alleged bankrupts, or any of them, show cause before the Judge presiding over the Motion Term of this Court, in the Old Post Office Building, Park Row, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 20th day of August, 1930, at the opening of Court at 10:30 A. M. on said day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, why an order should not be made and entered herein directing—

(a) Any and all individuals, firms, corporations, and all other third parties claiming any specific bonds, stocks, securities, moneys and/or other property, whether of like or unlike nature whatsoever, and/or the proceeds thereof, or any interest therein, now in the actual or constructive custody, possession, or control of Irving Trust Company, as Receiver herein (whether said stocks, bonds, securities, moneys or other property are in the physical custody of said Receiver or held for its account by any Stock Exchange House or other person whomsoever) and to which it or any successor Receiver or trustee might be entitled or to which it might become interested, to file a claim therefor in the office of the Clerk of this Court, and to serve a copy thereof on Messrs. Oppenheimer, Kaufman, Haiblum & Kupfer, attorneys for said Receiver, at their offices at 60 Wall Street, on or before the 27th day of August, 1930; and

(b) Restraining and foreclosing any and all persons, firms and corporations whose claims are not so filed from asserting any claim against Irving Trust Company, as such Receiver, or any Trustee in Bankruptcy of the estates of the above-named bankrupts, individually and as copartners, or any of them, except as general creditors of the estates of the above-named bankrupts, individually or as such copartners, and

(c) Further directing that any and all proceedings heretofore instituted to recover possession of any stocks, bonds, moneys or other property, whether of like or unlike nature, or in the proceeds thereof, now claimed to be in the possession of Irving Trust Company, as Receiver herein, be and they hereby are deemed to be reclamation claims filed pursuant to this order, and

(d) Further directing that any and all claims filed in the office of the Clerk of this Court and served upon the attorneys for the Receiver pursuant to the order to be entered on this motion, shall be referred to Hon. Henry K. Davis, Special Master, to hear the evidence adduced thereon, and to report his decision and determination upon the same to this Court with all convenient speed, and

(e) Containing such other and further relief to said Receiver as to the Court, upon the hearing of the motion brought on by this order to show cause, may seem just and proper.

And sufficient cause therefor appearing,

I DO FURTHER ORDER AND DIRECT—

2. That service of this order shall be deemed good and sufficient if

(a) A copy thereof be mailed to all known creditors of the above-named alleged bankrupts, or any of them, addressed to their respective addresses as best known to the Receiver, by post-paid ordinary mail on or before the 5th day of August, 1930, and

(b) If a copy thereof be published in The Daily News Record and in The New York Times on the 6th and 13th days of August, 1930, which service and publication is hereby directed.

Dated, New York, August 4th, 1930.

CAMPBELL RETURNS, LAUDS SOVIET GAINS

Asserts Russia, in a Few Years, Will Be Trade Leader—Sees Profits for Us in Contracts.

PLANS TRUCKING SYSTEM

Other Notables Back on Europa—Liner's Appearance Is Altered by Higher Smokestacks.

Thomas Campbell, Montana rancher and agricultural expert who has been in Russia as farm adviser to the Soviet Government, returned last night on the North German Lloyd liner Europa, and expressed the opinion that in a few years Russia would be a greater commercial competitor than any of the nations of the world realize today.

He said that there was enough business for the United States in Russia today to lift this country clear of its commercial depression, and warned that if the American business men do not step in and take their share, England and Germany will profit immeasurably from Russian contracts.

Industrially, Russia is far ahead of its projected five-year program, Mr. Campbell said. While there he conferred with Stalin and the industrial leaders and with the minor labor leaders and workmen, who, he said, sit in on the big policy conferences.

Adding a qualifying note, however, Mr. Campbell said that with all the success of the agricultural program and the fact that the Russian worker's position obviously was enhanced, he came back to the United States this time fully convinced that America was the best place in the world both for the worker and the capitalist.

Three years from now, he said, Russia would be an important factor in the exportation of farm produce. Her demands, however, are going to increase with her ability to produce, and he predicted that Russia would be needing 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat before her program was in full swing.

While his wife and daughters were visiting Black Sea watering places as guests of the Soviets Mr. Campbell took a 6,000-mile tour through the country, conferring with leaders and Soviet experts. He said that the program they were carrying out was stupendous, that the budget for three years in agriculture alone amounted to 1,500,000,000 rubles.

The big problem there today is the task of transportation for farm products, Mr. Campbell said, and he plans to work on a trucking system which will call for 60,000 five-ton trucks for carrying produce to the railroads. This, he said, is something for American manufacturers to think over.

Mr. Campbell will be at the Barclay Hotel for a few days and will then go to Washington.

George Jean Nathan, author, returned on the Europa and was asked if, like his friend H. L. Mencken, he planned to marry shortly. He said he would remain a bachelor, perhaps permanently, as far as present plans were concerned.

Jane Aubert, Paris actress and wife of [illegible] Morris, American millionaire, also was on the Europa and said that she would appear in a new show, "Princess Charming," produced by Connolly and Swanstrom.

The Europa, since her last visit here, has been altered in appearance by the addition of sixteen feet on her two squat stacks. Since her first trip officials of the line and engineers have been puzzled over the trouble resulting from the low stacks. The speed of the wind drew smoke down to the upper decks, forcing many passengers to stay inside during windy days.

TRIES TO AVERT RATE WAR.

Coast Ship Conference Combats Defection of Three Lines.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—With Oct. 1 set as the date on which three of the intercoastal lines have served notice they are to withdraw from the conference, West Coast shipping interests are watching developments with more than ordinary interest.

Whether or not the three lines in question will [illegible] remains to be seen, but in the meantime efforts are being made by all interests within the conference to [illegible] more satisfactory basis than in the past.

The three lines that have served notice of withdrawal are the Luckenbach, American-Hawaiian and Dollar Lines. The reasons for their contemplated action have not been announced.

Efforts are now being made by Robert C. Thackara, chairman of the conference, to bring about an adjustment of existing difficulties before Oct. 1.

If no satisfactory adjustment can be arrived at by Oct. 1, it is likely to throw all the lines, conference and non-conference, into one of the greatest rate wars that has been experienced in the trade in many years.

LAUNCH RAILROAD LIGHTER.

New York Central Officials See Diesel Craft Leave the Ways.

Officials of the New York Central Railroad were present yesterday at the yards of the United Dry Docks, Inc., at Mariners Harbor, Staten Island, when a new Diesel covered lighter recently completed for the railroad was launched. Miss Dorothy V. Dinan, daughter of D. W. Dinan, general manager of the railroad, was sponsor. Among those present were Mr. Dinan and George Clark, marine superintendent.

The new boat is 122 feet long on deck, 32.6 feet beam and 11.6 feet deep. It is equipped with a direct drive Diesel engine with a 600 horsepower engine. The keel was laid last February and the boat will be ready for service next month. Its completion marked the 196th lighter built at the Staten Island plant of the United Company.

Ryder Inquiry Delayed Again.

The Federal inquiry into the $2,000,000 collapse of the brokerage firm of Woody & Co. on June 19, was adjourned again yesterday. Referee Henry K. Davis advanced it to Friday at 2 P. M. at 140 Nassau Street at the request of counsel for the return by Frank Bailey, banker, of more than $1,000,000 worth of securities which Harold Russell Ryder admittedly took from the company in connection with Woody & Co. to satisfy a $2,000,000 claim which Mr. Bailey held against him.

DECLARE PINTHIS FAILED TO SIGNAL

CAPTAIN BROOKS DEFENDED

Testimony at Norfolk Hearing Into Fatal Crash Denies Charge of Recklessness.

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 12 (AP).—Officers of the Merchants and Miners liner Fairfax today told United States inspectors that failure of the tanker Pinthis to sound proper fog signals was responsible for the collision in Massachusetts Bay that sent the Pinthis to the bottom with a loss of fifty lives.

The testimony was given in the trial of Captain Archibald H. Brooks, master of the Fairfax, charged with negligence and recklessness.

The tanker, proceeding at a speed that appeared to be approximately six to seven knots an hour, sounded only one fog signal, First Officer James G. Hunley and Second Officer William E. Winder of the Fairfax told Captain J. E. Tarkenton and Captain J. J. Hanlon, sitting as court in the hearings of charges against Captain Brooks preferred by the inspectors in Boston.

This signal was sounded, both witnesses testified, just as the vessel loomed up in the fog less than 200 feet away and one point off the starboard bow.

"Full speed astern and helm hard aport" was Captain Brooks's order in that instant, the witnesses testified. This was the correct and only possible manoeuvre, it was stated.

Charges of recklessness in handling the Fairfax and negligence in failing to make a proper search for persons who jumped over the side of the Fairfax were refuted by the testimony.

At the time of the crash, it was testified, the Fairfax could not have been making more than three to four knots an hour.

Mr. Hunley testified that No. 1 boat was put over the side about half an hour after the collision, and that if it had been put over sooner it would have been unsafe in view of the severity of the fire on the Fairfax. He declared that though no survivors had been taken into the boat, every [illegible] them.

"Considering the situation, with fog and collision, and the Fairfax on fire, do you think that Captain Brooks handled the situation as well as it could have been handled?" Mr. Hunley was asked.

"I do not believe," the witness said emphatically, "that any man in the world could have done any better than Captain Brooks."

In response to a question Mr. Hunley said he was on the forecastle head of the Pinthis where the lookout should have been stationed, and only one man on the bridge.

He said the last boat and fire drill on the Fairfax was the morning of the collision in Boston.

Mr. [illegible], the third officer, corroborated the testimony of his fellow-officers.

Hurley Reassigns Siamese Officer.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Secretary Hurley has authorized the attachment of Captain Prasobsri Chirapravati of the Siamese Army to the 34th Infantry from Aug. 18 to Sept. 1, and to a field artillery regiment of the Third Corps Area from about Sept. 10 to Oct. 20. This will enable the Captain to be present at the manoeuvres of a reinforced brigade of the Third Corps Area which will be held at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, in October. The Siamese officer is attached at present to the Quartermaster Depot in Baltimore.

Naval Orders.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The Bureau of Navigation issued the following orders under date of Aug. 9:

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—The Northwestern disturbance is moving eastward over Western Hudson Bay with a trough extending southward to Kansas. An area of high pressure is moving eastward over the lower lakes and pressure is high south of Bermuda and thence westward over Florida and the Gulf of Mexico. Pressure is also relatively high over the middle Rocky Mountain region.

During the last twenty-four hours local showers and thunderstorms have occurred over the middle and southern Rocky Mountain region and the lower Missouri Valley, along the East Gulf Coast and in Northern Florida. Temperatures have fallen in Missouri and over the middle Rocky Mountain region, while they have risen decidedly over Manitoba and Southern Saskatchewan.

The outlook is mostly fair weather Wednesday and Thursday in the Washington forecast district except for showers on Wednesday in Florida and the extreme west portions of Kentucky and Tennessee and for showers on Thursday in Tennessee, the Ohio Valley, the western lower lake region and portions of the South Atlantic States.

Temperatures will rise slowly in the Ohio Valley, the lower lake region and the interior of the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States.

MERCHANTS VIEW SITES FOR BIG PIERS

FUNDS FOR FIGHT READY

Board of Trade Members Inspect Construction Now Under Way In Canal Street Area.

Two hundred members of the New York Board of Trade viewed the progress being made in the pier construction of Manhattan in their second annual tour of the harbor aboard the municipal boat Riverside yesterday afternoon. Although the skyline of lower Manhattan had been changed considerably and bridge projects furthered since the trip last year, the pier situation was the principal subject of discussion.

From their place on the boat the group of business men observed the work under way in the Canal Street section, where the old Pier 35 has been demolished and construction of the new Pier 34, which will extend from the bulkhead line to the ventilating shaft of the Holland Tunnel, is being carried on. The Clyde Line will probably use the new pier, and in this section the North German Lloyd Line is expected to be located at Pier 32 when it is taken over from the Hudson River Night Line.

The stretch of water front from West Twenty-third to Fifty-sixth Street, which is the area proposed for adjustment under the joint agreement of the city of New York and the Board of Commerce and Navigation of the State of New York to extend and withdraw the pierhead line under a stagger plan, was the object of closest study. W. J. L. Banham, president of the Board of Trade, declared that the future of the port of New York depends on the failure or success of this plan, on which hearings will be started Sept. 29.

He said that legal steps are being taken to clear the path for the consummation of the plan and that funds have been provided for its advancement. He admitted that local objections from some New Jersey groups was expected to be offered at the hearing, but expressed confidence that the plan would be adopted. A widening of the North River sufficiently to permit the extension of piers or the construction of new ones to berth the 1,000-foot liners proposed or being built, will result, Mr. Banham said. This, he added, is the principal need of the port.

"Leading maritime nations of the world," he said, "are engaged in a contest for newer, faster, larger and more commodious boats, and European ports have been improved to take care of this type of vessel. Other American ports along the Atlantic Seaboard have terminals adequate for the 1,000-foot ships and are making attractive offers to induce the steamship lines to leave the port of New York.

"This port must meet this challenge to its supremacy if it is to maintain its position, and approval of the joint application of the two States to the War Department for permission to readjust their pier lines will permit New York to do this very thing."

The Riverside left Pier A, North River, at 1 P. M. and covered the twenty-eight miles around Manhattan in three and one-half hours.

An Economical Vacation in a Paradise Near at Hand

CANADA is very near your home and very hospitable. Yet you will think that you have travelled far to reach this delightful, foreign land where old-fashioned hospitality prevails. You will enjoy a gorgeous vacation up here and one of the most economical.
Canada Steamship Lines provide cruises to suit every purse—all interesting and laid amid historic scenes. You may sail from Detroit to Duluth and return, the length of Lakes Huron and Superior for $80.60 all-expense. This cruise lasts seven days and is filled with entertainment from one end to the other.
Another delightful voyage is from Toronto, down the St. Lawrence River to and up the Saguenay Canyon—eight days of ship-board life with many stops ashore, comfortable accommodation and wonderful meals.
Another short but equally enjoyable trip is that from Montreal to the Saguenay and return for $45.00, seeing historic Quebec, fashionable Murray Bay, quaint Tadoussac (Canada's oldest settlement) and the glory of the Saguenay River.

STRAUS ASKS ACTION ON A BROOKLYN PARK

Will Confer With Berry to Speed Improvement of the Lincoln Terrace Tract.

PROPERTY OWNERS IN PLEA

Assessed $800,000 for Project in 1927, They Assert, but City Has Let Land Become a Nuisance.

Following a tour of inspection and an investigation by officials of the Park Association of New York City of the condition of the 400,000 square feet of city-owned property which is being held for improvement of the Lincoln Terrace Park in Brooklyn, Nathan Straus Jr., president of the association, announced yesterday that he would make an effort to speed the Board of Estimate's approval of the project to enlarge and improve the park. He said he would confer with Controller Berry and James J. Browne, Brooklyn Park Commissioner, toward this end.

The action of the Park Association followed a protest by the property owners in the vicinity of the park who said that although they had paid more than $800,000 in assessments three years ago for enlarging Lincoln Terrace Park, city officials had "done little to further the improvement, allowing it to become a nuisance and a detriment to the community."

These property owners, led by Abraham Lehman, also complained of the presence of a privately operated garage on this land. This garage, operated by the French Auto Repair Company, Inc., houses more than thirty-five cars and pays a monthly rental of $275 to the city, it was said.

Investigation yesterday revealed that Commissioner Browne had asked the Board of Estimate last year to appropriate $50,000 for the improvement. Instead, the board approved $26,000 for putting in walks and otherwise improving the part of the park already in existence.

M. Lawrence Craner, executive secretary of the Park Association, submitted a report to Mr. Straus, following the tour yesterday. Mr. Straus refused to reveal the contents of the report until he had conferred with Controller Berry and Commissioner Browne.

Mr. Straus said he would try to have the money for the Lincoln Terrace Park improvement placed in the Park Department's budget for the coming year in an attempt to expedite matters. Commissioner Browne was not reached for comment. Borough President Henry Hesterberg said, however, that he would help to rush the appropriation through the Board of Estimate.

Mr. Straus will head a delegation of representatives of eighty metropolitan civic organizations, including the Staten Island Chamber of Commerce, on a tour of inspection of parks on Staten Island today.

Aged St. Louis Pair Missing With $70,000; Police Fear Gang Lured Them From Train

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—Charles Kern, aged 70, and his elderly wife, who left St. Louis last night for Toledo with an easily negotiable bank check for $70,000, disappeared en route and police fear they have been kidnapped by gangsters or lured away by confidence men.

They were last seen at Defiance, Ohio. There they left the Wabash train on which they were to go to Toledo, and, accompanied by three men, who had boarded the train after it left St. Louis, entered an automobile and drove away. The car was described as a Chrysler sedan, bearing Illinois license plates. Police in many cities were asked to watch for it.

Mr. Kern yesterday visited his St. Louis bank, the Mercantile Commerce Trust Company, and sought to withdraw $90,000 in $5,000 bills. J. Hugh Powers, a vice president, and a bank detective persuaded him, however, to take the treasurer's check for $70,000 instead. They explained that it would be readily negotiable in the real estate deal, which, Mr. Kern said, was the purpose of his trip to Toledo.

Mr. Powers, however, was worried. He told Chief of Police Gerk he feared the "ground work was being laid to swindle Mr. Kern," and Gerk telephoned Chief of Police Haas of Toledo, explaining the circumstances and requesting him to have detectives meet the Kerns at the Toledo station.

This morning, however, Chief Haas notified Chief Gerk that Mr. and Mrs. Kern had left the train at Defiance, fifty miles west of Toledo, while detectives awaited them at Toledo.

Between St. Louis and Fort Wayne, Ind., the Toledo police learned, Kern had received two telegrams urging him to get off at Fort Wayne.

He did not get off there, however, and several men boarded the train at Fort Wayne, it was learned. It was with three of them that the Kerns, apparently of their own free will, left the train at Defiance and entered the sedan.

DEMANDS FALK PROVE 'WHITEWASH' CHARGE

Bronx Prosecutor Promises to Sift Alleged Laxity in Pressing Case Against District Captain.

District Attorney McLaughlin of the Bronx demanded proof yesterday of charges by Assemblyman Alexander A. Falk that his office had attempted to "whitewash" the case of Mortimer Levie, Democratic captain of the Sixth Assembly District, accused in a summons proceeding of having accepted $360 to "fix" the case of a youth arrested for grand larceny.

The demand was part of a letter dictated by Mr. McLaughlin on a visit to his office from his Summer home at Bellport, L. I., where he is vacationing. He will return to his duties on Friday. Levie was in West Farms court last Friday on a summons obtained by Jacob Davidoff, 17 years old, of 2,700 Bronx Park East, who pleaded guilty to petit larceny in the theft of an automobile and received a suspended sentence.

Assemblyman Falk, appearing as counsel for the youth, told the court Levie took the $360 from Davidoff's mother on the promise that the case would be "fixed" without need of an attorney or bail, but Davidoff spent three weeks in jail awaiting trial. A hearing on Davidoff's summons had been delayed twice before, and Mr. Falk declared that the District Attorney's office had been lax in presenting the case. Magistrate Stern again adjourned the matter until Sept. 15, pending the return from vacation of Assistant District Attorney Alice Gainey, who once investigated the youth's complaint.

Mr. McLaughlin in his letter said: "On my return to this office my attention was called to a clipping appearing in The Home News of Aug. 9, which reports you as having stated in the Eighth District Magistrate's Court that the 'District Attorney's office has whitewashed the case.' The article referred to is the matter of Mrs. Pauline Davidoff vs. Mortimer Levie. Your remarks as made were directed at this office, and, therefore, I demand that you furnish me with facts and details of this alleged 'whitewashing,' so that I may make a thorough investigation. I assure that I expect that you are to prove this serious charge or publicly withdraw the same.

WALKER TO REVIEW CAMP SMITH TROOPS

'PHANTOM ENEMY' ATTACKED

Brooklyn Men Try Sham Warfare as Old 69th Devotes Itself to Target Practice.

Special to The New York Times.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Mayor Walker of New York City is planning, it was learned today, to visit and review the Ninety-third Infantry Brigade of the New York National Guard, which is composed of the Fourteenth Regiment of Brooklyn and the 165th Regiment of Manhattan, formerly the old Sixty-ninth, at Camp Smith. It is expected that he will come here at his convenience within the next ten days.

This is the first time this year that an entire brigade of New York City troops has been in training. Usually a New York City regiment is brigaded with an up-State regiment, but now the entire 2,300 troops in Camp Smith are from the metropolis. Brig. Gen. John J. Phelan is in command.

Colonel Frederick Baldwin of the Brooklyn regiment put it through practice in advance guard, reconnoitring movements today, the regiment being divided, for purposes of attack, into three battalions and advancing against "phantom" picket lines of an imaginary enemy ahead.

Colonel William Costigan kept the troops of the 165th at target practice with various types of firearms.

Colonel William R. Wright, division chief of staff of the Twenty-seventh Division, is in command of the camp until the return of Major Gen. William N. Haskell, commanding General of the National Guard, who is now on a trip to Pine Camp, where the 156th Field Artillery of Mount Vernon, Peekskill, Newburgh, Middletown, Poughkeepsie and Kingston is training.

YONKERS POLICE SEIZE SIX MORE AS GUNMEN

30 Robberies Now Laid to Nine Said to Have Admitted Being Hold-Up Gang.

Through an investigation conducted by Chief of Police Edward Quirk of Yonkers, six more youths were arrested yesterday in a round-up of a gang accused by the police of about thirty burglaries in Yonkers and the Bronx and several hold-ups of automobile parties in communities north of Yonkers.

The police announced that the nine have, among other robberies, admitted burglarizing the home of a New York City patrolman on Broadway, near Baker Field, Manhattan, and stealing his service revolver, which they used in hold-ups between Yonkers and Poughkeepsie.

The defendants arraigned yesterday are Harry Brewster, 16 years old, of 76 Stanley Avenue, Yonkers; William Lisecki, 18, of 63 Crescent Place, Yonkers; Otto Krampetz, 17, of 27 Hart Avenue, Yonkers; John Raymond, 17, of 23 First Street, Yonkers; Robert Dernberger, 21, of 1,061 Hunts Bridge Road, Yonkers, all charged for the time being with suspicion of a felony, and King Kirk, 15, of 4,370 Van Cortlandt Avenue, the Bronx, charged with juvenile delinquency because he is under 16 years of age.

A Large Building and yet . . .

Although the General Motors Building is a large building it has not lost what we like to call its personality.

Full of sincerity, pleasantness, good neighbors, it is a building that aims to offer a little more than office space, a little more than a place to work.

Almost touching Central Park, out of the din of traffic snarls, free from the mad scramble of the crowds, the General Motors Building offers an ideal location to firms who believe in buying the most for their money.
